THE THANKSGIVING DANCE

Last week's dance was a dandy. There were lots of people and a good band. The one thing that made it the biggest success was the fact that a lot of the people who stayed after the dance before closed. It was a great party and it showed the value of the S.U. students and how they can support the university.

THERE'S CHEER ANYWAY

Let's face it. Our regular term last night, a game of 3 on 3, doesn't always go as planned, but it usually has its moments. There were some good shots, but it was all in good fun. We hope to see more of these games in the future.

THE JOURNAL knows the conclusion of the season too well to write about their disappointment in the loss of the dance. It's true that the game was not as good as expected, but it was still a good game. The students showed their support by coming out in large numbers.

GET THE STARS READY

As a last note, Suffern should make a good showing in the next dance. They have a lot of talent and should be able to hold their own.

THE JOURNAL wishes all the students a happy New Year, and hopes to see you all at the next dance.

Letters to the Editor

In the past, the JOURNAL has been known for its controversial and outspoken editorials. This week, we are honored to feature a letter from a student who is expressing his views on the current state of affairs on campus.

Dear Editor,

I am writing to express my concern about the recent events on campus. As a member of the student body, I feel that our voices are not being heard.

The recent protests have been met with a strong response from the administration, and it seems that our concerns are being ignored. I believe that it is important for us, as students, to have a say in the matters that affect us.

Thank you for considering my letter.

Sincerely,

[Student's Name]

THE JOURNAL welcomes letters from our readers. We encourage all students to express their opinions and concerns, and we will do our best to provide a platform for their voices to be heard.

Perkins To Aid Coach Law
In Tough Hockey Schedule

In move to help his team, Baldwin Perkins, manager of Men's Hockey club, has promised to chip in some extra money to help bridge a money gap that the group is facing. The gap is the result of the expenses involved in高科技二五计划

Perkins, who has a full-time job and is a senior in business administration at the University, said he would like to help the hockey team because he enjoys the game and he wants to support the team in whatever way he can. He added that he felt it was important to help the team because it was a part of his college experience.

Perkins has been involved with the hockey team for several years and has been a valuable contributor to the team. He said he was happy to help in any way he could and he hoped that his contribution would make a difference.

The hockey team is facing some financial difficulties due to the costs of travel and equipment. Perkins said he was willing to contribute some money to help alleviate some of the financial pressure.

The team is scheduled to play several games in the coming weeks, and Perkins said he was excited to see the team perform. He added that he was confident that the team would do well in the games.

The hockey team is one of the most popular extracurricular activities at the University, and Perkins said he was proud to be involved with the team.

Fiorillo And Law
Basketball Heads

David Fiorillo and Bill Law have been named co-heads of the Men's Basketball team for the upcoming season. Both coaches bring different strengths to the team and are excited to lead the team towards success.

Fiorillo, a former player for the University, brings a wealth of experience and knowledge to the team. He has a deep understanding of the game and is known for his strategic thinking.

Law, on the other hand, brings a wealth of coaching experience to the team. He has led several teams to success and is known for his ability to motivate and guide players.

Both coaches are looking forward to the upcoming season and are confident that the team will be successful.

VA Generous
with Vets on School Time

The Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) has announced a new program that will provide financial assistance to veterans who wish to attend college. The program, called the VA Educational Assistance Program (VA-EAP), will provide up to $4200 per year in tuition and fees for eligible veterans.

The program is open to all veterans who meet the eligibility criteria, which include having served on active duty for at least 90 days during a period of war, having been awarded a disability rating of at least 10 percent, and having been discharged under conditions other than dishonorable.

The VA-EAP will be administered by VA-recognized schools and will cover tuition, fees, and a monthly stipend for books and supplies. The stipend is capped at $200 per month.

On Nicknames

Students at the University often choose nicknames for themselves as a way to express their individuality. Some students choose nicknames that are easy to remember and fit well with their personality, while others choose nicknames that are more unique and creative.

Regardless of the choice, nicknames can be an important part of a student's identity and can serve as a way to introduce themselves to others.

EFFORT BEING MADE TO GET CAR PERMITS

The Suffolk Journal, a newspaper, discusses an effort being made to get car permits. It mentions that the Student Council President is spearheading this effort. The article highlights the need for more parking spaces on campus and the steps being taken to address this issue. It also touches on the implications of the permit system on students and the broader campus community.
