PURPOSE OF SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY LAW SCHOOL

Suffolk University Law School is the parent of the University itself. Herein were formulated the ideals and educational policies that now characterize Suffolk University. Suffolk University's constant endeavor is to increase its efficiency and to broaden the scope of its service to students who come to it for training. After thirty-nine years of successful operation, the Law School is fortified and equipped for a new era of progress. The two-year college requirement for law students links together in united effort the College of Liberal Arts and the Law School of Suffolk University. A rearrangement of curriculum gives the school an 87 semester-hour program, exceeding in semester hours that of the majority of law schools.

HISTORICAL DATA

The first unit of Suffolk University has been in successful operation for forty years. Suffolk Law School was founded in September 1906 by Gleason Leonard Archer, a young lawyer who had encountered great hardship in winning his own education and who had succeeded only because a kind-hearted man of wealth had befriended him in a time of need. Resolved to establish a law school for ambitious young men who are obliged to work for a living, Mr. Archer held his first law classes in the living room of a modest apartment in Roxbury. Because of his enthusiasm for the work, his ability as a teacher and administrator the school speedily won success, being chartered with degree granting powers by the Legislature of Massachusetts in 1914.

Early in its history the Suffolk Law School gained national recognition as a training school for lawyers. Self-supporting students in an ever widening circle found in Suffolk a haven of opportunity. Judges, lawyers, business men, leaders in political and civic life owe their advancement to the training received at Suffolk Law School. The rising cost of higher education in recent years has brought about an extension of Suffolk's educational program. Although New England has long been famous for its colleges and universities, until 1934 when Suffolk College of Liberal Arts was founded there was no opportunity east of New York City where an ambitious man or woman might earn a Bachelor of Arts degree entirely through evening study. Suffolk was the first to recognize and to provide for this need—our Liberal Arts department opening its doors to students September 24, 1934. The Legislature of Massachusetts gave the new college a special degree-granting charter in February 1935.

A Graduate School of Law was established in September 1935 and a College of Journalism one year later. The various departments of Suffolk were incorporated by the Massachusetts legislature in April 1937 whereupon the Trustees of the institution elected Gleason L. Archer, the founder and guiding spirit of this educational development, as President of Suffolk University.

A building campaign was at once inaugurated to provide adequate facilities for the growing institution. The main building (erected in 1920-21) and annex (1923-24) were remodeled and upper stories added thus providing a thoroughly up-to-date University Building.

Completion and dedication of the University Building occurred in February 1938—delegates from fifty colleges and universities participating in impressive ceremonies.

BUILDING AND EQUIPMENT

UNIVERSITY BUILDING

The University Building is a modern fireproof structure located at the corner of Derne and Temple Streets, Beacon Hill. The cornerstone of the first unit of the building was laid in 1920 by Calvin Coolidge, then Governor of Massachusetts and nominee for Vice-President of the United States. The last unit was added in 1937 and the completed building was formally dedicated in February 1938.

The University Building occupies the entire space bounded by Temple Street, Derne Street and Ridgeway Lane running back 150 feet to an alley; hence it has light and air on all sides. Eleven dwelling houses were razed to make way for this massive structure. The building has a total floor area of more than 82,000 square feet—six stories in the rear (because of the downward slope of the Hill) and five stories on Derne Street. Located in it are the Executive Offices, the University Library, twenty-three lecture halls, laboratories for Biology, Chemistry and Physics, the University Auditorium, Faculty Room, Trustees Room, Bookstore, rest rooms for women, and lounging rooms for men. Certain of the more important facilities are described below.

THE UNIVERSITY LIBRARY

The University Library occupies the major portion of the third floor of the University Building. The main reading room is beautifully lighted and has electrically operated ventilators. Including the balcony there is a total stack capacity of forty-five thousand volumes affording opportunity for expansion. Each department is receiving regularly important accessions of the latest works in its field. All books, except those on required reading lists which are on reserve and are kept at the charging desk, are on shelves open to the students, faculty and alumni.

In addition to the standard reference books and texts needed for the various courses, the Library receives regularly many newspapers, periodicals and government publications. The Library is open from 9:00 A.M. to 10:00 P.M. Monday through Friday; 9:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. Saturday; and 2:00 P.M. to 6:00 P.M. Sunday.

The Law Section of the Library is constantly increasing, now having 11,200 volumes.

The University Library serves not only the Law School but also the College of Liberal Arts, the College of Journalism, the College of Business Administration, and the Graduate School of Law. Reference books, encyclopedias, classical and historical volumes, source material for research and other aids to scholarship are provided.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF LAW SCHOOLS

Suffolk University Law School is an active member of the National Association of Law Schools. This association is devoting attention not only to the upbuilding of standards of sound legal education but to the welfare of graduates of independent law schools whether day, evening, or part time.

THE SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY LAW SCHOOL SYSTEM

The method of instruction in Suffolk University Law School combines the study of cases and texts with lectures designed to develop legal reasoning and a knowledge of principles and rules. The competent practice of the law demands an ability to analyze complicated fact situations, as well as a knowledge of legal principles and a trained power of legal reasoning. Diagnosis is as important in legal practice as in medical practice. It is as essential for the lawyer to determine what is fundamentally involved in a legal controversy as it is for a doctor to ascertain the ailment of a patient. Accordingly, analysis of decisions and, quite as essentially, of fact situations is a significant and important part of the system of instruction. Thought-compelling lectures, oral review and periodic written tests are regular features of the Suffolk method.

Under a rearrangement of curriculum and lecture hours, that began in September 1942, the school's effective methods of teaching have been greatly improved, providing fuller opportunity for case discussion and comprehensive review.

CHANGES IN CURRICULUM

Among the significant changes in the curriculum are:

- I. The establishment of the three semester school year.
- II. The rearrangement of courses by which fundamental courses such as Contracts, Torts, Equity, Property, Practice & Pleading and Evidence are given over longer periods of time.
- III. The reestablishment of the courts and the enlargement of the Court Work.
- IV. The institution of the seminars in the first three years.
- V. The establishment of the Comprehensive course for seniors and graduate students.
- VI. The reestablishment and rearrangement of the course for the Master of Laws degree.

I. THE THREE SEMESTER YEAR

Experiments with accelerated programs during the war has led Suffolk University Law School to adopt a three semester school year.

Suffolk's new plan operates as follows:

- (a) Fall Semester of 15 weeks
- (b) Winter Semester of 15 weeks
- (c) Summer Semester of 12 weeks.

Thus in the three-year day school our students receive 114 weeks of training as against 90 weeks under the usual day school system. In the four-year evening school they receive 156 weeks of instruction as against the customary 120 weeks. It will be noted from the above that our students receive virtually an additional year of instruction in the day department and more than that in the evening school.

More important still, under our new plan, all required subjects are given in Fall and Winter Semesters, where as elective subjects are offered in the Summer Semester only.

The total number of semester hours for the degree of Bachelor of Laws is 87: Required courses 73 semester hours, Elective courses making up the balance. It is possible to complete the Elective courses necessary for the degree in two summers but it is recommended that three summer semesters be devoted to those courses.

II. REARRANGEMENT OF COURSES

Experience has demonstrated that neither the number of class exercises, nor the number of weeks, devoted to a subject, is the sole test of the time required to be devoted to a course of study. The student needs time for reflection, for collateral reading and research. To meet this need certain fundamental courses are now given over longer periods of time than formerly.

Contracts and Torts, heretofore given three hours per week in the Fall and Winter semesters of the Freshman year, are now given two hours per week throughout the Fall and Winter semesters of the Freshman year and two hours per week in the Fall semester of the Sophomore year. The Property course is given in the Winter semester of the Freshman year and in the Fall and Winter semesters of the Sophomore year.

Equity (including Trusts) is given in four semesters, — in the Fall and Winter semesters of both the Sophomore and Junior years.

Practice and Pleading and Evidence are each given in both the Fall and Winter semesters of the Junior year, thus laying the foundation for the student's court work, which is done in the Senior year.

III. THE COURT WORK

The court work has been reestablished and extended to afford the widest possible experience in practice, pleading and evidence.

The law student should begin his practical experience in the law school, and not encounter it for the first time after he has passed the Bar examination and been admitted to the Bar. That this can be done has been amply demonstrated in Suffolk University Law School.

Four courts have been set up:

1. A supreme court, to hear in banc law questions on appeals, exceptions or reports from the lower courts will be established, to be composed of members of the Faculty or of Judges of the Massachusetts Courts, or of both.
2. A superior court. Three members of the Faculty compose the bench of this court, and judges of the district court may be called to sit herein.
3. A probate court. One of the superior court judges will be assigned to sit, as occasion arises, as judge of probate.
4. A district court, in which three members of the Faculty are assigned as judges, supplemented by Judges of the Massachusetts District Courts who have volunteered their services as such judges and as an Appellate Division.

The jurisdiction of the above courts is based upon that of the like courts of Massachusetts.

Practice in these courts is conducted strictly in accordance with the laws, statutes and rules of Courts of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, — the aim being to teach practice, pleading and evidence by experience in the courts, thus supplementing class exercises in these subjects.

Each student is required to act as counsel in at least two cases, — in one as counsel for the plaintiff, and in another as counsel for the defendant. A student may participate in more than two cases if he desires and is able to do so.

Students draw their own writs and other process, have them served by the school sheriff and return them to the clerks' office as required by the statutes and rules. Each counsel draws and files his own pleadings and other papers at or within the times fixed by law. Failure to do so will entail the consequences which follow such failure in actual litigation. Counsel for the parties act independently of each other in the preparation of pleadings and of the case for trial. Cases must be heard when reached on the lists, unless reasons are presented adequate to satisfy the court to grant postponement.

The student is encouraged to make his experience as extensive as possible by filing, when proper, demurrers, notices to dismiss, pleas, special answers, interrogatories, affidavits of no cause of action or of no defence, motions for directed verdicts, requests for instructions, motions for new trials, appeals, bills of exceptions, reports, etc.

Actual trials are held before juries or in jury waived sessions.

Law sessions of the courts are held for interlocutory matters; and in all respects, the effort is to approximate as nearly as possible the experience which the young lawyer will encounter in his first years at the bar, whether practising by himself or as a junior in the office of an older attorney.

OFFICE APPRENTICESHIP

In furtherance of the purpose of preparing our students for the actual practice of law, a course in office work has been established, beginning in the junior year. A fully appointed laboratory law office is maintained in the University Building, a laboratory in which students learn by actual experience how to practice law.

The student draws the usual papers employed in court practice, such as declarations, demurrers, pleas, answers, motions, bills of exceptions, etc., thus implementing the course on Practice and Pleading and aiding in the preparation for his court work in the senior year.

He also draws such documents as deeds, mortgages, discharges and assignments of mortgages, leases, simple wills and trust agreements, notices in ice and snow and other cases, notices to quit, notices to produce, summonses, assignments of wages and for creditors and corporate papers. He is required to become familiar with the record and functioning of registries of deeds and of probate and of the clerks of court.

A significant and valuable part of the work of this course is a study of the Rules of the District, Probate and Superior Courts.

IV. THE SEMINAR

The traditional method of investigating and studying the law in different courses, e.g. Contracts, Torts, Sales, Property, etc. tends to develop a habit of thinking on the part of the student in terms of what seem to him isolated subjects. He rarely is able to analyze a set of facts so as to perceive all of the legal problems involved in it. He has little experience, or opportunity to obtain one, in original diagnosis, — the first thing a lawyer is required to do. To afford this experience, seminars have been established beginning in the winter term of the freshman year and continuing throughout the sophomore and junior years.

Each class meets once each week under the direction of the Dean, in office rather than in classroom surroundings. The work is based upon previously assigned problems, taken from actual decisions of the courts.

The exercise is one of diagnosis, in which the student is taught to analyze the facts to ascertain all of the legal questions involved, and to determine what legal principles must be sustained to establish a cause of action or a defense.

The exercise is Socratic and informal and approximates the conference between the senior and junior lawyer in the office.

V. THE COMPREHENSIVE

Continuing the work of the seminars, there has been established for seniors and graduate students a Comprehensive Course, given three hours per week in the evening school only, during the fall and winter semesters, and for approximately five weeks of the summer semester.

This also is a problem course, based on actual court cases. It is conducted by the Dean and a primary objective is an intensive training in analysis and diagnosis of facts and law. The problems selected, however, cover a very wide field of the law and afford opportunity for extensive review. The problems are not selected and presented by courses, but are designedly varied, so as to develop the student's powers of original thinking and reasoning and to exercise his abilities of applying the principles which he has been studying in his previous courses. The approach to the problem is that of the lawyer and all aspects of the problem are surveyed together with related matters suggested by the questions and issues actually raised by the case.

REFRESHER COURSE

The wide extent of the law and the practical problems viewed in the Comprehensive Course makes it an adequate refresher course for veterans and others who desire to pursue a further course of study after graduation from law school, but who do not wish to become candidates for post-graduate degrees.

In the Comprehensive, important recent decisions of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts and statutes affecting substantive law, practice and evidence, are cited and discussed. All recent significant changes in the law, both statutory and non-statutory are noted.

VI. THE MASTER OF LAWS DEGREE

The course for the Master of Laws degree has been reestablished in the evening school and is open to students holding the degree of LL.B. whose scholastic record indicates the ability to undertake it. The course may be taken in one year, or in not more than three consecutive years. The subjects available for this degree are listed in Group IV, and the requirements are hereinafter stated.

SPECIAL SCHEDULE FOR VETERANS

In the early days of the World War when students were likely to volunteer or be drafted into the armed services, accelerated programs were justified by the possibility that the student might not be able to complete the full course of study for his degree. This situation has long since ceased to exist. There is now no occasion, or justification, for abridging the full three calendar years of day time study, and four full calendar years of evening study, for the Bachelor of Laws degree, except possibly in the case of veterans of the War, who, because of the time spent in the service, may feel that they ought to expedite preparation in order the earlier to attain the Bar and to begin their life work.

It is clear, however, that if the traditional periods of study and preparation were necessary for an adequate foundation of legal education, before the War, they are necessary now, and are as necessary for the veteran as for other students. The Government has made provision for the assistance of the veteran through legislation providing for the payment of tuition, the purchase of books, and for subsistence, and the law school should offer him as full and adequate instruction as to the non-veteran.

Suffolk University Law School urges veterans to pursue the full periods of study, if this is possible. In special cases, in which a veteran shows that he is capable of proper and adequate preparation in a shorter period, special schedules will be arranged to enable the veteran to shorten his course within limits permitted by the Rules of the Board of Bar Examiners of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

The conditions of admission to Suffolk University Law School conform to the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and the rules of eligibility issued by the Board of Bar Examiners and approved by the Supreme Judicial Court. Applicants must furnish proof of at least sixty semester hours of college credits, or the equivalent thereof. Proof of college credits must be by official transcript from the college previously attended, provided such college has been approved by the State Board of Bar Examiners. The transcript should specify courses, semester hours of credit and grade for each course, the semester when taken, with passing mark, a key to grades not in per cents and a statement of the units accepted for entrance. Applicants who are unable to comply with the conditions of admission may be admitted, as pre-legal students, to the College of Liberal Arts of Suffolk University. Upon completion of the above requirement they may transfer to the Law School.

Suffolk University College of Liberal Arts has been listed by the Massachusetts Board of Bar Examiners as an approved college for pre-legal training.

ASSOCIATE IN ARTS PROGRAM

The Associate in Arts program prepares for admission to the Law School. It is given in our College of Liberal Arts, day or evening, and consists of at least sixty semester hours. The following program applies to all applicants direct from high school. Applicants with some college work but less than sixty semester hours of college credits should consult the College Registrar for evaluation of credits and arrangement of a suitable program for completion of the sixty semester hour requirement.

COMBINED LIBERAL ARTS AND LAW COURSES

Pre-legal students who desire to earn the Bachelor of Arts degree before graduating from Law School may take advantage of the following plan: Any student in Suffolk University College of Liberal Arts with ninety-six semester hours of college credit may transfer to the Law School and upon completing the Freshman courses therein, be entitled to receive the academic degree at the Commencement next ensuing, continuing for the law degree in the usual manner.

The same rule applies to students in the College of Business Administration. After completing ninety-six semester hours toward the Bachelor of Science in Business Administration degree they may transfer to the Law School and receive the B.S. in B.A. degree after one full year in the Law School.

A second plan permits graduates of the Law School to enter the College of Liberal Arts with a credit for their law work of thirty semester hours toward an academic degree.

REGISTRATION

Incoming students register by filing a formal application for admission together with proof of the requisite college training. Application blanks may be obtained from the Law School secretary and must be approved by the Dean and the Committee on Admissions.

A personal interview with the Dean when presenting the application is desirable, but registration by mail is possible if proof of general education and proper letters of recommendation accompany application. Certificates of registration will be issued to all whose applications are accepted. The registration fee will be returned on all rejected applications but it is not returnable to any applicant after he has been accepted and officially entered in the school records.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

Suffolk University believes that the development of a well rounded legal education demands a thorough training with special emphasis upon the fundamental branches of the law. It also recognizes that there are other branches, which, while important and essential to the equipment of the lawyer, and valuable from the standpoint of information, are less vital to the understanding of basic principles or to the development of legal reasoning.

The undergraduate curriculum, accordingly, is divided into three groups, the first and third of which include courses which all applicants for a degree are required to take. The second group includes subjects, among which a certain degree of election or choice is permitted, — the only requirement being that at least fourteen semester hours in courses in this group must be taken and passed successfully. The courses for the degree of Master of Laws are in Group IV.

The subjects in the several groups are as follows:

If a candidate has had the course on History of Law in his undergraduate work, he may substitute any course of not less than two semester hours in Group I or II which he did not offer for his Bachelor of Laws degree.

The Court Work, the Comprehensive and the courses in Administrative Law and Taxation are given in the year 1945-1946 only in the evening school.

MARKING SYSTEM

Tests and examinations are graded on the basis of 100 per cent for perfect work. Reports of grades are made by letters which have the following per cent and point values.

97-100%	= A+	entitled to 6.	points per semester hour
94-96	= A	" "	5.5	" "	" "	" "	" "
90-93	= A-	" "	5.	" "	" "	" "	" "
87-89	= B+	" "	4.5	" "	" "	" "	" "
84-86	= B	" "	4.	" "	" "	" "	" "
80-83	= B-	" "	3.5	" "	" "	" "	" "
77-79	= C+	" "	3.	" "	" "	" "	" "
74-76	= C	" "	2.5	" "	" "	" "	" "
70-73	= D	" "	2.	" "	" "	" "	" "
60-69	= E,	not entitled to point or semester hour credit
0-59	= F	" "	" "	" "	" "	" "	" "

To determine the number of points gained in a course, the point value of the letter received in the course should be multiplied by the number of semester hours in the course. To ascertain point average or grade, the total number of points gained should be divided by the total number of semester hours in the courses represented in the points total.

The number of semester hours in a course is determined by the number of lecture hours per week of the course for a semester.

REQUIREMENTS FOR BACHELOR OF LAWS DEGREE

The degree of Bachelor of Laws will be awarded, upon recommendation of the Faculty, to candidates who have satisfactorily complied with the following conditions:

Those whose average in the courses of Group I is less than A— but not less than B, will be awarded the degree "With Honor."

Candidates for the Master of Laws degree who have an average of A— or more, in the courses in Group IV will be awarded the degree "With Highest Honors." Those whose average in said courses is less than A— but not less than B will be awarded the degree "With Honor."

Students in all classes who maintain a general average of B or more in any year will be included in the "Dean's List," published at the completion of the school year.

SCHEDULES OF COURSES

Prior to the present World War there were maintained a four-year day course and a four-year evening course. The four-year day course was discontinued in 1942 owing to advice that the University Building would be used by the Federal Government. In September, 1943, the four-year day course was reestablished and there was established a new three-year day course.

The Massachusetts requirement for admission to the bar is a three-year full time day course or a four-year evening course. The establishment of the three-year day course was in conformity with this requirement. The four-year day course, however, will be continued because of the belief that, due to the very great increase in the volume of legal material which the law student of the present day must investigate and to the greatly increased complexity of modern law, students who are able to do so should take four years of legal training, whether in day or evening school. It is, however, optional with the day student whether to take three or four years, though the University recommends the four-year course.

The schedules of the three-year day course and of the alternative four-year day course and the four-year evening course (which are the same) are as follows:

LECTURE HOURS

TUITION AND FEES

The tuition charge per year in the three year day course is $240 for the Fall and Winter semesters, and $35 for the Summer semester. The tuition is payable in quarterly payments for the fall and winter semesters on the following dates: September 17, 1945, November 12, 1945, January 28, 1946, and March 18, 1946. The tuition for the summer semester is payable on May 14, 1946.

In the four year alternate day or evening courses the tuition per year is $180 for the Fall and Winter semesters and $35 for the Summer semester payable on the dates above mentioned.

It will be observed that the cost of the complete course is identical in both divisions, the work itself being of the same standard and taught by the same professors.

A matriculation fee of $5 must accompany the original application. If the applicant is admitted the fee is not returnable. It is not part of the tuition. An annual University fee of $10 is required of all students due and payable with the first quarterly tuition. The graduation fee is $15. Aside from a $3 charge for make-up or special examinations there are no other fees or charges.

To students taking less than full semester work, or special subjects, a charge is made for the subjects taken at the rate of $10 per semester hour, except for the Comprehensive, the charge for which is $100 if taken alone. Students may take the Comprehensive and six additional semester hours in the Fall and Winter semesters at a tuition charge of $180.

The tuition for the Master of Laws course, is $180, payable on the dates above mentioned.

GIFTS AND BEQUESTS

Gifts and bequests of money, securities or real estate are gratefully received by Suffolk University.

To serve the University in this way it is not necessary to make a large gift or bequest. There are doubtless many who, without injury to family or other interests, could give or bequeath $500, $1,000 or $5,000; and some who might bequeath a much larger sum.

In order to extend its educational service, Suffolk University will welcome gifts and bequests:

- (A) FOR ENDOWMENT
 - (1) of professorships in any department
 - (2) of Library in any department
 - (3) of scholarships in any department
 - (4) unrestricted
- (B) FOR EQUIPMENT AND BUILDINGS
 - (1) reference books in any department
 - (2) additional equipment for science laboratories
 - (3) additional buildings

Unless other use is specified, it is the general policy of the University to designate funds so given as a part of the permanent unrestricted endowment. In this case, the principal is never expended, but is loaned on adequate security.

The President of the University will gladly confer with any prospective donor as to the needs of the various departments.

FORM OF BEQUEST

I give and bequeath to Suffolk University, a corporation organized by the Legislature of Massachusetts for the educational uses and purposes of the said University and under its direction the following sums:
