Law School Gets New Dean

Judge Francis L. Larkin, new Dean of the Law School.

Judge Francis J. Larkin has been appointed Dean of the Law School effective May 1. This move by the Board of Trustees has been met with wide approval by students, faculty, administration and alumni.

Currently serving as Presiding Justice of the Third District Court of Southern Worcester at Milford, Judge Larkin was appointed to that position by Governor Francis W. Sargent on January 8, 1972. Prior to assuming his present position, he served two years as special Justice of the District Court of Newton, Massachusetts. He is also a member of the Appellate Division of the District Courts for the Western District of Massachusetts.

Judge Larkin was graduated from Holy Cross College and the Georgetown University Law Center, where he received both the Bachelor and Master of Laws Degrees in 1957 and 1958 respectively. Graduated with Highest Honors from Georgetown, Judge Larkin served as a member of the Law Review, a national championship moot court team, President of the Student Bar Association, and National President of the American Law Students Association (the student affiliate of the American Bar Association).

This was just the beginning of an interesting and illustrious career. Immediately following graduation from Georgetown, Judge Larkin was appointed to the faculty there where he served for one year prior to entering the service. While teaching at Georgetown, he also served as Special Assistant to the General Counsel of the Federal Communications Commissions during the 1958 Congressional Legislative Oversight Hearings.

SECOND APPEAL GOING STRONG

The Second Annual Alumni Appeal is underway. Letters from President Fulham have gone out to all alumni and our objective this year is to double last year’s participation in number of participants as well as dollars. The University needs both financial support and “alumni support”. A firm backing from the alumni will enable the University to proceed with programs and projects designed for Suffolk’s future.

Again this year, you will be able to earmark your donations. Contributions specified for the Colleges will go into the College scholarship fund; funds earmarked for the Law School will assist with Law School scholarships; and, unrestricted funds will be used where the University sees they will do the most good.

This year, the newly formed Alumni association is assisting with the appeal. The Fund Raising Committee of the Board of Directors, headed by Jerry Scieszka, BS ‘63, MSBA ‘66, have helped by setting up a system of Vice-Chairmen who will recruit alumni to serve as class agents. The following alumni have volunteered to aid by taking responsibility as vice chairmen for the class years indicated:

A.C. Rome, LLB ‘19
1909-1922 – Law School
Lazarus Ogus, JD ‘29
1923-1932 – Law School
George Goldstein, LLB ‘37
1933-1942 – Law School
John J. Beades, AB ‘44, LLB ‘48
1943-1952 – Law School
Claire M. Driscoll, AB ‘43
1937-1952 – The Colleges

ALUMNI DAY DINNER DANCE

Plans for the Alumni Day Dinner Dance to be held May 19, 1973, are moving ahead at a rapid pace.

The annual event which is to be held at the University will include a President’s Reception and Get Acquainted Hour from 6:30 to 7:30 PM, followed by a Buffet Dinner from 7:30 to 9:00 PM. Dancing to the Music of the George Graham Orchestra will begin at 9:00 PM and continue until midnight.

You will be obtaining detailed information regarding the event soon.
Suffolk Wins Regional Moot Court Competition

The two winners of the 1973 Jessup Moot Court Competition regionals are congratulated by President Fulham, Allen Shulman (left) and Kenneth Sherman (right).

Two Suffolk Law third year day students teamed up to win the quarter-final regionals in the 1973 Jessup International Moot Court competition. Allen L. Shulman, Vice President of the Moot Court Board, and Kenneth S. Sherman, member of the Law Review staff, emerged victorious after matching wits with the teams from Harvard, Yale, Columbia, and B.U. Mr. Shulman also was named best speaker.

The event is sponsored by the Association of Student International Law. Participating in the Northeastern regionals, held at Columbia on March 2-3, were Harvard, Yale, Columbia, Boston University, University of Connecticut, Fordham, Rutgers and Suffolk. The competition is on a round-robin basis, with each team arguing four times, twice on each side. The winner is determined by the overall best won-lost record.

The case argued before the International Court of Justice concerned the right of coastal states to extend their rights over fishing in off shore waters. It is interesting to note that most of the institutions participating, with the exception of Suffolk, have international law societies and prior to the competition have pooled research efforts as well as institutional run-offs. Our team did the research on their own and did not have the benefit of an initial unofficial competition.

Mr. Shulman and Mr. Sherman will now go to Washington, D.C., in April for the national semi-finals at Georgetown Law Center. The winner in Washington will meet the victor of the international division semi-finals in the finals, which are part of the joint meeting of the two sponsoring organizations

PROGRAMS FOR EVERYONE

by Dr. George N. Torrey, Chairman, Program Committee

This year the Program Committee of the Suffolk University General Alumni Association has prepared a full and varied schedule to try to meet the needs of Suffolk Graduates. However, since it is quite true that no program is more successful than the support it receives, I was delighted at the opportunity to acquaint you with the ideas, plans, and objectives of your Program Committee.

By the time you read this, the members of the Program Committee hope to have met you at the Alumni/Faculty Seminar held at the University on Saturday, March 31, 1973. At this event, we attempted to register as many of you as possible as actively interested Alumni. We also tried to make ourselves known to that segment of the young public who might, in the near or distant future, become part of the Suffolk University Academic Community.

The Annual Alumni Dinner/Dance to be held at the University on Saturday, May 19th is a very special concern of ours. Soon you will be receiving a separate letter concerning it. The theme of this year’s gala is “Welcome Home, Graduate,” and we know that many of you will take advantage of an evening of dining, dancing, and Merriment that will enable you to meet officers of the Alumni Association, the Administration, and many friends whom you haven’t seen in far too long a time.

In June, we will sponsor a Senior Reception to welcome seniors as prospective members of the Alumni Association. This will be held at the Prudential Center before graduation, and Mrs. Claire M. Driscoll, A.B. ‘43 and I, who will serve as Co-Chairpersons, hope that this innovative plan will receive wide support and general appeal. We certainly feel that it will be a mutually rewarding experience to have students be given the opportunity to meet with some of Suffolk University’s many successful graduates.

Before the Academic Year draws to a close, we hope to correct a serious defect. We are one of the few major institutions of higher learning that does not offer some kind of travel arrangements for its Alumni. Therefore, we are planning to introduce two major holiday excursions:

1. Bermuda Carnival.
   We have discussed plans for this with members of the committee. The flight would be on a major airline and leave from Logan Airport. Members of the travel party would stay at one of Bermuda’s luxury hotels. Transportation, breakfast and dinners daily would be provided at an approximate cost of $239.00 per person.

2. Oriental Holiday.
   This would be a 17 day trip to the Orient. This would include visits to Hong Kong, Bangkok, and Japan. The tentative price of this bargain bonanza from the East Coast is a very reasonable $755.00.

   The Committee is anxious to have these tours receive the kind of support they deserve. The excitement, enjoyment, and unifying effect of travel holidays are numerous and apparent.

   There are so many more plans we want to share with you. But to include all of them would more than double the space we’ve already used. More important: we want to know how you feel the Program Committee can best serve you. Before we write concerning our tentative fall schedule, won’t you tell us your interests and the kind of programs you would support by using the enclosed questionnaire. Yours may be just the idea we need.
Alumni Spotlights

SUFFOLK ALUMNUS NAMED SPECIAL JUSTICE

The Honorable Samuel E. Zoll

by Janet L. Pearce
(Ms. Pearce of Quincy, is a fourth year Journalism Student at Suffolk)

The Mayor of Salem, Mass., a Suffolk University Law School alumnus, has recently been appointed special justice of the Third District Court of Essex at Ipswich by Gov. Francis W. Sargent.

A member of the 1962 graduating class, Samuel E. Zoll said upon notification of his new post that he "was very moved and very pleased that the governor has exhibited such confidence in my ability to do the job." The new judge attributes much of his success to the "outstanding legal training I received at Suffolk. I feel very strongly that Suffolk is, and was, a fine university. I owe the school a deep debt of gratitude."

Judge Zoll, having resigned his mayoral post simultaneously with his appointment to the bench, is spending the first few weeks of April in training at various district courts. He will sit in with other judges to observe their procedure before beginning his own duties in Ipswich.

The 38-year old former mayor succeeds Judge Standish Bradford, one of several judges forced to retire on reaching the age of 70. "It's very difficult to be objective about something like this," said Zoll, referring to the forced retirement law, "when, as a result, you happen to benefit by it."

The well-qualified judge is a native of Peabody, Mass. Judge Zoll served in the U.S. Navy from 1954 to 1956 and received both a bachelor's degree in accounting and a master's degree in business education from Boston University.

Accepted to the Massachusetts bar the same year he graduated from Suffolk, Judge Zoll began his own law practice and continued his up-and-coming political career, serving as a Salem city councilor from 1958 to 1966, including two years as president, and a State representative on Beacon Hill from 1966 to 1970. He was serving his second term as mayor of Salem when he received his new appointment.

Judge Zoll is a member of the board of directors of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children and is chairman of the Salem Public Library Board of Trustees.

He also serves on the board of directors of Temple Shalom in Salem.

Married to the former Marjorie Ann Waldman of Swampscott, Judge Zoll is also the father of four children, three daughters and a son.

Since the Essex county court at Ipswich in only a part-time court, it is possible that Judge Zoll will have the opportunity to preside over many courts of the county and the metropolitan area if the heavy caseloads at most district courts require the services of an additional judge. In any case, Judge Zoll asserted, he would continue his own law practice in Salem.

ALUMNUS CITED OUTSTANDING LEADER

by P. Richard Jones, BSJ '56

Boston City Councilman Joseph M. Tierney, JD '70, was picked as one of greater Boston's "Ten Outstanding Young Leaders" by the Boston Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Tierney, who attended Suffolk nights, graduated in the top third of his class, and passed the Mass. Bar Exam while still a senior. A graduate of Boston State, he also has taken advanced courses at New England School of Law.

While at Suffolk, he participated in the Voluntary Defenders program in South Boston and East Cambridge. He also served in the Voluntary Prosecutors program in Brockton.

Now in his first term on the Council, Tierney has played some important roles in the life of Boston. He was a youth worker and later Senior Supervisor for the City of Boston Youth Activities Commission.

Raised in a South Boston housing project, Mr. Tierney in later years, as a young attorney, successfully led the fight which prevented a 20% raise in rentals in federally subsidized developments. He also helped develop a model lease which is being used in federal housing.

Last summer he was instrumental in starting one of America's first Day Camps for emotionally disturbed children. He also sponsored the 1972 City Council Christmas Party for Exceptional Children, which has an attendance of more than 600 children.

A board member of numerous civic and fraternal organizations, Tierney now lives in Roslindale with his wife, Patricia, and daughters, Maura and Deidra.

The Jaycee award is given annually to honor the "rich contribution to the progress of our City, State, and Nation" to outstanding individuals under the age of 36.

And Joe is only 32!!
Over one hundred alumni and guests participated in Alumni Seminars on Saturday, March 31. Generally, the day was a rewarding one for all participants. The topics covered, ranged from law to the family. Professor Gary P. Castanino of the Sociology Department and Professor John M. Moran of Education, headed a lively seminar entitled The Future of the Family: Values and Changes. Lawyers and non-lawyers enjoyed Professor Herbert Lemelman and Professor Alfred I. Maleson in their discussion of New Developments in Law. The afternoon session included Professor Doris B. Pote of the Law School and Professor Philip F. Mulvey, of Biology talking about The Consumer and the Environment. New Developments in Management was the topic handled by Professor Benson Diamond and Professor Norman Slater, both of the College of Business Administration.

Five students from the Law School and the Colleges and one alumnae assisted the speakers in their presentation. They added another dimension to the discussions and their presence was much appreciated. They are: Geraldine Manning, AB ’72, Mary Ann Burritt, Joyce Rose, Timothy Vaughan, Charles Collier, Peter Laughlin, Joseph Priante, Malinee Semthiti.

Below are some photos and comments of alumni who attended. We hope to continue the seminars and would like to have more alumni next time.

"I enjoyed the entire day and am looking forward to more of the same."

John A. Walsh, BSBA ’50

"I was most favorably impressed with the program...and I appreciate having been allowed to attend a conference alive with spirit."

Lillian M. Gormley, BS in Ed. ’37, MA in Ed. ’59

"Very good and enjoyable."

Louis S. Harris, LLB ’27

There was something for everyone.

Claire M. Driscoll, AB ’43, helps with the details of registration.

Alumnus Advises Award-Winning Mustang News

by P. Richard Jones, BSJ '56

Winning awards is nothing new for Henry R. Selvitella, Jr., BS '58 and the student staff of the Mustang News – Medford High School's own publication. They won First Prize in Typography in the third annual Greater Boston High School newspaper competition sponsored by Suffolk last month.

Henry, who has been adviser to the News since its beginning 11 years ago, is doubly proud this year because it's the second First Prize his young people have earned in the contest established by the S.U. Journalism Department.

The Mustang News, which he helped establish, has won every conceivable award – local, state, and national – for high school newspapers. The professional press, including AP &UPI, awarded the News a special citation a few years ago for their full coverage of the severe fire at Medford High. One happy aftermath of the fire story, which came out in a special full issue of the News, was that the AP hired the 18 year old photographer right out of high school.

From 1961 to 1963, Judge Larkin served as law clerk to the late Honorable John A. Hartigan, on the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the First Circuit. In 1963, he was appointed Assistant Dean and Assistant Professor at Boston College Law School. He was later promoted to Associate Dean and Full Professor. While at B.C., he and Professor Sanford Fox of the B.C. law faculty inaugurated the Boston Bail Project which led to enactment of the Massachusetts Bail Reform Act.

A contributing editor in the revision of the Third Edition of Williston on Contracts, Judge Larkin has also served as Editor-in-Chief of the Massachusetts Law Quarterly since 1968.

A native of Milford, Massachusetts, Judge Larkin is married to the former Virginia Fitzpatrick of Brockton. They are the parents of five children and reside in Hopedale, Massachusetts.
