THE UNIVERSITY BUILDING WILL BE CLOSED
ON ALL LEGAL HOLIDAYS
The first unit of Suffolk University has been in successful operation for forty-four years. Suffolk Law School was founded in September 1906, and was chartered with degree granting powers by the Legislature of Massachusetts in 1914.

Early in its history the Suffolk Law School gained national recognition as a training school for lawyers. Self-supporting students in an ever widening circle found in Suffolk a haven of opportunity. Judges, lawyers, business men, leaders in political and civic life owe their advancement to the training received at Suffolk Law School. The rising cost of higher education in recent years has brought about an extension of Suffolk's educational program. Although New England has been long famous for its colleges and universities, until 1934 when Suffolk College of Liberal Arts was founded there was no opportunity east of New York City where an ambitious man or woman might earn a Bachelor of Arts degree entirely through evening study. Suffolk was the first to recognize and to provide for this need—its Liberal Arts department opening its doors to students September 24, 1934. The Legislature of Massachusetts gave the new college a special degree-granting charter in February 1935.

A Graduate School of Law was established in September, 1935, and a College of Journalism one year later. The various departments of Suffolk University were incorporated by the Massachusetts Legislature in April, 1937.

A building campaign was at once inaugurated to provide adequate facilities for the growing institution. The main building (erected in 1920-21) and annex (1923-24) were remodeled and upper stories added thus providing a thoroughly up-to-date University Building.

Completion and dedication of the University Building occurred in February 1938—delegates from fifty colleges and universities participating in impressive ceremonies.

BUILDING AND EQUIPMENT

University Building

The University Building is a modern fireproof structure located at the corner of Derne and Temple Streets, Beacon Hill. The cornerstone of the first unit of the building was laid in 1920 by Calvin Coolidge, then Governor of Massachusetts and later President of the United States. The last unit was added in 1937 and the completed building was formally dedicated in February 1938.

The University Building occupies the entire space bounded by Temple Street, Derne Street and Ridgeway Lane. Eleven dwelling houses were razed to make way for this massive structure. The building has total floor area of more than 82,000 square feet. Located in it are the Executive Offices, the University Library, twenty-three lecture halls, laboratories for Biology, Chemistry and Physics, the University Auditorium, Faculty Room, Trustees' Room and Bookstore.

The University Library

The University Library occupies the major portion of the third floor of the University Building. The main reading room is beautifully lighted and has electrically operated ventilators. Including the balcony there is a total stack capacity of forty-five thousand volumes affording opportunity for expansion. Each department is receiving regularly important accessions of the latest works in its field. All books, except those on required reading lists which are on reserve and are kept at the charging desk, are on the shelves open to the students, faculties and alumni.

In addition to the standard reference books and texts needed for the various courses, the Library receives regularly many newspapers, periodicals and government publications. The Library is open from 9:00 A.M. to 10:00 P.M. Monday through Friday; 9:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. Saturday.

The Law Section of the Library has been greatly enlarged during the past year. The Library now has complete state reports for the forty-eight states, a full set of New England reports, and a well selected collection of law reviews from the leading legal institutions in America.

Thus, the Law School is able to offer one of the most complete Law Libraries in this section of the country, the law section itself of the University Library comprising more than seventeen thousand volumes.

The University Library serves not only the Law School, but also the College of Liberal Arts, the College of Journalism, the College of Business Administration, and the Graduate School of Law. Reference books, encyclopedias, classical and historical volumes, source material for research and other aids to scholarship are provided.
METHOD OF INSTRUCTION

The method of instruction in Suffolk University Law School combines the study of cases and texts with lectures designed to develop legal reasoning and a knowledge of principles and rules. The competent practice of the law demands an ability to analyze complicated fact situations, as well as a knowledge of legal principles and a trained power of legal reasoning. Diagnosis is as important in legal practice as in medical practice. It is as essential for the lawyer to determine what is fundamentally involved in a legal controversy as it is for a doctor to ascertain the ailment of a patient. Accordingly, analysis of decisions and, quite as essentially, of fact situations, is a significant and important part of the system of instruction.

Under a rearrangement of curriculum and lecture hours that began in September 1942, the School's effective methods of teaching have been greatly improved, providing fuller opportunity for case discussion and comprehensive review.

THE COURT WORK

The court work has been reestablished and extended to afford the widest possible experience in practice, pleading and evidence.

The law student should begin his practical experience in the law school, and not encounter it for the first time after he has passed the Bar examination and been admitted to the Bar. That this can be done has been amply demonstrated in Suffolk University Law School.

Four courts have been set up:

1. A supreme court, to hear in banc law questions on appeals, exceptions or reports from the lower courts, to be composed of members of the Faculty or of Judges of the Massachusetts Courts, or of both.

2. A superior court. Three members of the Faculty compose the bench of this court, and judges of the district court may be called to sit herein.

3. A probate court. One of the superior court judges will be assigned to sit, as occasion arises, as judge of probate.

4. A district court, in which three members of the Faculty are assigned as judges, supplemented by Judges of the Massachusetts District Courts who have volunteered their services as such judges and as an Appellate Division.

The jurisdiction of the above courts is based upon that of the like courts of Massachusetts.
Practice in these courts is conducted strictly in accordance with the laws, statutes and rules of courts of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, — the aim being to teach practice, pleading and evidence by experience in the courts, thus supplementing class exercises in these subjects.

Each student is required to act as counsel in at least two cases, — in one as counsel for the plaintiff, and in another as counsel for the defendant. A student may participate in more than two cases if he desires and is able to do so.

Students draw their own writs and other process, have them served by the school sheriff and return them to the clerk's office as required by the statutes and rules of court of the Commonwealth. Each counsel draws and files his own pleadings and other papers at or within the times fixed by law. Failure to do so will entail the consequences which follow such failure in actual litigation. Counsel for the parties act independently of each other in the preparation of pleadings and of the case for trial. Cases must be heard when reached on the lists, unless reasons are presented adequate to satisfy the court to grant postponement.

The student is encouraged to make his experience as extensive as possible by filing, when proper, demurrers, motions to dismiss, pleas, special answers, interrogatories, affidavits of no cause of action or of no defense, motions for directed verdicts, requests for instructions, motions for new trials, appeals, bills of exceptions, reports, etc.

Actual trials are held before juries or in jury waived sessions.

Law sessions of the courts are held for interlocutory matters; and in all respects, the effort is to approximate as nearly as possible the experience which the young lawyer will have in his first years at the Bar, whether practising by himself or as a junior in the office of an older attorney.

PRE-LEGAL CURRICULUM

Students who plan to pursue law study at the end of their second year will be recommended to the Law School upon completion of the following courses, provided the quality of their work is considered satisfactory by the Dean of the College:

SEMINS AND GROUP CONFERENCES

GROUP CONFERENCES

Since successful study of the law depends upon the power of the student to acquire the skilled lawyer's mode of thought, — the legal mind, — conferences with individual students and with small groups conducted by members of the Faculty will be held with first and second year students to that end. Specifically the objects in view are to show that the law is a science, a body of rules and principles upon which society depends; that these rules and principles can be learned and properly applied by independent individual logical analysis. Students will be aided so far as possible both in their mode of thought in the solution of particular issues and in acquiring a balanced view of related parts of the law, by oral discussion and advice and by regularly given written quizzes based upon carefully prepared problems. These quizzes are subsequently criticized rigorously as to legal substance, clearness and force of expression, and the elements of good literary form so as to train the students in the art of drafting convincing forensic expressions of the results reached by accurate analysis of facts and of the applicable law.

SEMINARS

The method used in this Law School is the traditional method of investigating and studying in separate courses, such as Contracts, Torts, Sales, Property, etc., the essential principles relating to each subject. This method, though generally accepted as the best, naturally tends to develop a habit of thinking on the part of the student in terms of what seem to him to be isolated subjects. He lacks the experience in original diagnosis — the first thing a lawyer is required to do.

However, all of these subjects are only parts of the field comprising the entire body of the law. Proper solution of many problems confronting the practicing lawyer requires exercise of the power of selection of principles learned in the several different courses and of perceiving the relative importance of each principle. The relevant facts must be known, the irrelevant discarded. To give students in the second and third years practical experience in original diagnosis, based upon problems taken from actual decisions of the courts, seminars have been established which are conducted informally, in the Socratic manner. The purpose is to teach the students to sift the facts pertinent to all of the legal questions involved, of procedural and substantive law, and to determine what legal principles must be sustained to establish a cause of action or a defence.

THE MASTER OF LAWS DEGREE

The course for the Master of Laws degree has been reestablished and is open to students holding the degree of LL.B. whose scholastic record indicates the ability to undertake it. The course may be taken in two years, and in not more than three consecutive years. The subjects available for this degree are listed in Group IV, and the requirements are hereinafter stated.

DEPARTMENT OF STUDENT HEALTH AND HYGIENE

A Department of Student Health and Hygiene is maintained by the University and is concerned with the activities which directly and indirectly affect student health. The Department has a complete program, covered by player insurance, of treatment, hospitalization and x-rays for athletes.

The Medical Office is located in Room 49 where the necessary staff and equipment are available at all times for first aid and other minor difficulties. A physician is in attendance at the University at stated hours and is available for emergency call at all hours. The Medical Office may be reached by calling CApitol 7-1040, Extension 15.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES

Suffolk University has a well-formulated program of student activities designed to develop and encourage the personal qualities of leadership, initiative, cooperation and sportsmanship. The maintenance of a satisfactory scholastic standard, however, is a prerequisite for participation in these activities. A member of the administrative staff of the College has been appointed to serve as Director of Student Activities. The Director works closely with student groups in all matters of organization, meetings, public performance, etc. A list of activities open to all qualified students in the University is printed in the Catalogue of the College.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

The Suffolk University Law Society was organized in September 1948. The purposes of the Society are to afford opportunity for analysis and discussion of legal problems and for preparation of briefs and argument of causes. The Society extends invitation to members of the Bar and of the Faculty to address the members upon various phases of the actual practice of the law. The constitution of the Society limits its membership, but contains no conditions of eligibility. It is customary, however, to select new members from those students who have completed the first year’s work and who have attained high scholastic standing.

The Wig and Robe Society is an organization to membership in which all students in the Law School are eligible. It maintains club rooms in close proximity to the School in which it has the reports of the Supreme Judicial Court of the Commonwealth, the Federal Reports, Corpus Juris, text books and other legal material available to its membership. Guest lecturers are procured to speak on problems of the law. It is an aim of the Society to foster a closer unity between students, Faculty and alumni.

The Suffolk University Law Club is an organization of senior students formed to promote a spirit of good fellowship among senior students and between them and the alumni. It is a purpose of the Club to establish a closer relationship between students about to be graduated and those who, as members of the Bar, are in a position to aid the future alumnus. Legal problems are discussed at regular meetings of the Club.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Fairchild Scholarship
The Fairchild Scholarship was established in December, 1946, by Mrs. Julian D. Fairchild of Brooklyn, N. Y., in memory of her late husband.

Steinberg Scholarship
This scholarship was established by Louis H. Steinberg of the Class of 1925.

The income of these funds is awarded annually in the discretion of the Faculty on the basis of scholarship, character and need.

David I. Walsh Scholarship
The Trustees of the University have established a three year scholarship in memory of the late Senator David I. Walsh, to be awarded by the President of the College of the Holy Cross to a graduate of that institution who is worthy and desirous of studying law at the Suffolk University Law School. This scholarship includes tuition, all fees and books necessary for the course. The recipient will receive the scholarship for one year, and if he maintains a satisfactory scholarship average in the Law School, the scholarship will continue until he receives his degree.

Louis D. Brandeis Scholarship
The Trustees of the University have established a three-year scholarship in memory of the late Justice Louis D. Brandeis, to be awarded by the President of Brandeis University to a graduate of that institution who is worthy and desirous of studying law at Suffolk University Law School.

This scholarship will include tuition, all fees, and books necessary for the course. The recipient will receive the scholarship for one year, and if he maintains a satisfactory scholastic average in the Law School, the scholarship will continue until he receives his degree.
The Trustees of the University have also established ten scholarships of one hundred dollars each, five available in the Day Division and five in the Evening Division. These scholarships may be awarded in the discretion of the Faculty to needy and deserving students of good scholastic standing in the second and third year classes.

An annual prize of fifty dollars and an appropriate scroll, given anonymously in honor of Dean Frank L. Simpson, will be awarded to the senior presenting the best argument in the School Supreme Court. Students who, in the opinion of the Faculty judges, excel in the regular court work required of all seniors, will be eligible to enter the competition for this prize.

ASSOCIATE IN ARTS PROGRAM

The Associate in Arts program prepares for admission to the Law School. It is given in the College of Liberal Arts, day or evening, and consists of at least one half of the work accepted for a bachelor's degree. Applicants with some college work but fewer than sixty semester hours of college credits should consult the College Registrar for evaluation of credits and arrangement of a suitable program for completion of the pre-legal requirement. For further details refer to Pre-Legal Curriculum, page 12.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The Suffolk Alumni Association is an organization whose membership is made up of all degree holders and former students of Suffolk University. The association maintains a permanent office in the University building and has its own Director of Alumni Relations and Alumni Secretary. Here a file is maintained of all former students which is constantly supplemented as additional information concerning the current activities of the members is received. Through this organization a close contact exists between the University and its alumni which is beneficial to both.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

The conditions of admission to Suffolk University Law School conform to the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and the rules of eligibility issued by the Board of Bar Examiners and approved by the Supreme Judicial Court.

Applicants must have satisfactorily completed one-half of the work acceptable for a bachelor's degree granted on the basis of a four-year period of study in a college approved by the Board of Bar Examiners of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Proof of college credits must be by official transcript from the college previously attended. The transcript should specify courses, semester hours of credit and grade for each course, the semester when taken, with passing mark, a key to grades not in per cents and a statement of the units accepted for entrance. Applicants who are unable to comply with the conditions of admission may be admitted, as pre-legal students, to the College of Liberal Arts of Suffolk University. Upon completion of the above requirement they may transfer to the Law School.

Suffolk University College of Liberal Arts has been listed by the Massachusetts Board of Bar Examiners as an approved college for pre-legal training.

STUDENTS FROM OTHER LAW SCHOOLS
ADVANCED STANDING

Advanced standing toward the degree of Bachelor of Laws may be granted for courses successfully completed in other law schools, if such courses are required for the degree in Suffolk University Law School, in the discretion of the Faculty, and subject to the following conditions:

(a) Credit will not be granted for any course in which the applicant received a grade below C, or the grade which is required by such other law school for the degree.

(b) Students admitted to advanced standing shall be on probation during the first semester of attendance in Suffolk University Law School, and shall be required to pass all courses attended during such semester and to attain an average of 2.5 in all such courses.

(c) The right is reserved to refuse such credit, or to allow it upon condition or after examination, and credit allowed may be withdrawn for unsatisfactory work.

(d) Advanced standing credits will not be allowed for more than fifty semester hours of Required Courses.

(e) Applicants for admission with advanced standing must comply with the Requirements for Admission, as hereinbefore stated, and must file transcripts of the record of their work in other law schools.

A personal interview with the Dean when presenting the application is desirable, but registration by mail is possible if proof of general education and proper letters of recommendation accompany application. Certificates of registration will be issued to all whose applications are accepted. The registration fee will be returned on all rejected applications officially entered in the school records.

MARKING SYSTEM

Tests and examinations are graded on the basis of 100 per cent for perfect work. Reports of grades are made by letters which have the following per cent and point values.

- 97-100% = A+, entitled to 6. points per semester hour.
- 94-96 = A, entitled to 5.5 points per semester hour.
- 90-93 = A−, entitled to 5. points per semester hour.
- 87-89 = B+, entitled to 4.5 points per semester hour.
- 84-86 = B, entitled to 4. points per semester hour.
- 80-83 = B−, entitled to 3.5 points per semester hour.
- 77-79 = C+, entitled to 3. points per semester hour.
- 74-76 = C, entitled to 2.5 points per semester hour.
- 70-73 = D, entitled to 2. points per semester hour.
- 60-69 = E, not entitled to point or semester hour credit.
- 0-59 = F, not entitled to point or semester hour credit.

To determine the number of points gained in a course, the point value of the letter received in the course should be multiplied by the number of semester hours in the course. To ascertain point average or grade, the total number of points gained should be divided by the total number of semester hours in the courses in which examinations were taken.

The number of semester hours in a course is determined by the number of lecture periods per week of the course for a semester.

SCHEDULES OF COURSES

Prior to the second World War there were maintained a four-year day course and a four-year evening course. The four-year day course was discontinued in 1942 owing to advice that the University Building would be used by the Federal Government. In September, 1943, the four-year day course was reestablished and there was established a new three-year day course.

The Massachusetts requirement for admission to the Bar is a three-year full time day course or a four-year part time course. The establishment of the three-year day course was in conformity with this requirement. The four-year day course however, will be continued because of the belief that, due to the very great increase in the volume of legal material which the law student of the present day must investigate and to the greatly increased complexity of modern law, students who are able to do so should take four years of legal training, whether in day or evening school. It is, however, optional with the day student whether to take three or four years, though the University recommends the four-year course.

Students will be admitted to the three-year day course only on the condition that they will devote "substantially all of their working time"1 to the study of law.

1See Rule 3b of Rules of the Board of Bar Examiners of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
