HISTORY OF SUFFOLK

The Suffolk University School of Law, the first unit of the University, was established in September, 1906, to provide professional training for ambitious young men and women of moderate means. In 1914 the school was chartered with degree-granting powers by the Legislature of Massachusetts.

Educational facilities have been expanded in the belief that training in the liberal arts and sciences is an integral part of a balanced education. The College of Liberal Arts was founded in 1934, the Graduate School of Law in 1935, the College of Journalism in 1936, and the College of Business Administration in 1937. The various departments were incorporated by the Massachusetts Legislature in April, 1937.

Suffolk University, although primarily a day-time institution, was the first college in New England at which a student might earn a Bachelor of Arts degree entirely through evening study.

Physical growth of the University was accompanied by professional recognition: Suffolk is a member of the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The College Departments are approved by the Board of Collegiate Authority, Department of Education, Commonwealth of Massachusetts. The Law School is approved by the American Bar Association. The Veterans Administration approves all courses for GI benefits.

Located on Beacon Hill, directly behind the State House, and a block from the building housing the Supreme Judicial, Superior, Probate, Land and Municipal courts, Suffolk University provides excellent accommodations for educational work. In the University building are the Executive and Administrative offices; University Library; classrooms; completely equipped and modern laboratories for biology, chemistry, geology, and physics; University Auditorium; Bookstore; and appropriate lounges for students.

Although the physical equipment of a university is important, the quality of its educational program is even more significant. The true measure of a university is reflected in the record of its graduates. Early in its history, Suffolk University gained recognition for the quality of its faculty and the success of its graduates. Judges, lawyers, bankers, businessmen, educators, and leaders in political and civic life owe their advancement to the quality of training received at Suffolk University.

THE UNIVERSITY LIBRARY

The University Library occupies the major portion of the third floor of the University Building. The main reading room is beautifully lighted and has electrically operated ventilators. Including the balcony there is a total stack capacity of forty-five thousand volumes affording opportunity for expansion. Each department is receiving regularly important accessions of the latest works in its field. All books, except those on required reading lists which are on reserve and are kept at the charging desk, are on the shelves open to the students, faculties and alumni.

In addition to the standard reference books and texts needed for the various courses, the Library receives regularly many newspapers, periodicals and government publications. The Library is open from 9:00 A.M. to 10:00 P.M. Monday through Friday; 9:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. Saturday.

The University Library serves not only the Law School, but also the College of Liberal Arts, the College of Journalism, the College of Business Administration, and the Graduate School of Law. Reference books, encyclopedias, classical and historical volumes, source material for research and other aids to scholarship are provided.

THE LAW LIBRARY

The Law Library has complete state reports for the forty-eight states, a full set of English reports, and a collection of law reviews from leading law schools in America.

Thus, the Law School is able to offer one of the most complete Law Libraries in this section of the country, the law section itself of the University Library comprising more than twenty thousand volumes.

METHOD OF INSTRUCTION

The method of instruction in Suffolk University Law School combines the study of cases and texts with lectures designed to develop legal reasoning and a knowledge of principles and rules. The competent practice of the law demands an ability to analyze complicated fact situations, as well as a knowledge of legal principles and a trained power of legal reasoning. Diagnosis is as important in legal practice as in medical practice. It is as essential for the lawyer to determine what is fundamentally involved in a legal controversy as it is for a doctor to ascertain the ailment of a patient. Accordingly, analysis of decisions and, quite as essentially, of fact situations, is a significant and important part of the system of instruction.

COURTS OF THE LAW SCHOOL

There are four courts for undergraduates modeled upon the Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court, Superior Court, Probate Court and District Court. The practice in these courts is conducted in accordance with the actual practice in the State Courts; in these courts members of the Faculty of trial experience will preside. Each Court has its Clerk, who is required to conduct his office in strict accordance with the conduct of the offices of the Clerks of Courts in this State.

Students must institute actions in these courts and conduct them through their various stages to final judgment or decree, each student being required to take entire charge of, and to be responsible for, his case. The student acquires experience in the more common matters of practice which he will encounter in his first years of professional life.

The practice, so far as is possible, follows that of actual litigation. Evidence is presented, exceptions taken, and appeals claimed. The court work is required of all regular students and must be completed satisfactorily as a condition of graduation. Record is kept of the work of each student in order to teach by experience the penalties which are imposed in practice for negligence or a failure in punctuality. The court work is established to afford the widest possible experience in practice, pleading and evidence.

SEMINARS AND GROUP CONFERENCES

Since successful study of the law depends upon the power of the student to acquire the skilled lawyer's mode of thought, — the legal mind, — conferences with individual students and with small groups conducted by members of the Faculty will be held with first and second year students to that end. Specifically the objects in view are to show that the law is a science, a body of rules and principles upon which society depends; that these rules and principles can be learned and properly applied by independent individual logical analysis. Students will be aided so far as possible both in their mode of thought in the solution of particular issues and in acquiring a balanced view of related parts of the law, by oral discussion and advice. Carefully prepared problems are assigned for written solution. These solutions are subsequently criticized rigorously as to legal substance, clearness and force of expression, and the elements of good literary form so as to train the students in the art of drafting convincing forensic expressions of the results reached by accurate analysis of facts and of the applicable law.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES

Suffolk University has a well-formulated program of student activities designed to develop and encourage the personal qualities of leadership, initiative, cooperation and sportsmanship. The maintenance of a satisfactory scholastic standard, however, is a prerequisite for participation in these activities. A member of the administrative staff of the College has been appointed to serve as Director of Student Activities. The Director works closely with student groups in all matters of organization, meetings, public performance, etc. A list of activities open to all qualified students in the University is printed in the Catalogue of the College.
STUDENT ORGANIZATION

The Wig and Robe Society is an organization to membership in which all students in the Law School are eligible. It maintains club rooms in close proximity to the School in which it has the reports of the Supreme Judicial Court of the Commonwealth, the Federal Reports, Corpus Juris, text books and other legal material available to its membership. Guest lecturers are procured to speak on problems of the law. It is an aim of the Society to foster a closer unity between students, Faculty and alumni.

THE SUFFOLK LAW SCHOOL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

This is a large and active organization of former students now on the Bench or at the Bar of the New England states. The Fall, Winter, and Spring dinners each year at Boston’s famed Parker House bring noted jurists, leading lawyers, and other distinguished speakers for addresses on current legal problems. It maintains a SCHOLARSHIP FUND from annual contributions of its members which provided tuition for twenty-seven students during 1955-1956.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Fairchild Scholarship

The Fairchild Scholarship was established in December, 1946, by Mrs. Julian D. Fairchild of Brooklyn, N. Y., in memory of her late husband.

Steinberg Scholarship

This scholarship was established by Louis H. Steinberg of the Class of 1925.

The income of these funds is awarded annually in the discretion of the Faculty on the basis of scholarship, character and need.

David I. Walsh Scholarship

The Trustees of the University have established a three year scholarship in memory of the late Senator David I. Walsh, to be awarded to a nominee of the President of the College of the Holy Cross to a graduate of that institution who is worthy and desirous of studying law at the Suffolk University Law School. This scholarship includes tuition, all fees and books necessary for the course. The recipient will receive the scholarship for one year, and if he maintains a satisfactory scholastic average in the Law School, the scholarship will continue until he receives his degree.
Louis D. Brandeis Scholarship

The Trustees of the University have established a three-year scholarship in memory of the late Justice Louis D. Brandeis, to be awarded to a nominee of the President of Brandeis University to a graduate of that institution who is worthy and desirous of studying law at Suffolk University Law School.

This scholarship will include tuition, all fees, and books necessary for the course. The recipient will receive the scholarship for one year, and if he maintains a satisfactory scholastic average in the Law School, the scholarship will continue until he receives his degree.

Joseph E. Reilly Scholarship

An annual tuition has been established in memory of Attorney Joseph E. Reilly, member of the Class of 1930, by Joseph Schneider, Esquire.

University Scholarships

The Trustees of the University have also established ten scholarships of one hundred dollars each, five available in the Day Division and five in the Evening Division. These scholarships may be awarded in the discretion of the Faculty to needy and deserving students of good scholastic standing in the second and third year classes.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

A. Regular Students

1. In order that the graduates of the Law School may comply with the prelegal college educational requirements for admission to the bar of all of the New England states and the majority of others, Suffolk University Law School accepts as candidates for the Bachelor of Laws degree applicants who have completed three-quarters of a bachelor's degree from an approved college or university.

2. All applicants must have completed the prelegal college educational requirements of the state in which they reside.

Applicants from other than the New England states, or persons who may desire to practice law elsewhere, are advised to interview the secretary of the Board of Bar Examiners of the state intended to determine their eligibility, and to insure their completion of all local requirements. Some states now require such procedures as Law Students Registration, the filing of a Law Students Qualifying Certificate, and other formalities before the applicant may study law under the rules for admission to the local bar.

Applicants who do not meet the foregoing requirement may consult the Registrar of Suffolk University College of Liberal Arts for a program of day or evening studies which will prepare them for admission to the law school.
RECOMMENDED PRELEGAL COURSES

Since the majority of our Law School students come from many universities, the Faculty of the Law School does not specify particular subjects for the prelegal course. However, we advise the prospective law student to include the following subjects in his college course:

1. English.

   A thorough knowledge of English composition and speech is required. A wide vocabulary and a strong skill in paragraph structure, punctuation and spelling is essential.

2. History and Government.

   The study of English and American history should include the development of our common law systems. Courses in government should include English and American constitutional government.

3. Other Courses.

   Where possible the student should include logic, some economics and accounting.

COMBINED DEGREE PROGRAM

Students in Suffolk University’s colleges are advised to follow this program set forth in the college catalogue and receive their college degree upon completion of the first year law school subjects as listed in the three year course, whether taken in the day or evening division.

B. SPECIAL STUDENTS

Some mature men and women who do not desire to be candidates for the Bachelor of Laws degree, and who demonstrate their ability to profit by particular courses, may be admitted as special students.

ADMISSION PROCEDURE

Applicants for admission will present to the Law School Office the following:

1. A completed Application Blank accompanied by the Registration Fee of ten dollars. Blanks may be obtained in person or by mail from the Law School Office.

2. Applicants who did not attend Suffolk college will present a transcript from the college (or colleges) previously attended. The transcript should specify courses, the semester when taken, with the passing mark, a key to the grades not in percents, and a statement of the high or preparatory school units accepted for entrance.

3. An applicant who has attended another law school will, in addition to the two forms required above, furnish a transcript of his law school record, and a letter of recommendation from its Dean certifying that he is in good standing.

All applications are voted on by the Faculty Administrative Committee. Notification of the action taken will be sent by mail to the applicant at the address given on the application unless otherwise requested in writing.

REGISTRATION

Incoming Freshmen will register in the Law School Office on or before Wednesday of the second week in September, and attend Orientation Lectures given by the President, Dean and Professors as scheduled.

Freshmen, who because of illness or other cogent reason, cannot be here on the dates above, may make arrangements for late registration with the Dean's Office.

LEGAL APTITUDE TEST

Applicants for admission to Suffolk University of Law School are advised, but not required, to take the legal aptitude test conducted by the Educational Testing Service of New Jersey. This test is conducted several times annually in the major cities of the United States. For information and application form write the Educational Testing Service, Post Office Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey. Examinees should request that the results of the test be forwarded to the Suffolk University Law School.

ADVANCED STANDING

Advanced standing toward the degree of Bachelor of Laws may be granted for courses successfully completed in approved law schools, if such courses are required for the degree in Suffolk University Law School, in the discretion of the Faculty, and subject to the following conditions:

1. Applicants for admission with advanced standing for courses taken in another law school must comply with the Requirements for Admission to Suffolk University Law School in operation at the time of admission to the other law school, and must file transcripts of the record of their work in other law schools.
2. Credit will not be granted for any course required at Suffolk in which the applicant received a grade at the other law school below C, or the grade which is required by such other law school for the degree. The total advanced standing in required courses shall not exceed the first and second year's courses of the three-year program at Suffolk University Law School. Elective credit at Suffolk may be granted for any other courses in the discretion of the Faculty Administrative Committee.

3. Students admitted to advanced standing shall be required to pass all courses attended during the first year and to obtain an average of 75 per cent in all such courses.

4. The right is reserved to refuse such credit, or to allow it upon condition or after examination. Credit allowed may be withdrawn for unsatisfactory work at Suffolk University Law School.

DAY AND EVENING DIVISIONS

The courses for the degree of Bachelor of Laws in Suffolk University Law School are offered in a day and an evening division. The three year course in the day division is designed for students who are able to devote substantially all of their working time to the study of law. Under the Regulations of the School, and under the Rules of the Board of Bar Examiners of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, approved by the Supreme Judicial Court, only those students who can devote "substantially all of their working time" to the study of law, are eligible to complete their law course in the three school years or six semesters. Students who, because of the necessity of devoting substantial time to outside employment, or other reason, cannot devote substantially all of their working time to the study of law, may enroll in the part time day division or evening division course and complete their work for the degree in four school years, or eight semesters.

The subjects in the two courses are the same as are also the scholastic requirements for the degree.

GRADUATE COURSES

1. The program of courses for Lawyers and other graduate students leading to the Master of Laws, LL.M., is described in a special bulletin issued by the Law School Office.

2. For information on other graduate degrees in the arts, sciences, education and other fields, write to the Registrar of Suffolk University.

* See Rule 1b of Rules of the Board of Bar Examiners of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY LAW SCHOOL

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

Suffolk University believes that the development of a well rounded legal education demands a thorough training with special emphasis upon the fundamental branches of the law. It also recognizes that there are other branches, which, while important and essential to the equipment of the lawyer, and valuable from the standpoint of information, are less vital to the understanding of basic principles or to the development of legal reasoning.

The undergraduate curriculum, accordingly, is divided into two groups, the first of which includes courses which all applicants for a degree are required to take. The second group includes subjects, among which a certain degree of election or choice is permitted, — the requirement being that at least eight semester hours in courses in this group must be taken and passed successfully.
