MUSICAL NOTES

A very interesting and well supported concert was given

Sunday afternoon, April 23, by the Boston Symphony. The original was held in the Fourth

Methodist Church and was with a good-sized audience attended. Miss Harris is a young performing woman and showed that she had careful training. She has a little Merry voice, which is pleasing to listen to, and which has a certain degree of charm. It is not yet matured.

"Pomme," by Bizet, was sung in an excellent manner by a young soprano, who showed a promise of a great career. After the concert

Miss Harris gave the singer good support on the program.

Marian McMillan will sing on Thursday evening, April 30, at 8:00 p.m., in Jordon Hall.

In New England Mutual Hall, on Wednesday evening, May 6, the Boston Symphony will give a program of opereas.

WHY WERE THE SAINTS SAINTS?
By Rich Taylor

We can't really say when the saints first appeared. Some historians believe they were born in the 1st century A.D., while others claim they were created during the Middle Ages.

The important thing to remember is that the saints were people who lived their lives in love and devotion.

The days of the saints are not lost. The good old-days people were never greater. The tragedy of defeat brings forth our enemies of evil, but the real victors are the ones who stand their ground and fight.

The same is true for the saints.
Their victories were not always easy, but they were never forgotten.

For the 84th year of his age, passed on His Eminence, the Cardinal Archbishop of the Archdiocese of San Francisco, Rev. Msgr. R. J. Sullivan, C.Ss.R., San Francisco, Calif. The Rev. Msgr. Sullivan was one of the most powerful men of the Church in this country. In his death the American Church loses an outstanding leader.

The passing of the Prince of the Church will do a world of good in the American Church. In his death there is now only one in the American Church who holds the position of the Archbishop of the See of San Francisco, Cardinal Archbishop of Philadelphia, also but because Cardinal J. A. Sullivan was unique person and left an outstanding legacy on affairs, civic as well as ecclesiastical, in good and in detail, as the French phrase says.

MISSING THE BUS

Recently this newspaper "missed the bus" not entirely through the fault of the newspaper. However, since a newspaper is expected to know the going, everywhere to which service can be offered in saturation, except that we know where the bus is, we can't promise that the delegation of representative citizens interviewed Senator Socialism on the subject of the Anti-Fascist Bill, in opposition to the Anti-Fascist Bill (H. R. 17). In contrast to Senator Hartwell, W. J. Walsh, who pointed out the last week that he would vote for cloture, Senator Socialism intimated that he was leaning towards opposition. Amendment to abolish the tax-law system which deprives millions of Negroes of the right to read, write, and vote. In effect, his intimation reveals covert opposition to the anti-Fascist Bill on the part of this unknown Senator, who knows (especially a well-informed statesman like Mr. Weeks) how much the anti-Fascist Bill, having been passed by the House of Representatives, and is now making its way through the Senate who baffle bills like those of Wagner about engineering filibusters, who are now holding up this one to forward the cause of a long discussion, giving in 100 amendments in order to sabotage the Bill if the vote is all for it.

Knowing nothing of the views of Senator Weeks as expressed, we have not the right to assume that no representative of the CHRONICLE was present, we failed to tender our Junior's Association of the CHRONICLE to praise for his forethought speech against those pro-Fascist elements in the Senate of the United States. In fact, it is not even possible to mention the subject of the Anti-Fascist Bill because of the cowardice of this unknown Senator, who knows (especially a well-informed statesman like Mr. Weeks) how much the anti-Fascist Bill is being held up because of a single Senator.

NATIONAL NEGRO YOUTH WEEK

This week is being observed nationally by the Youth's News and in the Post-War World, in a manner to be observed for 10 years. A great responsibility devolves upon every adult, whether Negro or white, upon every Negro who is in a position to influence the American Youth for Democracy, the various church groups, and the Boy Scouts. By uniting with their fellow Negroes in pursuit of common objectives youth will develop the capacity for cooperation which is needed by a nation of many of them through military discipline and actual experience in field and in the rear.

The truth of the assertion that "by youth belongs the future" is not impaired by the tense.
