AN HINTO FOR A THIRD PARTY

Congress was seized with visions of the aggressive, dream of a third party in the American system. The Republican, conversely, sought to suppress the radicalism of the Democrats. The Democrats, on the other hand, were weary of the factional schism in their ranks. All alike were weary of the political paralysis of the moment.

The political parties, therefore, sought to suppress the radicalism of the Democrats. The Democrats, on the other hand, were weary of the factional schism in their ranks. All alike were weary of the political paralysis of the moment.

College Students 'Hard Hip' By High Prices Says AVC

Chapter 61 of the American Veterans Committee, Inc., has polled 63,000 college students and has concluded that 'hip' prices are driving them from the campus stores. The AVC says that its survey of the country's college students has shown that 96% of them will vote for increased prices, and that 86% of them will use their savings to buy American products. The survey was conducted in a single month, and the AVC plans to continue it in the future.

STUDENT COUNCIL WORKS ON NEW BUDGET ALLOTMENTS

The Student Council has begun the process of developing new budget allocations for the college. The council has met several times to discuss the matter and has come to a decision. The new budget will be presented to the faculty for approval. The council has also been working on other matters, such as the development of a new athletic program and the expansion of the library.

If We Must Have Exams, How Much Importance Should Be Attached To Them?" Asks Inquiring Reporter

By JOSEPH LAVINE

Although the practice of examinations as conducted in our school and college is both costly and time-consuming for the students and the faculty, it seems as though there is no alternative method of evaluating the student at the end of a course. Therefore, if we must have exams, much importance should be attached to them.

In conducting a survey of the opinions of some students and faculty members, the writer became interested in the attitude of the student toward examinations.

The writer asked Mr. H. W. Lavine, President of the University of South Dakota, about the attitude of students toward examinations. Mr. Lavine replied that examinations were necessary and that they should be used as an aid in the teaching of the subject. However, he stated that examinations should not be the only method of evaluating the student. He suggested that a combination of examinations, laboratory work, and projects be used. He also recommended that the students be given the opportunity to improve their grades by means of make-up examinations.

The writer then asked Mr. Lavine about the attitude of faculty members toward examinations. He stated that examinations were necessary and that they should be used as an aid in the teaching of the subject. However, he added that examinations should not be the only method of evaluating the student. He suggested that a combination of examinations, laboratory work, and projects be used. He also recommended that the students be given the opportunity to improve their grades by means of make-up examinations.

NSA To Represent 2 Million Students

The National Student Association, representing some two million college students, is to be endorsed by the American Library Association at its annual convention in December. The endorsement is significant because it is the first by a group of professional librarians of an organization of students that is unaffiliated with any national political party.

Students To Vote On Constitution

The Student Association, which represents some 200 college and university groups in America, has completed its draft of a constitution for its organization. The convention will be held this week in Boston, and the convention is expected to adopt the constitution.

DON'T LET YOURSELF DOWN

In college we find a cross-section of human nature. Not everyone is wise, prudent or human nature tends to stupidity. Stupidity is not measured by poor marks or bad behavior, but by inferiority to his mental capacity. Stupidity is a lack of self-discipline and a lack of knowledge. It is not the result of laziness or carelessness, but of a lack of self-discipline. Stupidity is a lack of knowledge. It is not the result of laziness or carelessness, but of a lack of self-discipline.
