

Suffolk University

Digital Collections @ Suffolk

Advancement and Alumni Newsletters

Suffolk University Publications

1985

Suffolk University Alumni Bulletin, Vol. 5, No. 2, Spring 1985

Suffolk University

Follow this and additional works at: <https://dc.suffolk.edu/ad-news>

Recommended Citation

Suffolk University, "Suffolk University Alumni Bulletin, Vol. 5, No. 2, Spring 1985" (1985). Advancement and Alumni Newsletters. 100.

<https://dc.suffolk.edu/ad-news/100>

This Newsletter is brought to you for free and open access by the Suffolk University Publications at Digital Collections @ Suffolk. It has been accepted for inclusion in Advancement and Alumni Newsletters by an authorized administrator of Digital Collections @ Suffolk. For more information, please contact dct@suffolk.edu.

Suffolk University

Winter/Spring 1985

Alumni Bulletin

Romance
On the Town and
in the Curriculum

From the Top of the Hill

Many thanks to all readers who took the time to comment kindly on our previous issue and also to those who took time to send in corrections.

Because poll after poll of alumni magazine readers reveal that the overwhelming majority of readers turn to the Class Notes first, we are anxious to make this section of your Suffolk Alumni Bulletin of greater significance and service to you.

With this issue we are re-styling Class Notes to give the graduates of each school a more definite identity. Your news will appear in the year and school of your primary Suffolk degree. Suffolk graduate degrees (and even graduate degrees from other institutions,) if we have the information) will be noted. Thus, if you are a 63 BA and a 70 MBA, your news will appear in the CLAS section. If you are an 80 BSB and an 83 MED, you will appear in SOM's notes. If your only Suffolk degree is a graduate one—MBA, MPA, JD, MS or MED—you will appear in the school and the year in which you received the graduate degree.

We have two primary sources of alumni news: press releases from employers and news clippings from a service to which we subscribe. We have already begun to receive a gratifying number of letters—which traditionally takes many issues, even years to achieve—and would dearly like to receive more, especially news that either never appears in newspapers or press releases, or appears without reference to Suffolk. If you are proud of a son or daughter who has graduated from a university other than Suffolk and you would like your classmates to know, if you have just become a grandparent, if you have had something published but the magazine, newspaper or book publisher does not carry biographical information about you, please send it along in note form. We would very much enjoy receiving birth announcements with the Suffolk degree(s) and year(s) of graduation of the child's parents indicated. Newspaper birth announcements rarely, if ever, give this information. We are also dependent on letters or notes for information about alumni who live outside of New England. Incidentally, until we receive enough of a quantity of birth announcements to justify a separate listing, as we now have for marriages, birth announcements will appear in Class notes in their proper place.

We are happy to receive photographs—no wedding or baby pictures, please—preferably black and white "glossies," that is to say, shiny. Please let us know if we may retain your picture(s) for your alumni folder and, if possible, enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope for those you wish returned.

If some of this issue's news seems slightly antiquated, it is because we are playing catch-up and attempting to institute a better system. With the next issue we hope to become more current, although there is no cut-off date for interesting information. The Alumni Records Office is particularly grateful to receive death notices which may not have appeared in our news clippings.

A Final Note: all names and degrees are checked out on our computerized records. However, just as your hometown newspaper makes the occasional goof, so do we. And happy we are to be able to correct our records. Please do not just steam about our errors. Write to us. Information on paper is less likely to evaporate than information tendered over the telephone.

Hoping to hear from many more Suffolk graduates, former employees, and friends,

Marylou Buckley

P.S. Address corrections are most welcome of all. With postage going up, and more and more alumni being added to our lists, returns of second class mail are budgetarily discouraging.

Suffolk University

Volume 5 No. 2 Winter/Spring 1985 Alumni Bulletin

Editor:
Marylou Buckley

News:
Louis B. Connelly 57 BSJ, 74 MED
Karen Decilio

Cover Art:
Carol Davis Stopa

Design:
Carol Davis Stopa

Photography:
John Gillooly

Printers:
Crimson Printing

© Suffolk University

Suffolk University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, marital or parental status or handicaps in its admissions policies and in the administration and operation of all its programs and activities.

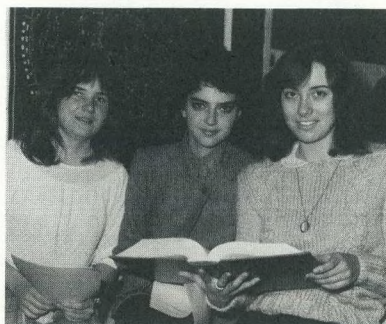

Students may apply for admission to Suffolk University for the fall, spring or summer session and may attend on a full or part time basis.

Suffolk University Alumni Bulletin (USPS 566-790) is published by the Suffolk University Office of Institutional Advancement. It is distributed without charge to all alumni. Second class postage paid at Boston, Massachusetts. Postmaster: Send address changes to Suffolk University Office of Institutional Advancement, 8 Ashburton Place, Boston MA 02108.

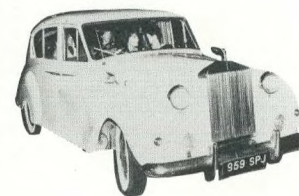

CONTENTS

page 5

page 14

page 18

14 Fulham Scholars In Pursuit of Excellence

18 Romance On the Town and in the Curriculum

Departments

- 2 Letters
- 3 News
- 20 Classnotes

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Some Identifications

You have asked for identification of the "Suffolk Family" members appearing in the photograph on page 2 of the Bulletin. . . Perhaps I can help a little.

In the first row at the extreme right is the late Professor Kenneth B. Williams. I had him in "Contracts" in 1930.

Moving to the left of Professor Williams we find Catherine Carraher (later Mrs. Thomas Finnegan), wife of the late Professor Thomas Finnegan.

Next in line moving to the left is Catherine Judge, assistant to the then Miss Carraher. Miss Carraher was #1 girl in the office.

Unfortunately, I am not acquainted with the next two ladies.

The gentleman in the so-called soft hat, standing next to Dean Archer at his left is Professor Thomas Duffy ("Bills and Notes").

John J. Carty 34 JD

(Editor's Note: No one has yet identified the gentlemen at the right of Dean Archer. Miss Dorothy McNamara identified herself as the lady at Miss Judge's right—second woman from the left in the photograph.)

The Forties Recalled

Have just spent a couple of hours going back in time, reading and enjoying the Alumni Bulletin.

Especially enjoyed the fact that two people from my "era" took their pen in hand and responded to your letter of inquiry. Both Celia and Joe (Dean Strain) were friends of mine. Celia was married and I recall a shower and her wedding sometime while we were there.

Addie Embrie, mentioned by Joe, returned to my life about twenty years later. She was working at American Mutual Insurance Co.

She has since passed away. . .

Good luck in your endeavors,

Claire M. Driscoll 43 BS

. . . And, From California

. . . Suffolk! Intimate, congenial, caring; Suffolk! dedicated, inspirational professors and instructors. Suffolk! Miss Dorothy McNamara, who kept me going when I wanted to throw it all in. If there were some way I could dedicate this donation in her name I would like to. Regardless of that, however, would you do me a favor and pass this note on to her? I'm sure she has forgotten me by now, but I have never forgotten her. . .

Bob Hodges 57 BA

(Editor's note: Mr. Hodges writes from the Los Angeles area, where he, a former English major, is Manager of Division Project Control for TRW Defense Systems Group in Redondo Beach.)

Tribute To Professor Stone

The education and attainment of an MBA from Suffolk was the turning point in my career. It is for this reason that I am always willing to accommodate the requests of your alumni and student groups when they ask me to participate in counseling students and recent graduates.

It was also a pleasure to see that there was a nice writeup on Professor Harold Stone. . . Professor Stone was my instructor for the two semesters in finance; in addition, he was my thesis advisor. He was the key person who helped me to gain the confidence which provided the momentum to attain my current position.

. . . thank you for the honor of mentioning me in your 50th anniversary Alumni Bulletin.

Allan L. Coon 66 MBA

The Eyes of Texas Are Upon Us

. . . It's great to hear what's going on within the old streets of Suffolk! Keep up the good work—but how about adding births and weddings to your information on former classmates.

Anyway, I'd like to let you know. . . that I'm now working as an account executive with Warner Amex Cable Communications Inc., in Houston TX. It's great!

Jeffrey J. Simonson 82 BSJ

(Editor's response: Readers will note that we began announcing weddings in our last issue and are pleased to know that we have begun to meet this reader interest. We will be happy to add births—if proud parents will send us announcements.)

NEWS

Colloquium Concludes CLAS Anniversary Year

The fiftieth anniversary celebration of the founding of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences reached its official conclusion with a two-day colloquium held on February 20-21. Professors David Tuerck (Economics) and David Robbins (History) co-ordinated the program which was co-sponsored by Suffolk University, the Lowell Institute, and the Association of American Colleges.

At the opening session on Wednesday, February 20, Dean Michael Ronayne welcomed Massachusetts Governor Michael Dukakis, who presented an official proclamation honoring CLAS—the General Court granted the charter which created Suffolk a university in February 1935.

Zenon W. Pylshyn, director of the Centre for Cognitive Science at the University of Western Ontario, spoke on "Artificial Intelligence and Human Nature." He was joined by Maria M. Bonaventura, professor of chemistry at Suffolk, Daniel C. Dennett, professor of philosophy at Tufts University, and Stuart Goldkind, member of the Artificial Intelligence Group at Mitre Corporation, as discussants.

Mark H. Curtis, president of the Association of American Colleges, a leading authority on undergraduate curriculum and educational administration was the keynote speaker at the Wednesday luncheon.

Curtis, a former Guggenheim Fellow and a Fellow of the Folger Shakespeare Library, discussed the recent American Association of Colleges' report that redefines the meaning and purpose of baccalaureate degrees. Mr. Curtis chaired the special committee that prepared the report. The title of his address was "Liberal Education, Meet for These Times." The theme of the two-day program was "Creativity and the Implementation of Change: Liberal Learning in the Practical World."

The Wednesday afternoon session consisted of a panel discussion on "Creativity and Schooling" with Henry A. Giroux, associate professor for the Department of Educational Leadership at Miami University (Ohio), speaking on "Critical Pedagogy and the Role of the Resisting Intellectual." Discussants were Ronda Goodale, program advisor for support services in the Boston Public Schools, Kevin Ryan, professor of education at Boston University, and Michael R. Ronayne, Jr., dean of CLAS.

On Thursday morning, a panel discussion on "Creativity and Literature" was led by Lillian Feder, Distinguished Professor of English and Comparative Literature at Queens College and Graduate School, City University of New York. Her paper was entitled "The Text and Self: The Study of Literature as a Creative Activity." Discussants were Leslie Epstein, professor of English and director of the graduate program in creative writing at Boston University, Gerald Richman, assistant professor of English at Suffolk, and Sara Smith, director of documentation for LMI (Lisp Machine, Inc.).

Between two and three hundred people, faculty, students, and invited guests, attended the various sessions.

Dean of Enrollment Management Post Filled

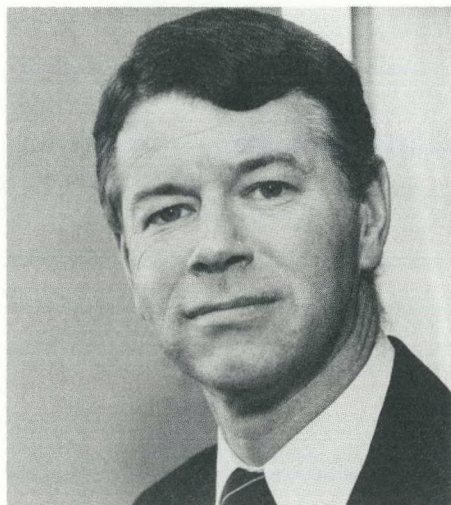

Robert S. Lay

President Perlman announced, on February 26, 1985, the appointment of Robert S. Lay to the new Suffolk post of dean of enrollment management. The office of the new deanship will supervise the offices of Undergraduate Admissions, Graduate Admissions, Student Financial Aid, Admissions Research, and Admissions Publications, serving the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and the School of Management.

Mr. Lay's appointment was made on the recommendation of a Search Committee chaired by Dr. Kenneth Garni. Mr. Lay has served as a consultant on enrollment management issues to a number of colleges and universities, and to the Educational Testing Service. He has published extensively in the field of college admissions. Mr. Lay has held the position of director of enrollment management research at Boston College since 1979.

Robert Edson Elected To Board of Trustees

Robert P. Edson

Robert P. Edson 67 BSBA, 72 MBA has been elected by School of Management alumni to a three-year term as their representative on the Board of Trustees. Mr. Edson was sworn into office on February 13th. He succeeds Frank A. Sablone 70 BSBA, 71 MED, who has just completed a three-year term.

Remarked Mr. Edson: "I'm delighted. It means a lot of hard work for the next three years, but I'm looking forward to it. As an alumnus, I have a great sense of pride and respect in the achievements and direction of the School of Management and will strive to serve the University and the alumni by supporting the continued growth of quality education at the University, promote the importance of an active and involved alumni body and develop stronger relations between students and alumni."

Edson, who is regional director of the Department of Health and Human Services, lives in Wakefield with his wife, the former Miriam Smith, and his daughter, Danielle. He has served two terms as director of the MBA/MPA Alumni Association, including two years as president, and is an area chairman for Annual Giving.

The alumni trustee election process, under University bylaws, calls for all three schools of Suffolk University to have three-year representation on the Board of Trustees, with candidates elected on a rotating basis. The process was instituted in 1976.

Bach, Handel Birthdays Celebrated

As part of the world-wide tributes being paid to the composers Johann Sebastian Bach and George Friedrich Handel on the occasion of their three hundredth birthdays, Suffolk sponsored a concert of chamber music and solo organ works of both composers at the Old West Church on Boston's Cambridge Street. Old West Church is the proud owner of one of the very fine organs in the Boston area built by the late Charles B. Fisk of Gloucester, considered one of the finest organ builders of his generation.

The concert, which was open free to the public, was conducted and performed by R. Harrison Kelton, master lecturer in the humanities at Suffolk and organist-choirmaster of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church in Wellesley, MA.

The concert was a part of the celebration of the 50th anniversary of Suffolk's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

Estate Planning Council Formed

Last year the Board of Trustees of Suffolk University instituted the Suffolk University Estate Planning Council to aid the Vice President of Institutional Advancement in providing additional ways of giving to the University's endowment funds, capital campaigns and annual appeals. The council's chairman is Thomas M. Mawn, Jr. 65 JD. Members are drawn from several professions in the area of financial planning including attorneys, trust officers, certified public accountants, and investment counselors.

One of the services the committee provides is the planning and implementation of workshops and seminars on various areas of financial planning. Thus far, the Estate Planning Council has sponsored two seminars; one on "Financial Planning for the Working Couple" and the other on "Wills, Trusts and Estate Planning." The seminar series will continue this fall. The council will also sponsor a column on financial planning in future issues of the Alumni Bulletin.

National Park Service Joins With Suffolk

In a new agreement signed by President Perlman, Byron Rushing, president of the Museum of Afro-American History, and John J. Burchill, superintendent of the Boston National Historical Park of the National Park Service, pledges the national organization's cooperation in support of additions to the collections, lectures, research, development and exhibition of material. The new agreement strengthens the plans of the University and the Museum of Afro-American History for ongoing programs.

Friedman Fund Shows Steady Growth

A student aid fund established in 1984 in memory of Professor Robert J. Friedman has grown from a modest nest egg of $6,000 to an April 1985 total of about $34,000. The original fund has been augmented by an anonymous gift of $15,000, and several other leadership gifts, as well as by the proceeds from a "mini phonathon" conducted last fall by members of the Friedman Fund.

The Friedman Fund is an endowment in perpetuity, the income from which is to be used to assist biology majors to undertake study beyond the classroom and laboratory. Professor Arthur J. West, Jr., 51 BS, 56 MA, Chairman of the Committee and of the Biology Department, has already been able to make small grants from the Fund's current income. One example would be a grant that made the difference between a student's having to give up an opportunity to join a Caribbean scientific cruise, and actually participating in it. Other grants will assist biology majors to participate in research projects conducted during the summer months at the Friedman Field Station at Cobscook Bay in Maine.

First Corporate Fellow On Deck

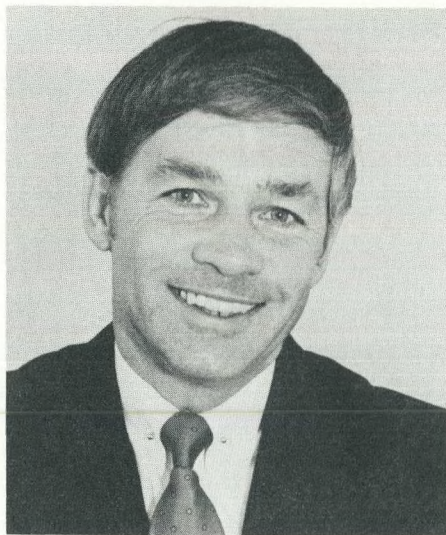

Last summer, Dean Richard McDowell announced the new and innovative Corporate Fellows Program in Suffolk's School of Management. The program has been designed both to enrich the School's teaching and research activities, and to provide stimulating career development opportunities for individuals already recognized of stature in the professions and corporate structures.

The first Corporate Fellow to be appointed is David C. Thaxter 82 MBA, currently marketing director in the New England area for NYNEX. It is hoped that Mr. Thaxter will lead a long line of Corporate Fellows who will bring their special skills and experience to share with Suffolk students and faculty.

If the School of Management offered a course in "functioning under fire," it would be difficult to find a more appropriate tutor than Mr. Thaxter. In the late 1970's, he was regional manager for planning for American Bell International—in Iran. Indeed, after he was evacuated just before the Iranian "students" stormed the American embassy and took hostages, his company awarded him a special citation for "performance under extremely hazardous conditions." He soon found himself in another perhaps stressful situation, working on the divestiture planning for AT&T.

Thaxter's role during his year as a Suffolk Corporate Fellow is to work with Professor David R. Wheeler, Marketing, in the Executive MBA program of which Thaxter is a graduate. Meanwhile, he is working with Dean McDowell and others on a joint telecommunications forum, tentatively planned for next fall, which would involve both the Boston business and academic communities.

Thaxter, a native of South Freeport ME and an honors graduate in economics of Colby College, is also a middle-distance runner. In the summer of 1984 he was selected as an Olympic torch carrier, running seven minute miles through Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas. Oh, flat! thinks the New England mind. Not so, replies the Corporate Fellow, who ran in the heat carrying a three-and-a-half pound—heated—Olympic torch. He cannot remember a single downhill step in the steadily rising gradient of his route.

David C. Thaxter

Because Thaxter is principally involved with the Executive MBA program which meets on Saturdays, he does not need to request from his seniors at NYNEX as much released time that a Corporate Fellow team-teaching at the undergraduate level might require. Fellows will be expected to participate in at least four out of fourteen teaching sessions, and be involved in planning the course with the faculty member responsible for it. Corporate Fellows would normally participate in some other various activities of the School and University. A continuing affiliation after the one year of fellowship is anticipated, depending on various considerations of the individual Fellows and the School.

Alumni interested in becoming Corporate Fellows—no more than four to six are expected to be appointed in any given year—should communicate their interest directly by letter to the Dean, or to the Dean through a member of the faculty.

It was Belgium— Wednesday Through Sunday

Professor David Tuerck, Chairman of Suffolk's Department of Economics, was one of a large party of Bostonians and New Englanders invited to inaugurate direct air travel between Boston and Brussels by Sabena Belgian World Airlines. Professor Tuerck has played a major role in initiating Suffolk's new program in international economics.

Among his fellow travelers to Belgium were Belgium's Ambassador to the United States; Hans Estin, honorary Belgian Consul in Boston; Mr. James Sullivan, President of the Boston Chamber of Commerce; Professor Pierre Laurent, Director of International Relations at the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts University; representatives of the travel industry, travel writers and others involved in promoting American travel and trade in Belgium.

The group departed on May 1 and returned on May 5, having visited Brussels, Ghent, Antwerp and Bruges. In addition to sightseeing—and very fine dining—the New England group were received with several receptions, including one with the Prince d'Ligne, a member of the royal family, and one with the mayor of Brussels.

Emeritus Professor of Journalism Harland R. Ratcliffe

Funeral services were held in February for Harland R. Ratcliffe who died at the age of eighty-four. Mr. Ratcliffe was an early member of the journalism faculty at Suffolk and was among those who helped to establish the four-year curriculum leading to a degree. He also served as acting chairman of the division of newspaper administration.

Mr. Ratcliffe was born in Somerville MA and had been a resident of Wakefield for sixty years. A graduate of Colby College in Waterville ME, he worked as city editor for the Boston Transcript for eighteen years and as make up editor for the Boston Traveler for more than a quarter of a century before retiring in 1967. During his career he had had a syndicated weekly column that appeared in several newspapers and he also pioneered in "on the spot news summaries" broadcast from the newsrooms at the Transcript and the Traveler.

Mr. Ratcliffe is survived by his wife, two sons, brothers and sisters, six grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Suffolk Graduates Assume "Historic" Appointments

For the first time in anyone's memory, two Suffolk graduates, both graduates of CLAS and of the Suffolk University Law School, are heading up the Ways and Means Committees of the Massachusetts' legislature.

State Senator Patricia McGovern 62 BA, 66 JD, (Dem. Lawrence) was named chairperson of the Ways and Means Committee of the upper chamber of the Massachusetts Legislature by Senate President William M. Bulger early in January 1985.

Senator McGovern becomes the first woman to hold that post, in which she will be responsible for a staff of between thirty and thirty-five people, the preparation of a more than $8 billion state budget, and a network that will deal with something like two thousand bills. Ms. McGovern succeeds Chester G. Atkins of Concord, MA, who was elected to the U.S. House of Representatives. The chairmanship of the Senate Ways and Means Committee is considered one of the most powerful and responsible in Massachusetts government. According to the Lowell Sun, Senator McGovern has reached a height in Massachusetts government for any public servant from Greater Lawrence, and the development and renewal of her home constituency, of which she is a native, have her highest priorities.

Senator McGovern, who also studied at the Academy of International Law at The Hague in the Netherlands, was a juvenile justice lawyer in Greater Boston before being elected to the State Senate. She is at present in her second term.

State Representative Richard A. Voke 70 BA, 74 JD, (Dem. Chelsea) is Ms. McGovern's counterpart in the lower chamber of the House. He was named to the chairmanship by Speaker Keverian. Voke, a former Suffolk County assistant district attorney, has expanded the committee from twenty-six to thirty-one members in order to give more House members a say in what goes on in the Ways and Means Committee, the major committee in the House. In an interview published in the Boston Business Journal, Voke intends to end the "rivalry" that has previously existed between the Senate and House committees. He believes that he and Senator McGovern will see eye to eye on many issues, not least because they represent similar constituencies.

L-R front: Richard McGovern, Russell Murphy, Edward McVinney, Mark Fitzgerald. L-R standing: James Healy, Hal Leibowitz, David J. Sargent, Sharon Offenberg.

Law School Appoints First Sargent Fellow

Suffolk University Law School has announced the appointment of Theos Dickson McKinney III as the first recipient of the prestigious Sargent Fellowship. The fellowship, or scholarship, is funded by the David J. Sargent Fellowship Fund established by friends and alumni of the Law School on the occasion of Dean Sargent's tenth anniversary as Dean.

Mr. McKinney, a native of Columbia, Missouri, where he attended Hickman High School, is a 1981 cum laude graduate of Harvard College, where he majored in history. After college, Mr. McKinney worked as a Peace Corps volunteer in Gabon, a French-speaking independent country in west equatorial Africa. He taught English at the secondary school level in a small isolated town. Mr. McKinney, who will attend Suffolk Law School in the evening, is currently a claims representative for State Farm Insurance Company and resides in the Brighton-Allston area.

Law School Moot Court Teams Win National Championship

Two Suffolk Law Moot Court teams won national competitions within a week of one another.

Late in February, the Suffolk team of Mark Fitzgerald (Sudbury MA) a third year day student, and Edward McVinney (Hanover MA) a third year evening students, won the New York County Lawyers Association Anti-Trust Moot Court Competition, defeating Fordham University Law School in the final argument. This competition, which included other New York law school teams, took place at the House of the New York Bar Association. This team's coach is Professor Russel G. Murphy.

On Sunday, March 3, 1985, the Suffolk Law School Constitutional Law Moot Court Team won the 1985 J. Braxton Craven Memorial Moot Court Competition held at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. The team included: James Healy (Needham); Hal Liebowitz (Pepper Pike, Ohio); and Sharon Offenberg (Bangor, Maine). The team, advised by Thomas Finn, defeated number two seeded Buffalo Law School, having already won over several other law school teams, including last year's champion, South Texas College.

Law Faculty Members Named to Boards

Herbert Lemelman, Associate Dean and professor of Law at Suffolk, where he has been a faculty member since 1961, has been named chairman of the board of trustees at Brookline Hospital. Lemelman is chairman of the Civil Rights Committee of the Anti-Defamation League of New England.

Assistant professor Linda C. Fentiman, of Bradford MA, has been elected a director of Bay Bank, Merrimack Valley, Andover. Ms. Fentiman, who teaches contract law, is married to Arthur Levine, president of Bradford College.

A Celebration of Women

Suffolk University's General Alumni Association, in conjunction with the 50th Anniversary of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, recently sponsored a celebration in honor of the women of Suffolk. On Thursday evening, April 25, two panels of women comprised of past and present faculty and alumni from 1940 to 1984 addressed over 75 faculty, administrators, alumni and students about their history at Suffolk, how they helped shape the University and how they were instrumental in starting a women's center on campus and introducing a women's studies program into the curriculum.

The first panel, "Women Who Helped Shape the College, 1940-1969," was made up of: Dr. Florence Petherick, Emerita, Humanities Dept., Claire Driscoll, BA '43, Dr. Beatrice Snow, BA '62, Biology Dept., Mary Hefron, MAE '67, Registrar, Dr. Jane Matheson, BA '63, Senator Patricia McGovern, BA '62, JD '66, Dr. Valerie Russell, BA '67 and Joanne Agababian, BA '67.

The second panel, "The Rise of The Women's Center and Women's Studies," was made up of: Dr. Margaret Lloyd, Chair, Psychology Department, Dr. Carol Robb, former campus minister, Catherine Leary, BS '84, Gayle Sheffey, BS '79, Asst. Director of Coop. Ed., and Elizabeth Balis, BS '79.

As part of the celebration, a special presentation was made to the Suffolk University Library by Eva Moseley, curator of manuscripts for the Schlesinger Library on the History of Women in America at Radcliffe College, Cambridge. Ms. Moseley designated Suffolk's Library as the second repository for a large and diverse collection of women's materials—government documents on the rights of women, early periodicals from the National Organization of Women, copies of transcripts from White House conferences on women and children, and a wide range of periodicals and contemporary and historical information on women in the United States.

The General Alumni Association was very fortunate to have two dedicated Suffolk faculty members as co-organizers of this event. Dr. Geraldine Manning, BA '72 of the Sociology Department and Professor Melanie Zybala of the History Department donated their time and skills to see that this special celebration in honor of the women of Suffolk was a truly memorable occasion—which it was.

Very Warm for May

The evening of May tenth was a warm one in several respects. Not only was Boston enjoying its first eighty-degree weather of the season, but the Parker House Roof was thronged with faculty, staff, former students, relatives and well-wishers of three retiring members of the English Department—Stanley M. Vogel, Mary M. Mahoney, and H. Edward Clark.

Department chairman Frederick Wilkins presided over the tributes, toasts, teasing, and witty responses that gave evidence of mutual and genuine affection on all sides of the room.

Together, the three retiring professors account for seventy-eight years of service to the fifty-year-old College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, with Professor Vogel responsible for thirty-seven in his own right.

Among the more than one hundred and thirty guests were Dean Emeritus Donald Goodrich and his wife, who travelled up from New Jersey for the occasion; Mr. Byron Rushing and associates of the Museum of Afro-American History who have been involved with Professor Clark in establishing the Collection of Afro-American Literature at Suffolk; and such former students as Peri Traunstein 54 BA, who is shortly to be ordained to the ministry. Professors Mahoney and Clark were accompanied by their spouses and Professor Vogel had as guests his two sisters, one of whom is also a retired college professor and the other a retired school principal.

Personal gifts were presented to the retirees, and the establishment of the Stanley M. Vogel Scholarship Fund, with an initial endowment in excess of four thousand dollars was announced.

At the formal end of what was, in fact, a happily informal evening, young musicians from the New England Conservatory performed a special "Overture," composed by Professor Thomas McKinley of the Conservatory faculty (and husband of Suffolk English Professor Marlene McKinley). Mr. McKinley presented the original score to Professor Vogel.

As Professor Vogel, who once comprised the entire German Department as well as holding an English "chair", might say, it was entirely gemutlich.

Accepting the women's studies materials presented by Eva Moseley of the Schlesinger Library, Radcliffe are: (l-r) Edmund Hamann, Director, Sawyer Library, Dr. Geraldine Manning, Sociology Department, President Daniel Perlman, Ms. Moseley and Dean Michael Ronayne, College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

Ten Days in April

A group of eight Suffolk undergraduates, an Emmanuel College student, and three members of the Suffolk faculty spent ten days this April in controversial Nicaragua. The tour was organized and conducted by Assistant Professors of Government Joseph Drexler and Judith Dushku, and by Wendy Sanford, campus minister.

The Suffolk contingent toured five Nicaraguan cities, including Managua, the capital, and parts of the countryside. Somewhat to their surprise, they were able to move, talk, and even photograph freely. They met a remarkable cross section of Nicaraguans—students and shopkeepers, soldiers, men-and-women-in-the-street, even editors of La Prensa, the newspaper in opposition to the Sandinista government. Among their observations was that, in Sandinista territory, posters urging young men (cachorros, or "puppies") to register for military service co-exist with graffiti promoting support for other political parties.

Snapshots taken on the trip reveal smiling, friendly Nicaraguans, apparently healthy children, and goods for sale in open markets—although shortages of many kinds were consistently mentioned and blamed variously on the Sandinista government, U.S. embargoes (President Reagan's blanket embargo of May 1 had not yet been declared), and on "Contra" military activity from over the border in Honduras. Against such confusing negatives, however, Nicaraguans emphasized the vast improvement, especially in education, that have occurred since the overthrow of Antonio Somoza six years ago. An early action of the Sandinistas was to close many schools, primarily urban, primarily serving the middle classes, and to send the teachers out to smaller communities to increase literacy across the country.

The Suffolk group came away with several strong impressions. One is that, while they encountered no personal animosity from the Nicaraguans they met, the majority of the people they talked with want to go about the task of realizing their own national destiny without North American intervention. What none deny, regardless of political sympathies, however, is Nicaragua's need for significant assistance to supply humanitarian needs that the country's almost exclusively agricultural economy cannot now produce for itself.

The Suffolk students who travelled to Nicaragua are: Daniel Creue, Rose DaVino, Victoria Hubbell, John Valerio, Mary Jo Marion, Scott Lakin, Fred Armstrong, Kevin Sullivan, Rich Grealish, and Karen Duncan.

Why Do Students Choose Suffolk?

Student surveys all suggest thoughtful, sensible reasons for a student to choose Suffolk for an undergraduate education: academic reputation; reasonable tuition; downtown location—and so forth. Many members of the Suffolk community, however, believe that there is another, often unexpressed reason. Suffolk, while a non-residential, commuting institution has, nevertheless, a human dimension—an environment less easily found in other very large private centers of higher education. Surely, Suffolk has always had an extremely accessible faculty, but no student really understands that until he or she gets here.

Suffolk tries to reinforce its tradition of collegiality in many ways. For example, Suffolk undergraduates participate in a series of spring afternoon "phona-thons." Every high school student in the area who has been admitted to CLAS or SOM—minus those who are able to attend one of the four receptions held on campus for pre-freshmen—receives a brief personal personal from a current undergraduate. In addition to a few words of welcome, the caller student asks if the applicant has any questions, and steers him or her to the right extension and/or individual.

We know of no other school in which current undergraduates are involved in quite this way.

We are, however, aware that the alumni of many other colleges are very actively involved in the identification and recruitment of a new generation of young people. Suffolk's own MBA/MPA alumni association is already performing an extremely useful role on the graduate student level.

So can other graduates of Suffolk, whether of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences or the School of Management. (We read recently of a University of Pennsylvania alumnus who talked two now very-well satisfied children of his postman into attending Penn.) You can begin by filling out the Alumni Referral Form printed here for your convenience. You may call the admissions office at (617) 723-4700, extension 71, for materials and information. Perhaps you would like to represent Suffolk at a college night or college fair in your own area. After all, you are living evidence of the kind of citizen Suffolk students can grow up to be. Nothing is more persuasive of the quality of a school than the evidence of one who has profitted by it.

Times Remembered

Two recent letters from John H. Varney, Sr., 35 JD, 37 LLM, provide interesting insights on the Suffolk of fifty years ago, and a partial account of Mr. Varney's own long and varied career.

Mr. Varney well remembers the hostility with which Dean Archer's proposal for a College of Liberal Arts was met in the State Legislature. The move was "vehemently opposed" by the "entrenched colleges" of the area, most of whom had alumni among the legislators to represent their point of view. Mr. Varney recalls one such spokesperson remarking "Whoever heard of any college running a Night School for the Liberal Arts. It would demean the significance of the degree and would create a diploma mill."

(Editor's Note: In 1985, virtually all of the "entrenched colleges" of Greater Boston offer evening programs leading to degrees. Competition for students is strenuous, and the advantages of "night school" proudly advertised.)

Dean Archer asked the young Mr. Varney to approach a particular State Senator on the night before a crucial vote was to be taken. Mr. Varney believes that it was that Senator's vote that turned the tide and secured approval for CLAS. He writes, "those were really turbulent days and the present students of Suffolk can have no realization whatever of (Suffolk's) struggles to acquire status and accreditation."

Mr. Varney, who had spent the roaring twenties in New York City, where he came to know Al Smith, entered Suffolk Law School in a class of forty-five students, only five of whom graduated. "Times were very hard in the depression years. Before I graduated from Suffolk, I sat, with permission from Dean Archer and Harold Hitchcock, Chairman of the Board of Bar Examiners, a testy kind of fellow (because I was from Suffolk), for the bar examinations in December 1934 with 558 other candidates. . . In March I received a notice that I was one of the successful candidates, which numbered only 122, or about 22% of the total."

After taking a Master's degree in law in 1937, Mr. Varney, whose family roots in Cambridge, Massachusetts go back to the early seventeenth century, took his wife and young family on what almost amounts to a world tour. The Varneys have lived in New York, Hawaii, California, Arizona, Dublin, Ireland, and London, England, with two separate tours of duty in each of the last two. During Mr. Varney's first stay in London he worked with Linklaters & Payne "one of the largest firms of Solicitors in the United Kingdom. . . Besides that, as an alumnus of Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., I was also employed in their home office at 11 Ironmonger Lane. . ."

In another letter, Mr. Varney, who had studied accounting at Pace Institute in New York before entering Suffolk Law, explains that Ironmonger Lane "is a short street in the original City of London, where in ancient days, workers in iron used to have their smithies. It is the world headquarters of Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co. Incidentally, Co. does not stand for company—it stands for co-partners. At that location I used to review audit reports before completion that affected American interests. These audit reports were made by their staff people who were, of course, Chartered Accountants."

For many years now, the Varneys have called Toledo, Ohio home, and for the last twenty-five years they have wintered in Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

1985 is genuinely a landmark for the Varneys. Not only will they mark their fiftieth anniversary of Mr. Varney's graduation from Suffolk and admittance to the Bar, but the sixtieth anniversary of their wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Varney (she who transfers his lively observations to paper) have three sons and a daughter. Their eldest son celebrates thirty-five years of medical practice this year, another son thirty-five years with the Postal Service with which he is an executive, and a third son the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination to the Roman Catholic priesthood. Their daughter is an executive secretary in Toledo.

There is one shadow on this otherwise happy life of eighty-three years. Mr. Varney was stricken blind a number of years ago, other than which, he stoutly remarks, he has no regrets whatsoever.

GIVE BACK TO TOMORROW SOME OF YOUR YESTERDAYS

When you participate in Annual Giving, you help to insure that the opportunity you had at Suffolk is here for yet another generation of aspiring, hardworking young people.

Phonathon Activities Exceed Expectations

More than three hundred and seventy-five volunteers—alumni, faculty, students and staff—participated in Suffolk's 1984-1985 phonathon evenings, which concluded, triumphantly, on April 10. Phonathon volunteers realized more than $147,000 in gifts and pledges, nearly a fifteen percent increase over the previous year. Furthermore, the amount pledged exceeded the goal set by several thousand dollars. Alumni giving Director Robert L. West reports that some thirty-three hundred alumni have participated in the Alumni Fund through the middle of April.

The sum given above includes phonathon-generated gifts only. As of April 1, alumni donors had given a total of $354,000. And this amount does not include gifts received within the fiscal year from non-alumni donors.

West, visibly pleased with another record year for alumni giving, attributes this milestone for Suffolk "entirely to the alumni, both the volunteers and the donors. It really is an impressive achievement."

Recent corporate and Foundation Gifts to Suffolk University

Perkins-Elmer Corporation of Connecticut: A UV/VIS spectrophotometer for the Chemistry Department.

Wang: Six Wang professional computers, including appropriate software and support configurations, for research and research training in biology and the physical sciences.

Orion Corporation. Equipment to be used in the new technology programs in the Physics Department.

The Boston Foundation, Inc. (Permanent Charities Fund): A grant to establish the Dwight L. Allison Lecture Series, to focus on international issues and events.

Boston Edison: Grant for plant renovation.

Bank of Boston: Grant for plant renovation.

Bank of New England: Project Spotlight.

Charles Ely Trust: Scholarship support.
Hope Charitable Trust
General Cinema

Commencement 1985

Suffolk University gained another more than a thousand alumni at Commencement exercises held on June 9.

Judge Jack Grant Day, former chief justice of the Ohio Courts of Appeal, and a founding member of the Ohio and Cleveland Civil Liberties Unions, addressed the four hundred and fifty new law graduates at the morning ceremonies. Judge Day received an honorary degree, as did Judge Benjamin Gargill 31 JD, law librarian George A. Strait 49 JD, and law professor Wade H. McCree, Jr.

Among the graduating lawyers was Joseph J. Gano of Arlington MA. Mr. Gano, who attended his fiftieth Harvard class reunion earlier in the week, became the oldest student to earn a Suffolk law degree. The law graduating class also included two married couples, Howard and Audrey Hanscom, and David Culliton and Dianne Flowers.

At the afternoon exercises for the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and the School of Management, honorary degrees were conferred on communications entrepreneur Norman Knight, banker John P. LaWare, educator Brunetta Reid Wolfman, and Boston Mayor Raymond J. Flynn, who delivered the Commencement address.

A husband and wife and a mother and daughter teams received degrees together: Jeffrey and Jodi Gladstone were recipients of the MBA, while Marie Farren, wife of Edward Farren, assistant director of physical plant, received her MPA, while their daughter, Brenda, received the BSBA.

Commencement 1985 was also one of the infrequent occasions when a third generation of a Suffolk family graduated. Leslie Connelly 85 BSBA, whose sister Paula received a BSJ in 1983, is a daughter of Director of Public Relations Louis B. Connelly, Jr., 57 BSJ, 74 MED, and Mrs. Maureen Connelly. The new graduate's grandfather, Louis B. Connelly, Sr., was a member of the Suffolk University Law School class of 1919. (Editor's note: the Alumni Bulletin will be happy to learn of other two and three generation Suffolk families.)

Resort for Instruction—or Fun and Credit on the Bay of Fundy

Professor Arthur West, chairman, biology, has announced the 1985 summer programs at Suffolk's Robert S. Friedman Field Station at Cobscook Bay, Edmunds ME. Suffolk students, faculty, staff and alumni will have an opportunity to participate in several structured and non-structured programs.

Much interest has already been expressed in the one-week programs in Basic Scuba, Advanced Scuba, and Underwater Photography to be taught by divemaster Gerald Comeau. Comeau and Carl Merrill will instruct experienced scuba divers in Scuba Oceanography, a basic marine biology course. A broad-based, four-credit course in Marine Pathology will also be offered in August, team taught by Suffolk scientists. A Duke University professor will be teaching a two-credit course in Principles of Marine Chemical Ecology. Directed research opportunities will also be available to students throughout the summer.

As in the past, Suffolk will host two sessions of Elderhostel at the field station, with opportunities to participate in lectures and demonstrations as well as in leisure time activities.

In addition to access to varied terrestrial and marine environments, the station has two thirteen-foot Boston Whalers for on-the-water pleasure and observation.

As the Station can accommodate approximately fifty people in residence at any one time, alumni, who will shortly be receiving more detailed information from Professor West, are urged to select the time they would like to spend on the edge of the beautiful Bay of Fundy early in the season and to make reservations soon.

Recent Faculty Books

The following is a list of published books written, co-authored, or edited by members of the Suffolk faculty, including contributions to multi-authored volumes. Space limitations do not permit us to list the many contributions to periodicals, journals, professional conferences, and so forth, in which Suffolk faculty authors appear with great frequency.

Boone, Gloria, (Communications and Speech), Rhetoric, Argument and Communication, with E.J. Harris, Kendal-Hunt.

Cornell, James (Journalism), co-editor, Astronomy from Space: Sputnik to Space Telescope, M.I.T. Press. New Tools for Astronomy, Scribner's.

Drexler, Joseph (Government), "Best Laid Plans. . ." in Community Organization, Joan Ecklin, editor, Houghton Mifflin.

Good, William (Chemistry), Introductory Quantum Chemistry, McGraw-Hill.

Harris, Edward, (Communications and Speech), Rhetoric, Argument and Communication, with Gloria Boone, Kendal-Hunt.

Hartmann, Edward (History, Emeritus), Cymyr yn y Cwn, The Welsh of Wilkes-Barre and the Wyoming (Pennsylvania) Valley.

Lloyd, Margaret (Psychology), The Experience of Adolescence, Harper and Row.

Mendez-Herrera, Alberto (Humanities and Modern Languages), Communicando: A First Course in Spanish, (technical advisor), D.C. Heath.

Sahakian, William (Philosophy), Biography Editor, Encyclopedia of Psychology, John Wiley. Author of several articles appearing in this four-volume work.

Todd, Alexandra (Sociology), Editor and contributor to The Social Organization of Doctor/Patient Communication, Harcourt, Brace, Jovanovich.

Weitz, Margaret (Humanities and Modern Languages), Femmes: Recent Writings on French Women, G.K. Hall. (Preface by Germaine Bree.)

Wilkins, Frederick (English), editor of selected papers from the Suffolk, March 1984, conference, O'Neill—The Early Years, The University Press of America.

Zuckerstatter, Rudolph (Philosophy), articles on Schopenhauer and Kant in the Encyclopedia of Unbelief, Prometheus Books.

Fulham Scholars In Pursuit of Excellence

June 1985 will see the graduation of the first "generation" of Fulham Scholars at Suffolk University.

Who are, indeed, why are there, Fulham Scholars at Suffolk?

Throughout his ten years as President of Suffolk, Thomas A. Fulham championed excellence in academic performance. In his inaugural address, Mr. Fulham stated that he derived his personal philosophy of education from Gotthold Lessing. Lessing, an eighteenth century German writer, defined education as "revelation for the individual." "For," as Mr. Fulham went on to say, "I feel that it expresses not only the utility of an educational experience, but also the joy of learning." Mr. Fulham has reiterated this philosophy as president and president emeritus of Suffolk, and as a trustee both of The College of the Holy Cross and Babson College. If Mr. Fulham had any regrets during his decade as Suffolk's president, it was that the University had then so few resources with which to reward and distinguish outstanding academic performance.

This need is being addressed, at least in part, by the Fulham Scholarship Program, now four years old, which identifies four incoming freshmen each year as recipients of stipends from the endowed Fulham Scholarship Fund. The awards are renewed in each undergraduate year, providing a high level of scholastic achievement is maintained. To date, there are no Fulham drop-outs. The fund was initially established by a generous gift from Mr. and Mrs. Cecil H. Green of Dallas, Texas, and is being augmented by new gifts to the endowment by friends of Suffolk.

Mary Costa, Tracey Boisseau and Rhona Fee.

Financial need is deliberately omitted from the criteria governing selection of Fulham Scholars. (Although, in the 1980's, it would be difficult indeed to find many prospective students who would not appreciate some scholarship—i.e., free gift—assistance as undergraduates.) The Fulham Scholarship Committees both in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and in the School of Management are charged simply with selecting incoming freshmen who have demonstrably strong potential for outstanding academic performance.

At a dinner given in early April for all current Fulham Scholars and their parents, it was abundantly clear that the committees have chosen well. Only that day, graduating senior Tracy Boisseau received word that she has been admitted to Georgetown University for graduate work in history. Miss Boisseau, a high honors student, is a member of the History Society, the Pre-Law Society, and Phi Alpha Theta History Honor Society. One of Suffolk's first Inter-future Scholars (see box with this "junior year abroad" program), she spent the summer of 1984 in Belgium and is now producing a paper which examines the treatment and facilities available to battered women in Belgium and the United States. Despite a heavy academic schedule, Miss Boisseau found time to participate in a recent Suffolk production of Thornton Wilder's "Our Town."

Paul Robie, another graduating senior, majors in government, is a Dean's List student—as, indeed, all Fulham Scholars seem to be—has travelled in Europe to polish his proficiency in modern languages. Through Suffolk's Cooperative Education Program, Robie is working as a claims representative for the Social Security Administration.

A third graduating senior is Rhona Fee, whose major is English and who has been a member of several English Department seminar programs. In her junior year, Miss Fee received the highly coveted Ella Murphy Award, which is reserved for an outstanding English major. She is planning graduate work, but as this goes to press, her choice of graduate schools is not yet known.

Susan Mary Sweeney

Mary Costa, the last of the "first generation" of Fulham Scholars, is a biology major with a concentration in environmental science. During her four years she has been a member of the cross-country team, the biology honor society, and has worked as a tutor in the Learning Resource Center, as have several other Fulham Scholars. She has served internships with the Natural Heritage Program, the Audubon Society, and with the Governor's Commission on Radio-Active Wastes. Miss Costa plans to work for a year in paid employment before undertaking graduate work, perhaps at the University of Massachusetts/Amherst.

Daniel Parks

Susan Mary Sweeney was the School of Management's first Fulham Scholar. A Dean's List student, this junior is participating in the Cooperative Education Program with a full-time position as a sales assistant at IBM. She was named "outstanding freshman" in her first year in SOM, and finds time to participate in such Sweeney family activities as entertaining in nursing homes. That she is a well-rounded as well as an achieving student in SOM is evident from her enthusiastic description of having been a student of Stanley Vogel in English.

Emily Hegarty

It is difficult to figure out just when junior Daniel Parks get to sleep. Not only is he an outstanding pre-medical student majoring in biology, and vice president and treasurer of the Beta Beta Beta Biology Honor Society, and a member of Sigma Zeta, the national undergraduate honor society, he has an assistantship in the biology laboratories, is a Platoon Sergeant in ROTC, and an emergency ward clerk at the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Hospital. He recently gave up a position as night manager for Stop & Shop in Chestnut Hill.

Junior Emily Hegarty achieved the status of high honor's dean's list in the fall of 1984. An English major, she has worked at Suffolk's radio station WSFR as a newscaster and disc jockey, works at the Sawyer Library, and has written record reviews for the Suffolk Journal.

Theresa McCarthy

Theresa McCarthy was not at the first dinner honoring the Fulham Scholars since it was a little inconvenient to come home from Nairobi, Kenya, for just an evening. Miss McCarthy is another Suffolk Interfuture Scholar and is spending this term in Africa observing hunger and famine relief programs. She is majoring in government.

Maura Robinson, who also enters her junior year with flying colors, is a journalism major.

Maura Robinson, Nancy Bloom, Lori Rosenberg and Janelle Malafonte.

Along with other Fulham Scholars, sophomore Nancy Bloom, majoring in physics and education, works as a tutor in the Learning Resource Center. A Dean's List student, she is active in the Society of Physics Students and is taking part in a research project involving the University's cobalt 60 source. She recently built her own computer.

Nancy's classmate Lori Rosenberg is a high honor student majoring in sociology. She has been president of the Sociology Club and active in bringing speakers to campus. Another tutor in the Learning Resource Center, she is interested in working with juveniles. Her concentration is in the Crime, Law and Deviance Program.

Janelle Malafonte, the second Fulham Scholar in SOM is pursuing a degree in business administration and looks forward to graduate work leading to a combined MBA/JD degree. She works in a nearly fulltime capacity at the Commonwealth Mortgage Company and intends to study for her real estate license in addition to all her other academic and business interests.

Freshman Robert Bagshaw is SOM's third Fulham Scholar, majoring in business management with a minor in international economics. His hometown is East Kingstown NH, and he was recently elected by his classmates to represent them in the Student Government Association.

President Emeritus Thomas A. Fulham and Donald J. Robbins.

Freshman Maureen Regan, a communications and speech major not only comes from a very large family, she is the third of her siblings to enroll at Suffolk. At Arlington Catholic High School she was a member of the National Honor Society (as were most Fulham Scholars in their high school years) and a president of a Junior Achievement Company.

Donald J. Robbins has already achieved Dean's High Honors List in his freshman year. He is majoring in journalism and is a graduate of Revere High School.

The Admissions Office, which has, of course, many connections with high school guidance counselors who can help in identifying potential Fulham Scholars, scans the applications for admission with a sharp eye for academic achievement and extracurricular service at the high school level. A brochure describing the Fulham Scholarship Program is sent to potential candidates, inviting them to apply in competition for one of the awards. An essay is required. Members of the two committees winnow the essays and invite the strong candidates to visit Suffolk for interviews both with the committee members and faculty in the student's field of interest. The final selections are determined by the committees. Evidence of each individual's commitment to academic excellence carries great weight in the selection process.

As the biographical sketches of the first "crop" of Fulham Scholars suggest, a new Suffolk tradition—that of the Fulham Scholars at Suffolk University—is off and running.

What is InterFuture?

InterFuture (Intercultural Studies for the Future) is a highly selective junior year abroad program involving fourteen countries to date, and forty-four American colleges and universities.

Sophomores in the top ten per cent of their class—and the occasional outstanding freshman—are eligible to apply. Applicants prepare intercultural independent study projects, with faculty help, on their home campuses before further study overseas for a three to seven month period. Ideally, an InterFuture Scholar spends part of the overseas period in a European country and a third world nation, although the full study period may take place in only one country. Students become totally immersed in the culture of their chosen country and live with local families. InterFuture Scholars are expected to produce a thesis or other acceptable form of academic report.

To date, two Suffolk undergraduates have been InterFuture Scholars. Michelle A. McDonald has studied government attitudes toward gambling in Great Britain—where gambling is an acknowledged and regulated industry. Therese M. McCarthy spent the spring of 1985 in Kenya studying famine relief and related matters.

Suffolk University President Daniel H. Perlman is a member of InterFuture's International Advisory Council.

Romance

On the Town and in the Curriculum

At first blush, soap operas and pulp romances do not evoke an image of academic instruction. Yet, in a special way, both are contributing to curriculum innovation at Suffolk.

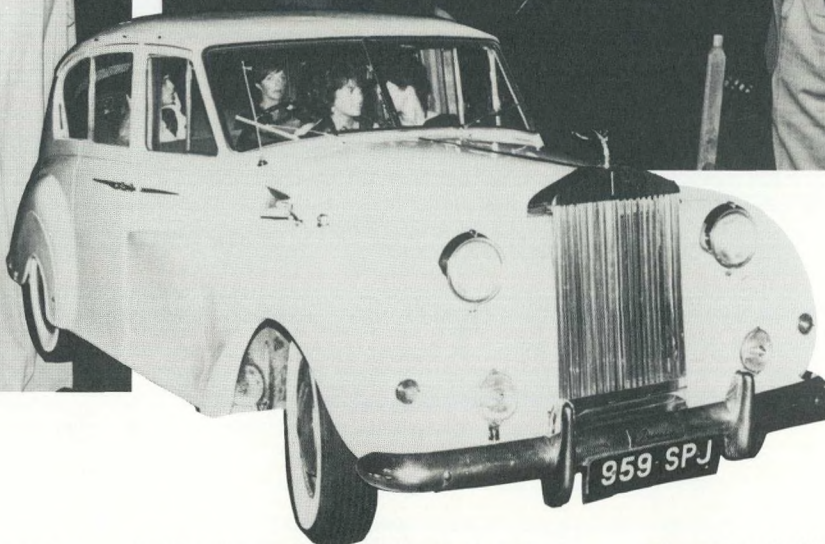

Take sociology. The dictionary definition of sociology is "the science or study of the origin and development, organization and functioning of human society." Since sociology first edged out from the umbrella of other social studies as a discipline in its own right, marriage and the family has been one of its primary concerns for study on a scientific basis. Given today's supposedly iconoclastic student generation, a sociology course entitled "Marriage and the Family" might well be yawn-provoking. Unlike Edward Arlington Robinson's Miniver Cheevy, they do not appear to mourn "romance, now on the town/And art—a vagrant."

Does this mean that today's young people have neither taste nor need for romance? Professor John Holley of the CLAS faculty soundly denies it. The soft-spoken Briton cites our national preoccupation with television soap operas and the multi-million dollar industry that is paperback romance publishing, among other phenomena, as evidence to the contrary. (One might throw in for further evidence the new, or renewed profit-making activities associated with weddings.)

Professor Holley, who admits that he believes that Young Lochinvar still "comes out of the West," this year devised a course in the "Sociology of Romance," to examine traditional sociological subject matter from a more contemporary viewpoint.

Students were invited to investigate the origins and meaning of romance in courtship today, and its consequences in mate selection, marriage, the breeding of individuals with similar characteristics, and divorce.

Source materials were sociological texts, historical documents, romantic literature—including poems by Wordsworth, Scott, and Tennyson, and the fiction of Charles Dickens and Charlotte Bronte—and current magazines, films, television and books. Romanticism was examined from its anthropological and historical roots, its expression in art, architecture and politics, and its implications in medicine and economics. Anti-romanticism and the new feminism were scrutinized, as were more recent interpretations of gender roles. The last section of the course involved students in the application of the ideas and themes already studied to such products of modern mass communications as both daytime and nighttime "soaps," pulp fiction, popular music, music videos, and romance magazines. Hard looks were also directed to such matters as computer dating. ("Back to arranged marriages?")

All in all, a far from frivolous course, and one which, it is reported, was packed to the wall with enthusiastic seekers for truth. It ought to be noted that a former student of Professor Holley's found this entirely in order, remarking, "Anyone who can make me understand Rousseau's Social Contract has to be a great teacher."

Down the hill a few hundred yards—and literally all over town—students in Don Egan's Speech and Communications course were having a wonderful fling with romance, and one that also had a strenuously practical academic application. These students took on the modest project of creating a soap opera from ground up, from writing and editing, scripting and casting, filming and recording, and acting the mini-saga of "Temple Place," any resemblance to DallasSantaBarbaraDynasty absolutely intended. Since the plot of "Temple Place" was at least as convoluted and off the wall as its commercial ancestors, but involving an extra-curricular romance, the story line need not be detailed here.

Suffice it to say that "Temple Place" qualified for an appearance on cable television, along with other student-produced work.

Professor John Holley

The point of all those lights, grips, cameras, dashing about in borrowed limousines, freezing to death on the Common for retakes, et cetera, et cetera, was to give Suffolk communications and speech majors a hands-on opportunity to have something to do with every bit of the jig-saw puzzle that is television production—an opportunity that is rarely available to salaried novices in the field. "Temple Place," like "Sociology of Romance" is an example of how Suffolk's creative faculty keeps Suffolk's commitment to offer both solid traditional academic fare and practical experience of a vocational nature.

(Editor's note: the photographs accompanying this article, except, of course, the photograph of Professor Holley, were taken at the premiere of "Temple Place.")

CLASSNOTES

School of Management

ARE YOU AMONG THE MISSING? SEE INSIDE FRONT COVER.

1950

James M. Meikle BSBA is a vice president for administration for Commonwealth Gas in Southborough.

1958

Edward J. Fialkowski BSBA, Peabody MA, was appointed to a three-year term on the Consumer Credit Committee of the Massachusetts Bankers Association. Fialkowski is a senior vice president at Essexbank, where he has worked for eighteen years.

1959

John S. Walsh of South Boston retired early this year from the U.S. Secret Service after twenty years of traveling "with presidents, popes and royalty!" Mr. Walsh was honored with a large retirement party at Anthony's Pier Four and was the subject of a laudatory column by Boston Globe writer Mike Barnicle.

Vincent A. Polito BSBA, 64 MBA, was elected treasurer of the New England Regional Council of the National Association of Accountants, in which organization Polito has previously served on the board of directors and, on two occasions, as president. For the last eighteen years he has been controller at Waltham Hospital.

1960

Charles H. Goss BSB, president and chief executive officer of Valley Resources, Inc., of Cumberland, Rhode Island, has been named "Businessperson of the Year" by the Bryant College Graduate Alumni Association. He earned an MBA at Bryant in 1973, and also holds a Bentley degree.

Alfred J. Chamberland BSBA, 62 MBA, Burlington MA, was named last fall to the board of directors of the Visiting Nurse Association of Middlesex East. He heads his own management consulting firm, specializing in small businesses.

1962

Robert A. Johnson BSBA, 70 MBA, Bridgewater MA, was appointed last summer as chief administrator of Worcester City Hospital. He has worked as financial officer for several area hospitals and, for twelve years previous to his Worcester appointment, as controller at Brockton Hospital where he is credited with having turned that institution around financially.

1966

Robert J. Provost, BSBA, Essex MA, is controller of the Beacon Hospitality Group, a Boston-based hotel and management company.

1968

Not all "lost" alumni are permanently in that condition. A newsclipping from a Kennebunk, ME paper noted that Gary G. MacDonald, Organist-Choirmaster of St. Mark's Episcopal Church, Westford, MA, was recently elected as Sub-Dean of the New Hampshire Chapter, American Guild of Organists, that he has given concerts throughout New England, and that, after graduating from Suffolk, attended Westminster Choir College in New Jersey.

1969

Ralph J. Parker BSBA writes from Marietta GA that he has been employed as business manager for the Connecticut Mutual Life Atlanta agency. He served in a similar capacity for North American Life of Canada for the previous ten years. His father, Philip Parker 29 JD is retired and residing in Randolph MA, having worked for the Commonwealth for many years.

1970

David M. Corbett BSBA, 74 MBA, Westboro MA, has been elected a partner at Peat Marwick. He holds an MST from Bentley and is a member of the American Institute of CPAs and the Massachusetts Society of CPAs.

William R. Thyrs MBA is now business manager at Whitman-Hanson Regional High School.

Richard G. Holland BSBA senior vice president for merchandising has been appointed to the newly created position of executive vice president for marketing by the William Carter Company of Needham, and was also elected to the company's board of directors.

1971

Peter E. Davis BSBA, Duxbury MA, has joined Peat Marwick as a manager in the firm's executive search practice.

Richard A. Freeman BSBA, 73 MBA, Raynham MA, has joined the economics faculty at Bristol Community College.

David B. Heeley BSBA has recently been appointed senior programmer at Unirode Corporation of Lexington MA.

Fred B. Kfoury MBA, Manchester NH, president of Central Paper Products Company, is chairman of the volunteer funds for Trinity High School in Manchester.

Stuart R. Rispler MBA, formerly of Pittsfield MA and now of Warwick RI, has been appointed an assistant professor in the hospitality department of Johnson & Wales College in Providence. He will teach a number of business courses related to the restaurant and hotel industry, such as food and beverage cost control and purchasing. Before taking the college post, Rispler owned and managed Flourchids Restaurant in Boston.

1972

John A. Fanciullo BSBA was elected senior vice president of Quincy Savings Bank. He joined the bank as auditor in 1974, was elected treasurer in 1980, and vice president in 1983.

1973

Richard A. Goulet, BSBA, Watertown MA, is a member of Watertown's board of assessors. He is a founding partner in the Appraisers Group.

Marc A. Menard BSBA, 74 MBA, Peterborough NH, a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, has opened a private practice in his home.

Glenn J. Woloski BSBS, Franklin RI, has been appointed legislative aide to State Representative Daniel J. Ranieri.

Glenda Henderson '80

1974

(Editor's note: The Bulletin apologizes to William F. Hofmann III, who received his MBA from Suffolk University in 1974, for inadvertently misspelling his surname in our previous issue.)

Gary M. Mucica MBA, North Andover MA, has been named manager of National Account Sales/Special Markets Division by the Clorox Company.

1975

Charles T. O'Connor, Jr. MPA, Worcester MA, is director of the City Manager's Office of Planning and Community Development in that city. O'Connor is also an alumnus of St. Anselm's College and formerly worked in the Mayor's Office of Housing in Boston.

Arlon J. Brown MBA has been appointed a vice president of R.W. Holmes Realty Company. He is the former manager of the commercial division of J.F. Singleton Company.

Robert F. Alcares MBA, Whitman MA, assistant treasurer of the Bay State Milling Company, is a member of the Executive CPA Committee of the Massachusetts Society of Certified Public Accountants.

Joseph F. Bodanza, Jr. MBA, Stoughton MA, became treasurer of Boston Gas in 1984. A graduate of Nichols College, he received his master's degree in finance from Bentley in 1981.

Stanley J. Wojciechowski BSBA, Lynn MA, is a national commander of the Polish League of American Veterans for 1984-1986. A veteran of the Korean conflict, and a graduate of Bentley, he is with General Electric.

Steven G. Wood MBA, Windsor VT, has been appointed branch manager of the Windsor branch of the Vermont Federal Bank. He is a former director of the South Windsor County Regional Commission.

1976

Bonnie A. Layman MBA, who also holds a master's degree in taxation from Bentley, has been promoted to principal in the tax department of Arthur Young & Co. in San Francisco CA.

1977

Joyce M. (Joy) Moriarty BSBA, 78 MPA, Wakefield MA, is project manager at Allen Associates in that city.

1978

Rodney C. Schonland MBA is now with Polaroid in Needham.

David F. Brussard MBA, Quincy MA, has been appointed executive vice president of Safety Insurance Co., Boston, which specializes in writing automobile insurance within the Commonwealth. He is also the company's chief financial officer.

Kenneth D. Chipman BSBA, Franklin MA, has been named president of Merco Price Marketing in Canton.

James F. Powers III BSBA, Marston Mills MA, is a sole practitioner in Hyannis and a fellow of the Massachusetts Society of CPAs.

1979

Michael J. Armstrong MPA, of Stoneham received one of the country's highest awards for Meritorious Achievement at ceremonies held at the Hubert H. Humphrey Building in Washington on December 5. Margaret Heckler, Secretary of Health and Human Services, made the award, which cited Armstrong for efforts above and beyond the call of duty in the development of audit management reviews which have resulted in significant savings for the Federal Medicaid, Medicare, and Social Security programs.

Richard M. Nathanson MBA has been appointed first vice president in charge of the Middle Market Commercial Lending at the Bank of Boston-Bristol in Fall River MA. Nathanson, who is currently enrolled in the Stonier Graduate School of Banking at Rutgers, was previously a vice president in the Massachusetts Banking Group of the First National Bank of Boston, now the Bank of Boston.

Matilda Delvecchio MPA, 76 BSBA, Saugus MA, is now controller at Northern Essex Community College. She is a CPA and was formerly a special assistant to the state auditor of the Commonwealth.

Steven F. Douglas MPA, Mashpee MA, a patrolman for the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority, is co-owner with his wife of "Traditions" at Deer Crossing in Mashpee. The shop offers needlework supplies, finished needlework, gift wares, and day and evening needlework classes.

Francis J. Earley MPA, Chelmsford MA, has been appointed a principal of Nolan, Norton & Co. in Lexington, an international organization of counselors to management.

Gerard Kennedy MPA, Winchester MA, senior vice president in charge of lending at Merchants Cooperative

Bank, Boston, has been appointed to the Greater Boston Regional Mortgage Review Board as a representative of the banking industry.

1980

Vivian H. Davis MBA writes from Houston TX that she not only no longer lives in Boxford MA, but is administrator for the New Age Hospice in Houston, which provides home care programs for terminally ill patients and their families.

Glenda K. (Sullivan) Henderson MBA is now assistant vice president for planning and government liaison at the Rush Presbyterian-St. Luke's Medical Center in Chicago IL. She was previously senior management analyst for the Harvard Community Health Plan in Boston. She now lives in Lake Forest IL.

Cathy Murphy Kadzis MPA has joined the news bureau in the office of information services at the University of South Carolina as a broadcast producer and writer. She began her broadcasting career in Boston, where she worked as associate producer for the political unit at WNAC-TV (WNEV-TV) and as a correspondent for National Public Radio's "All Things Considered." She and her husband have a son, now two, Kevin McWade Kadzis.

Mark D. Abrahams MBA, Framingham MA, has been elected a Peat Marwick partner. A graduate of Lake Forest College and a recipient of an MPA from the University of Toledo, he also teaches at Bentley.

Paul G. Camell MBA has been elected senior vice president for finance and chief financial officer of Camp Dresser & McKee, a consulting firm specializing in environmental engineering.

ARE YOU AMONG THE MISSING? SEE INSIDE FRONT COVER.

Robert J. Zilinsky MBA, Peabody MA, is senior vice president of the George Peabody Cooperative Bank.

Mark J. Lanza MPA is now executive secretary of Westwood MA.

Leonard A. Marshall MBA was chosen from a field of fifty-three candidates to be business manager for the Public Works Department in the town of Danvers MA.

Charles P. Pagnani MBA, Mashpee MA, has joined the Peters-Hartel Corporation management staff, involved in leasing commercial property and financial analysis.

Richard A. Rollins BSBA, Braintree MA, is retail sales manager for Stop & Shop and Star Markets' grocery division for the South Shore and Cape Cod.

1981

Denise Madden-Smith BSBA, is director of the Harvard University Housing Office. She has worked at Harvard since shortly after graduating from Suffolk, at first as tenant relations representative. A resident of Winchester MA, she directs the office that handles off-campus housing for Harvard faculty, staff and students, and supervises a staff that offers service to more than 48,000 walk-in visitors a year.

Alan Bernstein MBA, Holliston MA, has been promoted to executive vice president of the Massachusetts Credit Union Association Inc. (CUNA). He concentrates on areas of business planning and operation.

Stephen J. Dagle BSBA, Billerica MA, has been appointed operations manager of The Mall at Chestnut Hill.

Dennis A. DiZoglio MPA, Lawrence MA, has been selected to head Taunton's new Department of Community Planning and Economic Development.

Thomas A. Faria MBA, Needham MA, has been elected a second vice president of New England Life Insurance Company. He is responsible for Agency Financial Operations which manage the company's general and managerial agencies.

William D. Lewis MBA, Raynham MA, is vice president in charge of commercial lending for the Taunton area for the Durfee Attleboro Bank.

William Meltzer MBA, Brookfield CT, is manager of automatic testing equipment at Kimchuk Inc. Meltzer has a degree in electrical engineering from Northeastern.

A. Cushing Titcomb BSBA, Lynn MA, is a trust officer for Naumkeag Trust Company, a subsidiary of the Eastern Savings Bank.

1982

Kathryn A. Melendy MBA is president of the Massachusetts Society for Nursing Services Administrators, which has a membership of 294 nursing administrators and 500 middle managers. She was a panelist at the Massachusetts Hospital Association's Annual Mid-year Forum on January 11 on the topic: "The Technology and Efficiency Question in Massachusetts." A graduate of Sacred Heart Hospital School of Nursing in Manchester NH, and of Roger Williams College in Providence RI, she is vice-president for patient services at Choate-Symmes Hospitals, Inc. in Woburn. A native of Manchester, NH, she now lives in Gloucester.

David B. Newton MBA resigned his position with Hancock/Tucker Anthony & R.L. Day in Boston to accept an assistant professorship in finance at Southern California College in Costa Mesa CA.

Jane Dickey MBA, Newton MA, has joined the Grossman Companies of Braintree as leasing agent/marketing coordinator for all real estate projects.

Louis Fazio III BSBA, Worcester MA, who is involved with his family's funeral directorship, is director of membership development for the Chambers of Commerce and Industry, North Middlesex.

Martin Ford MBA, is assistant director of Custodial Operations at Boston University.

Charles K. Frankian MPA, is the first executive secretary of the town of Hopkinton MA, working out of the Selectmen's Office to keep the town running between meetings.

John S. Loebler Jr., MBA, Barrington RI, is regional manager of The Fleet National Bank's Western Rhode Island region.

1983

Douglas W. Stevens MBA is an assistant vice president with the Brookline Savings Bank.

1984

William M. Mogauero BSBA is working as an assistant data base coordinator for the Data Base Division of the College Marketing Group, Inc. of Winchester MA.

Peter Bagley MBA, Maynard MA, was elected vice president of marketing and membership for the Massachusetts 128 Chapter of the National Association of Accountants. He is regional sales manager of the commercial services division of ADP in Waltham.

Dennis Collins MBA, Charlestown MA, is director of sales, responsible for grocery sales, food service sales, contract sales and sales services at the H.P. Hood Dairy Group.

Candace Doucette BSBA, Wakefield MA, has been named Marketing Coordinator for the Wakefield Savings Bank. She is enrolled in Suffolk's MBA program.

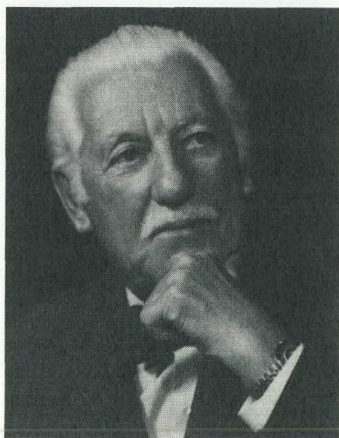

James J. Fierzoco BSBA, Wakefield MA, has been elected to the Massachusetts Society of Certified Public Accountants.

David Ramsay MPA has been appointed assistant town administrator for Walpole MA.

Deborah Rosser MBA, Beverly MA, is an assistant vice president of Newworld Bank. Among her voluntary activities, she is an honorary trustee for The Protestant Guild for the Blind, and a member of the Children's Museum Corporation's Membership Committee.

Elizabeth Kaake-Smith MPA has been named community block grant administrator for Fitchburg MA.

Robert W. Turner MBA, who has been an Acting Captain in the Salem MA Fire Department, has been named City Fire Marshal.

Jacob Kline '19

Charles E. Sands '38

Law School

ARE YOU AMONG THE MISSING? READ INSIDE FRONT COVER MESSAGE.

1919

"Lost" Alumnus Alive and Well at Ninety

Jacob Kline 19 JD, of Fall River and Falmouth, Massachusetts, has been listed as lost in recent Suffolk alumni directories. However, an item in the Falmouth Enterprise with an account of Mr. Kline's ninetieth birthday party found its way into the Office of Institutional Advancement. A note was dispatched and Mr. Kline graciously responded, enclosing a recent photograph.

Mr. Kline, who was born in Fall River in 1894, has understandably dim memories of his Suffolk Law School days, other than the fact that classes were held in the old Mt. Vernon Street building. Mr. Kline's Suffolk experience was interrupted by World War I, in which he served in the US Navy. After graduation in 1919 he returned to Fall River and was appointed a social worker in the Department of Welfare. In 1925 Mr. Kline became Executive Director of the Department and served in that capacity until his retirement in 1970. He has been active in his Temple, both as vice president and secretary, and is past president of The Home for the Aged, and a member of the Fall River Elks and American Legion.

Mr. Kline and his wife enjoy travelling and have every intention of continuing to do so in the future. Mr. Kline celebrated his ninetieth birthday last August with his wife, daughter, sister, and several grandchildren.

1921

Charles Williams of West Roxbury died on October 22 and left a special request that it be noted in his class's notes that "he died with pride that he was a graduate of Suffolk" and prayed for "the young to go onward with pride as Suffolk students and graduates." Mr. Williams, according to a family friend, tried very hard to the end of his life to attend Suffolk Law gatherings.

1929

Harry Hom Dow, the first Chinese American to be admitted to the Massachusetts Bar Association, died on January 22, 1985 of injuries sustained when he was hit by a car on Boylston Street, Boston. Mr. Dow had specialized in immigration and naturalization cases throughout his practice until his retirement in 1963. He served on a great many community boards to whom he contributed his services without fee. Mr. Dow served as a captain in the Army Intelligence Corps both in World War II and the Korean conflict. He left his wife, four sons and a daughter, and six grandchildren.

1930

The hockey arena in the Salem State College sports arena was dedicated, last fall, in memory of Richard H. Rockett 30 LLM. Having graduated from Boston College, and having taken a master's in education from BU, Mr. Rockett joined the faculty of what was Salem Teachers' College in 1938. He taught Latin, French and parliamentary law there until his death in 1959. Mr. Rockett was also active in civic affairs in Marblehead MA.

1933

Harry Wheeler of Chestnut Hill MA was selected as the 1984 "Communicator of the Year" by the B'nai Brith Communications/Cinema Unit. Mr. Wheeler has not only practiced law, but was the first executive director of the New England Broadcasting Association.

1938

Charles E. Sands, West Roxbury MA received the Honorable John Forbes Perkins Award for distinguished achievement in the field of social services to children and youth. Sands, a 1928 graduate of Harvard and a 1930 Harvard MBA, started his career as a probation officer in the Boston Juvenile Court in 1930. He is retired commissioner of probation for the Commonwealth.

1939

District Court Judge Paul J. Perocchi 39 JD, 48 LLM, retired from the bench on February 1, 1985, after serving for twenty-one years. In a newspaper interview, Judge Perocchi had this to say of Suffolk: "I was on the steps of the statehouse building in Boston when I first saw the school. If it had been closed, if there had been no people, or if the young lady in the teller's cage hadn't asked to help me, I would never have been a lawyer." The Perocchi's eldest son, Paul P. Perocchi 75 JD, practices law in Boston.

1953

Antonio Abbene, Jr., who is also an alumnus of Boston College, is a legal counsel to Revere's Special School Committee. Mr. Abbene has been a senior lecturer in labor management relations at Northeastern since 1972.

1958

Eugene W. Beaulieu of Milford ME has been approved as a justice of the Superior Court in Bangor.

1960

Carl T. Hoyer, East Greenwich RI, has been promoted to senior assistant vice president with AMICA Mutual Insurance Company.

1965

Charles W. Trombly Jr., North Andover MA, was sworn in as Recorder of the Land Court by Chief Justice Randall on December 27, 1984. Trombly is married to the former Mary R. Johannesen. They have three sons, Charles, Christopher, and Matthew.

1966

Thomas F. Brownell 63 BS has been appointed co-chairman of the Judiciary Committee of the Massachusetts House of Representatives by House Speaker George Keverian. The Judiciary Committee is considered to be the second busiest after Taxation.

1968

Stephen N. Hollman is associated with the firm of Gullixson, Hollman & McCroskey, with offices in Palo Alto and San Francisco. Among other activities, Hollman is a regular columnist for Micro Market World.

Joseph I. Mulligan, who is an alumnus of Roxbury Latin and the College of the Holy Cross, left private practice last year to serve Mayor Raymond L. Flynn as corporate counsel for the city of Boston.

Joan I. Farcus 69 JD at the World Peace Through Law Conference, Cairo, Egypt, 1983. With MS. Farcus are, left to right, Prof. Foud A. Riad, Cairo University; Former Ambassador Tauzi El Ibrashi, Director of Legal Department, Ministry of Foreign Affairs; and Mayer Gabay, Director of General Ministry of Justice for Israel.

Graduate Active in International Law

Joan I. Farcus 69 JD, a member of the Bridgeport firm of DePiano, Petrucelli & Palmesi, who also maintains a law office of her own in Miami, Florida, has become increasingly active in international law. Ms. Farcus, now co-editor and soon to be full editor, of the Law/Technology Journal of the World Peace Through Law Center, presented a paper on international exchanges of technology at a conference held in Cairo, Egypt in September 1983. She will also be a pre-sender at the World Peace Through Law Conference to be held in West Berlin in July 1985.

Ms. Farcus divides her time between practices in Connecticut, where she is a full Adjunct Professor of Law at Sacred Heart University in Bridgeport, and Miami, where she married Miami businessman Randall McCarrel in 1983. She is a member of the Connecticut, Florida, New York, and District of Columbia Bar Associations.

Larry J. Hirsch has been appointed to the Fleet National Bank's Westerly (RI) board. He has been president of Westerly Jewelry Co. since 1978.

R. Michael Curran of West Hartford (CT) has been elected to the board of trustees of the Kingswood-Oxford School there. He is chairman and chief executive officer in the Hartford insurance agency of Goodwin, Loomis and Britton. A Yale graduate, he has held his present position since 1983. His two younger sons are students at Kingswood-Oxford.

1969

James E. Sullivan has been named vice president and senior officer of the trust division of the Berkshire Bank & Trust Co. He has relocated to the Pittsfield MA area from Rhode Island.

Imelda C. LaMountain, also of the Pittsfield area, was 1984 chairperson of the Professional Division of United Way in the Berkshire area last fall.

Henry Gemma, Jr., an assistant attorney general in Providence, RI was named chief of the department's criminal division. He has been deputy chief of this division since 1979.

Donald P. Oulton, Natick MA, received the Electric Systems Division (US Air Force) "Harold M. Wright Outstanding Civilian Achievement Award" for 1983.

1970

John Dennis Healey, Peabody MA, Assistant City Solicitor, has been selected by Governor Michael Dukakis as an associate justice of the Peabody District Court, thus becoming one of the youngest judges in Massachusetts.

Brian R. Corey is 1984-85 president of the Fall River MA Bar Association. He is partner in the Fall River firm of Corey & Lund.

Bernard J. Berkowitz writes from Parsippany NJ that he is a member of the firm of Berkowitz and Decker there, and that he was recently appointed Judge of the Municipal Court of the Township of Parsippany-Troy Hills NJ.

1971

David A. Wallace of Sudbury MA has formed with his partner, a new firm, Whittemore & Wallace, in Framingham MA.

Phillip F. Heller, Lenox MA, has merged his practice with that of Frederic C. Ruthberg. They maintain offices in Lenox and Stockbridge.

Ralph E. Stone is the co-author of an article, "The Federal Trade Commission and Pyramid Sales Schemes," which appeared in the April 1984 issue of The Pacific Law Review.

1972

Daniel M. Kelly has been appointed court counsel by the Hampden County Commission. A resident of Springfield MA, he is a former assistant district attorney for the County, and former legal counsel for the towns of Granby and Amherst.

Arthur Breault Jr., formerly of South Boston, has been named a principle with the New Orleans LA office of the International Certified Public Accounting Firm of Touche Ross & Co. The Boston College High and Boston College graduate is a former Marine Corps major and Chief Examiner with the IRS.

Larry E. Salem, who is a graduate of Georgetown University's Law Center as well as Suffolk Law, has been appointed an associate in the Worcester MA firm of Mirick, O'Connell, DeMallie & Lougee.

A two-year $1.4 million grant intended to stimulate housing rehabilitation in the Greenfield, MA area is being administered by G. Edward Helander, who was previously community development director in Laconia, NH.

Robert L. Stock has joined the Weston Financial Group in Wellesley MA as director of marketing. Stock previously practiced real estate law in Newton. The Weston Financial group specializes in fee-based personal financial consulting for executives and professionals.

1973

John W. O'Keefe, West Hartford CT, has been appointed counsel in the law department at the Travelers Insurance Companies, which he joined in 1968 as a claim representative in Boston.

1974

Phillips B. Carpenter has been made town accountant in Brimfield MA. He is also comptroller for Travel Time Bus Lines & Coach Builders, Inc., in Springfield.

George H. White, formerly of Whitinsville MA, has been named director of human resources for Allied Automotive Prestolite Division in Morristown NJ.

Peter Philliou, a member of the faculty at Wentworth Institute, has joined the Arab Resources Development Corporation. An engineer as well as a lawyer, he has extensive experience in international education and training. Philliou holds degrees from MIT, Brooklyn Polytechnic, Columbia and Northeastern as well as Suffolk Law.

Peter H. Fulton LLM, formerly of Lexington MA is now associated with Adams, Meier, Addison, Meeks & Associates in Hurst, Texas.

Charles T. Kean of East India Row, Boston, has been named to the new position of controller of Natural Micro Systems Corporation, Natick MA. Kean holds a BSBA from Boston College and an MBA from BU as well as his Suffolk Juris Doctor.

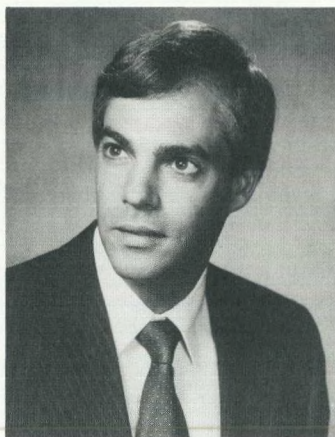

Mark A. Cantor, West Hartford CT, has been advanced to assistant vice president and tax counsel in the law department of Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Co. He joined Phoenix Mutual in 1981 as assistant counsel.

Philip A. Contant, Springfield MA, was nominated in January by Governor Michael Dukakis to the District Court of Western Hampden in Westfield, to replace retiring Judge Sidney M. Cooley. A native of Springfield, Contant lives there with his wife, the former Elizabeth LeRoy, and their two children, Mary Katherine and Sarah Elizabeth.

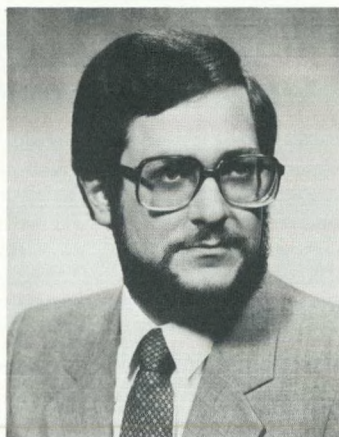

Thomas A. Meade is an attorney with Monarch Life Insurance Company in Springfield MA.

1976

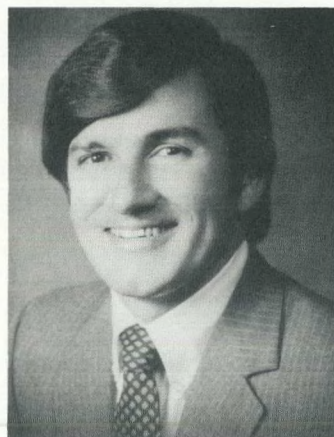

Donald F. Brown, Ipswich MA, conducts a private law practice specializing in entertainment law. Many of his clients are performing artists, many of them musicians and rock 'n' rollers. He teaches at the Berklee

Larry E. Salem '72

Mark Canter '74

Philip A. Contant '74

Alden J. Bianchi '78

College of Music and has recently formed his own production and recording company with Larry Baeder of Brighton.

Victoria Lederberg, a professor of experimental and physiological psychology at Rhode Island College, also represents Senate District 3 at the State House. She is also a trustee of Brown University, where she earned her Ph.D. in 1966.

Chris Hennessey of Randolph MA has become an associate professor of law at Babson College, where he did his undergraduate work and has been teaching for eight years. He earned his LLM at BU.

Donald E. Fries, West Boylston MA, has been elected vice president for individual product development at State Mutual Life Assurance Company of America. Fries has been with State Mutual since 1970, and earned both his Clark MBA and his Suffolk JD in the meantime.

Edward W. Vincent Jr., Martha's Vineyard MA, has been appointed to the Edgartown National Bank Board of Directors, filling the post left vacant by the resignation of Henry Beetle Hough, editor and publisher of The Vineyard Gazette.

Victoria Almeida, Cumberland RI, has been appointed to the Rhode Island Parole Board. A graduate of Salve Regina College at Newport, she is an associate in the Providence firm of Gunning, La Fazzia & Glynn.

Peter Eleey, who practices law in Quincy MA, is serving his second term as a member of the Governor's Council. The BC graduate is also the new president of the South Shore Mental Health Center.

Russell Bramley, an alumnus also of Providence College, has been named city solicitor for Warwick, RI. He practices law in the Warwick firm of Haronian, Paquin & Bramley.

Thomas J. Filbin 70 BA is an assistant vice president at the Dedham Institution for Savings. He describes himself as "A philosopher, a writer, a banker, a ball player, and a lover of the arts." He is also a new member of the board of directors of the Norfolk Mental Health Association.

1977

Donald E. Allcock is a new associate justice of the Pawtucket RI municipal court. A former lieutenant of police, Allcock has been a member of the Pawtucket Board of Appeals and an administrator of the Rhode Island Department of Children and Their Families.

Gregory Govoni is now associated with the firm of Robert L. Steuk in Stratham NH.

Peter Knox, Bolton MA, has opened, with partners, a firm called Maple Lodge Legal Services. The firm is introducing a new type of low cost legal services for lower to middle income clients.

1978

Thomas Brackett has found a somewhat unusual way in which to put his Suffolk Law education to work. With his wife, he is busily engaged in restoring very old houses in the Portsmouth, NH area on a business basis. A recent newsclipping announced that the most recent restoration undertaken by the Bracketts was the 1720 John Pickering House on Marcy Street, Portsmouth.

William Toye 82 MBA, adult probation officer at Salem MA District Court has entered private practice of law in Lawrence. He is a resident of Danvers MA.

Alden J. Bianchi is an associate with the Worcester MA firm of Mirick, O'Connell, DeMallie & Lougee. Bianchi, who is also a graduate of Georgetown University Law School, was previously associated with the Worcester firm of Gilbert & Kenny.

Nancy Turck Foley, Quincy MA, was appointed clerk of court of the Massachusetts Appeals Court, succeeding John E. Powers of Boston. Mrs. Foley has been with the Appeals Court since its inception in 1972.

Ronald Bannow Noren has announced that he and three other lawyers have established a new firm, Ober, Moore, Thorburn & Noren P.C. in Southport CT. Noren specializes in trusts, estate planning and probate. He is on the deferred giving committee of the St. Vincent's Medical Center Foundation in Bridgeport. He, his wife and two children, have recently moved to Easton CT.

1979

Linda Andros, Nahant MA, a former teacher in the Lynn public schools, has been appointed an assistant state attorney general. She began her law career as a prosecutor in the Lynn District Court.

Frances McIntyre, Marlboro MA, has been promoted to Chief District Court Prosecutor for Plymouth County. She will supervise all Plymouth assistant district attorneys in four districts.

Joseph F. Bardoville, Dorchester MA, who practices law with the Lynn firm of Bardoille & Fugate, has recently been promoted to Commanding Officer of the U.S. Coast Guard Reserve Unit Station at Gloucester. He was on active service with the Coast Guard from 1968 to 1972, including a tour of duty in Vietnam, before beginning his college and law school studies, while remaining in the Coast Guard Reserves.

William B. Flynn Jr. is a partner in the international public accounting firm of Ernst & Whinney, currently associated with the firm's international tax practice in New York City. He is a graduate of Boston College with an MBA from Babson.

Arthur F. Alpert has recently opened an office for general practice of law in Framingham MA.

John J. Hynes, Warwick RI, will become chief administrator of the Kent County Memorial Hospital, with which he has been affiliated since 1971. He holds an accounting degree from Providence College and a master's in hospital administration from Trinity University, San Antonio TX.

Susan M. Paris, North Easton MA, has formed a partnership with Attorney Robert Treano. A former probation officer in Taunton MA and in Attleboro, she left the latter post in September 1984 to start her first practice with Treano.

1980

James J. Beaulieu, Senior Tax Manager for Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., is the President of the Rhode Island Chapter of the Real Estate Securities and Syndication Institute.

Judith S. Calcagni '79

Rhode Island Alumna Honored

Judith (Stevenson) Calcagni 79 JD was elected last fall to the Cranston RI Hall of Fame. Mrs. Calcagni began her unusual and varied career as an emergency room nurse after graduating from the Rhode Island Hospital School of Nursing.

As a member of the United States Air Force Nurse Corps, she served in military hospitals from California to Massachusetts. Now a Colonel in the US Army Reserve, she is chief nurse of the 373rd General Hospital.

After her active military service, Mrs. Calcagni earned a BS from Rhode Island College and became first a nurse teacher in the Cranston school system, then director and instructor at the Toll Gate Vocational School in Warwick RI. A master's degree and her Suffolk JD were to follow. Among other activities involving both nursing and law, she has recently co-authored a book on nursing law. She is affiliated with the Legal Aid Society of Rhode Island and with the law firm of DiSandro-Smith Associates.

He is also an instructor at the University of Rhode Island Graduate School of Business where he teaches in the Master's in Accounting program, and is an instructor for Lambers CPA Review both in Providence and Boston.

Ward Prescott Graham, Amesbury MA, is now an associate with the firm of Nagle & MacMillan in Haverhill. For three and a half years after graduation from Suffolk Law he served as a lieutenant in the Judge Advocate General's Corps of the Navy, and was awarded the Navy Achievement Medal.

John T. Reynolds III, Hanson MA, has been named a trust officer of the Plymouth Home National Bank.

Yolanda Garris was named, last June, as vice president and bank counsel of the Freedom National Bank of New York.

John F. Kania has joined the Southington CT law firm of Kelley & Crispino. Kania, who is also a graduate of the University of Connecticut, lives in Southington with his wife, Eileen, and their son Jonathon.

David E. O'Connor, an attorney with the Connecticut Office of Legislative Research, has recently published a lead article on motions for acquittal in the Criminal Justice Journal.

1981

Harold B. Murphy joined the firm of Hanify & King in October 1984.

David Knisely was named general counsel at the Massachusetts Land Bank in September 1984. He also holds an MPA from the Kennedy School at Harvard.

John J. Vartelas has joined the law firm of Stoner, Gross, Chorches, Laput & Kleeman in West Hartford CT

James J. Burke has formed a new partnership with classmates Anthony Paul Antico and Charles E. Barrett. The firm, Antico, Barrett and Burke, has offices in Peabody MA.

Mary Bassett-Stanford, formerly a law clerk to Justice Paul J. Liarcos and an associate with Lyne, Woodworth & Evarts, Boston MA, has been admitted to the Illinois bar and is currently practicing law in Salem IL.

Bradford N. Louison, assistant clerk magistrate, Taunton District Court, has been elected a corporator of the Taunton Savings Bank. He is also a Judge Advocate in the US Army Reserves.

1982

Edward J. Sullivan is senior vice president of the First Federal Bank in Nashua NH.

John J. Harrington was appointed labor relations administrator for Warwick RI in January.

Joan E. Igoe has formed a partnership with Robert J. Kosty as a tax consulting practice in Boston. The practice will consist of tax planning for individuals, corporations, partnerships and tax representation work.

Robert J. Foley, Boston MA, is an attorney in the Boston District Counsel Office of the IRS. He was previously in the office of the chief counsel in the IRS San Francisco office.

1983

Michael Kelly, formerly of Watertown, has begun his first assignment as an F.B.I. agent in Denver, Colorado. He was recently graduated from the Federal Bureau's school in Quantico, Virginia.

Thomas W. Beecher has joined the law firm of Cutsumpus, Collins, Hanafin, Garamella, Jaber & Tuozzlo in Danbury CT.

Robert H. D'Auria, Bedford MA, has entered a general law practice with David Valdina.

Ed Paul, Natick MA, a 1960 graduate of Brown, is director of product development at Waters Division of Millipore.

Antonio Alfonso, Cumberland RI, is an assistant vice president and associate counsel in the Legal Group of Old Stone Bank. A graduate of Fordham, he has a degree in banking from Williams.

David French, a graduate of Hobart College and a Suffolk JD cum laude, is an associate with McCann, Morocco & Adams, Westboro MA.

Shelley A. Reeve, a graduate of the Dartmouth-Hitchcock Medical Center in Vermont, who also holds a BS from Boston College, is associate director of economic and general welfare of the Massachusetts Nursing Association.

Robert D. Murray is executive assistant and chief of staff to Governor Edward D. DiPrete of Rhode Island. Murray is also a graduate of Providence College.

Anthony A. Giannini Jr. is chairman of the Civic Center Authority in Providence RI.

Richard C. Barry Jr., Auburn MA, is an associate with the Olden firm of Bennet & Forts. He is a 1980 graduate of Boston College.

William B. Devoe has joined the law firm of Eaton, Peabody, Bradford & Veague, Bangor ME. Devoe also holds degrees from Alfred College and the University of Chicago.

Margaret Morrissey, a graduate of Boston College, has been assigned to the Dorchester District Court by Suffolk County District Attorney Newman Flanagan.

Shelli C. Elfenbein, Whitinsville MA, has joined Henry J. Lane in the practice of law. Ms. Elfenbein, a graduate also of Wheaton College, plans to engage in general practice with special emphasis on domestic relations and family law.

Donald W. Hansen has been named assistant city solicitor in Quincy MA. Hansen, who lives in Weymouth, was formerly City Personnel Director.

Elizabeth L. Mysaka, Worcester MA, has been promoted to legal counsel at Bay State Abstract Co., Inc. She was assistant manager of the company before her recent promotion.

Scott Sandstrom was named to the fulltime faculty of the College of the Holy Cross last autumn as an assistant professor of economics. He formerly taught at Providence College and was a senior accountant with Ernst & Whinney in Providence RI.

1984

H. Gordon Cooperstein has had a two-part article on "The Effects of Regulation D on Real Estate Securities" in the New England Real Estate

Journal. Cooperstein is involved with the development and marketing of Commercial Real Estate Projects for H. N. Gorin Associates, Boston.

Virginia McCarthy, East Boston MA, has joined the legal department of the Boston Gas Company. She is also a graduate of NYU.

Michaelene O'Neill McCann, a registered nurse, is executive director of the Essex County Victim/Witness Assistance Program in Essex County. She is married to Eugene P. McCann 78 JD, who practices in Reading. They have three sons.

Henry A. Sullivan is with the Boston firm of Mintz, Cohn, Ferris, Glovsky & Popeo. He resides in Arlington MA.

David Curtin, Providence RI, is a special assistant district attorney, assigned to the criminal division in his native state.

John M. Pelletier, Westport RI, who received his JD cum laude, is associated with the East Providence firm of Hogan & Hogan.

Domenic Marinelli, also a Boston College alumnus, is a partner in the certified public accountant firm of Cummings & Marinelli.

Mark D. Horan, Franklin RI, has joined the law firm of Murphy, Lamare & Murphy of Braintree MA.

Betsy Gould, Sturbridge CT, and a Wesleyan graduate, is an associate with Day, Berry & Howard Counselors at Law in Harvard MA.

William Hardman III, Smithfield RI, is practicing in the Providence law office of Joseph N. Cassiere.

Jan M. Bone, another Wesleyan and Suffolk JD cum laude, is associated with the Orleans MA firm of LaTanzi, Spaulding & Landreth.

Marc G. Laverdiere will practice law as an ensign in the Navy in the Judge Advocate Corps. He is a resident of New Bedford MA.

William O. Monahan, Warwick RI, is an assistant district attorney for Suffolk District MA. He is a Northeastern graduate.

Mary Alice Moore, Waterbury CT, who has a BS in nursing from Georgetown, is employed by Jaci Carroll.

Anthony Cetteto, Willimantic CT, has joined the law firm of Asselin & Associates in the practice of personal injury law.

Stephen D. Fried is associated with the Framingham law firm of Cohen & Gaffin. He will be concentrating in the area of domestic relations as well as in civil and criminal litigation.

Frank Mancini is currently the Election Commissioner for the town of Swampscott.

Philip R. Stoddard has joined the law practice of Blaise P. Berthiaume, Spencer MA. His bachelor's degree in history is from Villanova.

Patrick J. Sojka has joined the firm of Levy, Winer, Hodos, Berson, Blanker and Bishop PC in Greenfield MA. A graduate of Deerfield Academy and St. Lawrence University cum laude, he lives in Amherst.

College of Liberal Arts and Sciences

ARE YOU AMONG THE MISSING?

Please read "From the Top of the Hill"—inside front cover carefully.

1949

Albert Ross BA writes from Hampton, NH that he is a retired realtor and founder of Olde Lantern Realtors in that town. A vice-president of his Suffolk class and co-captain of the hockey team in his undergraduate days, he is now a consultant for OMNI (Dunfey Caldwell Banker HFC Corp.).

1956

A standing room only testimonial dinner was held at the Chelmsford Lodge of Elks early this winter in honor of the retirement of Daniel Horgan MED, for twenty-five years service in its public schools. Since 1970 he has been principal of the Byam School in Chelmsford. Chelmsford declared February to be Daniel Horgan Month as part of the city-wide homage being paid the educator.

1957

Herbert Drew MA has been superintendent of schools in Westfield MA since last autumn.

1958

Richard J. Walsh BS, 60 JD, has been appointed statewide administrator of a Better Business Bureau automobile arbitration program in Vermont. He and his wife, Roberta Ward Walsh, an assistant professor of consumer studies at the University of Vermont, live in Colchester.

1961

Richard Woolston BS has recently opened a private practice in psychological services in Bolton Center MA. His new practice includes home visits and telephone consultations.

1963

David L. Kalib BA, who earned his law degree at Boston College and who has spent seventeen years in insurance law, has been appointed general counsel of Berkshire Life Insurance Co. Kalib lives in Pittsfield MA with his wife and two children.

1965

Mariann Pannesi BS has received permanent appointment as principal of the Phillips School in Watertown. She also received her master's degree in school administration at Suffolk in 1984.

1966

Cynthia Heenan BA is teaching first grade at the South Range School in Derry NH.

1968

The Rev. Francis W. Archer BA is the new pastor of the Main Street Congregational Church in Amesbury MA. He took his theological studies at the Bangor (ME) Theological Seminary.

Nannette Collins '77

1969

Gary Enghorn BS has been named menswear buyer for T.J. Maxx Stores, with headquarters in Natick.

Mitchell Soviecke BA was chosen last summer to administer a $428,000 Small Cities grant in Charlemont MA.

1970

A. Michael Marques BS has been appointed senior vice president in the Commercial Banking Group at Old Stone Bank in RI.

1971

Norman Thidemann BA, Chelmsford MA, who took his MPA at the University of Maine, has been Executive Secretary for the town of Chelmsford for the past five years. Previously, he was assistant to the mayor of North Hampton.

James Carras BA has been named head of the Chicopee MA Development Corporation by that agency's executive committee. Carras, who also holds degrees from Tufts and the Kennedy School at Harvard, formed his own consulting firm, with Boston and Fort Lauderdale offices, in 1981. Carras has taught and lectured at several colleges and universities, including Harvard, MIT, Brandeis and UMass/Boston.

Griffin T. Dalianis BS, 72 MED, of Nashua NH was recently installed as a fellow of the American Orthopsychiatric Association. His doctoral dissertation (PhD, California Coast University) on "Marital Dysfunction in the Viet Nam Veteran: Community Implications of Delayed Stress Syndrome Response" was published, which qualifies him for promotion to fellow. Dalianis is married to Superior Court Justice Linda S. Dalianis 74 JD. They have four children ranging in age from three to twenty-one.

Albert M. DiDonato, Jr., BS has been appointed a materials manager of the VeeArt Corporation of Westborough MA.

1972

John Bourgois BS is teaching math and is athletic director of the Newport (NH) High School. He formerly taught in Keene.

1973

Richard Aubuchon MED has been named principal of the Plymouth (NH) Area High School, where he has been vocational director. Aubuchon has previously taught in Connecticut and Massachusetts, and had several years experience in private industry.

Patricia A. Petow MAE, was recently named chairperson of the Board of Election Commissioners in Somerville. Previously, she was assistant city solicitor. She maintains a private law practice and is a trustee of the Somerville Historical Society as well as being a member of the Animal Defense Fund and a director of its Boston Chapter.

Carl J. Hollman BS has been promoted to the rank of sergeant in the Brunswick ME police force.

1974

Peter Tomasini BS has been promoted to Vice President of Sales of the Dowd Company Inc. in Woburn. He is a resident of Reading.

1975

John R. Harrigan BS is the drafting teacher at Malden High School MA.

Kenneth G. Dorrance BS, 79 MED, of Tewksbury MA is the new executive director of the Wilmington Housing Authority.

1976

Robert E. McHugh BS has opened his own insurance agency with a partner in Abington MA.

Kenneth Ellis BS, of Lynnfield, has been elected a commercial loan officer at BayBank/Middlesex in Beverly MA.

Sandra Johnson BS is vice-president for personnel at the Colonial Bank of Guilford CT.

1977

Peter Cassidy BS, once a biochemistry major at Suffolk who formerly worked in the research lab at New England Aquarium has found a new vocation. He left the Aquarium supposedly for a short time in order to help his brother set up as a blacksmith in Rowley, MA. "But" as he remarked in a recent magazine interview, "after a month I was hooked." The company restores old iron pieces and crafts fine reproductions.

Nannette Collins 77 BSJ, has joined Nicolazzo & Associates, a Boston-based public relations and marketing communications agency. She will work with the firm's technology group, implementing projects for several accounts. A native of Marblehead, Ms. Collins was formerly communications administrator at Raytheon, and prior to that, internal communications assistant at MITRE.

She is a candidate for the master's degree in communications at Boston University.

Father Albert A. Sylvia MS is an assistant pastor at Saint Rose Parish, Chelsea MA. Father Sylvia, a member of the St. James Society in Peru from 1969 to 1973, took his master's degree in counseling while serving in the Lynn area. He is also expecting to receive a master's degree in Christian Spirituality from Creighton, a Jesuit university in Nebraska.

1978

Gerard F. Healey BSJ, of Dorchester, has been promoted to the rank of staff sergeant. He is a journalist with the XVIII Airborne Corps at Fort Bragg NC.

Barbara Shayeb-Helou BA is a job development coordinator at the Career Resource Center at the University of Southern Florida. In addition to her Suffolk degree in speech communications, she has earned a master's degree in international relations from Northeastern. She is also a professional ice skater.

William J. Stanton BA, 84 JD was chosen as a 1984 Outstanding Young Man of America Award recipient. He is administrative assistant to State Representative Steven V. Angelo. The awards are made by the national organization of Jaycees.

Paul Porter BS was elected to the Randolph MA Town Meeting in March 1985. He is a detective on the town police force, Juvenile Officer, and Clerk of the Youth Commission. (Editor's Note: We received this information through the thoughtfulness of Phyllis Forman of the Class of 1971.)

Mary Lee Dunn, BSJ 79

1979

Mary Lee Dunn BSJ, Andover MA, has joined BayBank Middlesex as Public Relations Manager. Prior to joining BayBank, Mrs. Dunn was director of public information for the Massachusetts Department of Commerce.

Nancy E. Costello MED, a junior high school reading teacher is now in Hopkinton MA. She previously taught in Rome NY.

James E. Laprel MS, Haverhill MA, is a member of the sales staff of Bradford Realty.

Christopher W. Cashman BS, of Amesbury MA, has been appointed chief executive officer and treasurer of Promotional Distribution Services, Inc., Waltham. Cashman has established production and management controls, including a computerized system which provides a strict inventory of the materials used for the company's FORTUNE 500 clients, and he is directing company activities as a participant in President Reagan's U.S. Caribbean Basin Initiative Program.

Bonnie Mitchell BA, 83 MBA, of Marblehead, is now an account executive with Cadell & Byers Insurance Agency, Inc., of Lowell and Burlington MA.

Joan Lagoulis MED, formerly of Andover MA, is director of a program for gifted and talented children in Anchorage, Alaska, where she will implement and coordinate this district program. Ms. Lagoulis is a graduate, also, of the University of Miami (FL), and attended both Tufts and Lesley graduate schools of education. She is a doctoral candidate at UMass Amherst.

1980

Pia Brunelli MED, Wrentham MA, has been promoted from instructor to assistant professor of business at Dean Junior College.

Shahrayne Litchfield BS, 82 MPA, is Head Start Program Director for the Chelsea, Revere and Winthrop area. As an undergraduate, Mrs. Litchfield majored in sociology and Spanish. She has taught Spanish and has been a bilingual senior social worker.

Karl Sharicz BS recently had an article "Advances in Sequential ICP Spectrometer Design" in the scientific journal, American Laboratory. He is a plasma product specialist for the Jarell-Ash Division of Fischer Scientific.

1981

Denise M. Dever has been promoted to assistant vice president in the Government Services Division of Financial Services at the State Street Bank.

1982

Alfonsia Minshella MS is teaching business education in Lexington MA. She previously taught at Cardinal Cushing Central High School in South Boston.

Jeanne Nagorniuk BS is teaching third grade this year in the Tremont School, the smallest school on Mount Desert Island ME. She has previously taught in Pembroke and Harwich MA.

Audrey L. Baron BSJ was an intern last summer for KIDSFAIR at WBZ-TV, Channel 4, in Boston. She is a graduate student at Emerson College.

Janis M. Galligan BS has been elected an assistant vice president in the Loan Review Division of the Shawmut Bank of Boston, N.A. She has completed the Stonier Graduate School of Banking Program.

1983

Pamela M. Spalaris BSJ, of Watertown, has been appointed Administrative Assistant for Public Relations at Giardini/Russell Inc.

Marriages

Carmen R. Addario, 83 BSB—Phyllis M. Pesce	May 84	Denise A. Madden, 81 BSB—Christopher E. Smith	Fall 84
John G. Bagley, 83 JD—Gina M. Barney	October 84	Vincent G. Mannering, 77 JD—Colleen A. Condon	October 84
William N. Batty, 72 JD—Janice Pan	Summer 84	Patricia M. McGrath, 79 JD—Kevin J. McDonough	Fall 84
Patricia S. Beling, 84 JD—Shaun P. Murphy	Summer 84	Kevin R. McNamara, 83 JD—Jean M. Williams	September 84
Mark H. Brady, 84 JD—Elizabeth M. Brown	November 84	Charles L. Metrakas, 76 BS—Eugenia Fillios	Fall 84
James F. Brennan, 84 JD—Mary Beth Soloperto	October 84	Kevin J. Murphy, 83 JD—Ann Marie Caron	Fall 84
Marcia D. Brockelman, 79 JD—Thomas J. Rey	September 84	Kevin O'Reilly, 77 MBA—Margaret M. Pallatroni	Summer 84
Michael K. Callahan, 82 BS—Kathleen A. O'Donnell	September 84	Mary Jane O'Sullivan, 84 MBA—Garry St. Jean	Fall 84
Andrew J. Campbell, 80 BA—Patricia J. Murphy	Summer 84	Rosemarie O'Sullivan, 77 BA—Peter H. Stassa	October 84
Thomas W. Carey, 77 JD—Suzan M. Bowler	October 84	Andrea Ortisi, 83 BS—Joseph P. Napolitano	October 84
Peter F. Carty, 82 JD—Erin B. Pierce	September 84	James V. Paolino, 79 JD—Paula J. Maggiacomo	August 84
Robert N. Cauley, 79 BSB—Susan L. Miles	September 84	Charles P. Papagni, 80 MBA—Miriam E. Morse	October 84
Marjorie S. Cohen, 75 BS, 79 MEd—Sheldon E. Karp	September 84	James C. Perdakis, 78 BSB—Cherie Bosen	September 84
Thomas F. Connors, 78 JD—Catherine M. Falvey	January 85	Susan M. Rae, 81 BS—Richard Baker	Fall 84
Cathleen W. Cronin, 82 MBA—Edward E. O'Sullivan	Fall 84	Paula L. Raila, 83 JD—Jeffrey A. Rubel	September 84
Marianne Crowley, 83 BSB—Richard LoConte	November 84	John J. Ratigan, 84 JD—Mary Ann Cooke	August 84
William G. Currie, 83 MBA—Ann M. Harrington	Fall 84	Laurie T. Ribeiro, 81 MBA—Timothy A. Gagnon	Fall 84
Katherine M. Davis, 82 MBA—George M. McCarthy	October 84	Linda L. Rodes, 84 MBA—Bradner Littlehale, Jr.	Fall 84
Robert H. Dean, 81 BSB—Lisa M. Cretecos	October 84	Linda A. Saltalamacchia, 83 BSB—Fred W. Canniff	September 84
Christine M. DeVelis, 78 BS—Michael F. Hill	Fall 84	Debra L. Sanderson, 83 BS—Dana P. Chivaroli	November 84
Roger D. Donoghue, 83 JD—Karen K. Hindle	December 84	Susan M. Scannell, 80 BSB—Joseph M. Young, 83 JD	November 84
Doreen M. Donovan, 82 JD—Steven D. Corkin	September 84	Judy A. Sheehan, 84 JD—George F. Metcalf	September 84
Richard E. Dowling, Jr., 83 BS, MBA—Cheryl A. Burns	Fall 84	Charlene Sinko, 84 BS—Orin Evans	August 84
James C. Engel, 84 JD—Kimberly L. Reed	August 84	James M. Siracusa, 75 BSB—Nancy A. Conley	September 84
Kathleen R. Evans, 83 BSJ—Richard Correia	Fall 84	Maureen G. Slack, 81 JD—Paul DiCristofaro	Fall 84
Carol M. Falvey, 82 JD—Mark C. VanDine	Fall 84	Rhonda G. Sorice, 83 BA—Clyde Showalter	July 84
Kenneth J. Fishman, 76 JD—Nancy E. Santos	Summer 84	Cheryl A. Speranza, 83 MED—Richard S. Coughlin	Fall 84
John L. Giamattei, 73 BS—Nancy E. Cahill	September 84	Carol A. Stevens, 82 JD—James A. Rutkosky	Fall 84
Frank A. Gigliotti, 77 BA—Linda L. Clark	August 26	Stephen A. Strand, 84 MBA—Maryanne Marquis	October 84
Stuart E. Glass, 78 MPA—Karen R. Spiegel	Fall 84	Bernadette M. Strickland, 83 BSJ—Miguel A. Montalvo	November 84
Ruth A. Glassman, 83 JD—Seth Feder	Summer 84	Dennis B. Sullivan, 77 BSB—Diane R. Briggs	Fall 84
Virginia M. Gray, 81 BS—Michael J. Crisp	Summer 84	Maria D. Sullivan, 81 BSJ—Michael J. DeSario	Winter 85
Ellen M. Griffin, 83 BSG—Charles W. Davis	Fall 84	Joseph P. Texiera, 83 BSB—Patricia Buckley	October 84
Alexander J. Halks, 79 MBA—Constance M. Collier	Fall 84	Rita A. Tirocchi, 83 JD—Antonio Afonso, Jr.	November 84
Barry S. Harsip, 79 JD—Lisa M. DiMarco	October 20	Shirley M. Thompson, 81 BS—Michael J. Sheridan	Winter 85
Richard J. Hassett, 55 BSB—Ruth A. Chaisson	October 84	David R. Ursillo, 77 JD—Jane M. Mulcahey	Fall 84
David F. Hayes, 84 JD—Laura J. Beshears	Summer 84	Barbar L. Ward, 82 BSJ—David M. George	October 84
Robert Jachowicz, 80 JD—Lisa Barrie	October 84	Gary P. Wilson, 78 BSB—Wendy Lorenson	Fall 84
Thomas Kearney, 84 MBA—Marianne DiMambro	August 84	William R. Withycombe, 77 MED—Deborah J. Eddy	December 84
Carol A. Keefe, 82 JD—Thomas DePetrillo	October 84	Helen L. Zagami, 83 BA—Paul L. Courtney	Fall 84
Charles Keilty, 84 JD—Terry Bernardo	November 84
William M. Kilroy, 76 BSB—Maureen A. O'Connell	September 84
Margaret A. Kirby, 84 JD—Arthur F. Casavant	Fall 84
Anne T. Koteen, 76 MBA—Bradley C. Leland	Fall 84
Marc G. LaVerdiere, 84 JD—Laura J. Visco	August 84
Jane E. Lee, 83 JD—Drew A. Anderson	August 84
Thomas C. Linnehan, 84 JD—Heidi A. Harter	August 84
Joan E. Lynch, 78 JD—Gregory M. Downs	Fall 84
	August 84

Deaths

Ernest J. Barbeau, 38 JD	May 84
Donald L. Beauchemin, 72 MBA	November 84
Sidney Berkman, 38 JD	February 84
Cosmo C. Borgioli, 42 JD	January 85
Antonio D. Cardozo, 29 JD	December 84
John J. Collins, 72 BSB	October 84
Mark L. Cuneo, 74 JD	October 84
Edmund Daly, 49 JD	July 83
Joseph Della Grotte,	June 84
Rev. Vincent C. Dore, O.P., 52 HON	December 84
Harry H. Dow, 29 JD	January 85
James A. Doyle, 32 JD	October 84
Michael J. Dray, 25 JD	October 84
James F. Fleming, 63 JD	December 84
Roger M. Foley, 29 JD	May 84
James J. Gallagher, 63 BSB	August 84
John Gilbert, 77 MED	February 84
George N. Haffty, 35 JD	Fall 84
William M. Hoar, 26 JD	August 83
Philip B. Holmes, 73 HON	February 85
Samuel M. Ianzito, 32 JD	January 85
James A. Kenney, 50 JD	Fall 83
Richard L. Knight, 64 BA	June 83
David Lalime, 73 JD	November 84
Joseph M. Magaldi, 27 JD	October 84
William J. Mallen, 54 BA, 59 MA	January 84
Edward T. Martin, 36 JD	December 84
Jeanne McDonough, 76 MED	November 84
George F. McGinnis, 72 JD	November 84
John J. McLaughlin, 53 MAE	August 84
George A. Mueller, Jr., 59 BSB, 64 MAE	February 85
Margaret V. Murphy, 52 BS	June 84
Moses H. Nahigan, 26 JD	July 83
Paul Nyer, 70 JD	October 84
Rev. Harold J. Ockenga, 39 HON	February 85
James D. O'Hearn, 28 JD	July 83
James A. O'Leary, Jr., 70 JD	September 84
Michael J. O'Neill, 75 MED	October 83
Patrick J. Reardon, 53 JD	July 83
George Rogers, 30 JD	June 84
Francis J. Sawyer, 40 JD	February 85
Daniel C. Scioletti, 59 JD	February 84
Sidney Sher, 52 BSG, 54 MAE	December 84
Mark E. Smith, 34 JD	November 83
Philip C. Thompson, 76 JD	January 83
Daniel A. Toombs, 29 JD	August 84
Theodore J. Vaitses, 56 JD	July 83
James J. Valeri, 31 JD	April 84
Charles H. Walters, 29 JD	January 84
Louis G. Whitcomb, 29 JD, Hon. 55	Fall 84
Charles O. Williams, 21 JD	October 84

Lost Alumni

1948

Benjamin Bell BSB
 Vincent G. Cardinale BA
 Harry P. Cheetham BA
 Alfred J. Cooper BA
 James E. Doherty BSJ
 Romeyn Lippman Jr. BSB
 John R. McGaughey Jr. BA
 Michael Pappas BA
 Robert D. Quinn BA
 Murray E. Roberts BSB (49 MBA)
 Spencer B. Sterne BA
 Geraldine M. Warren BSJ
 Philip H. Wye BA

1949

Richard P. Allen BSB
 George J. Amaral BS (MA 50)
 Nat I. Arkin BSB
 Meyer S. Barash BSB
 Robert Booker BSB
 Carl A. Bowley BSB
 Joseph W. Bulkeley BSJ
 Bruce Cameron BSB
 Robert E. Carroll BSJ
 Howlett E. Chandler BSB
 Maurice G. Charest BA
 Ralph J. Cidlevicz BSB
 Milton H. Cohen BSB
 William Cohen BSB
 Donald W. Cole BSJ
 Ernest D. Connors BSB
 Saul M. Cortell BSB
 Samuel R. Cratis BSB
 Fannette E. Creem BSJ
 Gracy Mackey Cullinan BA
 Edward A. Daniels BSB
 John J. Deveney BSB
 John A. Dimasi BSB
 Peter J. Dipippo BSB
 Philip P. Doherty BSB
 George S. Elias BA
 Charles Erickson Jr. BA
 Robert H. Fellmy BSB
 Freeman M. Fogg BSB
 Joseph T. Foley BSB
 John N. Foran BSJ
 Bernard Francer BSB
 Donald A. Fraser BSB
 Henry V. Gale BSB
 Walter F. Gallagher BSJ
 John G. Geias BSJ
 Leo E. Genest BA
 Leo Geremanis BA
 Paul G. Gill BSB
 Sylvia Gladstone BA
 Meyer M. Golubchin BSJ
 Fredericka R. Green BA
 Edward Groipen BSB

James N. Harris BSB
 John J. Healey BSJ
 John M. Hennessy BSB
 Leo G. Holmes BS
 Jonathon Huntington BA
 John C. Hurley BSB
 John J. Hurley BSB
 George Karavasiles BSB
 Peter F. Kastanos BSJ
 William B. Kelley BS
 George J. Kubiak BSB
 Francis P. Lawrence BA
 Leonard Lieberman BSB
 Albert Liner BSB
 Courtney A. Lippman BSB
 C. Dixon Matthews BSB
 Ronald E. McAuliffe BSJ
 Ann C. McCauliff BSJ
 John E. McManus BA
 Richard Merz BSB
 John Michaels BSJ
 Theodore Michaels BA
 James C. Mitchell BA
 Robert C. Mooney BSB
 Beatrice Butler Mullins BA
 George A. Mulrooney BSB
 Gerald D. Noonan BSJ
 James J. Nunes BS (51 JD)
 Timothy L. O'Brien BA
 William D. O'Brien BSB
 Joseph T. Panessiti BSB
 Alexander Papazoglos BSB
 Melvin J. Pearlman BSB
 Edward Poole BSB (50 MA)
 David Resnick BA
 Salvatore R. Rizzari BSB
 William H. Robinson BA
 Robert C. Ross BSJ
 Melvin D. Rubin BSB
 Ralph M. Scalia BSB
 Arthur F. Shea BSJ
 Albert Sidman BA
 Sydney Siegel BSB
 Ascenzio C. Silvagni BA
 Theodore Sivinski BSB
 Robert O. Slagel BA
 Albert A. Sogliero BSJ
 Leo A. Soucy BA
 Edward Stone BA
 Bernard V. Tack BSB
 Harold L. Tatelman BSB
 Joseph A. Tripodi BSB
 Ralph B. Truesdale BSB
 Robert V. Vahan BSJ
 Roland E. Valliere BSB
 Americo B. Ventura BS
 Vernon M. Walfield BSB
 Leo F. Wall BA
 Duncan R. Warren BA
 William E. Whidden Jr. BSB
 Edward Woish BSB

1950 (A-L)

Richard Adelman BSB
 Joseph G. Allen BA
 James S. Avery BSJ
 William T. Baker BSB
 H. Roy Barnes BA
 Vincent C. Baroni BSB
 Thomas E. Beatty BSB
 Alan M. Bockser BSB
 Stanley L. Bogdanowicz BSB
 Lawrence S. Boggio BA
 Bennett C. Bolton BSB
 Douglas L. Booker BSJ
 Norman A. Bostrom BA
 Carl H. Bromberg BSG
 Vincent Brown BSB
 William Butchard BS
 Richard S. Byrne BSB
 Charles A. Carrier BA
 Eugene W. Colmes BSB
 James E. Connell BSB
 Gregory Connelly BSJ
 Lydia Corso BA
 John J. Crimmins BA
 Joseph Cullinane BSJ
 Thomas K. Darragh BA
 Edward J. Denn BSB
 Frank A. Derby BSB
 Robert A. Devlin BA
 Thomas A. Devlin BSB
 Robert Donahue BSB
 George J. Donnelly BSJ
 Everett Fitzgerald BSB
 Richard Fitzgerald BSB
 John C. Flynn BSG
 Russell Fossett BA
 William J. Gavin BSJ
 Hyman I. German BSB
 John Giavaras BA
 John R. Gibney BA
 Hugh Gioacchini BSJ
 Frank Goldman BSB
 William Gorman BA
 David B. Green BSB
 Richard J. Hawes BA, MA
 Henry J. Hebert BA
 Herbert H. Hedison BSB
 Francis D. Hennessey BA
 Stewart M. Henry BA
 William E. Holland BSB
 Edward J. Hubner BSB
 William S. Hughes BSB
 Charles J. Ingalls BS
 Walter E. Johnson BSB
 Nicholas Katsoulis BSB
 Joseph J. Keenan BSB
 John P. Kelly BSB
 Barton M. Krinsky BA

Michael C. Lappas BSB
 David J. Law BS
 Guy E. Leone BA
 John J. Lewis BA
 Hugh C. Ligon BSB
 Rocco L. Locantore BA
 Joyce E. Lund AA
 Loring F. Lynford BSG
 James P. Lynch BSB

General Alumni Association
Board of Directors
1984-1985

Thomas A. Cady 72 BA
Patrick H. Dwyer 62 BSBA, 70 MED
Mary R. Ferris 73 BA
Peter Frangipane 70 BSBA
Althea Garrison 82 BSBA
Susan M. Gryglik 78 BSBA
John G. Hommel 72 BSBA, 76 JD
John J. McGonagle 75 BS
Susan Pfeifer 82 BA
Carolyn E. Powers 79 BS
Mark C. Rogers 76 BSJ
Dennis B. Sullivan 77 BSBA, 82 JD
Roland E. Vanaria 70 BS, DDS
Peter C. Varoutsos 60 BA

*Directors serve from May through April.

Suffolk University Alumni Council
1984-1985

Douglas R. Baird 71 BSBA, 75 MBA
Harold Cohen 55 JD
Judy Dumont 83 MBA
Mary R. Ferris 73 BA
Frank M. Kemp 78 MBA
John Licorish 72 MBA
Janet L. Maloof 79 JD
Joseph P. McDonough 40 JD
Paula O'Brien-Killion 74 JD
Carolyn E. Powers 79 BS
Dennis B. Sullivan 77 BSBA, 82 JD

*Members serve from May through April.

MBA/MPA Alumni Association
Board of Directors
1984-1985

Douglas R. Baird 71 BSBA, 75 MBA
Kenneth R. Blake 82 MBA
Richard J. Bradley 80 MPA
Judy Dumont 83 MBA
G. Michael Gardner 82 MBA
Harish Jain 82 MBA
Walter Kazmierczak 82 MBA
Frank M. Kemp 78 MBA
John Licorish 72 MBA
Laurence T. Morency 79 BA, 83 MBA
Mary Lou Mottola 79 MBA
Vincent A. Polito 59 BSBA, 64 MBA
Valerie Russo 82 MBA
Rodney C. Schonland 78 MBA
Robert J. Watson 82 MBA

*Members serve from May through April.

Suffolk University Law School
Alumni Association
Board of Directors
1984-1985

Nicholas Barbardoro 38 JD
Douglas S. Bishop 77 JD
Marianne B. Bowler 76 JD
Harold Cohen 55 JD
Steven E. Kramer 79 JD
Janet L. Maloof 79 JD
Joseph P. McDonough 40 JD
Thomas J. McGrimley 56 JD
Keesler H. Montgomery 50 JD, 61 LLM
Philip F. Mulvey, Jr. 73 JD
Paula O'Brien-Killion 74 JD
William B. O'Leary 79 JD
S. Catherine Palevsky 83 JD
Michael J. Riselli 72 JD
William P. Simon 73 JD
Paul R. Tierney 64 JD
Diane C. Tillotson 78 JD

*Directors serve from May through April.

Office of Institutional Advancement

Joseph M. Kelley, Vice President
Marjorie C. Kelleher 79 MED, Director of Leadership Gifts
Jean Neenan, Administrative Secretary
Robert L. West 75 BSBA, 82 MBA, Director of Annual Giving
Mary Lou Ward 84 BSJ, Assistant Director of Annual Giving
Lisa Deeb, Staff Secretary
Ellen Foley, Director of Law School Alumni Programs
Susan J. Harrington, Assistant
Louis B. Connelly 57 BSJ, 74 MED, Director of Public Relations
Karen DeCilio, Assistant
Margaret J. Brandt, Director of Grants Services and Planned Giving
Marylou Buckley, Director of Marketing Services
Lori Dawson, Staff Secretary
Beth Rezendes, Manager of Development Systems, Alumni Records and Gift Processing
Judith DeBerio 83 BA, Assistant
Leslie Connelly, Clerk
Mark Caramanica, Clerk

Changing Your Address?

Name

Year & Degree

Address

City

State

Zip Code

Telephone

(Place your old label here)

Suffolk University Alumni Bulletin
Alumni/Development Office
8 Ashburton Place
Boston, MA 02108

Second Class
U.S. Postage
PAID
Boston, MA

