Boston

Modern technology and the pressing demands of surging urbanism merge with the historically and culturally rich framework of Boston; the result is a unique blend of traditional beauty with the energy of modern urban life. The exciting contrast that arises from this interaction has made Boston a cultural as well as an educational haven for young America.

Boston offers a wide-range of recreational opportunities. From a quiet walk in one of the city's hundreds of parks to the clamor of a rock concert; from a peaceful day's sailing on the Charles River to the excitement of a professional football game; from an enjoyable afternoon's tour of one of the city's fine museums to an energetic afternoon at the beach, Boston remains a city of contrasts.

The city boasts fine restaurants, theaters, and musical entertainment. For the sports buff there are major league baseball, football, basketball, and hockey teams located nearby. Numerous winter sports and beach resort areas are easily accessible to the Bostonian.

Yet, the true desirability of the city is its unparalleled atmosphere of intellectual stimulation. Each fall, over 100,000 students return to the Metropolitan area's colleges and universities. The student will find innumerable programs and activities whereby the intellectual community may actively contribute to the needs of the urban community. The law student, especially, will find available a great range of opportunities to apply his skill and knowledge to the critical social and economic problems that plague all American cities. From public defender programs to consumer protection bureaus, the city abounds with programs designed particularly for law students to contribute where the needs are greatest.

Suffolk University

The first unit of the University, established in 1906, was the Law School. In 1914 the school was chartered with degree-granting powers by the Legislature of Massachusetts. The College of Liberal Arts was founded in 1934, the Graduate School of Law in 1935, the College of Journalism in 1936, and the College of Business Administration in 1937. The various departments were incorporated by the Massachusetts Legislature in 1937. Physical growth of the University has been accompanied by professional recognition.

On the level of national accreditation, Suffolk University is a member of the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The Law School is fully approved by the American Bar Association. The University is also a member of the Association of American Colleges and the Association of University Evening Colleges. All schools and departments of the University are approved by the Board of Collegiate Authority of the Massachusetts Department of Education. The day and evening curricula of the Law School are also registered with the Department of Education of the State of New York. The Veterans Administration approves all courses for GI benefits.

Located on Beacon Hill, directly behind the State House, Suffolk University provides excellent accommodations for educational work. The University complex houses the Administrative Offices, University Library, Auditorium, classrooms, laboratories for biology, chemistry, geology and physics, the University Bookstore, and cafeteria.

Although the physical plant and equipment of a university is important, the quality of its educational program is even more significant. The true measure of a University is reflected in the record of its graduates. Early in its history, Suffolk University gained recognition for the quality of its Faculty and the success of its graduates.

Suffolk University Law School

Suffolk Law School was established in 1906 and is structured as an integral facet of the Suffolk University complex on Beacon Hill. The law school is ideally located for the aspiring law student. Within a moment's walk from the Massachusetts State House, the John F. Kennedy Federal Complex, Boston City Hall, and the Suffolk County Court House, the Suffolk Law student has easy access to the vast facilities provided by these governmental centers. In addition the United States Court of Appeals for the First Circuit, the United States District Court for the District of Massachusetts, and the renowned Boston Public Library are all situated within a short distance from the University. Clearly, in today's everchanging urban society, the inner-city environment of Suffolk University Law school will be a tremendous asset in a well rounded legal education.

We at the Law School are especially proud of the law faculty. A melting pot of youthful energy and talented experience, the Law School boasts a unique and highly qualified staff. All of our faculty members are deeply concerned with the development and welfare of their students and are eager to devote personal attention whenever possible. In furtherance of this emphasis on personal attention, the Trustees have committed themselves to more than double the number of full-time faculty members by 1975.

Finally, an integral part of Suffolk University is Suffolk's evening law division. The evening division was created to serve those students whose economic or personal circumstances preclude day school attendance, and provides them with a J.D. degree upon the successful completion of four years of intensive instruction.
Law Library

The Law Library, containing approximately seventy-five thousand volumes, is located on the fourth floor of the Donahue Building. By yearly appropriations and gifts from Alumni and others, it is constantly increasing its collection. It is open from 8:00 A.M. to 11:00 P.M. Monday through Friday, from 9:00 A.M. to 11:00 P.M. on Saturday, and from 12 Noon to 11:00 P.M. on Sunday.

The Library includes the reported decisions of all the states in the National Reporter System, all of the official reports of many of the states, reports of all decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States and other Federal Courts, reports of selected Federal Administrative Agencies, the American Digest, Corpus Juris and Corpus Juris Secundum, American Jurisprudence and American Jurisprudence 2d, and the American Law Reports. Also contained are a full set of English reports and a large collection of legal periodicals, textbooks and casebooks.

The library has recently added a microfiche machine and two microfiche readers (with a collection of 2,300 volumes of the National Reporter System on microfiche).

The library has a fine collection of statutory materials including the United States Statutes at Large, the United States Code Annotated, all the compilations of the Massachusetts Statutes, statutes of most of the States, and Halsbury's Statutes of England and other common law jurisdictions.

The Massachusetts State House Library, a collection of 600,000 volumes, containing many state papers, legislative materials, and other legal research aids, is housed in the State House, located directly opposite the university complex, and easily accessible to law students. Also available for student use is the Public Library of the city of Boston. This library is one of the largest in the world, containing about 2,000,000 volumes.

Summer Law Program

In 1974 Suffolk University Law School instituted a Summer Law Program. The Summer Law Program is open only to students in good standing at an accredited law school. Each applicant to the program must present a letter from an official at the law school he or she is attending as part of the application stating that he or she is a student in good standing.

A student in the program may take up to 5 credits (10 classroom hours per week) without special permission. No student may under any circumstances take more than 7 credits (14 classroom hours per week). A student wishing to take 6 or 7 credits (12 or 14 classroom hours per week) must obtain special administrative approval.

Students wishing to use the Evening Summer Program courses for acceleration purposes are advised that in order to satisfy the full time weekly residence requirements of the accrediting authorities, they must take a minimum of 5 credits (10 classroom hours per week).

Summer Law School applications and bulletins are available early in the spring through the Law School Admissions Office.

Dean Frederick McDermott-Visiting Professorship

During the 1972-1973 academic year the Trustees of the University endowed a faculty chair in the memory of the late Dean of the Law School, Frederick A. McDermott. Periodically a distinguished legal educator will be invited to the Law School for a one year appointment.
Admissions

Prelegal Study
Applicants must possess a baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university prior to the time of registration. The Faculty does not specify particular subjects for prelegal education. Our students come from many universities, of varied curricula. The great disparity found in the quality of teaching method and content of college courses makes it impractical to designate particular subjects as the "best" preparation for the study of law. However, it may be said that concentration in one or more of the liberal arts, sciences and/or humanities, such as history, government, philosophy, literature, mathematics, economics and the like, is desirable. Undergraduate courses in elementary accounting are recommended, as they furnish a background helpful in many Law School courses. The importance of proficiency in English, both written and spoken, cannot be overemphasized.

Prospective applicants will find additional information in the 1974/1975 edition of the PreLaw Handbook published by the Law School Admissions Council and the Association of American Law Schools. This publication contains additional information on prelegal study, a practice LSAT, a brief word picture of most American Law Schools and other relevant information to Law School applicants.

A copy of the PreLaw Handbook may be obtained through many college book stores or ordered directly from:
Educational Testing Service
Princeton, NJ 08540

Application Procedure
All applications to the Law School for the class commencing in September of 1975 should be made on the form dated September 1975 which is included in the current Suffolk Admissions Bulletin of Information.

The instructions contained in the Suffolk Admissions Bulletin of Information should be followed completely.

The admissions procedure consists of the following steps which must be followed by all applicants with the noted exceptions:

1. Application Form — this form, which is contained in the Suffolk Admissions Bulletin of Information, is valid for only one year. An applicant desiring to amplify any responses to a question asked on the application should include an additional page or pages.

2. Application Fee — a $15 non-refundable application fee must accompany all applications.

3. Registration with LSDAS — Transcripts: Suffolk University Law School is a member of the Law School Data Assembly Service (LSDAS). This service which has been developed by the Law School Admissions Council and the Educational Testing Service collects transcripts of an applicant's academic work (undergraduate, graduate and professional), summarizes these transcripts into a uniform format and sends an LSDAS report. The LSDAS also reports a candidate's LSAT score for each time the test is taken. All applicants must register with the LSDAS by filing the registration form supplied in the Law School Admissions Bulletin.

Each applicant must notify every college or university he or she has attended and request that a transcript be sent directly to the LSDAS and not to Suffolk University Law School.

LSDAS registration materials may be obtained from; and all transcripts should be sent to:
LSDAS/LSAT
ETS
Box 944
Princeton, NJ 08540
4. LSAT — Every applicant for admission to the Law School is required to take the Law School Admission Test and have an official report of the score forwarded directly to Suffolk University Law School by the Educational Testing Service. During the 1974-75 academic year the LSAT will be administered on the following dates:

- October 12, 1974
- December 7, 1974
- February 8, 1975
- April 19, 1975
- July 26, 1975

It is strongly recommended that an applicant for September of 1975 take the Law School Admission Test no later than December of 1974. The February 1975 test date is the last date for which scores will be considered for September 1975 applicants. The Test is administered at hundreds of colleges in the United States and foreign countries. Applicants should be aware that registration dates for taking the LSAT usually close 4 weeks prior to the test date.

Information about the LSAT is contained in the same bulletin that contains information about the LSDAS. This publication may be obtained by writing directly to:

- LSDAS/LSAT
- ETS
- Box 944
- Princeton, NJ 08540

5. Letters of Recommendation — Two letters of recommendation are required. If the candidate has graduated from college within the past 3 years, one of these letters must be from a former college instructor. Applicants may use the standard recommendation forms provided in the Suffolk Law School Admissions Bulletin for this purpose.

All applications are voted on by the Faculty Admissions Committee. Notification of the action taken will be sent by mail to the applicant at the address given on the application form unless otherwise requested in writing.

Each applicant who has been accepted for admission is required to notify the Law School in writing of his intention to enter the school and pay a deposit of $100. An additional $250 advance tuition deposit must be made prior to July 1. These deposits are non-refundable but will be applied toward the tuition for the first semester. Under no circumstances will these deposits be refunded or applied toward any other semester.

Accepted applicants will be asked to submit an official final transcript directly to the Law School showing the award of a baccalaureate degree and each higher degree earned. In addition, each applicant is required, as a part of the registration procedure, to have a picture taken for inclusion in the student Directory. Pictures are taken at the school after the commencement of the first semester and at no expense to the student. Failure to comply with posted notices giving the student an ample opportunity to satisfy this requirement is deemed the equivalent of a withdrawal.

Combined Degree Program

A student in one of the Colleges of Suffolk University, who has earned three-quarters of the credits required for a Bachelor's degree may be eligible to apply for the combined degree program set forth in the Suffolk University College Bulletin. Under this program a student may receive his college degree upon the satisfactory completion of the first year of law school. Inquiries concerning eligibility for this program should be directed to the Director of Admissions of the University.

Transfer Students

A student who has maintained a satisfactory academic record in another accredited Law School and who meets the Admission Requirements of Suffolk University Law School may apply for admission as a transfer student.

An application by a student with an unsatisfactory record at another Law School will not be considered.

In the discretion of the Faculty Admissions Committee, advanced standing for the degree of Juris Doctor may be granted for courses successfully completed by students in good standing in other Law Schools approved by the American Bar Association.

Part-Time Study

Students who cannot devote substantially all of their working time to the study of law may enroll in the Evening Division and complete the work necessary for the Juris Doctor degree in four school years (eight semesters).

The basic subjects in the Day and Evening Divisions are the same. Students in both Divisions are afforded the same quality of instruction and are held to the same academic standards.

Currently Suffolk Law School has no provision to accommodate special students, auditors or others who would like to take less than the required number of courses in the Day or Evening Division.

Admission to a Subsequent Class

The Law School accepts applicants only to one class. An accepted applicant who cannot commence the study of law with the class for which he was accepted must reapply to the Law School. A re-applicant will receive some additional consideration as a result of his prior acceptance. However, due to the increasingly large numbers of highly qualified candidates, a previously accepted candidate should be aware that he may not meet the current admissions criteria.

Method of Legal Study

The study of law requires an ability to analyze and organize complicated fact situations. Suffolk University Law School provides the student with qualified professors—men and women highly skilled in the art of legal analysis. It also provides a library resource. The law professor shows the students how to approach a complicated fact pattern either through the study of adjudicated cases or the use of carefully constructed problems. The student is challenged by the questions and comments of the professor and his fellow students as he works with the cases or problems. From time to time the professor may clarify or lecture on some points of fact or law, but the ultimate responsibility for developing the skills of legal analysis rests on the student. It is the student's role to carefully prepare the course assignments, to fill out his knowledge by use of the library, and to attend class prepared to actively work with the assigned materials. In class the student's mind must analyze the presentation of his classmates, compare the work of others to his own, and be prepared to respond to the thoughts and questions of the professor. The role of the law student is an active one, and the value of his legal education will depend in a large measure on the enthusiasm, dedication, and responsibility with which he approaches his work.

After great study and debate the faculty of the Law School have concluded that a balanced Law School curriculum, maintaining a proper mix between required courses and elective courses, will best prepare one to become a member of the legal profession. The curriculum is outlined on pages 18 and 19 of this bulletin and reflects the deliberation of the Law School faculty. It is designed to provide each law student with the basic knowledge deemed essential for a future lawyer and still provide an opportunity for each student to focus his or her individual interest on specialized areas of the law.

Suffolk Voluntary Defenders

The Voluntary Defenders is the largest of the clinical programs at Suffolk University Law School. It is essentially a two year program operating under Rule 3:11 of the Supreme Judicial Court of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. The rule provides that a senior law student, with the written approval by the Dean of his character, legal ability and training may appear without compensation on behalf of indigent defendants in criminal proceedings in any district court under certain specified supervision of a member of the bar.

Under this rule day and evening students are taken into the program the year before they become seniors. Weekly meetings are held at which time district court procedure is reviewed in great detail. Every possible plea, motion, and disposition is discussed. At the end of the second semester, those students who can be accepted into the program and meet certain qualifications are recommended to the Dean for certification so that when they become seniors they may appear in court without delay.

The senior students, having been trained the previous year as above indicated, are assigned to courts immediately after the opening of the school year. When the case of a criminal defendant is assigned to him, he has full responsibility for interview with the client, investigation, and legal research. Each student must then, before appearing in court, discuss the case in detail with the director of the program.

The program is presently operating on a regular basis in the First District Court of Essex at Salem, the District Court of Southern Essex in Lynn, the District Court of Northern Norfolk at Dedham, and the District Court of Brockton. Representation of an indigent defendant is also provided in any other district court in Eastern Massachusetts upon request.
Prosecutor Program

Under the provisions of Supreme Judicial Court Rule 3:11 senior law students with the written approval by the Dean of his character, legal ability and training may appear without compensation on behalf of the Commonwealth in criminal proceedings in any district court, under the supervision of a member of the bar who is a regular or special Assistant District Attorney or Assistant Attorney General. Under this rule students prosecute cases, on a regular assigned basis, in all of Norfolk County, in the Boston Juvenile Court and in selected district courts in Middlesex County.

Society and the Law

This program, sometimes referred to as a high school teaching program, is open to all students and is in operation at six high schools in the Metropolitan Boston area. Students, in teams of two, are assigned on a weekly basis to a particular class at one of the high schools. Using only prepared material, they present specific problems to the class to start a discussion on an aspect of the law. The program is not designed to teach law but rather to give the high school students an awareness of their rights and obligations under the law. The student teachers have full authority of the classroom discussion during this period.

Suffolk University Legal Assistance Bureau (SULAB):

The Suffolk University Legal Assistance Bureau operates out of its own office in the cities of Beverly and Gloucester, Massachusetts. The program is staffed by third year students and a limited number of second year students who handle all phases of legal work including the trial of cases. Students in the program are taught to interview clients and witnesses, research case and statutory law, conduct factual investigations, examine and cross-examine witnesses in court, prepare and argue legal motions, and proceed with the handling of a case as an attorney would all the way through any necessary trials. Students are expected to take on the full responsibility of the case showing the necessary initiative and legal expertise for the successful completion of the case. The areas of law covered in this clinical program are: domestic relations, debt and consumer law problems, contracts (defense), torts (defense), landlord-tenant problems and administrative law. The third year students in the program receive four semester hour credits. All students are required to have taken a course in Evidence before their admission to the program. Besides providing needed legal assistance to the under-privileged, Suffolk University Legal Assistance Bureau offers students an opportunity to work with the law and to make their study of law more meaningful and rewarding. Membership in the Suffolk University Legal Assistance Bureau is open to all at the Law School and is based solely on the individual merit.

Any student interested in this Program should contact Professor Charles B. Garabedian.
Environmental Law Society
The Environmental Law Society is primarily conceived to be an educational experience. The Club, through its activities and meetings, gives members a broad exposure to both technical and theoretical aspects of environmental law.

At the same time, the Club will endeavor to support and initiate such activities as are appropriate to problems of law and environment.

A clinical program carrying academic credit in lieu of an elective under the supervision of the faculty, it is open to active club members. This includes internships in Federal and State agencies, research projects, legislative work and an environmental law enforcement program.

An annual essay contest in environmental law is sponsored by the Society, a $100 prize is awarded by the American Trial Lawyers' Association.

The Society's office is located on campus and a bulletin board is kept on the 3rd floor of the Donahue Building.

Environmental Enforcement Program
Under a new student intern program set up between the Massachusetts Department of National Resources and Suffolk University Law School students are eligible to serve as National Resource Officers. Under the direction of Professor Robert Blumberg and the Environmental Law Society, this program carries two hours of academic credit.

The deputy natural resource officers investigate and file complaints on water pollution violations. But what makes the program unique in the state, and perhaps in the nation, is that the law students are empowered to prosecute criminal water pollution cases in the district courts. For their services the student interns receive practical experience and academic credit.

Regulations

1. Only students who can devote substantially all of their working time to the study of law are eligible for admission to the three year full-time day division program.

2. Special programs of study not prescribed by the faculty must be approved in advance of registration by the faculty Administrative Committee. The student must take the courses and examinations for the section in which he or she is registered. Students taking reexaminations must write the examination prepared by the same professor who gave the original examination unless exempted from this requirement by the written authorization of the Dean, or Faculty Administrative Committee.

3. Students are expected to perform all class assignments and to attend class meetings in all courses for which they are registered. Failure to meet these requirements may result in exclusion from the course, probation, suspension or dismissal.

4. a) No student may omit an examination scheduled for his or her program of study or take an examination not so scheduled. If for some compelling reason beyond his or her control the student must omit a scheduled examination, a written statement setting forth the reasons therefor must be promptly submitted to the Dean. If the compelling reason exists in advance of the examination, the written statement must be submitted prior to the examination. The Dean or the Faculty Administrative Committee will approve or disapprove the omission. An unapproved omission of a scheduled examination will be recorded as “F” with a grade of 60%. No record will be made or credit given for an unapproved taking of any examination. An approved omission of a required examination will be recorded temporarily as “Incomplete;” a permanent grade of 60% will be recorded if the student fails to take the next regularly scheduled examination in the course.

b) A student may type any or all law examinations as an alternative to writing in longhand. Each student must provide his own typewriter, electric or manual, and must apply for the option in writing during an announced registration period prior to the commencement of examinations.

5. a) A student is academically deficient and not in good academic standing when for any academic year he or she: (i) has a weighted average of less than 75%, or (ii) if a full time student has unsatisfactory grades in more than two courses or more than nine hours, or (iii) if a part time student has unsatisfactory grades in more than two courses or more than six hours. The Faculty Administrative Committee will impose an appropriate sanction on the academically deficient student.

b) A student will be notified of his academic deficiency before definitive action by way of dismissal or probation is taken. A student so notified may file with the Dean a typewritten “Petition for Consideration,” within the time set forth in the notice. The Petition must state specifically and fully any extraordinary extenuating circumstances beyond the student’s control which rebut the presumption raised by the record and which establish that the deficiency was not due to lack of ability or failure to apply himself diligently to the study of law. The Petition must indicate if the circumstances are still operative. If such circumstances are related to physical or psychological incapability before or during examinations, convincing medical proof of the existence of the condition must accompany the Petition. Interference with study by employment is not an extenuating circumstance for a student enrolled in the full-time day division. The Faculty Administrative Committee may require any academically deficient student to appear for an interview before it takes action on his case.

c) The Faculty Administrative Committee may dismiss a student who is academically deficient. A Petition for Readmission may not be filed until two or more years after dismissal and will not be granted except in rare cases of great merit. No student may file more than one Petition for Readmission.

d) An academically deficient student who has not been dismissed is on probation until the deficiency is removed. The Faculty Administrative Committee will prescribe the terms of probation. The Committee may require a student to repeat a course, take a re-examination, or repeat an entire academic year. Grades received on re-examinations or in repeated courses are final. Grades received on re-examination, when the course is not repeated, will not exceed 80%.

6. A student who is not academically deficient may remove unsatisfactory grades from his or her record by re-examination. The student must register for re-examination at least 30 days before the commencement of the examination period. Re-examination shall be the next regular examination in the same division; the Dean or the Faculty Administrative Committee may waive this requirement on a showing of good cause. Grades received in re-examinations are final and will not exceed 80%. Only one re-examination can be taken in any one course.

7. A student may be placed on disciplinary probation, suspended, or dismissed for conduct unbecoming to a student of the law. Conduct unbecoming to a student of the law includes violation of rules and regulations of the law school or university, engaging in illegal activity involving moral turpitude, activity involving dishonesty, fraud, deceit, or misrepresentation, or any other conduct which reflects adversely on the student's fitness to practice law.

8. The Faculty Administrative Committee reserves the right to change the schedule of classes, the program of instruction, the requirements for credits or degrees, and any rule or regulation established for the government of the student body in the school. Any such change may be made applicable to students already enrolled in the Law School.

The Placement Office

A Placement Office under the direction of a full-time Director was recently established in the Law School. The services of the office are available to the students and graduates. All law students and alumni seeking employment — full or part time — are assisted.

As the information center regarding all areas of employment, the Placement Office renders the following services: disseminates information to potential employers concerning the school and its student body; extends invitations on behalf of the students, faculty and administration to prospective employers to visit the school and to conduct on-campus interviews; arranges and co-ordinates interviews on and off campus; encourages a year round program of recruiting on and off campus; maintains a current listing of job opportunities — part-time as well as full-time; through personal interviews with students, career opportunities are discussed; offers advice in the preparation of resumes; maintains a file of alumni seeking a change of position and/or location, and maintains a library of information concerning law firms, corporations and government agencies.

Anthony DeVico, Placement Director
Law Review

The Suffolk University Law Review is a legal periodical that is published four times during the school year, by a staff of law students chosen from the second and third year day classes and the third and fourth year evening classes. Selection to the staff is made on the basis of high academic achievement and proficiency in legal writing.

Each issue contains basically three sections: First, "Lead Articles," which include discussions of legal topics written by prominent individuals both within and without the field of law; second, "Notes," which cover broad areas of the law and usually conclude with suggestions or proposals for reform; third, "Case Comments," which analyze recent decisions of important cases and offer opinions as to their probable future impact upon the law. The "Notes" and "Case Comments" constitute the major portion of each publication and are written by the law students themselves.

As a valuable adjunct to legal education, Law Review avails the student a positive opportunity to project the knowledge he has acquired and affords tangible evidence of his ability to express himself to all who read the Review. Consequently, Law Review is recognized as a reflection of the caliber of the law student, as well as being accepted as a traditional means for judging the quality of the law school.

Law Review membership is considered to be the highest honor that the law school can confer upon its students.

Moot Court

The Justice Tom C. Clark Annual Moot Court Competition

The Clark Competition represents the highest level of achievement in the Law School's oral advocacy and brief writing program. The Competition is the subject of intense interest in the Law School due to the challenge and complexities of the legal issues involved. The Clark Competition is a voluntary program opened to all law students excepting first year students.

Traditionally the subject matter of the Competition has been drawn from constitutional issues of immediate social and legal impact and is drafted by the Moot Court Board. Participants submit briefs and argue orally in several elimination rounds before benches composed of members of the local bar, professors and members of the bench. The final competition is held before a panel of state and federal judges, occasionally including a United States Supreme Court Justice. Scholarship prizes and awards are given for those advocates who excel in the Competition.

Members of the National Moot Court Team are generally selected from those who excel in the Clark Competition.
National Moot Court Competition
The National Moot Court Competition combines oral advocacy and brief writing in a simulated appellate case taken, usually, from a legal problem chosen for its propitious nature or esoteric qualities. Suffolk University Law School participates in the competition conducted under the auspices of the Young Lawyers Committee of the Bar of the City of New York. A faculty committee chooses the National Moot Court Team from those students who show the most promise in the Clark Competition. The team is comprised of two or three members who work together in the preparation of a printed brief and two members argue the case against other law schools in the northeast region. If successful, the team advances to the final round argument held in New York City each December.

International Moot Court Competition
Suffolk University Law School participates in the Phillip C. Jessup International Moot Court competition conducted annually under the auspices of the Association of Student International Law Societies and the American Society of International Law. Students who show promise in the Clark Competition and are interested in the field of International Law are selected as the team to represent the Law School in this Competition.

Moot Court Board
The Moot Court Board is a student run organization which supervises the law school’s moot court programs. Students who excel in the first year moot court program are eligible for membership on the board. Board members select cases, act as judges, provide supervision for candidates and prepare the Clark Competition record.

Membership on the Moot Court Board provides not only administrative training but also a valuable learning experience in further developing legal skills in both writing and case analysis.
The Advocate

The Advocate is a periodical publication of Suffolk University Law School. The objectives of The Advocate are to publicize the activities and outstanding achievements of the Law School and to present articles by students, faculty, and guest writers on timely subjects pertaining to the law.

The Advocate is funded by the University and staffed by students of the Law School. Staff positions are open to students from each class and the Editorial Board is selected from third year staff members.

Guest editorials by students and faculty are welcomed by The Advocate. The Advocate will continue to provide a forum for the exchange of ideas among members of New England's legal community.

Student Bar Association

The regular student body is integrated as The Student Bar Association of Suffolk University Law School. This Association functions under a Charter granted by the Dean and Faculty, and is affiliated with the Law Student Division of the American Bar Association.

The objectives of the Suffolk University Law School, Student Bar Association, as described in its Charter, are "to assist in the development of a sound program of legal education, to promote understanding and coordination of activity among the members of the Law School community, and to foster cooperation with national, state, and local bar associations, and with other law schools through participation in the Law Student Division of the American Bar Association.

Under the leadership of its Officers and Board of Governors elected from the upper classes of the student body, the Association sponsors, coordinates and carries on various student activities. It operates through committees, whose major fields of interest, are concerned with current problems facing students and the Law School.

A student Delegate represents the Association at the Annual Meeting of the Law Student Division Meeting of the American Bar Association held in conjunction with the Annual Meeting of the American Bar Association. The President, elected by the Day Division and Chairman, elected by the Evening Division are accredited to attend Law School Committee Meetings of the Board of Trustees.
BALSA

The Black American Law Students Association of Suffolk University is affiliated with the national BALSA organization. It has been formed to further the interest in and explore the role of the black lawyer in the American society.

Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity

From its very inception, the Chapter has always encouraged and promoted a high ethical standard of conduct among all of its members, a continuing education in the law for its practicing members, and scholastic attainment and professional development among its student members.

To its members it offers practical training to help bridge the gap between the academic emphasis in law school and the actual handling of clients and their problems; it affords its members an opportunity to associate with prominent members of the bench and the bar at fraternity-sponsored functions; it furnishes the young lawyer a forum in which he may become acquainted with practicing attorneys from throughout the country; and through its active chapters it gives the law student the opportunity to develop friendships which will ripen into life-long professional associations.

Student activities sponsored by the University are open to qualified students in the Law School. Maintenance of a satisfactory scholastic standard is a prerequisite for participation in such activities.

Delta Theta Phi

Delta Theta Phi Law Fraternity is a charter senior member of the Professional Interfraternity Conference, organized in 1928. The Frank L. Simpson Senate was initiated at Suffolk Law School in 1970 to supplement the student's formal educational experience by providing an opportunity to participate in clinical programs and various social functions.

Delta Theta Phi has initiated many worthwhile programs which have done great service to the school as well as the brothers. One of the unique functions of the fraternity is its tutorial program conducted by and for the members in helping first and second year students successfully prepare for law school final examinations.

Through its national organization, the fraternity offers the brothers a placement office to aid in the procurement of employment upon graduation and promotes the meeting of students and prominent individuals in the legal profession.

Dicta

Dicta is the Law School student newspaper. The paper, funded by the Student Bar Association is published periodically throughout the school year. Dicta has concerned itself with the timely publication of student, faculty, and administration news relevant to student life at the Law School.

Suffolk Women's Law Caucus

The Women's Law Caucus developed to serve a three-fold purpose: Women in the Law, Women in the Community, and Women in the University, and particularly Suffolk University. This development focuses upon the need for Suffolk women to realize their "tripartite role" as an impetus for social change and revitalization. The Women's Law Caucus seeks:

To encourage research by interested scholars on specific legal and social issues related to women; and to lend active support to state and national legislation which lessens legal discrimination against women;
To promote a more equitable admissions policy in conjunction with an attempt to encourage more women to study law and to attract more women to apply to Suffolk; and to promote the retention of more women faculty and the addition of relevant curriculum relating to women;
To provide the women of Suffolk Law with employment assistance designed to augment the existing placement programs;
To further the interests of women law students at Suffolk and foster enhancement of the women's cause through a professional organization, whenever and wherever possible.

There is no defined membership policy for the Caucus. Any person is welcome to attend meetings or lectures or to take part in S.W.L.C. activities if so inclined. For the purpose of administrative efficiency a steering committee coordinates our program. General meetings of the Caucus take place twice each month to discuss committee progress and to establish policy. In addition, these meetings provide women with the opportunity to meet and exchange ideas and to interrelate on a social level.

Suffolk University Law School Alumni Association

The Law School Alumni Association numbers almost 5000 living alumni. Since the School's founding in 1906, the alumni have played an integral part in promoting and maintaining the high standard of legal education which has been a tradition at Suffolk University Law School. The Alumni Association through the Law School Alumni Fund has made generous contributions to support scholarship and other financial needs of the Law School. The Association is governed by officers elected from the Law School Alumni each year.

The Association holds annual dinners throughout the year at which noted members of the bench, and bar are invited to speak. Currently the Alumni Association has chapters in each of the counties in Massachusetts and in many of the larger cities and towns throughout New England and Eastern United States. These chapters provide an opportunity for Law School Alumni to remain in communication with Suffolk and also provide the Law School with a current sense of direction for new trends in the Law.
