New University Acquisition

The University moved a step closer to occupancy of the Wright & Potter Building at 32 Derne Street with the December 29 passing of papers making Suffolk the owner of the property. Papers were signed in the President's Conference Room.

Present for the signing were Vice President and Treasurer Francis X. Flannery and Albert W. Rockwood, president of Wyman Trust, the owner of the property, Atty. William K. Mackey, counsel for Wyman Trust, and Kenneth A. Korb, counsel for the university.

Vice President Flannery expressed hope that the University might be able to occupy the building by the end of the year to begin renovations. Under terms of the agreement, the Wright & Potter printing firm holds an extended lease, and the university will not move into the five-story structure until such lease expires. Mr. Flannery said that Suffolk will meet with its architects in February to consider interior design for classrooms and offices.

Alumni Appeal 1972 - Final Figures

The final totals for the first Alumni Appeal have been completed and your response was heartening. For a first appeal, the response in number of participants was higher than national averages for first appeals. Five hundred eighty seven alumni participated. This figure represents a significant step forward in alumni-university cooperation. The increasing activity of the alumni in University affairs is essential if Suffolk is to continue to meet the increasing needs of higher education in the seventies. We hope your response in the upcoming 1973 appeal is stronger than ever.

On page four is a summary of pertinent statistics for the 1972 appeal. The University, its administration, faculty and students would like to thank you, the alumni, for your continuing support.

Wake up your Mind - Alumni-Faculty Seminars

What's new in the Law? Management? How do the Consumer and the Environment interrelate? Where is the family unit headed? Discuss these questions and learn about current thinking in these areas at the Alumni Faculty Seminars on March 31. Four different discussion/lectures will be held which are aimed at helping our Alumni continue their education.

The day won't all be serious though - a sumptuous luncheon will be included in the $ 5.00 registration fee and President Fulham will host a reception after the seminars.

If you haven't already, complete the enclosed registration envelope and return it immediately to Miss McNamara, Secretary of General Alumni Affairs, Suffolk University, Beacon Hill, Boston, 02146,

A MESSAGE FROM THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION PRESIDENT

Dear Fellow Alumnus:

As Suffolk University and I mark the thirty-fifth year of our alma mater/alumnus relationship, I consider it an honor to have been elected its Alumni Association's President. The physical plant at which we studied in 1938 consisted of just that one building at the corner of Temple and Derne Streets now known as the "Archer Building." Upon returning to the old stamping grounds recently, I was pleasantly surprised to see that Suffolk now has the "Donahue Building" on Temple Street, has had to move some of its offices to former residences on the east side to Temple Street and has acquired the College of Business Administration Bldg. on Mount Vernon St. and the Wright & Potter property on Derne Street to accommodate its continuing growth. And, best of all, the measure of progress has not been limited to just using more real estate; academic standards are higher and course offerings are broader than they used to be.

Our future as an Alumni Association looks bright. Suffolk's President Fulham, Board Chairman Judge Fenton and Secretary of Alumni Affairs Dotty McNamara have all assured my fellow officers and me of full cooperation and a budget allowance adequate to build an active and effective organization. The only thing needed now to guarantee success in serving the interests and needs of each and every alumna and alumnus is membership participation in our programs - and I am sure that we will find support there too.

One of our important projects already underway is under the leadership of our Association's Vice President Dr. George Torrey (BSBA '65, MBA '57) who is chairman of our General Program Committee. He is presently working out details for Alumni Day in the Spring, complete with banquet, ball and all the rest that go toward making it a "complete works." Vacation cruises at group rates, discount plans for group purchases of autos, TVs, refrigerators, health and accident insurance, etc. are also being looked into by that committee. A free-of-charge employment service is being considered. All members of our Association will soon be realizing direct, personal and valuable social and economic benefits as a direct result of the efforts of "Doc" and his committee.

In addition to serving members' personal needs and immediate interests our Association is working toward attainment of longer-range and less personally-oriented goals. Because we want to leave the world a little better for our children and our children's children than we found it, we have established a Fund-raising Committee for Suffolk's benefit. Our philosophy in this regard is pretty well expressed, I think, by the anecdote in the Talmud about a young boy's dialogue with his father while his father planted a young tree. "Do you think you will live long enough to enjoy the shade from that tree, dad?" the youngster asked. The reply was, "I don't expect to. I'm just planting it so that you may one day enjoy its shade just as my father planted trees so that I might enjoy their shade."

Jerry Sciezca (BS '63, MSBA '66) is our Fund Raising Chairman. He and members of his committee will soon be contacting you. Please help them in their "planting of trees" for our younger generation.

Most cordially,

J. Chester Webb (JD '42)

Alumni Spotlight

As we promised you last spring, we are going to try, from time to time, to bring you brief biographies of alumni. This is another means by which we can recognize outstanding alumni and bring you news of your classmates.

Joseph A. Letorney, Suffolk Alumnus and a former president of the Massachusetts Teachers Association, has been appointed Government Relations Consultant for the New England Regional Office of the National Education Association (NEA).

A native of Boston, Mr. Letorney was graduated from Boston English High School, received his B.S. degree at Suffolk University in 1957, and attended Suffolk Law School. He earned his M.Ed. degree at Bridgewater State College and did graduate work at the Harvard Graduate School of Education.

Mr. Letorney is responsible for NEA legislative work with 66 congressmen and 14 senators in the six New England states and New York. His duties involve setting up congressional contact teams in the local districts, in order to open lines of communication with the congressmen and senators. He also coordinates activities of the NEA Political action arms of state education associations including that of the MTA, or Voice of Teachers in Education.

Joseph A. Letorney

Registered as a lobbyist in Congress, Mr. Letorney's office continues to be in the New England Office of the NEA in the MTA building at 20 Ashburton Place, Boston.

Mr. Letorney has been special consultant to the NEA for Special Services since 1967. He is a resident of Weymouth, and was principal of Avon High School until he joined the NEA Staff.

Dr. George N. Torrey, BS '56, MA '57, of Melrose, Massachusetts has been notified that he is the recipient of the Certificate of Merit issued by the Dictionary of International Biography. The announcement was made by Sir. Ernest Kay, D. Litt. from the International Biographical Centre at Cambridge, England. A well-known educator, writer, and consultant, Dr. Torrey was awarded the coveted citation for his work in the relatively new field of Behavioral Communications.

Dr. Torrey received his doctorate from Boston University, and his bachelor's and master's degrees from Suffolk University. A prolific writer of educational articles, Dr. Torrey is a senior partner of Academic Heritage Associates, a member of the faculty of Salem State College, President of the Eastern Massachusetts Media Association, and Vice-President of the Suffolk University General Alumni Association.

An Invitation to High School Teachers

Thirty-four high school science students in the class of RICHARD McKNIGHT, AB'63, MA'64, came to Suffolk to see the science laboratories. Mr. McKnight, a chemistry teacher at Waltham High School, brought his class to Suffolk on November 21 and, after greetings from President Fulham and Dean Ronayne, the class got a chance to explore the chemistry, biology and physics labs. Dr. Maria Bonaventura, Chairman of the Chemistry Department, Dr. Beatrice Snow, Chairman of the Biology Department, and Mr. Walter Johnston, Jr., Instructor of Physics, cooperated in guiding the groups through the labs and student assistants were available to explain various instruments.

Dr. Bonaventura and Dr. Snow would like to extend an invitation to alumni who are high school science teachers to bring their classes to Suffolk. If you are interested, contact either Dr. Snow or Dr. Bonaventura at 723-4700 ext. 393 or 348.

No Tuition Increase

Suffolk will retain its present tuition of $1500 for the law school and $1400 for its colleges for the 1973-74 academic year. President Fulham noted in his announcement that the University was maintaining the same tuition in the face of rising costs and tuition increases of many other colleges today. He credited this to "cooperation by the faculty and administrative staff."

The decision to hold the line marked the first time in 14 years that tuition hadn't gone up in alternate years. President Fulham said that the Board of Trustees made the decision "aware that at the present time expenses are increasing for everyone and the Board is keenly aware that the largest single expenditure a student probably has is his tuition."

Suffolk long has taken pride in its low tuition, one of the lowest of any private four-year institution in the state.

Century Club

Ninety alumni, by virtue of their concern for Suffolk, have joined the Century Club. Each member contributed $100 or more to the 1972 Alumni Appeal and elected to participate in the Century Club.

This dedicated group of alumni joined President Fulham on January 8 for a reception and dinner. Forty seven members and spouses attended. The evening was enjoyable and was productive in terms of getting the views of alumni who have shown an interest in the future of Suffolk.

From time to time, the members of the Century Club will gather together to discuss Suffolk and aid in setting a clear road for the future.

President's Society Luncheon

Three men who have demonstrated unusual commitment to Suffolk had lunch with President Fulham on February 27. The President's Society is a group of annual $1,000 givers. Their special concern for the University as evidenced by their generous financial support is deeply appreciated by all members of the administration, faculty and student body.

It is the concern of people like those in the President's Society which will help Suffolk in the years to come.

Minority Student Coordinator Named

President Fulham has announced the appointment of Philip F. Ransom as Minority Student Coordinator. Mr. Ransom assumed his new duties on February 1, 1973. He acts as a liaison between the minority students at Suffolk and other members of the University community. Mr. Ransom is also a member of the University's Committee on Minority Student Affairs.

The Committee on Minority Student Affairs was created last fall at the request of the Afro-American Club. At the time of the approval of the Committee by the President and the Board of Trustees, the position of Minority Student Coordinator was created and approved. The committee has been active since February 1972. It is composed of representatives of the Afro-American Club, faculty, administration, and the Editor of the Suffolk Journal, and two alumni - P. Richard Jones, BSJ '56, and G. Rosalyn Johnson, AB '68, JD '72.

Mr. Ransom is currently a student at Harvard Law School where he is involved in the Harvard Voluntary Defenders Committee. He has also worked part-time and summers for the Roxbury Defender's Committee.

Graduated from Howard University in 1970 with a Bachelor's degree in Business Management, Mr. Ransom resides in Boston.

Suffolk Alumnus - Director of Burdett

John V. Gosule, an alumnus of the undergraduate division and the Graduate School of Administration, is currently Director of Burdett College in Boston. Mr. Gosule finished his undergraduate work at Suffolk with a BSBA in 1968. That year he decided to go on to graduate school at Suffolk and teach "part time." His "part time" job ended up to be a 15 hour a week (or full time) teaching job at Burdett College — hardly "part time." He continued his education at Suffolk during the evening and received an MBA degree in 1971. His intentions at that time were to go into industry but, Burdett College offered him an opportunity to quit teaching and develop a placement service for the institution. He did this and in June of 1971, Mr. Gosule was made dean. His duties were again changed in January of '72 when he became Director of Burdett with responsibility for all internal day to day affairs excluding admissions.

Burdett College is a small one year institution which was founded in 1879. The current enrollment is 200. Major areas of training at Burdett are secretarial science, fashion merchandising and accounting.

Aside from his duties as Director at Burdett, Mr. Gosule is a member of several organizations: Masons, the Greater Boston Personnel and Guidance Association, the Personnel Managers Club of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce, the Eastern Business Teachers Association and the Massachusetts Association of Business Schools of which he is Treasurer.

He and his wife, Mary, who is with Cardinal Management in Boston, live in Winthrop.

Educational Placement

Last fall, the appointment of C. Thomas Stefany as Educational Placement Officer was announced. Together with James G. Woods, Director of Placement, Mr. Stefany has been planning new ways to aid Suffolk alumni and students find teaching positions. Recruitment letters were sent in January to superintendants in the New England region in hopes of searching out vacancies.
