Mother’s Day was observed at St. John’s Church, May 15th, by Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes, the pastor. Miss Frederica Bellamy, assisted. Miss Holmes was also present.

The mother of many children was a success at the church. Her jargon was "All hail, all hail!" and she was greeted with an enthusiastic "Welcome." The person who could not be blamed for the success of the event was Mr. Robert A. King, who is in charge of the nursery school at the church. Mr. King, who is in charge of the nursery school at the church, is a constant source of enjoyment for the children.

The Old Folks' Club held an annual meeting on May 16th. The meeting was held in the church, and the door was to be closed at 8 p.m. The meeting was well attended, and the following resolutions were adopted:

Basic Freedoms

By Ruth Taylor

Every time things get worse in the country, we are told that this is because of restrictions on business and trade. But what about the restrictions on the liberties that we enjoy? Are we not entitled to the same freedoms that other countries enjoy? Do we not have the right to live as we choose, without interference from the government?

We have the freedom of speech and the press, but how many of us actually use it? How many of us actually express our opinions freely? We are told that we have the right to bear arms, but how many of us actually exercise this right? We are told that we have the right to assemble, but how many of us actually assemble?

These are the basic freedoms that we enjoy as Americans. We are not entitled to more, but we must make sure that we use them wisely and responsibly.

NEGO WOMANHOOD

Smith College, Northampton, Massachusetts, has long enjoyed a reputation for liberal education and a campus atmosphere of higher learning, especially during the presidency of its trustee, Mr. John Smith. The college is now being considered for the board of directors of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Smith College, which is located in the heart of the North Dakota prairies, and was founded in 1860, is one of the oldest institutions of higher learning in the United States. It is the alma mater of many distinguished men and women, including President Woodrow Wilson and several Supreme Court Justices.

LAW

President Johnson has signed into law the Civil Rights Act of 1968, which prohibits discrimination in housing and employment on the basis of race, color, religion, or national origin. The act also provides for the establishment of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC), which will enforce the law.

NEGO WOMANHOOD

The struggle of the African American woman for equal rights and opportunities has a long and rich history. From the days of slavery, when she was forced to work in the fields and perform menial tasks, to the present day, when she is fighting for equal pay and equal treatment in the workplace, the African American woman has been a leader in the fight for civil rights.
