PURPOSE OF SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY LAW SCHOOL

Suffolk University Law School is the parent of the University itself. Herein were formulated the ideals and educational policies that now characterize Suffolk University. Suffolk University’s constant endeavor is to increase its efficiency and to broaden the scope of its service to students who come to it for training. After forty-two years of successful operation, the Law School is fortified and equipped for a new era of progress. The two-year college requirement for law students links together in united effort the College of Liberal Arts and the Law School of Suffolk University.

HISTORICAL DATA

The first unit of Suffolk University has been in successful operation for forty-two years. Suffolk Law School was founded in September 1906, and was chartered with degree granting powers by the Legislature of Massachusetts in 1914.

Early in its history the Suffolk Law School gained national recognition as a training school for lawyers. Self-supporting students in an ever widening circle found in Suffolk a haven of opportunity. Judges, lawyers, business men, leaders in political and civic life owe their advancement to the training received at Suffolk Law School. The rising cost of higher education in recent years has brought about an extension of Suffolk's educational program. Although New England has been long famous for its colleges and universities, until 1934 when Suffolk College of Liberal Arts was founded there was no opportunity east of New York City where an ambitious man or woman might earn a Bachelor of Arts degree entirely through evening study. Suffolk was the first to recognize and to provide for this need—our Liberal Arts department opening its doors to students September 24, 1934. The Legislature of Massachusetts gave the new college a special degree-granting charter in February 1935.

A Graduate School of Law was established in September, 1935, and a College of Journalism one year later. The various departments of Suffolk University were incorporated by the Massachusetts Legislature in April, 1937.

A building campaign was at once inaugurated to provide adequate facilities for the growing institution. The main building (erected in 1920-21) and annex (1923-24) were remodeled and upper stories added thus providing a thoroughly up-to-date University Building.

Completion and dedication of the University Building occurred in February 1938—delegates from fifty colleges and universities participating in impressive ceremonies.

The University Building is a modern fireproof structure located at the corner of Derne and Temple Streets, Beacon Hill. The cornerstone of the first unit of the building was laid in 1920 by Calvin Coolidge, then Governor of Massachusetts and later President of the United States. The last unit was added in 1937 and the completed building was formally dedicated in February 1938.

The University Building occupies the entire space bounded by Temple Street, Derne Street and Ridgeway Lane. Eleven dwelling houses were razed to make way for this massive structure. The building has total floor area of more than 82,000 square feet. Located in it are the Executive Offices, the University Library, twenty-three lecture halls, laboratories for Biology, Chemistry and Physics, the University Auditorium, Faculty Room, Trustees Room and Bookstore.

The University Library occupies the major portion of the third floor of the University Building. The main reading room is beautifully lighted and has electrically operated ventilators. Including the balcony there is a total stack capacity of forty-five thousand volumes affording opportunity for expansion. Each department is receiving regularly important accessions of the latest works in its field. All books, except those on required reading lists which are on reserve and are kept at the charging desk, are on the shelves open to the students, faculties and alumni.

In addition to the standard reference books and texts needed for the various courses, the Library receives regularly many newspapers, periodicals and government publications. The Library is open from 9:00 A.M. to 10:00 P.M. Monday through Friday; 9:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. Saturday.

The Law Section of the Library has been greatly enlarged and augmented during the past year. The Library now has complete state reports for the forty-eight states, a full set of New England Reports, and a well selected collection of law reviews from the leading legal institutions in America.

Thus, the Law School is able to offer one of the most complete Law Libraries in this section of the country, the law section itself of the University Library comprising more than seventeen thousand volumes.

The University Library serves not only the Law School, but also the College of Liberal Arts, the College of Journalism, the College of Business Administration, and the Graduate School of Law. Reference books, encyclopedias, classical and historical volumes, source material for research and other aids to scholarship are provided.
METHOD OF INSTRUCTION

The method of instruction in Suffolk University Law School combines the study of cases and texts with lectures designed to develop legal reasoning and a knowledge of principles and rules. The competent practice of the law demands an ability to analyze complicated fact situations, as well as a knowledge of legal principles and a trained power of legal reasoning. Diagnosis is as important in legal practice as in medical practice. It is as essential for the lawyer to determine what is fundamentally involved in a legal controversy as it is for a doctor to ascertain the ailment of a patient. Accordingly, analysis of decisions and, quite as essentially, of fact situations, is a significant and important part of the system of instruction.

Under a rearrangement of curriculum and lecture hours, that began in September 1942, the School's effective methods of teaching have been greatly improved, providing fuller opportunity for case discussion and comprehensive review.

THE THREE SEMESTER YEAR

Experiments with accelerated programs during the war has led Suffolk University Law School to adopt a three semester school year.

The plan operates as follows:

(a) Fall semester of 16 weeks.
(b) Winter semester of 16 weeks.
(c) Summer semester of 14 weeks.

Thus in the three-year day School, students in Suffolk University Law School may receive 124 weeks of training as against 90 weeks under the usual day school system. In the four-year evening School they may receive 170 weeks of instruction as against the customary 120 weeks. It will be noted from the above that the student may receive virtually an additional year of instruction in the day School and more than that in the evening School.

More important still, under this plan, all required subjects are given in Fall and Winter semesters, whereas elective subjects are offered in the Summer semester only.

The total number of semester hours for the degree of Bachelor of Laws is 81 exclusive of other required work, in Group III, infra: Required courses 65 semester hours, elective courses making up the balance. It is possible to complete the elective courses necessary for the degree in two Summers but it is recommended that three Summer semesters be devoted to those courses.
ARRANGEMENT OF COURSES

Experience has demonstrated that neither the number of class exercises, nor the number of weeks, devoted to a subject, is the sole test of the time required to be devoted to a course of study. The student needs time for reflection, for collateral reading and research. To meet this need certain fundamental courses are now given over longer periods of time than formerly.

Contracts and Torts, heretofore given three hours per week in the Fall and Winter semesters of the Freshman year, are now given two hours per week throughout the Fall and Winter semesters of the first year and two hours per week in the Fall semester of the second year. The Property course is given in the Winter semester of the first year and in the Fall and Winter semesters of the second year.

Equity (including Trusts) is given in four semesters, — in the Fall and Winter semesters of two years.

Practice and Pleading, and Evidence are each given in both the Fall and Winter semesters, thus laying the foundation for the student's court work, which is done in the senior year.

THE COURT WORK

The court work has been reestablished and extended to afford the widest possible experience in practice, pleading and evidence.

The law student should begin his practical experience in the law school, and not encounter it for the first time after he has passed the Bar examination and been admitted to the Bar. That this can be done has been amply demonstrated in Suffolk University Law School.

Four courts have been set up:

1. A supreme court, to hear in banc law questions on appeals, exceptions or reports from the lower courts, to be composed of members of the Faculty or of Judges of the Massachusetts Courts, or of both.

2. A superior court. Three members of the Faculty compose the bench of this court, and judges of the district court may be called to sit herein.

3. A probate court. One of the superior court judges will be assigned to sit, as occasion arises, as judge of probate.

4. A district court, in which three members of the Faculty are assigned as judges, supplemented by Judges of the Massachusetts District Courts who have volunteered their services as such judges and as an Appellate Division.

The jurisdiction of the above courts is based upon that of the like courts of Massachusetts.
Practice in these courts is conducted strictly in accordance with the laws, statutes and rules of Courts of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, — the aim being to teach practice, pleading and evidence by experience in the courts, thus supplementing class exercises in these subjects.

Each student is required to act as counsel in at least two cases, — in one as counsel for the plaintiff, and in another as counsel for the defendant. A student may participate in more than two cases if he desires and is able to do so.

Students draw their own writs and other process, have them served by the school sheriff and return them to the clerks' office as required by the statutes and rules of court of the Commonwealth. Each counsel draws and files his own pleadings, and other papers at or within the times fixed by law. Failure to do so will entail the consequences which follow such failure in actual litigation. Counsel for the parties act independently of each other in the preparation of pleadings and of the case for trial. Cases must be heard when reached on the lists, unless reasons are presented adequate to satisfy the court to grant postponement.

The student is encouraged to make his experience as extensive as possible by filing, when proper, demurrers, motions to dismiss, pleas, special answers, interrogatories, affidavits of no cause of action or of no defence, motions for directed verdicts, requests for instructions, motions for new trials, appeals, bills of exceptions, reports, etc.

Actual trials are held before juries or in jury waived sessions.

Law sessions of the courts are held for interlocutory matters; and in all respects, the effort is to approximate as nearly as possible the experience which the young lawyer will have in his first years at the Bar, whether practising by himself or as a junior in the office of an older attorney.

OFFICE APPRENTICESHIP

In furtherance of the purpose of preparing students for the actual practice of law, a course in office work has been established in the second year.

The student draws the usual papers employed in court practice, such as declarations, demurrers, pleas, answers, motions, bills of exceptions, etc., thus implementing the course on Practice and Pleading and aiding in the preparation for his court work in the senior year.

He also draws such documents as deeds, mortgages, discharges and assignments of mortgages, leases, simple wills and trust agreements, notices in ice and snow and other cases, notices to quit, notices to produce, summonses, assignments of wages and for creditors and corporate papers. He is required to become familiar with the records and functioning of registries of deeds and of probate and of the clerks of court.

A significant and valuable part of the work of this course is a study of the Rules of the District, Probate and Superior Courts.

THE SEMINAR

The traditional method of investigating and studying the law in different courses, e.g. Contracts, Torts, Sales, Property, etc. tends to develop a habit of thinking on the part of the student in terms of what seem to him isolated subjects. He rarely is able to analyze a set of facts so as to perceive all of the legal problems involved in it. He has little experience, or opportunity to obtain one, in original diagnosis, — the first thing a lawyer is required to do. To afford this experience, seminars have been established in the second and third years.

A class meets twice each week in office rather than in classroom surroundings. The work is based upon problems, taken from actual decisions of the courts.

The exercise is one of diagnosis, in which the student is taught to analyze the facts to ascertain all of the legal questions involved, and to determine what legal principles must be sustained to establish a cause of action or a defence.

The exercise is Socratic and informal and approximates the conference between the senior and junior lawyer in the office.

THE COMPREHENSIVE

Continuing the work of the seminars, there has been established for graduate students a Comprehensive Course given during the Fall and Winter semesters.

This also is a problem course, based on actual court cases. A primary objective is an intensive training in analysis and diagnosis of facts and law. The problems selected, however, cover a very wide field of the law and afford opportunity for extensive review. The problems are not selected and presented by courses, but are designedly varied, so as to develop the student's powers of original thinking and reasoning and to exercise his abilities of applying the principles which he has been studying in his previous courses. The approach to the problem is that of the lawyer and all aspects of the problem are surveyed together with related matters suggested by the questions and issues actually raised by the case.
REFRESHER COURSE

The wide extent of the law and the practical problems viewed in the Comprehensive Course makes it an adequate refresher course for veterans and others who desire to pursue a further course of study after graduation from law school, but who do not wish to become candidates for post-graduate degrees.

In the Comprehensive, important recent decisions of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts and statutes affecting substantive law, practice and evidence, are cited and discussed. All recent significant changes in the law, both statutory and non-statutory are noted.

THE MASTER OF LAWS DEGREE

The course for the Master of Laws degree has been reestablished in the evening school and is open to students holding the degree of LL.B. whose scholastic record indicates the ability to undertake it. The course may be taken in one year, or in not more than three consecutive years. The subjects available for this degree are listed in Group IV, and the requirements are hereinafter stated.

DEPARTMENT OF STUDENT HEALTH AND HYGIENE

A Department of Student Health and Hygiene is maintained by the University and is concerned with the activities which directly and indirectly affect student health. The Department has a complete program, covered by player insurance, of treatment, hospitalization and x-rays for athletes.

The Medical Office is located in Room 49 where the necessary staff and equipment are available at all times for first aid and other minor difficulties. A physician is in attendance at the University at stated hours and is available for emergency call at all hours. The Medical Office may be reached by calling CAPitol 7-1041, Extension 15.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES

Suffolk University has a well-formulated program of student activities designed to develop and encourage the personal qualities of leadership, initiative, cooperation and sportsmanship. The maintenance of a satisfactory scholastic standard, however, is a prerequisite for participation in these activities. A member of the administrative staff of the College has been appointed to serve as Director of Student Activities. The Director works closely with student groups in all matters of organization, meetings, public performance, etc. A list of activities open to all qualified students in the University is printed in the Catalogue of the College.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Fairchild Scholarship
The Fairchild Scholarship was established in December, 1946, by Mrs. Julian D. Fairchild of Brooklyn, N. Y., in memory of her late husband.

Steinberg Scholarship
This scholarship was established by Louis H. Steinberg of the Class of 1925.

The income of these funds is awarded annually in the discretion of the Faculty on the basis of scholarship, character and need.

The Trustees of the University have established six scholarships of $100 each, three available in the Day Division and three in the Evening Division. These scholarships may be awarded in the discretion of the Faculty to needy and deserving students of good scholastic standing in the second and third year Classes.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The Suffolk Alumni Association is an organization whose membership is made up of all degree holders and former students of Suffolk University. The association maintains a permanent office in the University building and has its own Director of Alumni Relations and Alumni Secretary. Here a file is maintained on all former students which is constantly supplemented as additional information concerning the current activities of the members is received. Through this organization a close contact exists between the University and its alumni which is beneficial to both. In addition to the parent national organization, several organizations have also been established throughout the country, and new chapters are added as circumstances permit. In recent years many of our students and graduates, have been and are living in many foreign countries, with the result that appropriate foreign chapters will be established wherever possible.
ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

The conditions of admission to Suffolk University Law School, conform to the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and the rules of eligibility issued by the Board of Bar Examiners and approved by the Supreme Judicial Court.

Applicants must furnish proof of at least sixty semester hours of college credits, or the equivalent thereof. Proof of college credits must be by official transcript from the college previously attended, provided such college has been approved by the State Board of Bar Examiners. The transcript should specify courses, semester hours of credit and grade for each course, the semester when taken, with passing mark, a key to grades not in per cents and a statement of the units accepted for entrance. Applicants who are unable to comply with the conditions of admission may be admitted, as pre-legal students, to the College of Liberal Arts of Suffolk University. Upon completion of the above requirement they may transfer to the Law School.

Suffolk University College of Liberal Arts has been listed by the Massachusetts Board of Bar Examiners as an approved college for pre-legal training.

ASSOCIATE IN ARTS PROGRAM

The Associate in Arts program prepares for admission to the Law School. It is given in the College of Liberal Arts, day or evening, and consists of at least sixty semester hours. Applicants with some college work but less than sixty semester hours of college credits should consult the College Registrar for evaluation of credits and arrangement of a suitable program for completion of the sixty semester hour requirement.

REGISTRATION

Incoming students register by filing application for admission together with proof of the requisite college training. Application blanks may be obtained from the Law School Secretary and must be approved by the Dean and the Committee on Admissions.

A personal interview with the Dean when presenting the application is desirable, but registration by mail is possible if proof of general education and proper letters of recommendation accompany application. Certificates of registration will be issued to all whose applications are accepted. The registration fee will be returned on all rejected applications but it is not returnable to any applicant after he has been accepted and officially entered in the school records.
Advanced standing toward the degree of Bachelor of Laws may be granted for Courses successfully completed in other law schools, if such Courses are required for the degree in Suffolk University Law School, in the discretion of the Faculty, and subject to the following conditions:

(a) Credit will not be granted for any Course in which the applicant received a grade below C, or the grade which is required by such other law school for the degree.

(b) Students admitted to advanced standing shall be on probation during the first semester of attendance in Suffolk University Law School, and shall be required to pass all Courses attended during such semester and to attain an average of 2.5 in all such Courses.

(c) The right is reserved to refuse such credit, or to allow it upon condition or after examination, and credit allowed may be withdrawn for unsatisfactory work.

(d) Advanced standing credits will not be allowed for more than forty semester hours of Required Courses.

(e) Applicants for admission with advanced standing must comply with the Requirements for Admission, as hereinbefore stated, and must file transcripts of the record of their work in other law schools.
SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY LAW SCHOOL

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

Suffolk University believes that the development of a well rounded legal education demands a thorough training with special emphasis upon the fundamental branches of the law. It also recognizes that there are other branches, which, while important and essential to the equipment of the lawyer, and valuable from the standpoint of information, are less vital to the understanding of basic principles or to the development of legal reasoning.

The undergraduate curriculum, accordingly, is divided into three groups, the first and third of which include courses which all applicants for a degree are required to take. The second group includes subjects, among which a certain degree of election or choice is permitted, — the only requirement being that at least sixteen semester hours in courses in this group must be taken and passed successfully. The courses for the degree of Master of Laws are in Group IV.
