THANKSGIVING OR TURKEY

The air is both crisp and saturated with festive aroma. The foliage is barking up to the behavior of the时髦的 newspaper. The metropolis is bustling with last-minute shopping. The families band from afar. The air is taken by the mind of the next day. It is the day of Thanksgiving.

The day set aside by Gov. Bradford in 1621 and proclaimed a national holiday by President Lincoln in 1864 in observance of the annual holiday to the Day of Thanksgiving.

On this particular holiday in 1951, it is only befitting that we remember the harvest of modern frivolity and return to the capital of the nation's capital, to the Day of Thanksgiving.

There is no doubt that each has its own position and time, and that there is less doubt that this holiday is presently losing its footing in the storm of modern trends. It has failed to the depth of its planning and the attention to the annual "Thanksgiving tradition" and the accompanying sleep-inducing meal.

There is a reason given for both of these, but that is not the question of the day. The question is, will anybody seriously remember the actual cause for its observance? Will the churches accept all their duties to the proper celebration of this holiday? Will man ever stop, on this day, to become not only a natural part of his being and environment, but to appreciate them as well.

A VOICE IN THE LIGHT

The presentation of political policies has been to heretofore the voters with campaigns and invitations. In this way, emotions are effectively calmed in favor of the instigators, and a calmness and an appreciation for the results of their actions.

The Journal is about to undertake the job of justifying a series of investigatory articles pertinent to all, but any amount of long-winded explanations of your cooperative effort, whichever may be the case. It is our job to bring the problem to the fore and to bring the final conclusion.

QUESTION: Do you think that extracurricular activities are beneficial to the student? William Martin, Jr., C.C.A.

I certainly do. Where else can you get the opportunity to do things that are beyond the Spanish, French, Biology or German classes? It is a chance for the students to develop their interests and hobbies outside of school. In my opinion, extracurricular activities are a very important part of college life.

Georges Murphy, High School Sophomore

I would say that these activities are a vital part of an individual's college career. Extracurricular activities are an opportunity for students to explore their interests and to develop new ones. They can be a source of enjoyment and a way to meet new people. However, it is important to balance them with study and other responsibilities.

 Extracurricular activities are also a valuable way to gain experience and develop leadership skills. They can be a stepping stone to future careers.

Bill Nabity, Sophomore

I agree. Extracurricular activities are a great way to get involved in the college community and to make new friends. It is also a great way to develop new skills and to explore different areas of interest. However, it is important to remember that these activities should not take precedence over academic responsibilities.

Unfavorable comments were made by the following students: 1) the management of the cafeteria; 2) the quality of the food; 3) the noise level in the common area; 4) the lack of study places.

Henry Haney, Jr., C.C.A.

Unfortunately, there are too many of us who have to work to support a family and cannot spend the time to attend these meetings and hear our suggestions. It is important for the college to consider our comments and make necessary changes to improve the student experience.

Nancy Smith, Junior

I agree with you. It is unfortunate that we, as students, are not always considered in the decision-making process. It is important that we have a say in the affairs that affect us.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

A low-grade student truly needs off on a long trip when he finds himself involved in the "social" and "cigarette" gambling that goes on. Millions of students are involved in smoking at college -- there's only one sure bet of millions and there's a cigarette.

As the sensible part -- the 30-Day Camel Milds Test, which simply means you try Camel in your daily smoke, makes a big difference in the pack. No more payments! There's only a pack of Camel for 30 days in your "Lynx." (If you Threat, T his T rue, you'll see why ...)
Law Announces Hoop Schedule

The SMU Mustangs basketball schedule was announced last week by Charles Law. This year's squad will be the same as last season, with the exception of two names in the starting lineup.

Although Missouri is a new entry in the basketball, it has been noted high among opponents in this season. At present, all teams will be at the Rose House, and playing will begin at 3 p.m. Plans for many games will be announced.

General admission is $1.00. As when fans from the home college can enter free, cost of admission is in question. Due to the vast number of fans who are expected to attend, the game will be held.

SPORT SWEATERS FOR VARSITY CLUB MEMBERS ONLY

A new sweater is available for sale. The sweater is made of 100% wool and is the official team color. The sweater is available for $5.00 each and may be purchased at the office of the Varsity Club.

Twenty-four years ago last Wednesday, Miss McNamara came to work at the Suffolk University Press, from the Fitchburg School of Business, to become a secretary in the Law School, then the only division of the University, at that time one of the strongest law schools in the country. It was near the opening of SSgt. John L. McNamara, founder of the University Press, and also near the birth of the University Press.

The University Press is a symbol of Miss McNamara's work and dedication. She is responsible for all the work that goes into making the Press a successful operation. She has made many contributions to the Press in the areas of clerical work, and her efforts have served to enhance the University's reputation for excellence in education.

For instance, there are those in the life of every college student who are taught, either consciously or subconsciously, by the students themselves. Maybe the teacher who told her that if she can make an impression without a lecture, other students can also do it. Maybe the student who taught her that if she can make an impression without a lecture, other students can also do it. She is responsible for making sure that students have a chance to be heard and respected.

Lastly, without seeming to be too obvious, she knows that if the students are happy, if the students are respected, and if the students think she has worked out things for herself,

Miss McNamara is the heart of the Press. She is the heart of the Press, without whom the Press would not be what it is today.

No. 29...THE HYENA

Honesty reigned from the moment I heard the story of the quick-think test for addicted smokers.

Firstly, the test was administered to a group of smokers, not on the basis of a survey, but rather to provide evidence that the test was effective and reliable.

Once again, we beheld at the Variety Club I would like to offer thanks to all those who supported the dance. The dance a financial success, with stipends to some bands for superior performances, but the real success was to be found in the enthusiasm of the participants.

The members of the faculty, who attended, showed a great deal of appreciation. It is always good to know that the faculty is aware of the activities of the students. I hope they will continue to support the variety dance and other sponsored activities.

The students were very enthusiastic and had a great time.
