PURPOSE OF SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY LAW SCHOOL

Suffolk University Law School is the parent of the University itself. Herein were formulated the ideals and educational policies that now characterize Suffolk University. Suffolk University's constant endeavor is to increase its efficiency and to broaden the scope of its service to students who come to it for training. After forty-five years of successful operation, the Law School is fortified and equipped for a new era of progress. The two-year college requirement for law students links together in united effort the College of Liberal Arts and the Law School of Suffolk University.

THE UNIVERSITY BUILDING WILL BE CLOSED ON ALL LEGAL HOLIDAYS
The first unit of Suffolk University has been in successful operation for forty-five years. Suffolk Law School was founded in September 1906, and was chartered with degree granting powers by the Legislature of Massachusetts in 1914.

Early in its history the Suffolk Law School gained national recognition as a training school for lawyers. Self-supporting students in an ever widening circle found in Suffolk a haven of opportunity. Judges, lawyers, business men, leaders in political and civic life owe their advancement to the training received at Suffolk Law School. The rising cost of higher education in recent years has brought about an extension of Suffolk's educational program. Although New England has been long famous for its colleges and universities, until 1934 when Suffolk College of Liberal Arts was founded there was no opportunity east of New York City where an ambitious man or woman might earn a Bachelor of Arts degree entirely through evening study. Suffolk was the first to recognize and to provide for this need—its Liberal Arts department opening its doors to students September 24, 1934. The Legislature of Massachusetts gave the new college a special degree-granting charter in February 1935.

A Graduate School of Law was established in September, 1935, and a College of Journalism one year later. The various departments of Suffolk University were incorporated by the Massachusetts Legislature in April, 1937.

A building campaign was at once inaugurated to provide adequate facilities for the growing institution. The main building (erected in 1920-21) and annex (1923-24) were remodeled and upper stories added thus providing a thoroughly up-to-date University Building.

Completion and dedication of the University Building occurred in February 1938—delegates from fifty colleges and universities participating in impressive ceremonies.

BUILDING AND EQUIPMENT

University Building

The University Building is a modern fireproof structure located at the corner of Derne and Temple Streets, Beacon Hill. The cornerstone of the first unit of the building was laid in 1920 by Calvin Coolidge, then Governor of Massachusetts and later President of the United States. The last unit was added in 1937 and the completed building was formally dedicated in February 1938.

The University Building occupies the entire space bounded by Temple Street, Derne Street and Ridgeway Lane. Eleven dwelling houses were razed to make way for this massive structure. The building has total floor area of more than 82,000 square feet. Located in it are the Executive Offices, the University Library, twenty-three lecture halls, laboratories for Biology, Chemistry and Physics, the University Auditorium, Faculty Room, Trustees' Room and Bookstore.

The University Library

The University Library occupies the major portion of the third floor of the University Building. The main reading room is beautifully lighted and has electrically operated ventilators. Including the balcony there is a total stack capacity of forty-five thousand volumes affording opportunity for expansion. Each department is receiving regularly important accessions of the latest works in its field. All books, except those on required reading lists which are on reserve and are kept at the charging desk, are on the shelves open to the students, faculties and alumni.

In addition to the standard reference books and texts needed for the various courses, the Library receives regularly many newspapers, periodicals and government publications. The Library is open from 9:00 A.M. to 10:00 P.M. Monday through Friday; 9:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. Saturday.

The Law Section of the Library has been greatly enlarged during recent years. The Library now has complete state reports for the forty-eight states, a full set of English reports, and a collection of law reviews from leading law schools in America.

Thus, the Law School is able to offer one of the most complete Law Libraries in this section of the country, the law section itself of the University Library comprising more than seventeen thousand volumes.

The University Library serves not only the Law School, but also the College of Liberal Arts, the College of Journalism, the College of Business Administration, and the Graduate School of Law. Reference books, encyclopedias, classical and historical volumes, source material for research and other aids to scholarship are provided.
METHOD OF INSTRUCTION

The method of instruction in Suffolk University Law School combines the study of cases and texts with lectures designed to develop legal reasoning and a knowledge of principles and rules. The competent practice of the law demands an ability to analyze complicated fact situations, as well as a knowledge of legal principles and a trained power of legal reasoning. Diagnosis is as important in legal practice as in medical practice. It is as essential for the lawyer to determine what is fundamentally involved in a legal controversy as it is for a doctor to ascertain the ailment of a patient. Accordingly, analysis of decisions and, quite as essentially, of fact situations, is a significant and important part of the system of instruction.

Under a rearrangement of curriculum and lecture hours that began in September 1942, the School's effective methods of teaching have been greatly improved, providing fuller opportunity for case discussion and comprehensive review.

MOOT COURT WORK

The court work is established to afford the widest possible experience in practice, pleading and evidence.

The law student should begin his practical experience in the law school, and not encounter it for the first time after he has passed the Bar examination and been admitted to the Bar. That this can be done has been amply demonstrated in Suffolk University Law School.

Four courts have been set up:

1. A supreme court, to hear in banc law questions on appeals, exceptions or reports from the lower courts, to be composed of members of the Faculty or of Judges of the Massachusetts Courts, or of both.

2. A superior court. Three members of the Faculty compose the bench of this court, and judges of the district court may be called to sit therein.

3. A probate court. One of the superior court judges will be assigned to sit, as occasion arises, as judge of probate.

4. A district court, in which three members of the Faculty are assigned as judges, supplemented by Judges of the Massachusetts District Courts who have volunteered their services as such judges and as an Appellate Division.

The jurisdiction of the above courts is based upon that of the like courts of Massachusetts.
Practice in these courts is conducted strictly in accordance with the laws, statutes and rules of courts of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, — the aim being to teach practice, pleading and evidence by experience in the courts, thus supplementing class exercises in these subjects.

Each student is required to act as counsel in at least two cases, — in one as counsel for the plaintiff, and in another as counsel for the defendant.
A student may participate in more than two cases if he desires and is able to do so.

Students draw their own writs and other process, have them served by the school sheriff and return them to the clerk’s office as required by the statutes and rules of court of the Commonwealth. Each counsel draws and files his own pleadings and other papers at or within the times fixed by law. Failure to do so will entail the consequences which follow such failure in actual litigation. Counsel for the parties act independently of each other in the preparation of pleadings and of the case for trial. Cases must be heard when reached on the lists, unless reasons are presented adequate to satisfy the court to grant postponement.

The student is encouraged to make his experience as extensive as possible by filing, when proper, demurrers, motions to dismiss, pleas, special answers, interrogatories, affidavits of no cause of action or of no defence, motions for directed verdicts, requests for instructions, motions for new trials, appeals, bills of exceptions, reports, etc.

Actual trials are held before juries or in jury waived sessions.

Law sessions of the courts are held for interlocutory matters; and in all respects, the effort is to approximate as nearly as possible the experience which the young lawyer will have in his first years at the Bar, whether practising by himself or as a junior in the office of an older attorney.

PRE-LEGAL CURRICULUM

Students who plan to pursue law study at the end of their second year will be recommended to the Law School upon completion of the following courses, provided the quality of their work is considered satisfactory by

SEMINARS AND GROUP CONFERENCES

GROUP CONFERENCES

Since successful study of the law depends upon the power of the student to acquire the skilled lawyer's mode of thought, — the legal mind, — conferences with individual students and with small groups conducted by members of the Faculty will be held with first and second year students to that end. Specifically the objects in view are to show that the law is a science, a body of rules and principles upon which society depends; that these rules and principles can be learned and properly applied by independent individual logical analysis. Students will be aided so far as possible both in their mode of thought in the solution of particular issues and in acquiring a balanced view of related parts of the law, by oral discussion and advice. Carefully prepared problems are assigned for written solution. These solutions are subsequently criticized rigorously as to legal substance, clearness and force of expression, and the elements of good literary form so as to train the students in the art of drafting convincing forensic expressions of the results reached by accurate analysis of facts and of the applicable law.

SEMINARS

The method used in this Law School is the traditional method of investigating and studying in separate courses, such as Contracts, Torts, Sales, Property, etc., the essential principles relating to each subject. This method, though generally accepted as the best, naturally tends to develop a habit of thinking on the part of the student in terms of what seem to him to be isolated subjects. He lacks the experience in original diagnosis — the first thing a lawyer is required to do.

However, all of these subjects are only parts of the field comprising the entire body of the law. Proper solution of many problems confronting the practicing lawyer requires exercise of the power of selection of principles learned in the several different courses and of perceiving the relative importance of each principle. The relevant facts must be known, the irrelevant discarded. To give students in the second and third years practical experience in original diagnosis, based upon problems taken from actual decisions of the courts, seminars have been established which are conducted informally, in the Socratic manner. The purpose is to teach the students to sift the facts pertinent to all of the legal questions involved, of procedural and substantive law, and to determine what legal principles must be sustained to establish a cause of action or a defence.
DEPARTMENT OF STUDENT HEALTH AND HYGIENE

A Department of Student Health and Hygiene is maintained by the University and is concerned with the activities which directly and indirectly affect student health. The Department has a complete program, covered by player insurance, of treatment, hospitalization and x-rays for athletes.

The Medical Office is located in Room 49 where the necessary staff and equipment are available at all times for first aid and other minor difficulties. A physician is in attendance at the University at stated hours and is available for emergency call at all hours. The Medical Office may be reached by calling CAPitol 7-1040, Extension 15.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES

Suffolk University has a well-formulated program of student activities designed to develop and encourage the personal qualities of leadership, initiative, cooperation and sportsmanship. The maintenance of a satisfactory scholastic standard, however, is a prerequisite for participation in these activities. A member of the administrative staff of the College has been appointed to serve as Director of Student Activities. The Director works closely with student groups in all matters of organization, meetings, public performance, etc. A list of activities open to all qualified students in the University is printed in the Catalogue of the College.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

The Suffolk University Law Society was organized in September 1948. The purposes of the Society are to afford opportunity for analysis and discussion of legal problems and for preparation of briefs and argument of causes. The Society extends invitation to members of the Bar and of the Faculty to address the members upon various phases of the actual practice of the law. The constitution of the Society limits its membership, but contains no conditions of eligibility. It is customary, however, to select new members from those students who have completed the first year's work and who have attained high scholastic standing.

The Wig and Robe Society is an organization to membership in which all students in the Law School are eligible. It maintains club rooms in close proximity to the School in which it has the reports of the Supreme Judicial Court of the Commonwealth, the Federal Reports, Corpus Juris, text books and other legal material available to its membership. Guest lecturers are procured to speak on problems of the law. It is an aim of the Society to foster a closer unity between students, Faculty and alumni.
The Suffolk University Law Club is an organization of senior students formed to promote a spirit of good fellowship among senior students and between them and the alumni. It is a purpose of the Club to establish a closer relationship between students about to be graduated and those who, as members of the Bar, are in a position to aid the future alumnus. Legal problems are discussed at regular meetings of the Club.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Fairchild Scholarship
The Fairchild Scholarship was established in December, 1946, by Mrs. Julian D. Fairchild of Brooklyn, N. Y., in memory of her late husband.

Steinberg Scholarship
This scholarship was established by Louis H. Steinberg of the Class of 1925.

The income of these funds is awarded annually in the discretion of the Faculty on the basis of scholarship, character and need.

David I. Walsh Scholarship
The Trustees of the University have established a three year scholarship in memory of the late Senator David I. Walsh, to be awarded by the President of the College of the Holy Cross to a graduate of that institution who is worthy and desirous of studying law at the Suffolk University Law School. This scholarship includes tuition, all fees and books necessary for the course. The recipient will receive the scholarship for one year, and if he maintains a satisfactory scholastic average in the Law School, the scholarship will continue until he receives his degree.

Louis D. Brandeis Scholarship
The Trustees of the University have established a three-year scholarship in memory of the late Justice Louis D. Brandeis, to be awarded by the President of Brandeis University to a graduate of that institution who is worthy and desirous of studying law at Suffolk University Law School.

This scholarship will include tuition, all fees, and books necessary for the course. The recipient will receive the scholarship for one year, and if he maintains a satisfactory scholastic average in the Law School, the scholarship will continue until he receives his degree.

The Trustees of the University have also established ten scholarships of one hundred dollars each, five available in the Day Division and five in the Evening Division. These scholarships may be awarded in the discretion of the Faculty to needy and deserving students of good scholastic standing in the second and third year classes.
Dean Frank L. Simpson Prize

An annual prize of fifty dollars and an appropriate scroll, given anonymously in honor of Dean Frank L. Simpson, will be awarded to the senior presenting the best argument in the School Supreme Court. Students who, in the opinion of the Faculty judges, excel in the regular court work required of all seniors, will be eligible to enter the competition for this prize.

ASSOCIATE IN ARTS PROGRAM

The Associate in Arts program prepares for admission to the Law School. It is given in the College of Liberal Arts, day or evening, and consists of at least one half of the work accepted for a bachelor's degree. Applicants with some college work but fewer than sixty semester hours of college credits should consult the College Registrar for evaluation of credits and arrangement of a suitable program for completion of the pre-legal requirement. For further details refer to Pre-Legal Curriculum, page 12.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The Suffolk Alumni Association is an organization whose membership is made up of all degree holders and former students of Suffolk University. The association maintains a permanent office in the University building and has its own Director of Alumni Relations and Alumni Secretary. Here a file is maintained of all former students which is constantly supplemented as additional information concerning the current activities of the members is received. Through this organization a close contact exists between the University and its alumni which is beneficial to both.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

The conditions of admission to Suffolk University Law School conform to the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and the rules of eligibility issued by the Board of Bar Examiners and approved by the Supreme Judicial Court.

Applicants must have satisfactorily completed one-half of the work acceptable for a bachelor's degree granted on the basis of a four-year period of study in a college approved by the Board of Bar Examiners of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Proof of college credits must be by official transcript from the college previously attended. The transcript should specify courses, semester hours of credit and grade for each course, the semester when taken, with passing mark, a key to grades not in per cents and a statement of the units accepted for entrance. Applicants who are unable to comply with the conditions of admission may be admitted, as pre-legal students, to the College of Liberal Arts of Suffolk University. Upon completion of the above requirement they may apply for admission to the Law School.

Suffolk University College of Liberal Arts has been listed by the Massachusetts Board of Bar Examiners as an approved college for pre-legal training.

STUDENTS FROM OTHER LAW SCHOOLS

Advanced Standing

Advanced standing toward the degree of Bachelor of Laws may be granted for courses successfully completed in other law schools, if such courses are required for the degree in Suffolk University Law School, in the discretion of the Faculty, and subject to the following conditions:

(a) Credit will not be granted for any course in which the applicant received a grade below C, or the grade which is required by such other law school for the degree.

(b) Students admitted to advanced standing shall be required to pass all courses attended during the first year and to obtain an average of 75 per cent in all such courses.

(c) The right is reserved to refuse such credit, or to allow it upon condition or after examination, and credit allowed may be withdrawn for unsatisfactory work.

(d) Advanced standing credits will not be allowed for more than thirty-six semester hours of Required Courses.

(e) Applicants for admission with advanced standing must comply with the Requirements for Admission, as hereinbefore stated, and must file transcripts of the record of their work in other law schools.

REGISTRATION

Incoming students register by filing application for admission together with proof of the requisite college training. Application blanks may be obtained from the Law School Secretary and must be approved by the Dean and the Committee on Admissions.

A personal interview with the Dean when presenting the application is desirable, but registration by mail is possible if proof of general education and proper letters of recommendation accompany application. Certificates of registration will be issued to all whose applications are accepted. The registration fee will be returned on all rejected applications officially entered in the school records.
DAY AND EVENING DIVISIONS

The courses for the degree of Bachelor of Laws in Suffolk University Law School are offered in a day and an evening division. The three year course in the day division is designed for students who are able to devote substantially all of their working time to the study of law. Under the Regulations of the School, and under the Rules of the Board of Bar Examiners of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, approved by the Supreme Judicial Court, only those students who can devote "substantially all of their working time"* to the study of law, are eligible to complete their law course in three school years or six semesters. Students who, because of the necessity of devoting substantial time to outside employment, or other reason, cannot devote substantially all of their working time to the study of law, may enroll in the part time day division or evening division course and complete their work for the degree in four school years, or eight semesters.

The subjects in the two courses are the same as are also the scholastic requirements for the degree.

ACCELERATED PROGRAM

The schedule of courses is arranged to make it possible, by attending one or more summer semesters, to accelerate the work required for the degree so that it may be accomplished in two and one-half calendar years. Six semesters of work will, however, be required of candidates in the day division, full-time course, and eight semesters in the part-time day or evening division course, which may thus be completed in three and one-half calendar years.

Students accelerating their course and completing the first semester work of the senior year, will be eligible, at their election, to take the courses in the second semester of the senior year.

Students who do not accelerate their course by attending one or more summer semesters, will be required to take work in the second semester of the senior year, since work in this semester would be necessary to comply with the requirements for the degree. See infra, page 21. Whether a student takes courses in the summer semesters is, therefore, left to the option of the student. It should, however, be observed that several of the courses offered in the summer semester, are subjects of examination at the bar examination in Massachusetts (See Rule IV of the Board of Bar Examiners of Massachusetts).

*See Rule 3b of Rules of the Board of Bar Examiners of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY LAW SCHOOL

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

Suffolk University believes that the development of a well rounded legal education demands a thorough training with special emphasis upon the fundamental branches of the law. It also recognizes that there are other branches, which, while important and essential to the equipment of the lawyer, and valuable from the standpoint of information, are less vital to the understanding of basic principles or to the development of legal reasoning.

The undergraduate curriculum, accordingly, is divided into three groups, the first and third of which include courses which all applicants for a degree are required to take. The second group includes subjects, among which a certain degree of election or choice is permitted, — the requirement being that at least fourteen semester hours in courses in this group must be taken and passed successfully.

GRADING SYSTEM

Tests and examinations are graded on the basis of 100 per cent for perfect work. Reports of grades are made by letters which have the following per cent values:

- 90-100% = A
- 80-89% = B
- 75-79% = C
- 70-74% = D and is passing grade
- 65-69% = E unsatisfactory
- 60-64% = F and is failure grade

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE BACHELOR OF LAWS DEGREE

A petition for the degree of Bachelor of Laws will not be considered unless the candidate has complied with the following requirements:

(a) The candidate must have presented proof of completion of pre-legal education sufficient to comply with the Admission Requirements hereinbefore stated.

(b) Such petitioner must have completed at least three years of study in a day law school requiring students to devote substantially all of their working time to the study of law, one of which years shall have been in Suffolk University Law School; or have completed at least four years of law study in a part-time law school, whether day or evening, and in which the student has devoted part time to law study; and in such case, two of such years shall be in Suffolk University Law School.

(c) Such petitioner shall have obtained a scholastic grade of at least 70 per cent in 56 semester hours in the courses in Group I, and a general average of all grades in such courses of at least 75 per cent.

(d) Such petitioner shall have obtained passing grade (70%) in at least 14 semester hours in the courses in Group II. Students who desire to accelerate their work for the degree, may qualify by taking courses in Group II which are offered in summer semesters, and thus finish their work in the full time course in two and one-half calendar years, or in three and one-half years in the part-time course.

(e) Such petitioner shall have completed satisfactorily the work in the courses in Group III.
Compliance with the foregoing requirements will not entitle a candidate, as of right, to a favorable recommendation on his petition. The Faculty will take into consideration character, effort and general scholastic ability of the candidate, as reflected by his entire record in determining its recommendation on such petition.

HONORS

Students who have done conspicuously good work, and who have complied with all requirements for the degree, may, in the discretion of the Faculty, be granted the degree with honors.

1. Students are expected to familiarize themselves with the contents of the catalogue, and with the rules and regulations adopted by the Faculty or by the School, and all students are subject to the provisions of the catalogue and of the rules and regulations contained herein.

2. Students will not be permitted to take courses not scheduled for their respective classes, except by special action of the Faculty.

3. Programs of lectures shall be restricted to not more than fifteen hours a week in any semester except by special permission of the Dean or of the Faculty.

6. A student who, at the end of any year, has an average in Required Courses of less than 75 per cent, or who has failed in four (4) or more semester hours in Required Courses, and who may be permitted to remain in the School, shall be on probation. A student on probation may take only such courses as may be permitted by the Faculty.

7. Students on probation shall be required to remove conditions and attain an average of 75 per cent or more in Required Courses on or before the end of the next two succeeding semesters of Required Courses, that is, the Fall and Winter semesters.

8. Students shall be required to have an average of 75 per cent in Required Courses of the first two years and not to be deficient in more than two semester hours in such courses as conditions of entering the third year class in good standing.

14. All students are required to attend their classes and examinations as scheduled. If absences are for reasons of illness or other causes beyond the control of the student and not due to his fault, certificate to that effect, stating the circumstances, must be filed in the office of the Secretary of the School. Certificates of attending physicians, if any, in cases of illness must also be filed. If no certificate is filed, absences will be deemed inexcusable.

15. The Faculty of the Law School reserves the right to change the schedule of lectures, the program of instruction, the requirements for credits or degrees, and any rule or regulation established for the government of the student body in the school. Any such change may be made without previous notice and may be made applicable to students already enrolled in the School.
