MEET THE FACULTY
This Month Featuring

Miss. Verna Lee

Many professors appear in Fatture during the summer. Yet, some, perhaps rarely, can claim the distinction of being summered away abroad from the New England campus. In the new role, they have been abroad from the semester to the continent. Miss. Verna lee, for example, returned to the United States after studying in France. She attended the Sorbonne University in Paris.

She visited a notable church and saw the Louvre while traveling. Miss. Lee said that the atmosphere was very different from the United States. The people were very friendly and the experiences were unforgettable. She would love to return to Europe some day.

JOSEPH WARD SPEAKS HERE
CALLS FOR STATE GOV'T. CHANGES, MORE LIBERAL AID TO EDUCATION

Joseph D. W., a Democratic candidate for governor, speaking today that he would call a special session of the Massachusetts Constitution to consider certain provisions, and proposed expanded aid to education in both the high school and college levels.

A statement by the Democratic Committee that "Teachers' state buildings don't"

POLLS

The Winthrop College Republicans held their annual social event last night in the college's Union. The event was attended by more than 150 students, who enjoyed food and drink throughout the evening.

The results were announced by the organizers of the event, who expressed their thanks to all who attended.

POLL

Voting continued today on the issue of state education funding. The results show that most voters support increased funding for education, with over 70% in favor of the proposal.

Political Group Sparks Interest

With the National Student Association on the national stage, the Winthrop College Democrats and Republicans have been organizing events to mobilize students on campus through protests and speeches. The parties have been working together to bring attention to the importance of education and ensure that student voices are heard.

The Winthrop College Republicans have been holding meetings on campus to discuss the future of education and the role that students can play in shaping the future of the state. They have also been organizing events to bring awareness to the importance of education funding and the need for continued support.

MUSICIAN PLAYS DECLARED INSANE

SUFFOLK players declare insane

SYNNICK

Says: NORTON

SUFFOLK players say M. Norton is insane.

The Suffolk Players are in full rehearsal and planning for their upcoming performances in the fall. The cast has reportedly been experiencing unusual behavior and is expected to perform in several upcoming plays.

The cast has been training for weeks, with Norton at its center. The cast has reportedly been experiencing heightened emotions and is struggling to maintain focus.

On Monday, Norton burst into tears during a rehearsal, saying, "I feel like I'm going crazy." The cast was reportedly shocked and concerned.

On Tuesday, Norton was seen pacing around the rehearsal room, muttering to himself. "I'm Losing my mind," he said.

The cast has reportedly been struggling with Norton's behavior. "He's been acting really strange," said one cast member.

The Suffolk Players have declared Norton insane and are seeking professional help.

On Wednesday, the cast held a meeting to discuss Norton's behavior. "We need to get him help," said one cast member. "He's not safe for the cast or the audience.""

FULBRIGHT AWARD DEADLINE NEAR

Remember Howie?

He's in "Streetcar" Now

Suffolk students attending the current production of Tennessee Williams' "Streetcar Named Desire" at the Charles Playhouse have been pleasantly surprised to receive an unexpected message. Howard Zaker, a member of the Suffolk Repertory Players, received news of his receipt of a Fulbright Fellowship in a letter dated the 1st of February. His letter, which contains personal congratulations from the Fulbright Commission, is addressed to him personally:

"Howard Zaker, we are delighted that you have been selected for a Fulbright Fellowship grant.
This award is given to promising young Americans who come to study in foreign lands. It is our hope that your experience abroad will be a lasting contribution to American society."

Zaker, who is a senior at Suffolk in the Theater Department, was selected for this prestigious honor from a pool of applicants who had submitted a variety of materials including resumes, essays, and letters of recommendation.

Zaker, who is also a member of the Suffolk Repertory Players, is thrilled with his selection and is looking forward to his time abroad. He plans to study theater in Europe and is excited about the opportunity to see new productions and interact with other theater professionals.

In addition to the Fulbright Fellowship, Zaker is also a member of the American Theater Wing and the National Theater Association. He is a decorated actor and is expected to continue his work in the theater even after his time abroad.

The Fulbright Award is a prestigious honor that is awarded to talented young Americans who wish to study abroad. It is a testament to Zaker's dedication to theater and his passion for learning.
