THE EVENING UNIVERSITY—AND OUR AMERICA

An Interview Between Prof. Roger and President Archer as It Was Broadcast on the Minute News Program of the Yankee Network at 6:15 P.M., October 2nd, 1927

Prof. Roger: Good evening, Dear Reader, or perhaps I should say President Archer, may I say that we at Fairfield University are pleased to have you in our program again.

Dear Archer: As a pleasure to be here, I enjoy you. When you do not get too far over the microphone, dear, there is always some topical social interest to discuss. I enjoy you.

Prof. Roger: Yes, indeed. We can speak about good old New England and its educational advantages. How does the New England campus look in the out-of-town view? Indeed, it is surrounded by the beauty of the six states in its area.

Dear Archer: In its more populous trends of its New Engländ particularly in Massachusetts, I believe that you should head the list. In the Boston area, centrally located, educational institutions are considered to be some of the best in the country. In the state of New York, Long Island, and New Haven, the educational opportunities are excellent. Indeed, the city is surrounded by the beauty of the six states in its area.

Prof. Roger: Indeed, it is the case. I believe that Long Island, New Haven, and New York are the educational centers of the country. Indeed, the city is surrounded by the beauty of the six states in its area.

Dear Archer: Indeed, it is the case. I believe that Long Island, New Haven, and New York are the educational centers of the country. Indeed, the city is surrounded by the beauty of the six states in its area.

Prof. Roger: Indeed, it is the case. I believe that Long Island, New Haven, and New York are the educational centers of the country. Indeed, the city is surrounded by the beauty of the six states in its area.

Dear Archer: Indeed, it is the case. I believe that Long Island, New Haven, and New York are the educational centers of the country. Indeed, the city is surrounded by the beauty of the six states in its area.

Prof. Roger: Indeed, it is the case. I believe that Long Island, New Haven, and New York are the educational centers of the country. Indeed, the city is surrounded by the beauty of the six states in its area.

Dear Archer: Indeed, it is the case. I believe that Long Island, New Haven, and New York are the educational centers of the country. Indeed, the city is surrounded by the beauty of the six states in its area.

Prof. Roger: Indeed, it is the case. I believe that Long Island, New Haven, and New York are the educational centers of the country. Indeed, the city is surrounded by the beauty of the six states in its area.

Dear Archer: Indeed, it is the case. I believe that Long Island, New Haven, and New York are the educational centers of the country. Indeed, the city is surrounded by the beauty of the six states in its area.
Alumni Notes

October 14, 1897

Dr. Archer Gets a Double-Bareded Surprise On Meet Up with the Law

Rev. Lincoln Deerford England

It was a go-ahead sight of some of the students of the Class of 1897 meeting the College of the City of New York, to see the Class of 1897 meeting the Law at the same time. The meeting was held in the new office of the Law School, and was attended by a large number of the Law School graduates of the Class of 1897.

Library Lines

"Night and the Hunt" is the new book by Henry James. It is a story of hunting in the forests of Brazil, and is written in a style that brings out all the beauty of the landscape. The story is told in a manner that is both entertaining and instructive, and is sure to be enjoyed by all who read it.

Judge Miles Appointed to Law Faculty

WILLIAM INNES, M.A., LL.B., has been appointed to the Law Faculty of the College of New York. He is a graduate of the University of Oxford, and has been teaching at the law school for several years.

Legal Notices

Dress Clothes

CLARK-FRANKLIN TRES

PRINTING - ADVERTISING

102 COLUMBUS AVE. [At Park Square] BOSTON, MASS.
THE LAW AND THE LAWYER

NEW STATE LAW APPLYING TO CONDITIONAL SALES A BIG HELP

By Art. 19 of 1925, Chapter 287, a provision is made in the law specifically permitting mortgagors to take title to the security described in the mortgage before the suit is brought. The mortgage is thus protected from the effects of a judgment creditor.

In determining the amount that will be allowed as consideration in a sale under Article 19, Chapter 287, the court shall ascertain the value of the property mortgaged, and the court shall have regard to all the circumstances attending the sale, including the amount of the debt to be paid, the terms of the mortgage, and the condition of the property mortgaged.

The court shall further consider the value of the property mortgaged, the amount of the debt to be paid, and the condition of the property mortgaged, and shall have regard to all the circumstances attending the sale, including the amount of the debt to be paid, the terms of the mortgage, and the condition of the property mortgaged.

The court shall have regard to all the circumstances attending the sale, including the amount of the debt to be paid, the terms of the mortgage, and the condition of the property mortgaged.

In determining the amount that will be allowed as consideration in a sale under Article 19, Chapter 287, the court shall have regard to all the circumstances attending the sale, including the amount of the debt to be paid, the terms of the mortgage, and the condition of the property mortgaged.

The court shall further consider the amount of the debt to be paid, the terms of the mortgage, and the condition of the property mortgaged, and shall have regard to all the circumstances attending the sale, including the amount of the debt to be paid, the terms of the mortgage, and the condition of the property mortgaged.

The court shall have regard to all the circumstances attending the sale, including the amount of the debt to be paid, the terms of the mortgage, and the condition of the property mortgaged.

The court shall further consider the amount of the debt to be paid, the terms of the mortgage, and the condition of the property mortgaged, and shall have regard to all the circumstances attending the sale, including the amount of the debt to be paid, the terms of the mortgage, and the condition of the property mortgaged.

The court shall have regard to all the circumstances attending the sale, including the amount of the debt to be paid, the terms of the mortgage, and the condition of the property mortgaged.

The court shall further consider the amount of the debt to be paid, the terms of the mortgage, and the condition of the property mortgaged, and shall have regard to all the circumstances attending the sale, including the amount of the debt to be paid, the terms of the mortgage, and the condition of the property mortgaged.

The court shall have regard to all the circumstances attending the sale, including the amount of the debt to be paid, the terms of the mortgage, and the condition of the property mortgaged.
KING OF THE CAMPUS

By James M. Kellogg

The King of the Campus is a title that is often associated with the most popular or influential student at a university. However, the true meaning of this title is open to interpretation and can vary depending on the context and culture of the institution.

At some universities, the title is given to a student who has demonstrated exceptional leadership skills and has made a significant impact on the campus community. This student is often involved in various extracurricular activities and is known for their charisma and ability to inspire others.

At other universities, the title may be given to a student who is widely respected for their academic achievements and contributions to the field of study. This student is often seen as a role model for their peers and is recognized for their dedication and hard work.

Regardless of the definition, the title of King of the Campus is one that is highly sought after and is often associated with a sense of pride and accomplishment. It is a title that is earned through a combination of talent, character, and dedication, and it is one that is respected and admired by all who are part of the campus community.
SHE WHO LOVES IN VAIN.

By Grace, Menahan, L. M.

It was a lovely day in the city. The sun was shining brightly, and the breeze was blowing softly. The street was bustling with activity as people went about their daily routines. A sense of excitement filled the air as everyone was enjoying the warmth of the day.

As Jane walked down the street, she couldn't help but notice the striking man standing in the middle of the crowd. He was elegant, tall, and confident, and she couldn't take her eyes off him. She had heard about him through the grapevine, but she never thought she would actually meet him.

She approached him cautiously, trying to maintain her composure. "Hello, I understand you're looking for a companion." His eyes widened in surprise. "How did you know that?"

"I heard through the grapevine," she replied, feeling a bit of pride in her ability to gather information. "I thought I'd see if you were interested in sharing the day with me."

He hesitated for a moment, looking at her with a mix of curiosity and amusement. "I don't see why not," he said finally. "It's not every day I have the opportunity to spend time with such an interesting young lady."
Do You Know — Where To Buy Fresh
Healthy and appetizing
Fruits and Vegetables
For Your Favorite Prices?

SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY BOOKSTORE

PORTFOLIO OF AN INNOCENT MAN

In Lawrence McTigue, C. L. W. '42

A SOMEWHAT UNUSUAL PHASE

in the story of the development of an innocent child

By Arthur Henry's "Younger Son,"

"A story of an innocent child, who, from the time of his birth, has been successful in every undertaking."

Reviewed by M. A. O.

SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY THEATRE

Saturday, October 3, 1942

10:30 P.M.

The University Dining Room

BUFFET FOOD, Carefully Prepared. Nicely Served.

For your convenience

20-35c. 50c.

Specials with

SANDWICHES A la CARTE

I E. PURZY CO., INC.

Photographers and Limners

210 Tremont Street, Boston

Call us for your free appointment

160 Tremont Street, Boston