DR. DANIEL H. PERLMAN ASSUMES SUFFOLK U. PRESIDENCY

Suffolk University's new president, Dr. Daniel H. Perlman, has assumed his duties as the university's seventh chief executive.

Perlman began his duties full-time on Sept. 29, but the Chicago educator had been on campus a number of times, addressed the orientation program for new students, and met with many faculty and administrators.

Dr. Perlman, former vice president for administration at Chicago's Roosevelt University, was also present for the Dean's Reception last Saturday at Great Hall in Quincy Market where some 400 of the Suffolk community and guests gathered for Suffolk's annual all-university get-together.

During the transition period between President Thomas A. Fulham's retirement and Perlman's arrival, Vice President-Treasurer Francis X. Flannery served as acting president.

Dr. Perlman was sworn in at the Sept. 4 meeting of the Board of Trustees, taking the oath of office from Judge Lawrence L. Cameron of the Suffolk Board of Trustees.

In his introductory talk to some 385 new freshmen, Dr. Perlman joked that he, too, was a freshman to Suffolk University and said he looked forward to meeting them during the course of the year. In discussing the importance of Suffolk University to higher education he noted, "Suffolk University is one of the few independent non-sectarian universities to serve the metropolitan area and as such has a vital role to play in higher education, not only in Boston but nationally."

(Continued on Page Two)
(Ed. note: The Fall Suffolk University Alumni Bulletin will carry a cover story and interview with Suffolk's new president. It is expected to be off the presses in October.)

The 45-year old Perlman becomes Suffolk's youngest president and his selection culminated a six-month nation-wide search in which some 150 candidates were considered by an 18-member Presidential Search Committee made up of faculty, students, trustees, and alumni.

Perlman's selection was announced by Board Chairman Vincent A. Fulmer at an all-university meeting Aug. 1. Fulmer hailed Perlman as "an energetic champion of urban education in America and a colleague eminently qualified by background and experience to lead Suffolk University during the 1980's."

Fulmer also paid tribute to the search committee under the leadership of Dean Joseph H. Strain for its dedication and long hours and to the highly successful election process itself, unprecedented in Suffolk's 75-year history.

Daniel Perlman has won wide acclaim as a highly competent administrator in urban education. Three years ago, he was one of five educators selected from throughout the nation for a Presidential Exchange Program. He served as a special assistant to the Deputy Commissioner for Higher and Continuing Education in the U.S. Office of Education in Washington.

He has served at Roosevelt University for 20 years, starting as a psychological counselor, later serving as director of government relations, assistant to the president, dean of administration and professor of education and secretary to the board of trustees.

He is a graduate of Shimer College in Mt. Carroll, Illinois, graduating at 19 in 1954. He also holds an A.B., master of arts and Ph.D. from the University of Chicago.

His wife, the former Suzanne Meyer, holds a Ph.D. from Northwestern University where she taught courses in learning disabilities. The Perlmans have two children, Julia, 11, and David, 8, and will settle in the Greater Boston area after selling their home in Evanston, Ill.

DAVID SALIBA NAMED TO BOARD

Atty. David J. Saliba of Winchester, a 1952 graduate of Suffolk University Law School, has been elected an alumni representative on the university Board of Trustees.

Saliba, a Boston attorney specializing in appellate tax law, was elected to a three-year term on the board. He succeeds Michael L. Linquata of Gloucester, who completed his three-year elected term in June.

Saliba, who also holds an associate of arts degree from the undergraduate colleges, has been an active alumnus for many years. At the time of his election to the board, he was serving as a director of the Law School Alumni Association and formerly served as president of the association.

He was also chairman of the Annual Law School Alumni dinner and served as class marshall for the 1977 June commencement. He also served as chairman of the Law School's Annual Fund in the Winchester area.

Saliba is married to the former Gild Corso, B.A. 1950. They have four children.
WE'RE ALMOST 75 AND GETTING READY TO SHOUT ABOUT IT!

The days are getting closer to Suffolk's 75th birthday, the anniversary of the institution's founding as an evening law school back in 1906, and plans are well underway to celebrate this joyous milestone with a year-long series of activities.

Already, the university has made its upcoming birthday known through the appearance of a giant float in Boston's Jubilee 350 Grand Parade, which attracted some 1.5 million spectators and untold thousands of television viewers. Only a handful of the area's colleges participated in the parade and Suffolk's smartly decorated blue and gold display was the second float to appear in the six-hour parade through downtown Boston.

A Jubilee 75 committee, headed by Judge Lawrence L. Cameron of the university's Board of Trustees, has been meeting and planning the activities. A Jubilee logo has been selected (see nearby) and a Jubilee calendar will be distributed in December.

An all-university kickoff involving students and faculty is scheduled for late January of 1981 and a series of colloquia will be held by Suffolk's three schools during the winter and early spring. There will also be a Charter Day reception planned for a Boston hotel and a big graduation activity around commencement time.

Activities will continue in September with a Founder's Day convocation on Sept. 19 and other programs in October and November. Twenty-five members of the university community comprise the Jubilee board which is headed by an administrative board, chaired by Judge Cameron, and assisted by Ellen F. Foley, assistant director of development, the convener, Mary R. Ferris, clerk of the General Alumni Association, David L. Robbins of the History Department, Lanier Smythe of Humanities and Languages, and Mary Ann Young of the Student MBA Association.
NEW COMPUTER SYSTEM INSTALLED

The university's new Prime 750 computer system has been installed and its uses are being expanded both academically and administratively, Paul Ladd, director of data processing services, reports.

"We ran this year's registration parallel on both the old and new systems (the old system through Babson College) and we expect to convert totally to the new system by Oct. 1," Ladd said.

The Prime 750 computer is located on the second floor at Charles River Plaza and ultimately will be housed in the new Ashburton Building.

Billed by Prime as "the most powerful member of Prime's new family of hardware and software systems," it will integrate all of the university's administrative data processing systems. The software is an integrated college administration package called Solution, marketed by the Datatel Minicomputer Co. of Alexandria, Va.

The new system will replace a small business computer in the Business office, a service bureau in Lexington used by the Alumni office and time-sharing services purchased by the university.

CAPITAL CAMPAIGN REACHES $1,256,627

The Campaign for Excellence is well underway and has reached a total of $1,256,627 in pledges in its goal towards $2,735,000.

Development Director Frank L. Whitson said that the campaign is currently focusing on the leadership and special gifts phases. Those being solicited for leadership gifts include corporations, foundations, alumni and friends of the university.

John S. Howe, retired Boston bank executive, is serving as campaign chairman.

The campaign kicked off June 3 at a dinner honoring retiring President Thomas A. Fulham at the Park Plaza Hotel. It passed the million mark in its first weeks.

Whitson expects the campaign to reach the halfway mark shortly with the summer now over and a new season upon us.

The Campaign for Excellence is part of a $9,930,000 Facilities Development Project, chief of which is the total renovation of the Ashburton Place Building, purchased from the United Way for $605,000.

The 12-story building is slated to open in September of 1981. Clerk of the Works John Wilson said that construction is ahead of schedule structurally.

Concrete pouring began this week on the first floor and workers have begun to erect steel on the basement A level. Partition work has begun on the sixth floor to the 12th and wiring is in place and ducts readied for ventilation.

"Demolition is about 95 per cent completed," Wilson said.
EEO REMINDER ON HARASSMENT -

The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission has recently issued amended interpretive guidelines on discrimination because of sex under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act to include sexual harassment. Although always considered a violation of Title VII, harassment on the basis of sex has proven to be so widespread that the EEOC felt it necessary to issue special guidelines in this area of potential sexual discrimination.

All administrative and academic departments have been issued a policy memorandum defining what constitutes sexual harassment and of the university's method of complying with the guidelines. Any staff member who may desire further information regarding this subject should contact the Personnel and EEO Office.

* * * * * * * *

FROM THE ACCOUNTING OFFICE - Paula M. Fleck, manager of student accounts, reminds all employees and dependents taking courses at the university that they must file the proper forms with the Personnel Office. Failure to do so will result in the individual being billed by the Accounting Office.

* * * * * * * *

NEW GRANTS OFFICER - The university, as a service to faculty and staff, has recently established a grants office within the university Development Department.

Marjorie C. Kelleher, formerly executive secretary to President Fulham, has been appointed grants officer. She is available to advise and assist faculty and staff members interested in securing grant support for institutional projects and programs, individual support and educational service agreements from external public or private sources.

The grants office is located on the third floor at Charles River Plaza. Telephone extension is 368.

* * * * * * * *

BIG DROP IN LARCENIES IN '79 - University Police Chief Edward P. Farren, Jr. reports that larcenies on university property in 1979 were cut in half from 1978. In his annual report, Farren listed 72 larcenies in '79 compared to 146 the previous year. There were also great reductions in breaks, 61 to 13; assault and battery, 22 to 10. Robberies dropped from 41 to 36.

Farren also said that statistics for the period through August of 1980 show a big decline in larcenies on campus from 1979 and expects that final year end figures may be less than 1979.

(Continued on Page Six)
He urges all members of the community to report all incidents to the university police. Chief Farren calls attention to a new booklet on rape prevention, published by the university police, and urges all members of the Suffolk community to read it.

* * * * * * * * * *

NEW EMPLOYEES

Ellen Shea of Medford, secretary, Sociology; Mary Athanis of Boston, staff secretary, Counseling Center; Allie Kafel of Somerville, programmer, Data Processing; Josephine Agliata of Somerville, secretary, Physical Plant; Mary O'Donnell of Dorchester, secretary, Assistant Dean's Office, CLAS; Diane Connolly of South Boston, secretary, Dean's Office, CLAS/Education; Joan Ellen Hurley of Boston, secretary, Humanities and Languages; Paula Dutton of Boston, secretary, History/Philosophy; Cynthia Caldwell of Cambridge, receptionist, School of Management; Rochelle Hardaway of Mattapan and Roger Blackwell of Reading, clerical assistants, College Registrar's Office; Stephen Bushy of Everett, reference assistant, College Library; Paula Guelpa of Somerville, secretary, Word Process/Law; Rose DelBorgo of Somerville, secretary, Law Review; Kathy Webber of Everett, staff secretary, SULAB-Charlestown; Sandra Mongeon of Boston, secretary, Law School; Pamela Paganis of Marblehead, library assistant, Law Library; and William Mulkern Jr. of Chelsea, University Police Officer.

NEW FACULTY, STAFF ON CAMPUS

(There are a number of new full-time faculty and staff on campus as we move into the 1980-81 academic year. Here are some of the people you may be meeting this year.)

BLAKE, JAMES A., associate professor of biology. B.A. in biology, M.A. in biology, California State University, Ph.D., University of Maine. Most recently he was associate professor of marine biology and assistant director of the Pacific Marine Station, University of the Pacific.

BRICKLEY, GAIL, assistant registrar for the Colleges. She succeeds Joan Monahan who has become registrar at Lesley College. Ms. Brickley most recently has been employed by Malden Hospital as administrative assistant to departments of surgery and anesthesia and was formerly employed by Suffolk University in both the Sociology Department and College Registrar's Office.

COLE, DEBORAH S., assistant professor of education. B.A.(cum laude) in French and education, Ohio Wesleyan University, M.Ed. with honors, University of Miami, Ed.D. in counseling, Boston University. She has served as a lecturer at Suffolk and was a therapist at the Isis Centre, Littlemore Hospital, Oxford, England.

(Continued on Page Seven)
NEW FACULTY, STAFF-  (Continued from Page Six)

FIENMAN, BARBARA, assistant director of student activities. B.A., University of Massachusetts, Ed.M., Boston University. She is enrolled as a Ph.D. candidate in higher education administration at Boston College. Previously was director of student activities at Mt. Ida Junior College.

FINN, THOMAS R., assistant professor of law. B.A. with honors in American Civilization, Brown University, J.D., Georgetown University Law Center. Had been a legal practical skills instructor at Suffolk and staff attorney at Rhode Island Legal Services, Providence.

GLANNON, JOSEPH W., assistant professor of law. A cum laude graduate of Harvard College, where he was Phi Beta Kappa, he holds a master's from Harvard School of Education and received his J.D. from Harvard Law School. Previously was an instructor in Suffolk's legal practice skills program and a legal consultant for the City of Boston.

HALE, ROSEMARY, audio-visual/graphics coordinator for the Instructional Materials Center. B.S., Kent State University, M.A., Eastern Michigan University. She has performed free-lance writing, editing, brochure design and development, and had been employed as research assistant for Indiana University's Handicapped Learner Materials Distribution Center and graduate student assistant for Indiana University Photo Lab.

HALLADAY, MAURICE E., assistant professor of management. B.S., Tufts University, M.S., U.S. Naval Postgraduate School in Monterey, California. Candidate for Ph.D. at UMass/Amherst. Prior to that, comptroller of Naval Air Engineering Center, Lakehurst, N.J.

HOURTIENNE, LAURA, assistant professor of German. B.A., MacMurray College, M.A., University of Illinois, Ph.D., Bryn Mawr. She also holds a four-year diploma from the Boston Museum School. Most recently she was a part-time instructor and resident for the ARTISTS-IN-SCHOOLS program as part of the Region Two Community Action Agency in Hillsdale, Michigan.

(Continued on Page Eight)
JIN, KYOMAN GREGORY, associate professor of management. B.A., M.A., Ohio State University, D.B.A., George Washington University. Previously was university computer and information systems officer at the University of Maryland.

KASSAYE, WANDWOSSEN, associate professor of marketing. B.B.A., Addis Ababa University, Ethiopia, M.A. and Ph.D., University of Illinois. Was assistant professor of management at Sangamon State University before coming to Suffolk.

LITTLE, LILLIAN O., assistant professor of management. B.S., M.B.A., Syracuse University. Ph.D. candidate at that university. Has been a teaching assistant at Syracuse University.

MATTEI, NANCY M., assistant professor of psychological services. B.A. (magna cum laude) in psychology, Boston University, Ed.D. in counseling psychology, B.U. Before coming to Suffolk, she was a staff psychologist at Bridgewater's Multi-Service Center.

MATTOX, RICHARD H., consulting professor of management. A.B., University of Michigan, M.P.A., Syracuse University. Previously was chairman and associate professor in the Department of Government and Public Service at Russell Sage College.

MIRABITO, ANTHONY J., assistant professor of law. B.S. in physics engineering, New York University, College of Engineering and Science; J.D., American University, Washington College of Law; and a master of laws from Georgetown University Law Center. Prior to joining the law faculty, he was an international attorney for the law department of Westinghouse Electric Corp. in Pittsburgh.

(Continued on Page Nine)
MURPHY, RUSSELL G., associate professor of law. B.A. (magna cum laude), University of Massachusetts/Amherst; J.D. (cum laude), Suffolk University Law School. Previously an associate professor at Suffolk Law, he had been assistant dean at Boston College Law School for the past two years.

NOWAK, PETER, director of Executive MBA program in the School of Management. B.A., Eastern Kentucky University and expects to be awarded his M.A. from Catholic University in December, 1980. He formerly served as the coordinator for the Fairfax Center for Continuing Education at Fairfax, Virginia.

REED, ARTHUR E., instructor in accounting. B.S.B.A., Northeastern University, M.B.A., Northeastern, CPA in Massachusetts. Prior to now, was a senior accountant at Arthur Anderson & Co. in Boston.

RUBIN, RICHARD, visiting professor of public management. A.B., Middlebury College, M.I.L.R., Ph.D., Cornell University. Previously professor and administrator at Indiana University.

SPITZER, STEVEN, associate professor of sociology and acting chairman of Department of Sociology. B.A., M.A., University of Maryland, Ph.D., Indiana University. He has received fellowships at the University of Northern Iowa and Harvard University Law School and this year was a National Endowment for the Humanities postdoctoral fellow.

SWEETGALL, SUSAN, reference librarian in the Law Library. B.A., M.L.S., Syracuse University. Previously was a reference librarian at Roxbury Community College and an assistant librarian at Garland Junior College.

WALSH, JOSEPH, director of intramural programs and athletic assistant. B.S., Suffolk University. Previously has been a program coordinator for Dorchester Parks and Playgrounds and a player/coach for Dorchester Town Baseball team. While at Suffolk he was a student official for the university intramural programs and played varsity baseball.

YENER, DEMIR, assistant professor of finance. B.S., Ph.D., Ankara Academy of Economic and Commercial Sciences, Turkey, M.B.A., Syracuse University.
Potpourri

There probably wasn't a bigger way to kick off another academic year than the appearance of Suffolk's float in Boston's giant Jubilee 350 parade a week ago and the attention-grabber that our 75th anniversary is fast approaching. Some 1.5 million folks turned out on Boston streets for the six-hour parade and thousands more watched on television. Suffolk was one of only two schools offering floats (Northeastern was the other). A big SUN beam to the following students who rode or walked with the float and helped out the Jubilee Committee: MARY SINGLETON, DONNA HARVEY, Vinnie CONTE, NANCY CONTI, Tom LENOX, BARRY FITZGERALD, PHIL SUTHERLAND, BILL ENGEL, ANN COYNE, SHEILA AHEARN, ELIZABETH MULHERIN, and ANN HARRINGTON. Speaking of Jubilee 350, among those voted one of the 350 Grand Bostonians was President Emeritus THOMAS A. FULHAM, but he had to miss the ball honoring the select group because he and wife, ANNETTE, were taking a well-deserved trip to Hawaii.

Suffolk faculty were involved in a number of pursuits over the summer. DAVID PFEIFFER of Public Management helped draft the proposed regulations to implement Chapter 595 of the 1979 Acts of the Mass. General Court barring discrimination based on a handicapping condition in public accommodations. He also was part of a group of advocates to confer with Mass. A.G. Frank Bellotti on the Pennhurst case, involving public education in an appropriate setting for children with special needs.

ARTHUR WEST of Biology organized a very successful Tall Ship cruise to our marine biology station at Cobscook Bay. Fifteen Suffolk alumni, staff and faculty took the scientific nine-day cruise. IMC's DON MIKES was along to film and tape things and a special audio presentation will be shown on Sunday, Oct. 19 at the New England Aquarium at 6 and 7:30 p.m. for Suffolk faculty and staff.

West also reminds readers that the annual Fall field trip to Cobscook Bay will be the weekend of Oct. 10. Contact him at Extension 347 if you're interested.

CAROL ROBB of Humanities and Languages served on the leadership team for the annual meeting of the National Assembly of Women Religious in Milwaukee. KENNETH F. GARNI, director of the Counseling Center, was elected president-elect of the International Association of Counseling Services. The Counseling Center and Suffolk U. will be acting as one of the collegiate hosts for the upcoming National Conference of Counseling Center Directors in Hyannis on Oct. 5.

JOSEPH P. McETTRICK of the Law faculty has been appointed by Gov. King to the Judicial Nominating Commission.

HAROLD STONE of SOM has been reelected to the Mass. Association of Public Accountants board of directors.

(Continued on Page Eleven)
POTPOURRI- (Continued from Page Ten)

PUBLISHINGS: EDWARD CLARK of English has published an article on artist Allan Rohan Crite and mother in Melus, the journal of the Society for the Study of Multi-Ethnic Literature of the U.S. . . . Colleague ROBERT K. JOHNSON has an essay in the winter, 1979 issue of Explorations...

November Boston Magazine picks Boston's most influential women and among them is Suffolk's FRAN BURKE of Public Management, who in addition to her academic reputation, has won acclaim for her service as a special member on the Special Commission Concerning State and County Buildings. . . . Sympathies are extended to Dean JOSEPH STRAIN, DON LEVITAN of Public Management, and DAVE ROBBINS of History on the loss of their mothers and to Journalism's DICK PREISS on the passing of his grandmother. . . .

ALBERTO MENDEZ of Humanities and Languages conveys his appreciation for the many calls and cards received in connection with his wife, Violeta's recent surgery. Mrs. Mendez is recovering nicely at home . . . The School of Management's Department of Public Administration has been included on the list of programs meeting peer review standards of the National Association of Schools of Public Affairs and Administration. This is the equivalent of accreditation for an MPA program because NASPAA is the sole organization conducting such a review . . . DR. GLEN ESKEDAL of Education has been elected president of the North Atlantic Regional Association for Counselor Education and Supervision and department colleague R. ARTHUR WINTERS has been elected to the membership committee . . .

The June Boston Bar Journal carried an article, by JOSEPH A. CAULFIELD JR., "Can Babylon Prevail?" Caulfield is executive director of the Suffolk University Legal Assistance Bureau . . . Law Prof. RICHARD M. PERLMUTTER has co-authored a law school casebook, Contracts: Contemporary Cases and Materials, published by Callaghan & Co. of Chicago. The book was the work of Perlmutter and law professors from three other law schools . . . For the first time in 20 years, a woman heads the Suffolk Student Government Association. She's MARY SINGLETON of Dorchester . . .

(Continued on Page Twelve)
On the social scene, Accounting's NANCY WALSH has announced her engagement to Bob O'Connor of Brookline, planning a November, 1981 wedding. . . .

BOB WEST of Development and wife, Erin, have moved into a new home in Weymouth to await the arrival of their first child. . . .

DON LEVITAN of Public Management served on the faculty at the third annual New England Municipal Clerks Academy Institute at Salve Regina College in Newport, R.I. He was also invited to discuss government operation on the state and local level on WNTN's talk show in Newton. . . .

Presenting papers at conclaves were DORIS LEWIS of Chemistry, whose paper entitled, "The Broad Option Laboratory: Some Applications," was delivered at the 6th biennial chemical education conference held at Rochester Institute of Technology, and Prof. DOROTHY WERTZ of Sociology presented "What Birth Has Done for Doctors: A Historical View" at the annual meeting of the American Sociological Association in New York. . . .

RICHARD PREISS and MALCOLM BARACH attended the national convention of the Association for Education in Journalism held at Boston University in August, and ANTHONY MERZLAK gave a talk, "Franz Kafka's 'Metamorphosis': A Psychological Interpretation," at the Classical Institute of Tufts University. . . .

BILL COUCHLIN of Admissions was a member of the faculty for the summer workshop on College Admissions for new secondary school guidance and college admissions counselors at Holy Cross College in July. . . .

Congratulations to ED HARRIS, chairman of Speech, and his Walter M. Burse debaters for placing in the top 10 in the nation among schools with 3000 to 10,000 enrollment. Suffolk finished sixth out of 300 schools and ranked ahead of such institutions as Dartmouth, Wake Forest, and Baylor. . . .

Law librarian ED BANDER was elected to the board of directors of the Law Library Consortium, a non-profit Hawaii corporation made up of 96 universities, law schools, state libraries and governmental libraries. . . .

JOE VACCARO of Marketing is a member of the Boston chapter of the American Marketing Association's Board of Directors for the 1980-81 season. . . .

Suffolk's new varsity hockey coach JOHN CORBETT of Tewksbury has added an assistant. He is DANA R. MRRILL, who has been coaching at Dracut High School. . . .

Law Prof. CHARLES GARABEDIAN informs us that one of his former students, CHRIS HENES, received a special resolution from the Governor's Council commending him for his public service for that body as an intern while a third-year law student. . . .

The School of Management has lined up an outstanding speaker for its Oct. 4 Distinguished Speaker Series. He's J. Peter Grace, president and chief officer of the world-wide chemical company W.R. Grace & Co., which has annual sales of over $5 billion. . . .

Let's hear it for Education's JOANNE CARR. Not only is she an excellent swimmer and a member of the New England Masters Swim Club (made up of many ex-Olympic performers) but she put these talents to use for the Cambridge YMCA's Aquathon to aid the battle against cystic fibrosis and help the Youth Corp Service Team. Joanne came out number one, swimming 134 laps (or a mile and a half) and earning more than $100 for the causes. The Y presented her a trophy. . . .

That's the way it is, this month. See you in October. . . .