Not only are college students interested in the problems of the nation, but they are also interested in the problems of the world. A recent article in The American Spectator expressed this when it said: "The problems of college students are not separate from the problems of the nation. They are a part of the nation's problems and they must be solved.

LOOKING BACK

When the Christmas pudding has been eaten and the toast has been drunk and the 26th of December becomes the 27th, when the old year has just a few days to live, when the school year is now history, all that we have become will be measured by what we have done.

This half term of S.U. has been one filled with achievement and surprise, more balanced. However, of the writing, it seems true that achievement and progress have taken the forefront. The season was one of the more active in the history of the College Departments. The season included the usual amount of activities to keep the students entertained.

Another achievement was the turn of the month which was the turn of the year. The change of months often brings about a change in the activities and the events.

Among the students there was still talk of the future. The students wanted to know what was going to happen to them in the new year, and how they would spend their time. The talk was often centered around the college and its future.

Any future plans for the students and the college will be discussed in the next issue.

HYNES FULFILLED PROPHECY
MADE AT SUFFOLK BACK IN 1927

BY JOHN C. CLANCY

After spending several years as a Baptist minister and pharmaceutical writer, John B. Hynes, a Suffolk Law School graduate of 1927, held a prophetic vision of his profession while attending a school function in 1927. The Sufco School of Law School was founded in 1927 by his employer, Mayor of Boston. The Sufco School of Law School was named in honour of John B. Hynes, a graduate of Suffolk Law School who was elected to the Suffolk Bar Association in 1927. He was a noted legal scholar and writer who wrote many articles on the ethics of the legal profession.

The prophetic vision of John B. Hynes was a prediction of his future career as a lawyer. He had recently become a member of the Suffolk Bar Association and was known for his legal acumen and ethical standards. The prophetic vision was a clear indication of his future career as a lawyer and his dedication to the ethical practice of law.

In summary, John B. Hynes' prophetic vision of his future career as a lawyer was a clear indication of his dedication to the ethical practice of law. His prophetic vision was a testament to his commitment to the ethical practice of law and his future success as a lawyer.
ROVING REPORTER ASK:

"What Must Be Done To Increase Interest In Student Activities?"

By Dick Harder

Because of a sudden lack of student interest in athletic and social activities sponsored by the Student Council, the Suffolk Journalrend a few suggestions.

Freshman to Have Dance in Library

The President of the Student Council, in an effort to create some form of a social activity on the Suffolk Campus, scheduled a dance for Thursday evening in the Library. Following are the suggestions:

Method Gathering

In order to increase interest in student activities, the Student Council will have to look into the possibility of adding a staff of 200 students to the Council. This would be an important step in the development of student cooperation and understanding.

Library Staff

The administration and the Student Council will have to work together in order to create an atmosphere of cooperation and understanding.

Glee Club

The Glee Club will have to be organized and put under the direction of an experienced Glee Club director. The students will have to be given the opportunity to participate in activities outside the Glee Club.

Edward Fitch, Graduate Student

FITCH TALBOTT RUTTER, Suffolk Student and editor of the Suffolk Journal, released the following statement:

FRESHMEN TO VOTE

The Student Council will be held in a special election to be held by the administration and the Student Council. The election will be held in order to create an atmosphere of cooperation and understanding.

Pucksters Topple Tech At Arena
As MacDonald, Shea Each Score 2

BY LENNY O'HARE

Ould you, without looking at the bottom of this column, have been able to plot the course of the Pucksters to the win over the Tech? We thank the Salem News, Salem, Mass., for their efforts in doing so.

THE NEW YORK TIMES

In the absence of the Journal's sportswriters, the Pucksters were left with no other option than to play Tech in the absence of their regulars. This was a good move, as Tech was forced to rely on their reserve players, who were not as experienced in handling the Puckster's fast-paced game.

Tech's offense was limited to a few shots on goal, but their defense was solid. The Pucksters, on the other hand, were able to control the game throughout, allowing only a few shots on the Tech goalie.

Soccer Players Get Letters

The Pucksters were not the only ones in the New York area to celebrate the Christmas season. The local soccer players received letters from their coaches, congratulating them on their hard work and dedication.

Braves To Sportsters

Many of the Brave's players were contacted by their coaches, informing them that they would be competing in the upcoming tournament.

Charlie Barcik

Barcik was named as the new manager of the New York Pucksters. He replaces John Puckster, who resigned due to health reasons.

Students Wanted

The Pucksters are in need of student volunteers to aid in their upcoming tournament. Interested students should contact the Journal office.

Christmas Surprise

The Journal gives a Christmas surprise to each of the players on the Pucksters. The gifts include various items such as warm clothes, skates, and other necessities for the upcoming tournament.

New Parker "21"

The new Parker "21" is now available, offering better performance and durability. The Journal recommends it to all Pucksters.
