Ford Hall Meetings program, 2/23/1913

Ford Hall Forum

Follow this and additional works at: https://dc.suffolk.edu/fhf-docs

Recommended Citation
https://dc.suffolk.edu/fhf-docs/114
FEBRUARY 23, 1908 — FEBRUARY 23, 1913
FIFTH BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY
FORD HALL MEETINGS

Order of Exercises

PART I.

Mr. Giovanni Imperato, Viola  Miss Helen Tufts, Violin
Miss Bessie Tufts, Piano  Mr. John Wills, Flute

1 "Serenade"  By the Trio  Beethoven

2 Author's Reading. "The Singing Man"  Mrs. Josephine Preston Peabody Marks

3 Duet for Violin and Flute  Miss Tufts and Mr. Wills  Doppler

Hymn, "America, the Beautiful"

PART II.

BIRTHDAY COMMITTEE

George Brewster Gallup, Chairman  J. T. Pennington, Secretary
Miss H. V. Hathaway  Miss Minnie A. Noyes
John J. Sullivan

RESOLUTIONS to:  Mr. J. P. Roberts, to the Ford Hall Ushers
And to Mr. John H. Gutterson  J. T. Pennington
RESOLUTIONS to Miss Mary Caroline Crawford  Miss Hathaway
PART I

Mr. Giovanni Imperato, Viola  Miss Helen Tufts, Violin
Miss Bessie Tufts, Piano  Mr. John Wills, Flute

1 "Serenade"  By the Trio  Beethoven

2 AUTHOR'S READING. "The Singing Man"  Mrs. Josephine Preston Peabody Marks

3 DUET for Violin and Flute  Miss Tufts and Mr. Wills  Doppler

Hymn, "America, the Beautiful"

PART II

BIRTHDAY COMMITTEE
George Brewster Gallup, Chairman  J. T. Pennington, Secretary
Miss H. V. Hathaway  Miss Minnie A. Noyes
John J. Sullivan

RESOLUTIONS to Mr. J. P. Roberts, to the Ford Hall Ushers  J. T. Pennington and to John H. Gutterson
RESOLUTIONS to Miss Mary Caroline Crawford  Miss Hathaway
RESOLUTIONS to the Boston Baptist Social Union  John J. Sullivan
EXTRACTS from Birthday Letters  Miss Noyes
PRESENTATION of BIRTHDAY BOOK to Mr. Coleman  George Brewster Gallup

Hymn, "O God of Earth and Altar"

PART III

Prayer and Thanksgiving

ADDRESS. "The Social Value of Free Speech"  Dr. O. P. Gifford, of Brookline
GEORGE W. COLEMAN, Chairman and Director of Meetings
Miss MARY C. CRAWFORD, Secretary for the Meetings
Office Hours at Room 707, Ford Building, State House Hill, 3:30 to 4:30 daily, except Saturdays. Telephone, Haymarket 2247

COMMITTEE IN CHARGE
James P. Roberts  John Moseley  Jesse E. Perry  Harry P. Bosson  Benjamin N. Upham
Jefferson L. Harbour
William E. Macurda

COMMITTEE OF CITIZENS
Dr. E. C. Grafton  Rev. Edward H. Chandler  Rev. Dillon Bronson
GEORGE W. COLEMAN, Chairman and Director of Meetings

Miss MARY C. CRAWFORD, Secretary for the Meetings

Office Hours at Room 709, Ford Building, State House Hill, 3:30 to 4:30 daily, except Saturdays. Telephone, Haymarket 2247

COMMITTEE IN CHARGE

James P. Roberts
John Moseley
Jefferson L. Harbour

Jesse E. Perry
Harry P. Bosson
Benjamin N. Upham
William E. Macurdy

COMMITTEE OF CITIZENS

Rev. Edward Cummings
Rev. Edward H. Chandler
Rev. Dillon Bronson

Mrs. Glendower Evans
Mrs. Richard Y. Fitzgerald
Miss Ellen Paine Huling

Meyer Bloomfield
Franklin H. Wentworth
Robert A. Woods

Edwin D. Mead
John T. Prince
James P. Munroe

George B. Gallup

INSIDE

FORD HALL USHERS

J. P. ROBERTS, Chief

Arthur H. Axberg
William Clark
H. McCulloch

Nathan I. Goodman
Jack Kaufman

J. S. BALLOU, Chief

Morris Vutense
Louis J. Dodsworth
Samuel Sackmary

William H. Smith

Harry E. Burrough
Herbert L. Greene
Maurice A. Margolis

Maurice Richmond, Jr.

Arthur F. Thomson
Herbert P. Ware

Jacob Levy
Miss Bessie Ogilvie

HOW SUPPORTED: These Meetings are made possible through the funds left to the Boston Baptist Social Union (in whose Hall we meet) by the late DANIEL SHARP FORD, who owned The Youth's Companion. The management is in the hands of a Committee from the Social Union.
[This poem was selected by the Committee from among the collection of Birthday Letters.]

THE "FORD HALL FOLKS."

Why stream the "Folks" at even tide,
With earnest look and rapid stride,
To Beacon Hill?

Why crowd the street from end to end,
Until the throng the corners bend,
And doorways fill?

Not one has face with gloom o'ercast,
Not one is priest of "worn out" past,
In that great line.

They've found an altar, just and strong,
By kindness built, to banish wrong,
And good incline.

Each takes his place and waits his turn,
To file within, where fires burn,
And hopes entwine.

Here frailest maid, and humblest man,
And merest child, of mill-worn clan,
May life refine.

This brightly lit, and spacious Hall,
Besieged by throngs of great and small,
Seems all divine.

No empty temple, lone, and bare,
Where few are found to offer pray'r,
Is this great shrine.

With songs, and pray'r and sentiment,
They raise their hearts in love's great vent,
And none decline.

The Master of the feast is there,
To guide the host, the way prepare,
And wisdom twine.

With utmost freedom of the mind.
Though varied much in force and kind,
Each speaks his word.

No clash of age, or sex, or clan,
So common to the common man,
Is herein heard.

This is the Forum of the free,
Discussing things that are to be,
Without a fear.

Here each one dreams of golden days,
When love's pure thoughts, and love's sweet ways,
Shall bring men near.

No Jew or Gentile, bond or free,
In those great days, on earth shall be,
But only men.

No color then, no social need,
No heart without its fullest meed,
When all are men.

With my love and admiration,

FREDERICK B. GREUL.

AMERICA, THE BEAUTIFUL

O beautiful for spacious skies,
For amber waves of grain,
For purple mountain majesties
Above the fruited plain!
America! America!
God shed His grace on thee,
And crown thy good with brotherhood
From sea to shining sea!

O beautiful for pilgrim feet,
Whose stern, impassioned stress,
A thoroughfare for freedom beat
Across the wilderness!

O beautiful for pilgrim feet,
Whose stern, impassioned stress,
A thoroughfare for freedom beat
Across the wilderness!

O beautiful for glorious tale
Of liberating strife,
When valiantly, for man's avail,
Men lavished precious life!
America! America!
May God thy gold refine,
Till all success be nobleness,
And ev'ry gain divine!

O beautiful for patriot dream
That sees beyond the years
Thine alabaster cities gleam
Undimmed by human tears!

America! America!
AMERICA, THE BEAUTIFUL

O beautiful for spacious skies,
For amber waves of grain,
For purple mountain majesties
Above the fruited plain!
America! America!
God shed His grace on thee,
And crown thy good with brotherhood
From sea to shining sea!

O beautiful for pilgrim feet,
Whose stern, impassioned stress,
A thoroughfare for freedom beat
Across the wilderness!
America! America!
God mend thine ev'ry flaw,
Confirm thy soul in self-control,
Thy liberty in law!

Frederick B. Greul.

O GOD OF EARTH AND ALTAR

(To the music of "Webb")

O God of earth and altar
Bow down and hear our cry,
Our earthly rulers falter,
Our people drift and die;
The walls of gold entomb us,
The swords of scorn divide,
Take not Thy thunder from us,
But take away our pride.

From all that terror teaches,
From lies of tongue and pen,
From all the easy speeches
That comfort cruel men,
From sale and profanation
Of honor and the sword,
From sleep and from damnation,
Deliver us, good Lord.

Tie in a living tether
The priest and prince and thrall,
Bind all our lives together,
Smite us and save us all;
In ire and exultation
Aflame with faith, and free;
Lift up a living nation,
A single sword to Thee.

—Katherine Lee Bates.

—G. K. Chesterton.
December 24, 1912.

FORD HALL,
CRADLE OF FRATERNITY,

Greetings:

Ford Hall: what magic in its name; what a charmed atmosphere surrounds it! 'Tis Christmas Eve; I am penning these lines while the Christmas carols are being chanted in the adjoining streets: "Peace on earth, good will to men." Ah, the dream of the millennium. I arise sore at heart; open the window of my rear room; there stands Ford Hall: how silent, how mute, but hold,—how eloquent and majestic it is, even in its muteness, for it seems to cry out in the night,—"Why can Jew and Gentile, rich or poor, meet here on common ground as brothers all, and not everywhere!" "'Tis Sunday, come Stranger, from whatever clime, professing whatever faith, and enter with me, within its portals, dedicated to the brotherhood of man." Note how joyous everyone appears to be! There is the Jew, the negro, the Irish, the Italian, the Yankee, aye, even the Turk; never a disturbance, never even an ill-spoken word, my honor for it, though they have been standing in the cold without for two hours full. And this, for five seasons past! Ah, the Sunday nights, how I long for them! Kind and genial Coleman in the chair; sweet and sisterly Miss Crawford at her faithful post; while there is Brother Gutterson at the piano. Observe his contented smile, for his soul is in the song. A song of dogmatic creed? Happily, no; for you are in Ford Hall now and 'tis the brotherhood song. The fatherhood of God is in the very air. And to think that Sunday evening theatre concerts once held charms for me; oh, the horror of it. The speaker has rendered his discourse; many have disagreed with him, but mark you, not one discourteous act has been noted. I am a Jew, you know, and some of the dearest friends I possess were formerly rabid Jew-haters. But such animosity cannot exist in Ford Hall atmosphere; it melts. And you may rest assured that I in return have learned to love my Christian neighbors, God bless them. Such is Christianity, Stranger, as Ford Hall expounds it.

Members of the Baptist Social Union:

A parting word as regards your Chairman at Ford Hall. Speaking as a Jew on behalf of the Jews, I can chanted in the adjoining streets: "Peace on earth, good will to men." Ah, the dream of the millennium. I arise sore at heart, open the window of my rear room; there stands Ford Hall: how silent, how mute, but hold,—how eloquent and majestic it is, even in its muteness, for it seems to cry out in the night,—"Why can Jew and Gentile, rich or poor, meet here on common ground as brothers all, and not everywhere!" "‘Tis Sunday, come Stranger, from whatever clime, professing whatever faith, and enter with me, within its portals, dedicated to the brotherhood of man." Note how joyous everyone appears to be! There is the Jew, the negro, the Irish, the Italian, the Yankee, aye, even the Turk; never a disturbance, never even an ill-spoken word, my honor for it, though they have been standing in the cold without for two hours full. And this, for five seasons past! Ah, the Sunday nights, how I long for them! Kind and genial Coleman in the chair; sweet and sisterly Miss Crawford at her faithful post; while there is Brother Gutterson at the piano. Observe his contented smile, for his soul is in the song. A song of dogmatic creed? Happily, no; for you are in Ford Hall now and ‘tis the brotherhood song. The fatherhood of God is in the very air. And to think that Sunday evening theatre concerts once held charms for me; oh, the horror of it. The speaker has rendered his discourse; many have disagreed with him, but mark you, not one discourteous act has been noted. I am a Jew, you know, and some of the dearest friends I possess were formerly rabid Jew-haters. But such animosity cannot exist in Ford Hall atmosphere; it melts. And you may rest assured that I in return have learned to love my Christian neighbors, God bless them. Such is Christianity, Stranger, as Ford Hall expounds it.

Members of the Baptist Social Union:

A parting word as regards your Chairman at Ford Hall. Speaking as a Jew on behalf of the Jews, I can truthfully state with all sincerity, that the name of George W. Coleman is held with the tenderest affection; while his loftiness of purpose, combined with such genial personality, has attained for him a popularity among them that cannot be likened unto another in our midst.

In Memoriam.

Daniel Sharp Ford: May his name forever be linked with posterity, and his life’s work an inspiration for others to go and do likewise. Peace to his memory!

Samuel Sackmary,
45 Joy Street, Boston.