430 ATTEND DEANS' RECEPTION AT NEW BUILDING SITE

One of the largest turnouts for a faculty-staff gathering in Suffolk University history jammed the Adams Room in the university's newly acquired building at Somerset Street and Ashburton Place, Saturday evening Sept. 16.

An estimated 430 persons were on hand for the annual Deans' reception hosted by Dean Michael R. Ronayne of the College of Arts and Sciences, Dean David J. Sargent of the Law School and Dean Richard L. McDowell of the Business School.

The reception, which ran from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m., was open to all members of the Suffolk community and spouses and featured drinks and a wide assortment of hors d'oeuvres.

It was the first look for most of the guests at the new property the university acquired from the United Way of Massachusetts Bay, Inc. for $605,000. Papers were passed on Aug. 31 and President Fulham has set a target date of January, 1981 for occupancy.

The Adams Room, a large, impressive room with beamed ceilings, character and much warmth, is located on the lower level of the United Way building. It was once the grill room for members of the old Boston City Club, President Fulham recalled. The university has not yet determined whether the room will be maintained.

"Undoubtedly, a good number of the guests came to get a look at the new building," assessed History's John Cavanagh, coordinator of the reception, "but it was the biggest internal event the university has had in a long time."

A highlight of the reception was the presentation of Suffolk chairs to 12 members of the faculty and staff for service ranging from 20 to 30 years.

(Continued on Page Two)
Two former deans, the retired Dr. Donald W. Goodrich and Dr. Donald Grunewald, now president of Mercy College, were on hand for the evening.

Awarded rocking chairs for 30 years service were Dr. Edward G. Hartmann, recently retired history professor, Dr. Stanley M. Vogel of English, Harold M. Stone of Accounting and William F. Homer of Journalism. Those honored for 20 years were Dr. Vahe A. Sarafian of History, Dr. Donald M. Unger of Education, Thomas E. Connors of English, Dr. Florence R. Petherick of Humanities, Dean David J. Sargent and Associate Dean Malcolm M. Donahue of the Law School and administrators Pat Brown of the Law Library and P. Richard Jones of Archives.

Speakers during a brief program included Vincent A. Fulmer, chairman of the Board of Trustees, President Fulham and Deans Ronayne, Sargent and McDowell. Trustees attending were Fulmer, Fulham, Vice President-Treasurer Francis X. Flannery, John Griffin, John S. Howe, Vice-Chairman Jeanne M. Hession and Paul T. Smith.

Cavanagh praised the work of Building Superintendent Ivan Banks and his staff "for putting the room in order so quickly and so well to help make this such a successful event."

Among the delicacies served up by Seiler's Caterers of Melrose were lobster rolls, shrimp round, quiche Lorraine and Swedish meatballs.

The turnout for the reception was by far the largest ever for a deans' gathering. "In 1975-76, we had 250 for a Sunday afternoon gathering in the cafeteria," Cavanagh said. "The following year we had only 180. Last year we had 320 scheduled to attend the snowed out reception at the Museum of Science out of 538 invitations. This year we invited 550 and 415 responded and another 15 or 20 showed up."

The 12-story United Way building is 63 years old. For many years it housed the Boston City Club, an exclusive men's club. The United Way, which has set up temporary quarters at 470 Atlantic Ave., and will move to permanent quarters at 87 Kilby St., Post Office Square in December, has been located at Somerset Street and Ashburton Place since 1949.

#

MAINTENANCE NEGOTIATIONS WILL CONTINUE

Negotiations between the university and its maintenance and custodial workers are continuing with federal mediation. The parties are scheduled to meet again on Sept. 28, according to Vice President Francis X. Flannery.

There will be no strike pending further negotiations.

At issue is an assessment in medical payments of 25 per cent, something all university employees now pay. Under their previous contract, maintenance workers were not assessed for medical coverage.
THE SUN 3

COUNSELING CENTER SEMINARS ARE NOW UNDERWAY IN PCR

The University Counseling Center, in conjunction with its doctoral intern training program, is conducting a series of seven seminars this Fall.

The seminars, which began with a lecture by Dr. Betty DeGuglielmo Sept. 20, are being presented bi-weekly in the President's Conference Room, Archer 12.

Dr. Ken Garni, chairman of the Center, says that while the program is aimed as "didactic training" for three new interns, it is open to all of the Suffolk community, student and staff alike.

"The seminars will be held from 9 to 11 a.m., which is the usual time for our regular counseling program," Garni said. "We encourage students and faculty to attend."

Here is the schedule of speakers for the remaining sessions: Oct. 4 - "Psychopharmacology as an Adjunct to Therapy" with Dr. Joseph Lanning, staff psychiatrist, College Mental Health Center; Oct. 18 - "Clinical Assessment and Treatment Issues", Dr. Joan MacVicar, staff psychologist of the Center; Nov. 1 - "Understanding Medical and Neurological Correlates in Psychological Treatment" with Dr. John Sturrock, administrative director of College Mental Health Center; Nov. 15 - "Student Development Models: Implementation for Student Affairs" with Bonnie Betters-Reed, director of student activities; Nov. 29 - "Counseling Issues in Career Development" with Michael Rubino of Suffolk Placement Office, and Dec. 13 - "Dealing with People in Crisis" with Dr. Garni. This last lecture will present panels from the Suicide Prevention Center, Boston Police, Hospital Emergency Unit.

BUSINESS ED. SUMMER WORKSHOP ATTRACTS 187 PARTICIPANTS

When the University's Education Department announced plans for three workshops in business education this summer, Business Education Director Barbara Ash was hopeful of attracting 140 applicants.

Instead, an overwhelming number of 187 persons signed up for the highly successful program, all but a couple taking the courses for graduate credit.

The workshops, conducted in cooperation with Rider College and Robert Morris College of Pittsburgh, were held during the month of July. Prominent business educators from colleges around the country served as lecturers.

"The response was so good we will likely offer the program again next summer," said Ms. Ash. "We had graduate students from all six New England states and Canada and the program generated many applications for our Master of Science in Business Education program."

Typewriters were installed in Room 63A and B in the Fenton Building for some 40 students in the typewriting workshop. There were 63 students enrolled in the shorthand workshop and 84 in office education.

In addition to the workshops, three receptions and dinners were held.
NOVEL COURSE OFFERED IN LAW SCHOOL

A new course, dealing with law firm management and practice, is being presented for the first time in the Law School this semester.

The course, directed by Prof. Charles B. Garabedian with the assistance of Placement Director Anthony DeVico, is offered at only a few law schools throughout the country.

"This simulated law firm or civil litigation workshop adopts the concept of the law firm and courtroom as the center of student learning, rather than the classroom," Garabedian explained.

Student associates handle simulated legal matters from the initial interview with client, through a court hearing and on to closing file. The law firm includes managing and senior partners and associates.

"The course is designed to teach students substantive law and legal ethics and train them in lawyering skills and professionally responsible behavior," said Garabedian.

It features weekly law firm meetings between student associates and senior partners that are aimed at developing substantive competence in the law student. Students play the roles of all participants.

The course, entitled "Civil Litigation," and presented Tuesday from 1 to 3 p.m., has enrolled 43 students.

STUDENT BAR COMMITTEE
WINS TOP 'LAW DAY' HONORS

The Student Bar Association has been cited by the Law Student Division of the American Bar Association for its Law Day program last Spring.

Suffolk's Law Week Committee received the National Law Day Award at the ABA's student division annual banquet in New York City (Aug. 7).

The committee's program for the week of April 17-21 featured lectures by U.S. Attorney Edward F. Harrington on organized crime; aviation tort lawyer Lee Kriendler of New York; and liberal voir dire jury selection by Atty. Gerry Spence of Casper, Wyoming as defense counsel and Law Professors Charles Burnim as prosecutor and Judge Cornelius Moynihan as presiding judge.

Janice Brodil of Holbrook and Ralph Calderaro of Wollaston co-chaired the committee which also conducted an elderly outreach program to promote this year's Law Day theme. The program was entitled: "Access to Justice."

LAW SCHOOL ENROLLMENT
SET AT 1662 STUDENTS

Law School enrollment has been reduced another 100 with current number set at 1662 for the 1978-79 academic year.

Dean David J. Sargent said that a permanent plateau of 1600 is expected to be reached by next year in accordance with a planned reduction for AALS standards.

Despite the planned streamlining, applications are up 7 per cent in the face of a 10 per cent decline nationally, Sargent pointed out.
NEW FACULTY, STAFF ON CAMPUS

(A number of new faculty and administrators have joined the Suffolk community this Fall. Here is a capsule background on recent additions:)

ADMINISTRATION

Director of Career Planning and Placement - MICHAEL H. RUBINO - He comes to Suffolk from North Shore Community College where he held a similar position... Lives in Marblehead... Marine veteran of Vietnam War, is a 1973 graduate of Clark University (B.A. in Psychology) and has a M.Ed. from Northeastern where he is presently a doctoral student in higher education administration... Succeeds retiring James G. Woods... Rubino is married... He and his wife, Christina, are parents of a seven-month old son.

Director of Law School Admissions - MARJORIE A. CELLAR - She has a new job but Marge Cellar has been a member of the Suffolk staff since 1973, serving as assistant director since 1975... Moves into position vacated by John Deliso, who entered business... Cellar is a graduate of Wells College, Aurora, N.Y. (B.A., 1973)... Has also served as financial aid officer for law school.

Law School Librarian - EDWARD J. BANDER - He is also professor of law... Was associate law librarian at New York University for 18 years and taught legal research and paralegal course, edited the law school's alumni bulletin... Prolific author on legal works, his Mr. Dooley on the Choice of Law was a Lawyers Literary Club selection... Holds B.A. and LL.B. degrees from Boston University and a M.S. in Library Science from Simmons College. Former librarian at U.S. Court of Appeals. He and his wife, the former Frances Waite, author of children's stories and currently a copy editor for Time magazine, live in Concord... Succeeds retiring John W. Lynch.

Assistant Dean of Business School - RONALD SUNDBERG - Previously served as assistant dean for continuing education at the State College at Cortland, New York... He received his bachelor of science in business administration degree from Boston University and is completing a doctorate in education at Boston University... Married with three children, he succeeds Dr. Lin Bothwell.

Director, Management Education Center - PETER CALDWELL - He will also head up the Executive MBA program... Caldwell has his MBA from the Tuck School and is completing a Ph.D. in English at Tufts University... Has been associated with Tufts in several management capacities including business manager of the dental school... He and his wife, Phyllis, have one child and make their home in Duxbury.

(Continued on Page Six)
Director of Financial Aid - EDWINIA MIDDLETON - Was assistant director of financial aid and director of student employment at Tufts University... Also served as personnel coordinator and instructor in computer science at Control Data Institute in Burlington and a programmer researcher at Boston College... Lives in Medford. Her husband, James, a Tufts University policeman... Middleton has six children and two grandchildren... She holds a master in education from Tufts University and bachelor degrees from Northeastern and Chandler Business School... Has authored a number of articles in financial aid journals.

Student Information Officer (Fin. Aid) - JAMES MALLOZZI - A June graduate of the university with a B.S. in B.A. and president of his class, Mallozzi worked in financial aid last year as a student... Also pursuing his M.B.A. at Suffolk... Chosen outstanding senior at S.U. last May... Was Dean's List seven times in college.

LIBERAL ARTS FACULTY

Government and Economics - AGNES S. BAIN, assistant professor... Has a B.A. from McGill and a Ph.D. in political science from Boston University... After being a teaching fellow at B.U., she was lecturer and instructor at Suffolk... Lives in Lawrence.

Education - JOANNE E. CARR, assistant professor and director of special education, Dr. Carr comes to Suffolk from the University of South Florida where she has been county-wide resource teacher for programs for the emotionally handicapped... She also was adjunct professor and had a private practice for children and adolescents with emotional problems and learning disabilities... Holds a B.A. in elementary education from the University of Florida, M.A. from South Florida and a Ph.D. in special education from the University of Georgia.

Education - MICHAEL ZIFCAK, assistant professor. Dr. Zifcak has an A.B. in philosophy from Brown, an M.Ed. in special education from University of Rhode Island and Ph.D. in special ed from Connecticut... Has been a special education teacher and a teacher of learning disabilities with Providence and Warwick, R.I. school systems and lecturer in special ed at UConn.

Physics - ROBERT W. GARNER, instructor. His is a one-year non-renewable appointment to fill in for Dr. Theodore Marshall, who is on sabbatical... Garneau is a 1976 graduate of Suffolk University, summa cum laude, and a member of the Science Honor Society... Is working toward his Ph.D. in physics at Northeastern University.

Communications and Speech - EDWARD J. HARRIS, acting chairman and instructor... Coordinator of forensics the past two years at Penn State and also a teaching assistant... He has a B.A. cum laude from Plattsburgh State, an M.A. from Penn State and is close to his doctorate from Penn State... He was the first graduate student and youngest member ever elected to the National Forensic Association Executive Council.

(Continued on Page Seven)
Communications and Speech - GLORIA M. BOONE, instructor in communications... A cum laude graduate of Penn State (B.A. 1977), she was awarded an M.A. from Temple University in 1978... Her Penn State career won her numerous awards including outstanding debator award from Niagara University... Was on a graduate teaching assistantship at Temple.

History - KENNETH GREENBERG, assistant professor... Most recently was on a visiting lectureship at UMass Boston and prior to that was an assistant professor in American history at Alfred University... B.A. in history from Cornell in 1968, M.A. in American history from Columbia in 1970 and his Ph.D. from University of Wisconsin... Was a visiting fellow at Harvard the past year... A Vedder scholar at Cornell and a New York Regents scholar.

BUSINESS SCHOOL FACULTY

Management - DR. CHARLES J. SHELLEY, assistant professor... Previously taught at Northeastern and Wright State as assistant professor and was an instructor at UMass Amherst... Holds BBA from UMass Amherst and Ph.D. from there as well... Major courses are in math and statistics... Lives in Boston.

Management - DR. DANIEL A SANKOWSKY, assistant professor... Most recently was visiting professor of mathematics at Babson College where students voted him "Professor of the Year" and before that was assistant professor at Simmons College... Received his B.A. from University of Pennsylvania and Ph.D. from the University of California at Berkeley... His works, A Calculus Textbook for Math Anxious Students and The Psychodynamics of Teaching will be published next year.

Finance and Banking - H. THOMAS O'HARA, chairperson of department and assistant professor of finance... Actually joined department in January after serving as chief financial officer with the Fay School... Also been an instructor at Clark University and been a sales representative and worked with engineering personnel and management operating personnel... He received a B.S. in chemistry/mathematics from St. Lawrence University and Ph.D. in economics from Clark University.

Accounting - WELDON H. WALKER, chairperson of department and professor of accounting... Previously taught at Bentley College, University of Arkansas at Little Rock, University of Wisconsin and University of Tennessee in Knoxville... Also served as assistant director of cost studies at University of Missouri... Been a member of a number of collegiate committees including the AACSB Accreditation Committee for the University of Arkansas... Dr. Walker has his BBA and M.Ed. from North Texas State University, an M.B.A. from West Texas State and Ph. D. from University of Missouri.

LAW SCHOOL FACULTY

Distinguished Professor of Law - MILTON KATZ - A member of the Harvard faculty for 40 years, and Henry L. Stimson professor of law, he will teach courses in constitutional law and torts... Katz was the man who directed the Marshall Plan in Europe, helped to unify the Armed Forces during World War II and directed the International Legal Studies Program... He is chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and co-chairman of the American Bar Association... Born in New York City, he received his A.B. from Harvard in 1927 and his J.D. in 1931.
PEOPLE

DR. FRAN BURKE of Public Management has been appointed to a special Blue Ribbon Commission to investigate public building contracts in Massachusetts. Secretary of State Paul Guzzi appointed Burke as a citizens' representative to the seven member group. She also was named to the 1978-79 American Society for Public Administration's Committee on Professional Standards and Ethics.

BONNIE BETTERS-REED of Student Activities. She's been selected for membership in the 1978 edition of Outstanding Young Women of America. The publication honors women between the ages of 21 and 36 who have distinguished themselves professionally or in their communities.

MALCOLM M. DONAHUE, associate dean of the Law School, has been elected to a three-year term on the board of trustees of Roger Williams College in Bristol, R.I. He was one of three new trustees elected to the board.

JUDGE JOHN E. FENTON of the Massachusetts Land Court and a long-time member of the faculty and former associate dean underwent gall bladder surgery at Bon Secours Hospital but is home now and recuperating nicely. Judge Fenton is a member of the sub-committee on judicial resources and education for the Massachusetts Judicial Planning Committee.

FRANCIS X. FLANNERY, vice-president and treasurer, has been elected president of the Massachusetts Association of Non-Profit Schools and Colleges, an organization representing the interests of nearly 100 colleges and secondary schools.

D. DONALD FIORILLO, chairman of the Sociology Department, has been appointed by Gov. Dukakis to the Board of Registration of Social Workers, a seven-member certifying body. Fiorillo is a veteran of 30 years in the sociology field.

ANTHONY DeVICO, director of placement for the Law School, is president-elect of the American Justinian Society of Jurists. DeVico, former military judge and captain in the Navy, was installed at the Society's annual meeting in New York City. The society includes a number of active and retired Massachusetts judges including Associate Justice Francis Quirico of the Supreme Judicial Court.

PHYLLIS MACK of Sociology. The Massachusetts Department of Public Health selected her to attend a course in alcohol studies held at Rutgers University this summer. Mack has taught a course at Suffolk for the past few years on alcohol use and abuse and lectured extensively on the subject.

BASIL YANAKAKIS, professor of law, has been appointed distinguished scholar at Harvard Law School for the 1978-79 academic year. During the summer, he taught at Athens University School of Law in connection with a summer program between Temple University School of Law and Athens University.

#
Potpourri

Welcome back! And wasn't the Deans' reception in the Ashburton Place building as good a way to start the year as any? Among those returning to campus this year is Law Prof. JACK NOLAN, back after an extended leave of absence... The reception also proved an excellent opportunity for the many new faculty and staffers (as detailed in these pages) to meet the S.U. family... While political experts mull over the reasons for Gov. Dukakis' defeat at the polls, one recalls his famous campaign pledge of no new taxes in the Fall of 1974 - made right in the Suffolk Auditorium lobby in response to a Boston Globe reporter's question. The Governor had just finished an address to the Political Science Club...

Suffolk will be represented on Channel 4's New Action 4 TV show Friday at 8 p.m. (Sept. 29) in a discussion about parking on Beacon Hill. Among the panelists will be Dean of Students BRAD SULLIVAN, Suffolk Journal Editor JOE REPPUCCI and evening student KEVIN MORAN... Summer maternity news: MARTHA HOLMES-BARRETT of Admissions and husband Steve, a Suffolk alumnus, welcomed a daughter, Mary, Aug. 27. MIKE DWYER, our comptroller, and his wife, Margaret, greeted first child, Katherine Elizabeth, July 12 at Falmouth Hospital... PROF. LOUISE WEINBERG of the Law School visited China during the summer and conferred with officials of the Port of Shanghai concerning Chinese Maritime Law...

BEN DIAMOND, accounting professor, found his frequent trips from the Business School to Ridgeway Lane for classes rough on the feet so he tried to ease the problem. He submitted a requisition to Business Manager PAUL RYAN for a Moped. However, Ryan's tough and wouldn't buy it - but did say he would okay a skateboard for Ben... MARIAN DOLAN, formerly of the Business School, has joined Tri-Rep. Inc., incentive travel company in Boston as an ad and promotion coordinator... Our best wishes to two faculty who didn't return this year: BOB BATES of Education, who accepted a position in the Brookline Elementary schools and ALLAN KENNEDY of Speech, who joined the faculty at Morgan State... DR. DOROTHY WERTZ of Sociology presented a paper on "Social Science Attitudes Toward Women Workers 1870-1970" at a meeting of the International Sociological Association in Upsala, Sweden in August... A new reprint of DR. ED HARTMANN'S Americans from Wales has just been published by Octagon Books, New York City... Getting right to the setting, members of DR. FRED WILKINS' honors seminar in Eugene O'Neill will visit O'Neill's boyhood home in New London, Conn. on a November Saturday. That was the setting for O'Neill's Ah Wilderness! and Long Day's Journey into Night...

DEBBIE BANDA, station manager for WSFR, invites staff to drop in to the S.U. closed-circuit's new remodeled studio and offices at Ridgeway Lane 15 and 16... Suffolk's first Alumni Golf Day at Wollaston Golf Club attracted more than 50 grads and guests. Development's FRANK SABLONE (BSBA '70 and M.Ed. '71) copped low gross honors with an 81... DR. MARIA BONAVENTURA has been elected to a three-year term as national coun- cillor for the Northeastern society of the American Chemical Society. She's been a member of the board of directors for three years...

(Continued on Page Ten)
LEE SUTHERLAND of Business, proud of his sons, Bill and Phil, who with two other young men, bicycled cross-country to raise money for multiple sclerosis cause. They left Boston June 9 and arrived in San Francisco Aug. 6... Point of information: The Zieman Library is now designated as a faculty reading room since the old reading room (Archer 32) now houses the library's micro-text collection and readers. It is accessible through the Reference and Periodicals Room... Librarian Teds Hamann also reminds us of an adjustment in hours: Fridays 8 a.m.-9 p.m. and Sundays 1 p.m.-11 p.m. Hours for the other days remain the same... It is now Dr. Bob Jennings of Education. He just received his Ed.D. from Boston College... The presentation of the charter for Chi Kappa Chapter of the Beta Beta National Biological Society will be held Tuesday, Oct. 10 at 4 p.m. in the President's Conference Room...

JOHN BERG of Government has been named to the Academic Advisory Committee of the Washington Center for Learning Alternatives, a nine-member group that reviews internship programs. He will also chair a panel at the Northeastern Political Science Association Nov. 9 in Tarrytown, N.Y... The three-concert engagement of the Cremona Quartet at Suffolk this summer was co-sponsored by the L.I.F.E. committee, something overlooked in the ads and posters... ROBERTA GIANNFORTINI of Sociology attended the second annual Margaret Mead film festival at the Museum of Natural History in New York... Asst. Dean Peter Sartwell spent two weeks in Europe over the summer. A mountain climbing enthusiast, Sartwell encountered a blizzard during a climb in Thyon, Switzerland...

Just give us a ring! A skidiver probing waters off Cape Cod came up with a 1975 class ring. The diver could make out the name on the inside, called the College Registrar's Office, which in turn notified the owner. He had lost the ring while swimming... Dr. Joe McCarthy took part in the National Academy for School Executives Seminar in Defining Leadership Responsibilities in Education held at the Copley Plaza Hotel... And Stanley Dennis of Business addressed the Massachusetts Association of Public Accountants Sept. 18... From the English Department: Dr. Stanley Vogel and Dr. Fred Wilkins took in Shakespearean and other fare at the Shaw and Stratford Festivals in Ontario last August; Fred Marchant has a poem published in the second Boston poets' issue of Aspect; and Ann Boutelle has authored an article entitled "Suspense in Pregnancy" in the September issue of Vogue magazine... New bride in College Registrar's Office is Darlene (Devito) Powers... The Suffolk Journal sponsored a day-long workshop for S.U. and high school students interested in journalism last Saturday. Close to 150 turned up for the program which featured Boston Phoenix Editor Bob Sales, formerly of the Globe, Dick Levitan of the Herald, retired AP photographer Bill Chaplis and Suffolk Journal alumni Debbie Burke, Joe Gavaghan and Phil Santoro. Off the success of this one, they'll undoubtedly try for even bigger things next year... Until next month, happy foliage hunting...