Every effort has been made to assemble a complete run of Suffolk University’s student newspaper. Irregularities in numbering, however, make it difficult to determine whether or not certain volumes are complete. Probably published but missing are the following issues:

Vol. 4, no. 1, 3-4, 1948-49
Vol. 5, no. 11, March or April 1950
Vol. 11, no. 14, 1963
Vol. 11, no. 17, November 1966
Vol. 27, no. 10-11, March or April 1977

Possibly published, but missing, are concluding numbers of vol. 6, 1948-49 and vol. 17, 1961, and vol. 23, no. 8, February or March 1968.

Briefly the Suffolk Journal changed its title to the Suffolk Ramler (vol. 1, no. 2-10, September 1960-May 1961) but reverted to its traditional title in the following year.

The only issue apparently published of Breez’ Magazine (vol. 1, no. 1, October 1972) is included in the file because the issue is wholly devoted to a subject appearing in the Journal at that time.

Gratitude is expressed to the University Archives and to D. Bradley Sullivan, Dean of Students, for their assistance in assembling as complete a file of the newspaper as possible.

New Courses offered

Among the offerings for the fall semester of 1915-16 are the usual courses in English, History, Mathematics, and Modern Languages, as well as in the sciences and other subjects. In addition, courses in Business Education, Industrial Education, and Public Speaking are offered. There will be an increased number of courses in the arts and sciences, and a number of new courses in the social sciences.

A number of the courses in the fall semester will be conducted in the new building of the College, which was completed last summer. The building is located on the corner of Centre Street and School Street, and is equipped with modern laboratories and lecture rooms.

The College offers a number of scholarships and fellowships to its students. The scholarships are awarded on the basis of merit and need, and are open to both men and women.

Suffolk Collegiate Association

The Suffolk Collegiate Association was established in 1914, and has since grown to a membership of over 300. The Association holds regular meetings, and sponsors a number of activities, including a debate society, a literary society, and a music society.

Suffolk's new college of journalism and journalism education has announced the appointment of Philip A. MacNamara as instructor in the field of journalism. MacNamara, who has been associated with the newspaper business for many years, is well known in the field of journalism education. He has been teaching at the Boston University School of Journalism for the past three years, and is a member of the American Association of Journalism Teachers. He is also active in the work of the American Press Association, and is a member of the Boston Press Club.

Other faculty appointments include:

William B. Sheehan, Boston College; R. G. Briscoe, Boston University;
F. S. Smith, Northeastern University; J. W. R. Carse, Harvard University;
L. E. S. Scott, Massachusetts Institute of Technology; and W. T. C.
Stevens, Tufts College.

Journal Staff to Be Organized

Opportunity Open to All

Bravely following the example set by the University of Washington, Suffolk College of Journalism is organizing a student newspaper staff. The college and the law school are entering the competitive field of the printed page, and the students are invited to contribute to the publication. The staff will be open to all students, regardless of major, and will provide an opportunity for everyone to participate in the work of the college.

In these days of controversy and candidates, when everybody is arguing about Presidents and Platforms, it seems to us that this might be a fine time to remind our customers of A & P's Platform. It's very simple.

A & P is in business to make it easy and pleasant for American housewives to get the best food obtainable at prices they can afford to pay.

It's the steady voice of millions of satisfied customers that's keeping us in office.

Our customers appreciate the dividend, they eat in good health from continued use of our excellent food.

Since good health is the greatest asset any customer can possess, our customers continue to cast their ballots in favor of A & P.
