S. U. Debating Team Argues
To Victory Over Tufts

THE SUFFOLK JOURNAL

"The heights by great men reached and kept
Were not attained by sudden flight;
But they, while their companions slept,
Were toiling upward in the night."

A group of students assembled to debate and to win the glory of victory in the year to come, the University. Although victory is not to be determined by the outcome of the debates alone, the point and the practice of debate is the meeting of two opposing ideas and the testing of the force of each idea.

Winning a debate is a matter of preparation and practice. The debaters are expected to show their knowledge of the subject and their ability to argue their points logically and convincingly. THE VOICE AGAINST FASCIONALISM

by BERNARD J. MULROONEY

The world is a place of many contradictions. It is not enough to say that these contradictions are inherent in human nature, for there is much more to the contradiction than that. The world is a place where man must struggle to maintain his freedom, where he must struggle to maintain his humanity.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:

On April 14th and 15th, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, in the presence of the Governor, the members of the State Legislature, the President of Harvard University and many other distinguished persons, will celebrate the bicentennial anniversary of the birth of John Hancock. The events of that day will include a public reading of the Declaration of Independence, the laying of the cornerstone of a monument to John Hancock, and a dedication of the monument. The program will be held at the State House.

The ROYALS' LETTER DAY

By AL LIPPE

The above letter to the ROYALS' LETTER DAY is a classic example of the skillful writing that characterizes our veterans' affairs coverage. It is a must-read for anyone interested in the future of our veterans.

The ROYALS' LETTER DAY is a platform for veterans to share their experiences and thoughts. It is a valuable resource for current service members and those considering entering the military.

ABANDON BOSTON STANCE

By J. LARRY OXLEY

"White Line," former mayor of all Boston, stresses the importance of maintaining our city's abysmal stance.

He points out that the city's failure to improve its infrastructure is not only a danger to the general public, but also to the economy.

S. U. Sextet Sharp Skaters

BY DON HARRINGTON

The distaff base ball schedule this time around as far as Suffolk University is concerned, has been nearly as successful as last fall. Those of us who followed the schedule and showed up at the games, were pleased to see the girls who had done their homework, how to play ball, and still to the other hand, how well they had done without much preparation. As a result of the efforts of these girls and others, the Suffolk University schedule has been carried in a successful manner. The girls who were the stars of the previous season, have now taken to the next step, and the schedule seems to be a little bit better.
