Suffolk University was foreshadowed when Suffolk Law School was founded in September 1906. This school became, at an early date the symbol of the open door of opportunity to the ambitious and worthy youth of the land who must win higher education if at all while engaged in wage-earning pursuits. It became a leavening force in greater Boston and soon attracted a clientele of aspiring young men in an ever-widening circle until all New England and even foreign nations found representation in its student body.

Trained for leadership and worthily fulfilling their responsibilities as lawyers, judges or legal experts in industrial fields the alumni of Suffolk University Law School have indirectly created a demand for the extension of Suffolk's educational program. The rising cost of education in the day colleges, and above all the impressive demonstration of the value of combining educational theory and daily wage-earning experience as a preparation for life, have encouraged the Trustees of Suffolk University to offer similar educational opportunities in other fields than in law.

The first additional unit to be set up was Suffolk College of Liberal Arts founded in September 1934 and incorporated with degree-granting powers by the Massachusetts Legislature in February 1935. Suffolk Law Graduate School was authorized by the same legislative charter and in September 1935 this third department was created. Suffolk College of Journalism opened its doors in September 1936.

It was then voted by the Trustees to petition the Massachusetts Legislature for the consolidation of Suffolk's group of schools into Suffolk University. The fact that the General Court granted this privilege and also authorized the creation of a fifth department—Suffolk College of Business Administration—should be deeply gratifying to every friend of Suffolk as well as to its Founder, who still remains the active director of Suffolk's educational program.
THE CHARTER

Chapter 237

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

In the Year One Thousand Nine Hundred and Thirty-Seven

An Act to establish Suffolk University

Whereas, the deferred operation of this act would tend to defeat its purpose, therefore it is hereby declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public convenience.

SECTION 1. The name of the Suffolk Law School, incorporated by chapter one hundred and forty-five of the acts of nineteen hundred and fourteen, is hereby changed to Suffolk University. Said corporation shall consist of not more than twenty-one members.

SECTION 2. Suffolk University shall include the departments now known as Suffolk Law School, Suffolk Graduate School of Law, Suffolk College of Liberal Arts, Suffolk College of Journalism and a new department to be known as Suffolk College of Business Administration.

The said university shall possess all the powers and privileges heretofore granted in chapter one hundred and forty-five of the acts of nineteen hundred and fourteen and chapter fifteen of the acts of nineteen hundred and thirty-five together with such additional powers and privileges as are possessed by colleges of Journalism and Business Administration in this Commonwealth including power to confer degrees appropriate thereto and to grant diplomas therefor.

(Signed by Governor Charles F. Hurley, April 29, 1937.)

HISTORICAL SKETCH OF LAW SCHOOL

Suffolk University Law School was founded September 10, 1906 by Gleason L. Archer, a young lawyer who had won his own education in the face of extreme hardship. A wage earner from his thirteenth year he had a profound understanding of the problems of those who hunger for education and must win it if at all, by their own efforts. Founded as an evening school, Suffolk Law School won a place for itself by sheer merit of its highly original methods of teaching. Dean Archer soon demonstrated a rare faculty for choosing able teachers and loyal co-workers. Team work of high degree in faculty and administrative officers has moulded Suffolk into one of the outstanding part-time law schools of the United States. The success of its graduates in bar examinations and professional activities has attracted to it a world wide clientele. A significant feature of its history is the fact that in 1914 the founder of the school conveyed by an absolute deed of gift to a Board of Trustees created by the Massachusetts Legislature all his right, title and interest in the school. Since that date all earnings above running expenses have gone into a building fund. Under his prudent administration this fund has grown to such an extent that Suffolk University finds itself with an initial endowment of more than half a million dollars of assets in excess of liabilities.

The Part-Time Student

The part-time student undoubtedly lacks some of the advantages that accrue to students who are not obliged to work for a living; yet there are compensations.

The law student engaged in industry is in daily contact with the very conditions of life upon which law is based. Principles enunciated in the classroom find instant response in the minds of those whose daily experiences furnish illustrations of the law in operation. To the average full-time student such principles are academic theory.

The practical experience of the employed student largely counterbalances the additional leisure of the full-time student. In building up a law practice after graduation the part-time student has a distinct advantage. Since law practice comes chiefly from business men, an acquaintanceship with business men is a requisite of success. Day law school graduates, as a rule, have been in school all their lives. They know few persons except their schoolmates. The average part-time student, on the other hand, has been in daily contact with business men for years before entering the practice of law. If he has won the confidence of such acquaintances he starts with a clientele of great potential value.

Our Student Body

Students of Suffolk University Law School are a cosmopolitan group. Here meet on common ground, ambitious men of all races and creeds: Bankers, brokers, business men, federal, state and municipal officials, leaders of the working classes and men of all honorable occupations find in our school inspiration and opportunity. Men of all ages attend our classes. The presence of men of maturity and sound experience adds much to the earnestness and helpfulness of classroom discussions. A spirit of comradeship develops in our classes that makes for true Americanism.

Educational Advantages of Boston

Boston offers unrivalled opportunities for culture. The Boston Public Library system is justly famous. The State Library and the State Archives are next door to the law school building. The Museum of Fine Arts and the Museum of Natural History are easily accessible. To the student of history Greater Boston is world-famous for its shrines of American Liberty—Faneuil Hall, the Old State House, the Old North Church, the Old South Church, King’s Chapel, the home of Paul Revere and the various burying grounds where our historic dead are sleeping. No city in America could be more inspiring to students and certainly none more conducive to scholarship. Beacon Hill and the State House form the very heart of historic Boston.
Accessibility of Suffolk University Law School

No educational institution of Boston could be more conveniently located than Suffolk University Law School. The administrative offices and lecture halls are in the University Building opposite the rear wing of the State House which is easily accessible from all transportation lines.

The North Station, the South Station, Park Street, and other subway stations; Park Square and Bowdoin Square bus lines are all within a few minutes’ walk from the College. The State House is a landmark even for strangers in Boston. The rear wing of the State House, as indicated, is next door neighbor both to the college and to the law school buildings.

Buildings and Equipment

The main building of Suffolk University, home of the Law School, is at the corner of Temple and Derne Streets immediately in the rear of the State House. It occupies the entire block bounded by Temple Street, Derne Street and Ridgway Lane running back 150 feet; hence has light and air on all sides. Eleven dwelling houses were razed in 1920 and 1923 to make way for this massive structure. When the upper stories are complete in September, 1937, the building will have a total floor area of more than 82,000 square feet—six stories in the rear (because of the downward slope of the hill) and five stories on Derne Street. A flat open air gymnasium more than 13,000 square feet in area will be opened to the students in October, 1937, the first sky-high university campus in America. Here will be found a splendid tennis court and provisions for squash, basketball and other sports. Here in future days when the University has outgrown the auditorium, commencement exercises will be held.

The University Library

After September, 1937, the enlargement of the University Building will permit the consolidation of the libraries of the different departments on the third floor in a hall larger than the present school auditorium. It will have a mezzanine or balcony for book stacks, thus providing an aggregate floor area of eleven thousand square feet. The latest ventilating conveniences, especially designed to provide an abundance of fresh air, free from dust, will be installed.

Nothing but the most up-to-date and useful books will be found in the stacks of the University. The Librarian is working in close co-operation with the various professors and is purchasing only such books as are found to be of vital significance. Textbooks, encyclopedias, classical and historical volumes, source material for research and every aid to scholarship are to be found in Suffolk’s growing treasure house of knowledge.

The Law library section contains at present upwards of 8,000 volumes, with approximately 500 annual additions.
These books include: U. S. Supreme Court Reports; Lawyer's Edition of U. S. Reports; American Law Reports; Massachusetts Reports; the National Reporter System complete with Digests; L.R.A.; L.R.A. (New Series); U. S. Circuit Court of Appeal Reports; Federal Reporter; American Bankruptcy Reports; Early New York Reports; Ruling Case Law; Corpus Juris Cyc; American and English Encyclopaedia of Law; Massachusetts Digest; American Digest; Lawyer's Edition Annotated Digest; U. S. Digest; U. S. Compiled Statutes, etc. Books in greatest demand are provided in several duplicate sets. Standard case and textbooks as well as books for general reading are also provided. Law students are also privileged to have access to books in all other departments of the University Library.

Lounging Rooms and Showers

Lounging rooms for men will be found in the basement and on the fifth floor of the University Building. In the latter location showers will be provided for those who indulge in athletic sports on the roof.

Faculty Room

A lounge for the exclusive use of the faculty will be on the fourth floor.

Auditorium

The University is especially fortunate in having available for its use an auditorium on the Temple Street side of the building with a seating capacity of eleven hundred. It is used for mass meetings, commencements and similar activities.

Bookstore

The Bookstore is located on the second floor of the University Building and is reached by the stairway at the left of the concourse. It has every facility for the speedy handling of textbooks and other school supplies.

Placement Bureau

From its inception Suffolk Law School has championed the cause of the student who must earn a living while attending school. For many years it has maintained a free Employment Bureau. The economic depression has intensified the problem of finding employment for needy students. In September, 1935, a Placement Bureau was established and a director was assigned to the task of keeping in constant touch with the employment situation in order to discover desirable employment for students. Scores of Suffolk students, both of the College and the Law School, have been enabled to continue their education during the past year through the activities of the Placement Bureau. The Office of the Placement Bureau after September 1, 1937 will be in the University Building.

Treasury Department

After September 1, 1937, the Treasury Department will be located on the second floor rear between the Bookstore and the Annex. The outer office of the Treasury Department will be provided with writing tables for convenience in filling out tuition slips. A window in the treasury cage will be devoted to each department of the University. The Bookkeeping Department will be provided for in the same general suite of offices. All tuition payments will be made in this department.

THE SUFFOLK LAW SCHOOL SYSTEM

Suffolk University Law School has always adhered to a belief that men whose time for study is limited by the necessity of working for a living cannot master the elements of the law by the case system without unnecessary hardship. That system was designed for those who have all their time for study. It involves gleaning the law from original sources without the aid of textbooks and lectures.

Suffolk University Law School early evolved a system which combines text, lecture, case and statute thus saving the student much time, yet offering a wider understanding and more effective training for the profession than is possible under the case system within the limits of the time that the employed person can possibly devote to the study of law.

Instead of leaving the student to discover the law from study of original sources, as in the case system, it uses texts in which the law is stated in simple language with adequate illustrations. Thought-compelling lectures and oral review of previous work are regular features of the Suffolk System.

Suffolk also requires the student to read and make written abstracts of cases as a means of training in deducing the law from original sources. Our students are constantly occupied in solving legal questions during classroom hours and in other school periods devoted wholly to written tests and examinations.

The case system, on the other hand, is mainly occupied with analyzing or memorizing another person’s reasoning. The Suffolk Plan compels original, constructive reasoning by the student. It combines the best in the case system with the best in the text and lecture systems together with original methods evolved by the Founder of the school.

Textbooks from the pen of Dean Archer, and notes written expressly for use in Suffolk University Law School by its professors, are vital to the
SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY LAW SCHOOL

Suffolk method of teaching. Unchanging fundamental principles of law, accurately and concisely set forth and abundantly illustrated therein by actual cases offer the student a solid foundation of legal understanding.

The Suffolk system, moreover, possesses the unusual merit of obliging every student to work with unflagging zeal if he is to maintain a passing average. No chance exists to make up defects by cramming for examinations. Every day and every week counts toward his semester average. Our system, therefore, builds constructively through four years of intensive training a knowledge not only of the common law and its development through the ages but also what it is today after generations of legislative tinkering.

It is significant of the weakness of the case system that several of the great universities, for its years militant advocates, have recently abandoned it as no longer adequate to modern needs or to a proper understanding of the rapidly changing laws of the present day.

Personal Attention to Educational Needs of Students

The Research Department of the Law School prepares all questions to be used in problems, tests or examinations. It directs the work of the student outside the classroom. By means of written work it gives him the personal attention essential to rapid development of understanding of law. It constantly tests the quality of his work, corrects his misunderstandings, and requires of each regular student more than one hundred and fifty written opinions on problems in case-form each year. The department grades these opinions carefully and returns them to the student with appropriate marks and suggestions, together with official answers and citations for his instruction and future use. This grading of written opinions greatly aids the careless or weak reasoner or faulty writer. It accords to the high-grade student recognition of merit which promotes assurance and poise.

The Department Director devotes his entire time, day and evening, to the work and is available for helpful conferences with the students at all hours.

The Dean of the school also, in addition to classroom and office contacts with the student body, devotes much time to personal conferences on student problems. Individual members of the faculty likewise give freely of their time in order to assist Suffolk undergraduates to maximum efficiency.

The Dean of Suffolk University College of Liberal Arts after July 1, 1937 will devote his entire time to the University. A part of his duties will be to assist students who may be found to be weak in English or other academic fields related to law. Further development of our general educational program, especially in the Pre-Legal Department, should do much to increase the efficiency of Suffolk University Law School as a training school for lawyers.

LENGTH OF COURSES

For regular students, four academic years is required, the year being divided into two semesters of seventeen weeks each.

Classes meet Mondays, Tuesdays and Fridays of each week either day or evening. One evening each month, usually Wednesday or Thursday, is devoted to written examinations in all classes. At the end of each semester three entire evenings are devoted to examinations.

Morning Classes

The forenoon division meets at 10 A.M. and is dismissed at 12 o'clock. The work of the day department exactly parallels the work of the evening department, differing only in the hours of meeting.

Evening Classes

For the convenience of students who work in the city but live out of town, sessions of classes are maintained with lectures from 5:30 to 7:30 P.M. This is a privilege especially appreciated by men who complete their everyday duties at five o'clock and would otherwise have to wait a considerable length of time for lectures. The lectures closing at 7:30 P.M. enable such students to take an early train for home, and to review the work of the evening while it is still fresh in mind.

The later divisions meet at 7:35 P.M. and are dismissed at 9:30 P.M. To students living near Boston the later divisions are especially convenient because of allowing them opportunity to take dinner at home before starting for school. Lectures in each division are of two hours' duration.

ENTRANCE REQUIREMENTS

Until February, 1938, the requirements for entrance to Suffolk Law School are:

(a) Proof of completion of four years of day high school or fifteen college entrance units.

(b) Certificate of good moral character from teacher, pastor or other reputable source.

In conformity with the rule of the Supreme Court of the Commonwealth, all candidates for admission to Suffolk University Law School after February, 1938, must present proof of at least two years of college work or must complete the equivalent in Suffolk College of Liberal Arts or elsewhere before beginning the study of law in Suffolk University Law School. Since our College of Liberal Arts operates in the evening, students who are working for a living will find it possible to accomplish therein any desired amount of college work by evening study.
All students, however, who enter Suffolk University Law School before this two-year college rule goes into effect are excused from its requirement by the exception contained in the last clause of the rule, which reads:

"Every . . . applicant shall have completed one-half of the work accepted for a bachelor's degree in a college approved by the Board, or otherwise have received an education equivalent thereto in the opinion of the board, and such education shall have been completed before the applicant began the study of law; provided, however, that this requirement shall not apply to applicants who begin the study of law . . . prior to September 1, 1938."

—The Supreme Court Rule of June, 1934.

Pre-Legal Department

After February, 1938 Suffolk University Law School will require candidates for admission to the Bachelor of Laws courses to present proof of the successful completion of at least sixty semester hours in a college approved by the Board of Bar Examiners of Massachusetts prior to beginning the study of law. High school graduates or those who have had some college work may enter the Pre-Legal Department of Suffolk University and by evening study qualify to enter upon the study of law. The time required in preparation will depend upon the capabilities and industry of the applicant but the pre-legal course is laid out in a three year schedule.

While it is true that high school graduates may enter Suffolk University Law School without college training until February, 1938 and be eligible to pass the Massachusetts Bar Examination at the end of their course yet it is earnestly recommended that students coming directly from high school enter our College of Liberal Arts in September, 1938 and select the pre-legal subjects listed below:

(Available in Suffolk College of Liberal Arts in September, 1937 and in the Pre-Legal Department after September, 1938)

Pre-Legal Curriculum

Classes meet Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays 6:00 to 9:00 P.M.

ADMINISTRATIVE REGULATIONS

Registration

Incoming Freshmen should register before opening day by filing a formal application for admission together with the registration fee of $5. Application blanks may be obtained from the law school secretary and approved by the Dean and the Committee on Admissions.

A personal interview with the Dean when presenting the application is desirable, but registration by mail is possible if proof of general education and proper letters of recommendation accompany application. Certificates of registration will be issued to all whose applications are accepted. The registration fee will be returned on all rejected applications but it is not returnable to any applicant after he has been accepted and officially entered in the school records. The necessary proof of general education should be supplied, if possible, at the time of registration; in any event not later than two weeks after the opening of school.

Students of the upper classes will register in the classroom at the opening sessions by filling out class attendance cards.

The office of the Secretary is open for registration on school days from 9:00 A.M. to 8:00 P.M. (Wednesdays and Thursdays 9:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M.). The Dean is at his office on Mondays and Fridays, day and evening, to meet prospective students. From August 15th to opening date of school he is at the office every day except Saturdays.
University Fee

Beginning with the Class of 1941 all students will pay an annual University fee of $10 due and payable with the first quarter’s tuition. This fee is not a part of the tuition, but an administrative fee which includes library fee, admits all students to dramatics, athletic privileges (except charge for towels and locker key), a ticket to the annual banquet, and entitles the student to a year’s subscription to the Suffolk Journal.

TUITION

The tuition charge except as to students enrolled prior to March, 1937 is $160 per year, payable in four installments, on the following dates: September 20, 1937; November 15, 1937; January 31, 1938; March 28, 1938.

Admission to classes is by ticket bearing student’s signature. A book of official tickets sufficient for the current tuition period is given to each student upon receipt of the quarter’s tuition.

Since the tuition is payable in installments, no refund will be made if a student withdraws from classes before the end of a period for which he has paid. Students withdrawing from a course after it has begun because of a contemplated condition will be charged for the entire quarter in the subject dropped. If, however, he pays for a semester or entire year in advance and withdraws for reasons of business or ill-health, a refund of all except the current quarter’s tuition will be made.

Students required to repeat an entire year’s work will pay the regular tuition fee. If required to repeat one subject, a proportionate rate will be charged.

Conditions

A student who incurs conditions in two subjects during either the Freshman or the Sophomore year, and who has not maintained a general average of 75 per cent, will be required to repeat the entire work of the year before being promoted.

With the exception of members of the Junior Class, in cases where one condition is incurred, a student at the discretion of the Dean may be promoted to the next higher class, at the same time repeating the subject in which he is conditioned.

A condition must be removed within one year from the time of incurring it.

Repeating a subject includes full attendance at lectures and the passing of all problems, tests and examinations in the conditioned subject.

A student who has any conditions at the completion of his Junior year may not, except with permission of the Dean and Faculty, be a candidate for the degree of L.L.B. at the next Commencement.

The School authorities reserve the right to deny the privilege of continuance in the School to any student whose work is unsatisfactory at the end of one year.

A student who on account of low scholarship has been obliged to repeat two years of work, with special permission may remain in the School and complete his law course, but may not be a candidate for the degree.

Because students entering the Senior Class with conditions almost invariably fail to graduate with their class, it has become necessary to stress the following rule: Students in the Junior Class who are conditioned in any subject are required to clear up any outstanding condition in the Summer School before entering the Senior year.

No student who on account of low scholastic average is required to repeat the Junior year will be eligible to take a make-up course in the Summer School.

Any student who neglects the opportunity to make up a Junior condition, or who fails to pass the make-up subject, will be required to repeat the condition or conditions the following year as major courses, but will not be allowed to take the complete Senior course.

The clearing of any Junior condition requires full attendance at lectures as well as the passing of monthly tests and final examinations.

Freshman and Sophomore make-up courses are given in the summer sessions when necessary. Students with only one major condition may be permitted to clear it in the Summer School.

Special Courses

Any student who chooses to take less than the regular schedule of law work, and thus requires more than four years to complete his law training, will be granted the degree upon successful completion of all required work, provided he did not incur any conditions during the years in which he carried less than the full quota of study.

Withdrawals

A student who withdraws from the School in good standing may re-enter subject to rules and regulations in effect at time of re-admittance.

Weekly Instalment Payments Allowed in Special Cases

During the business depression weekly tuition payments of $5 each have been accepted from students of very limited means. This privilege will be continued only in case of students furnishing satisfactory evidence of necessity therefor. A charge of one dollar per quarter will be made for this service.
Books

The cost of books in the various classes varies but slightly from year to year. The 1937–1938 costs are as follows:

- Freshman Class
  - First Semester: $13.20; Second Semester: $9.20

- Sophomore Class
  - First Semester: $11.00; Second Semester: $2.25

- Junior Class
  - First Semester: $9.00; Second Semester: $12.25

- Senior Class
  - Entire year: $14.00

Classroom Attendance

Attendance at one of the three class sessions is compulsory. A record of ten or more absences during a semester may entail loss of class standing. Absences from classroom for more than one week must be satisfactorily accounted for.

Requirements for Degree of Bachelor of Laws

Candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Laws from Suffolk University Law School must have satisfied the following requirements:

- Attendance for four academic years.
- Satisfactory proof of at least four years of high school.

(Note: Students entering after February 1938, must have completed at least one-half of the course in a recognized degree-granting college before entering upon the study of law.)

- Proof of good moral character.
- Must have attained age of at least twenty-one years.
- A scholastic average of 70 per cent or over in every required subject.

GRADUATE SCHOOL OF LAW
Master of Laws Course

The Graduate Department of Suffolk University Law School was established in September 1935, in pursuance of authority granted to the Trustees of the School in Chapter 15 of the Acts of 1935. Courses leading to the degree of Master of Laws have proven deservedly popular.

Requirements for Degree of LL.M.

Students holding the degree of Bachelor of Laws (LL.B.) from Suffolk or from other recognized law schools are eligible to take the Master's Course. The graduate courses are intended to supplement general professional education in the closely related fields of law and government by an intensive study of special subjects outside the ordinary scope of a law school curriculum.

The mental stimulus of return to the classroom—renewed association with lawyers who are ambitious to rise to greater heights in the profession—new vistas of law and of cultural understanding—these are some of the advantages of the Master's Course at Suffolk Law School. Every subject is given by an exerpt and every subject is of great value to the ambitious lawyer.

Opening Date

The Graduate Course re-opens on Monday, September 27th, one week after the opening of the undergraduate law classes.

Classes are held on Mondays, Tuesdays and Fridays from six to nine P.M.

Students desiring to take the course in two years instead of one year may do so. It is also permissible for students to register for single courses.

Tuition

The tuition for the course if taken in one year is $160; in two years $175, payable quarterly. A graduation fee of $10 is to be paid by every student who qualifies for the degree of Master of Laws. The University fee of $10 is payable with the first quarter's tuition.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND PRIZES

The Walsh Scholarship
A scholarship of the value of one-half the annual tuition, known as the "David I. Walsh Scholarship," is awarded annually in June to the student who has maintained the highest general average in scholarship during the Freshman year.

The Boynton Scholarship
A scholarship of the value of one-half the annual tuition, known as the "Thomas J. Boynton Scholarship," is awarded annually in June to the student who has maintained the highest general average for the Sophomore year.

The Frost Scholarship
A scholarship of the value of one-half the annual tuition, known as the "George A. Frost Scholarship," is awarded annually in June to the student who has maintained the highest general average for the Junior year.

Archer Scholarships
The Archer Scholarships are three in number, each equal to one-half the recipient's tuition, and are awarded at the close of the year to those men who finish second in Freshman, Sophomore and Junior Classes.

Steinberg Scholarship
This scholarship was established by Louis H. Steinberg of the Class of 1925 as a token of loyalty to Suffolk Law School and of sympathy for those who must support themselves while winning an education. It is awarded annually to the man who has attained the highest general average during the first two years, and is equal in value to one-half the tuition of the Junior year.

Fairchild Scholarship
The Fairchild Scholarship was established in December, 1926, by Mrs. Julian D. Fairchild of Brooklyn, N. Y., in memory of her late husband. This scholarship is awarded annually to that student whose school record, character, and general circumstances indicate the appropriateness of such award. Value, one-half the annual tuition.

Wilmot R. Evans Memorial Scholarship
In celebration of the Thirtieth Jubilee Year of the founding of Suffolk Law School, the Board of Trustees have created a graduate scholarship known as the "Wilmot R. Evans Memorial Scholarship," equivalent to $170, taking the form of a one year Master of Laws course in the LL.M. division of the Graduate School. This scholarship is awarded annually at the Commencement exercises.

Graduate School Endowment

The members of the first graduating class in the Master of Laws course in June, 1936, presented to the Law School the sum of $100 to be set aside as a permanent endowment for future classes in the Graduate Department of Suffolk Law School.

Further heartening evidence has been given during the past year of the loyalty of our graduates to the Law School and to the promotion of the soundly democratic form of education for which the Law School stands. Our graduates in both the Bachelor and Master classes donated prizes and endowment funds for the benefit of future classes. In view of the economic distress with which these graduates have themselves been struggling, the spirit of their donation is indeed significant.

Bradley Prizes

The income from a gift to Suffolk Law School from Mrs. Julian D. Fairchild of Brooklyn, N.Y., is devoted to prizes to be awarded annually in memory of Mrs. Fairchild's father, Charles L. Bradley of New Haven, Conn. They are three in number—$10 to students who win first honors in each of the following subjects: Contracts, Real Property and Constitutional Law.

The Graduating Class of 1936 presented to Suffolk Law School three prizes of $25 each to be awarded to the undergraduate who maintains the highest rank in the subjects of Sales, of Torts and of Deeds, Mortgages and Easements. These prizes will be awarded at the completion of the school year of 1936-37 and come under the regular scholarship ruling.

Special Scholarships For College Graduates

In recognition of the fact that students with college degrees have expended considerable sums for their education, and that they ordinarily present less difficult educational problems, the Trustees of Suffolk Law School have voted to award to college graduates special scholarships equal to 20 per cent of the annual tuition. The requirements of the award are the possession of an academic degree (A.B., B.S., or Ph.B.) and the maintaining of an average rank for the year of at least 80 per cent. These scholarships, like those noted above, will be payable in tuition during the school year following the award in June.
EXTRA-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

Student activities develop individual initiative, co-operative effort and leadership. The University encourages all such and the office of the Registrar renders active co-operation. No student whose academic grades are unsatisfactory or who is in arrears in tuition payments is permitted to carry responsibilities in extra-curricular activities. The number of activities in which a student may engage at any time is limited also by a point system, thus to safeguard student health and scholarship. Suffolk University encourages students to do intensive and creative work in a few activities, rather than in a large number.

Debating Societies

Two debating societies have already been organized. The Suffolk Law School Debating Club completes its second year in June, 1937. The Thomas J. Boynton Debating Club was organized in the College of Liberal Arts in February, 1937. Other clubs are projected. Interclub debates will be encouraged and a Varsity Team will be selected composed of outstanding debaters from the various clubs.

Dramatic Club

In November, 1936 the Suffolk Players, a dramatic club, was organized by Miss M. Esther Newsome, Director of Extra-Curricular Activities. In January, 1937 the first of a series of remarkably successful plays was staged in the school auditorium. Under the stimulus of this new type of undergraduate activity a play-writing contest was held in the Winter of 1937. Miss Theresa M. Bodwell of Woburn, Liberal Arts '40, won first prize. Rexford M. Farewell of Adams, Law '39, was awarded second honors. The winning play was given by the Suffolk Players in April 1937.

Orchestra and Glee Club

The Director of extra-curricular activities is continually on the lookout for instrumental and vocal talent among Suffolk's undergraduates. Through the generosity of a Suffolk alumnus, Joseph P. Collins, two pianos have been provided for use in this work. One is in the basement hall of the Suffolk Alumni building and the other in the school auditorium. An excellent beginning of a Suffolk Orchestra and also a Varsity Glee Club has already been made.

Athletics

Plans for the new building call for an athletic field on the roof. A roof area of thirteen thousand two hundred and eighty square feet when crowned with screened courts will provide opportunity for tennis, basket ball and other outdoor sports in their season. In cold weather tennis courts may be turned into a skating rink for hockey games and the like.

Suffolk Journal

The official publication of the University is the "Suffolk Journal," a monthly newspaper which serves as a laboratory course for the students in Journalism. This paper is published under faculty supervision, but news columns, features, editorials, advertising, makeup and mechanical work is of student origin. Students enrolled in any department of the University may participate in furnishing news and other material for the "Suffolk Journal." The editorial rooms are in the College Building, 59 Hancock Street.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The Alumni Association of Suffolk University Law School organized in 1920 has since September 1926 maintained an active Alumni Association with a clubhouse at 73 Hancock Street, Boston, containing the Alumni library, conference and general assembly rooms.

There have been two thousand, nine hundred and seventeen graduates of the Law School, including those of 1937. The officers of the Alumni Association for 1937–38 are:
