

Suffolk University

Digital Collections @ Suffolk

Suffolk University Newsletter (SUN)

Suffolk University Publications

1982

Suffolk University Newsletter (SUN), vol. 12, no. 1, September 1982

Suffolk University Office of Public Affairs

Follow this and additional works at: <https://dc.suffolk.edu/sun>

Recommended Citation

Suffolk University Office of Public Affairs, "Suffolk University Newsletter (SUN), vol. 12, no. 1, September 1982" (1982). Suffolk University Newsletter (SUN). 130.
<https://dc.suffolk.edu/sun/130>

This Newsletter is brought to you for free and open access by the Suffolk University Publications at Digital Collections @ Suffolk. It has been accepted for inclusion in Suffolk University Newsletter (SUN) by an authorized administrator of Digital Collections @ Suffolk. For more information, please contact dct@suffolk.edu.

THE SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY NEWSLETTER

Published by the Public Relations Office
Louis B. Connelly, Director

Volume 12 Number 1

September, 1982

RECORD FRESHMAN ENROLLMENT FOR START OF ACADEMIC YEAR

As the final registration figures are tabulated, it appears that Suffolk University's total enrollment for the 1982 fall semester in its College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and School of Management will be up about 200 students including an all-time record freshman class of about 625.

Colleges Registrar Mary A. Hefron said that as of Sept. 19, total enrollment in the colleges was 4537 compared to final figures of 4366 from a year ago. This included the largest first-year class, up more than 100 from 1981-1982.

Hefron stressed that the figures are not final and subject to some increase. She pointed out that the enrollment in the Executive MBA program is not tabulated. The 4537 total breaks down to 2840 in the School of Management and 1697 in CLAS. That includes graduate programs. Undergraduate figures in the day program show a total of 1143 in SOM compared to 1134 in CLAS.

Hefron noted another sizeable increase in the MBA program, a jump from 771 students to 838. The MPA program held steady with current figures set at 153, a drop of 3 from a year ago.

The big freshman increase (there were 518 students enrolled a year ago) represents a 25 per cent increase, according to Admissions Director William F. Coughlin, and a 50 per cent increase over the past two years. He cited Suffolk's moderate tuition rate ($3630), lowest of private four-year institutions in the area, and a growing acceptance by students for commuter colleges.

President Daniel H. Perlman, who welcomed the new freshmen at orientation, noted that the increase also reflected the quality programs and the quality of the faculty now at Suffolk University. Some 85 per cent of CLAS full-time faculty have doctorates and 40 per cent of SOM now have terminal degrees as well.

In the Law School, total enrollment was set at 1646 according to Registrar Lorraine Cove - Day-958 - Evening-692. The first year class figures listed 320 day and 180 evening students.

President's Corner

I am pleased to welcome everyone back after the summer holidays and to report to you on recent developments at the University.

New Construction. The carpenters, electricians and painters have been busy over the summer, with major renovations in the Archer and Donahue Buildings and repairs and repainting in the Ridgeway Building. Our new facilities include the E. Albert Pallot Law Library, new biology and computer science laboratories, a new law student lounge, new offices for the Law Review and the Transnational Law Journal, new offices for the Mathematics and Physics faculty, a new office for the law school library reference staff and several refurbished classrooms. The color scheme for the repainting of the Archer and Ridgeway Buildings was selected by the design team at WGBH, which is also responsible for the new system of room and directional signs, and for the seal of the University in the lobby of the Sawyer Building and the banners on the exterior. Some of the construction details are still being completed and should be finished shortly.

Title III of the Higher Education Act. The University was informed that its application for additional support under the "Strengthening Developing Institutions Program" has been approved for four years. We will receive a total of $399,631 in the first year (1982-83) in support of the following activities designed to enable us to better serve our undergraduate students, strengthen our management, and further develop the competencies of our faculty and staff:

1. Continued Development of the Learning Resource Center to improve student retention.
2. Curriculum Development to Meet High Technology Needs: new majors in Computer Engineering Technology and Electronic Engineering Technology.
3. Planning, Management, and Evaluation: establishment of an Office of Planning and Institutional Research, a management development program and a management information system.

4. Improving Career Planning and Placement: development of a comprehensive career planning and placement program to help students make more informed and realistic career choices.

5. Emerging Careers in Science for Women and Minorities: improved instruction and advising for the "Women and Minorities in Science" and the "Health and Life Sciences" programs initiated under this year's grant.

6. Faculty Development Program.

7. Curriculum Development in the School of Management: international business management, decision-support systems, business communication, and a competency-based evaluation program.

8. Program Administration: liaison with the activity directors and the federal government; external and internal evaluation.

The CLEO Summer Institute. For the second year, Suffolk University was selected as one of seven law schools in the United States to host a CLEO (Council on Legal Education Opportunity) Summer Institute. Directed by Professor Russell G. Murphy, the six-week program provided 29 disadvantaged students with a "head-start" into law school. During the program, the students lived in dormitories at Emerson College. Three of the students enrolled in our law school upon completion of the program, the others were accepted and enrolled in other law schools in the region.

Public Administration Fellowships. For the second consecutive year, Suffolk University was awarded a grant under the Public Service Fellowship Program (Title IX of the Higher Education Act). This year's grant of $78,400 provides funds for five new fellowships and seven continuing fellowships in the MPA program.

Cooperative Education. A grant of $58,700 was received under Title VIII of the Higher Education Act to support the development of the University's Cooperative Education Program in the School of Management and its expansion into the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. This grant is renewable for four more years.

(Continued on Page Three)

Journalism Workshops. Over the summer, the Journalism Department hosted a two-week "Urban Journalism Workshop" with assistance from the Newspaper Fund. Now in its seventh year, the program serves approximately 20 minority students. The Department also held an eight-week journalism program for 30 students from area high schools in conjunction with Action for Boston Community Development.

Record Freshman Enrollment. I am pleased to report that Suffolk University experienced a record freshman enrollment of 625 students, an increase of approximately 25 percent over a year ago, when we had a then-record enrollment of 518. This increase in enrollment can be attributed to substantial increases in the quality of the University, to marked improvements in our facilities, to our convenient location, and to our continued policy of affordable tuition supplemented by student aid.

Visit by New England Association of Schools and Colleges. We will be visited by a team from NEASC on October 24 through 27. In preparation for this visit, Dean Strain has completed a self-study report that combines the findings and recommendations of the several Task Groups. The faculty is expected to be available during this period for meetings with the visiting team at their request.

Daniel Perlman

GIVE TO THE UNITED WAY.
THIS YEAR,
IT MAY BE THE ONLY WAY.

PALLOT LAW LIBRARY WILL BE DEDICATED OCT. 21

The E. Albert Pallot Law Library, the large third floor reading room in the Archer Building, formerly the site of the Colleges Library, will be dedicated in 3:30 p.m. ceremonies Oct. 21.

The library will be named for a 1932 graduate retiring as president of the Biscayne Federal Savings and Loan Association in Florida.

Mr. Pallot will be on hand for the ceremonies and for a later reception and dinner for members of the 50th anniversary class.

The Pallot Library incorporates about 65 percent of the space of the former colleges library, retains the above mezzanine and seats approximately 200.

According to Librarian Edward Bander, the library will contain a basic collection of citation material, including all high court decisions. Its use will be restricted to students, faculty and alumni.

#

SUFFOLK WILL TAKE PART IN COLLEGE BOARD STUDY

The University is one of eight urban institutions selected to participate in a national study sponsored by the Washington office of the College Board under a Ford Foundation grant.

Purpose of the study is to increase understanding about the problems and educational mission of the urban-oriented colleges and universities.

The study will focus on the students attending the institution, services institutions should provide to meet student needs and what students see as important aspects of the urban institution they attend.

Data collection activities in support of a national survey will take place on campus during February and March.

Ken Garni, director of the Counseling Center, will serve as campus coordinator for the project.

#

RICHARD T. BRAY,
Scholar and Newsman

He combined the best attributes of the ideal journalism professor. He was a scholar (his Ph.D. thesis was on Herman Melville) and he had worked the street as a reporter and writer.

That's why Dick Bray's death so suddenly at 53 in Mechanicsville, N.Y. August 24 was such a loss to the journalism department and to the university.

Bray was fatally stricken doing what he did regularly, jogging in the morning. He had been in good health and only last spring had won tenure and been chosen the outstanding faculty member by the Evening Division Student Association. We all remember the nice touch he applied when his wife, Pat, received her master's degree last June, planting a kiss on her cheek and a rose in her hand.

Dick seemingly had everything going for him, two handsome sons, a home in Natick, and a summer cottage in Wellfleet he and Pat had just purchased. He died much too soon.

But during his lifetime, he offered a lot. He was firm, understanding and sympathetic in the classroom and as an adviser and guide, helped make the Evening Voice a readable, mature college newspaper.

This writer shared sort of a common bond with Dick Bray. We both started our newspaper careers as Wareham correspondents for the New Bedford Standard Times although neither of us knew it until Dick came to teach here seven years ago. We also could commiserate with one another on our freelance rejection slips and cheer each other when we scored on an "In This Corner" piece in the Globe.

Bray wrote with depth and feeling. It came through most recently in the Father's Day front page piece he authored in the Globe. Reflecting on his teenaged sons as tots he wrote: "(Yet) he knows they're talking about Father's Day and what to get him. What does he want? How could he possibly explain or dare say? He wants those nights and days again with picture books, little boy smells and goodnight hugs. In short, he wants what cannot be had - the past. . ."

As a reporter, Dick Bray covered everything from three-alarm fires to New Bedford fishing stories to interviews with Fats Domino. In the classroom, he lent his expertise, sharpened and tightened the copy of his students. At faculty committee meetings he brought a fresh and candid approach.

Thus, it was fitting that the Richard T. Bray Journalism Award was established by the Journalism Department shortly after his passing. Meeting the standards will offer students a mighty but worthy challenge.

- Lou Connelly -

SOM FALL DIALOGUE SERIES

Wed. Oct. 6 - Demir Yener, assistant professor of finance, "Decision Support Systems as a Corporate Planning Technique."

Wed. Oct. 27 - David Breyer, assistant professor of management, "Work-Family Interaction Among Managers."

Mon. Nov. 15 - David Pfeiffer, chairperson, Public Management, "Disability and Public Policy."

Wed. Nov. 17 - David Cirillo, assistant professor of management, and Warren E. Davis of the Smithsonian Astrophysic Observatory and president of High Technology Professionals for Peace, "Organizational Climates and Management Practices of Defense and High Tech Firms: Do They Contribute to the Nuclear Arms Race?"

All lectures will be held in the Sawyer Building, Room 521, from 12-2 p.m.

#

S.U. PEOPLE IN RETIREMENT

(From time to time, the SUN will carry reports on how some of Suffolk's retired family are enjoying retirement.)

Donald W. Goodrich, dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences from 1956 to 1966 and vice-president from 1966 to 1968, is enjoying retirement with a zest and pace that few 84-year olds can match.

Living in a condominium development called Rossmoor in Jamesburg, N.J. with his wife, Evelyn (Woodward), widow of a Williams College classmate of his, Don Goodrich has taken up golf after a lapse of 45 years, travels extensively and publishes a newsletter for his 1919 class at Williams.

He and Evelyn were married in December of 1980. The couple drive to Venice, Fla. each January and remain there until April. Last August they flew to London, toured England, Scotland, Wales and Ireland.

"We took a three-week bus tour, visited a niece and nephew of mine, and went to the theatre," related Goodrich. "Then we went to Zurich in Switzerland and visited some cousins, then went to Athens and took a six-day cruise through the Aegean Islands and a stop in Istanbul."

As president-secretary of his college class, Goodrich corresponds with the 26 living members of the class and they have a reunion once a year. "The present age range is 84 to 88," he noted.

He loves his present home and serves as a director of one of the Rossmoor community manors.

"It's a very pleasant life," he says. "We have a golf course, tennis courts, a swimming pool and a clubhouse with a library. I've also joined the Highstown Rotary Club that meets weekly for lunch."

Obviously, Don Goodrich is enjoying his retirement, but still finds time to keep posted with Suffolk via the SUN and occasional visits to the school. He dropped into the Sawyer Building earlier in the year and was deeply impressed with the surroundings.

#

BOSTON FUND, INC. VEEP HIGHLIGHTS SOM PROGRAM

David L. Beckedorff, vice president of The Boston Fund, Inc. will be the speaker at the first of the School of Management's 1982-83 Distinguished Speaker Series Saturday, Oct. 16 at 12:45 p.m. in Room 425 of the Sawyer Building.

The Boston Fund, Inc. is a subsidiary of American Express. The subject of Beckedorff's address will be "Equity Markets-Analysis and Outlook."

For additional information, contact Karen Connor at Extension 309.

#

SUFFOLK HOST FOR MASS. PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION PROGRAM

Suffolk University, the Kennedy School of Government at Harvard and Assumption College will be the institutions hosting programs sponsored by the Massachusetts Chapter of the American Society for Public Administration for the coming year.

Suffolk kicked off the year's program by presenting Law School alumnus John Loftus in a discussion on his findings about alleged smuggling of war criminals into the U.S. A former Justice Department employee, he was the subject of a "60 Minutes" TV program. The Loftus program was held Sept. 23 in Room 427-429 of the Sawyer Building.

#

NEW APPOINTMENTS

(There are a number of new full-time faculty and administrators on campus as we move into the 1982-1983 academic year. Here are some of the people you may be meeting this year.)

ADMINISTRATION

BOSKEY, CATHY, director of law placement. B.A., Goucher College, master of education, University of Virginia. Most recently was assistant director of career planning and placement at the University of Virginia.

Boskey

DOOLEY, MAUREEN, budget analyst. B.S.B.A. (magna cum laude), Suffolk University, M.B.A. candidate, Suffolk University. Previously was executive secretary to Vice President-Treasurer Francis X. Flannery.

Dooley

KELLEY, JOSEPH M., director of development. B.A., Boston College. Most recently was director of the capital campaign at Northeastern.

MEYER, AMY, assistant dean for management and advising for the School of Management. A.B. in French (with honors), Boston University, M.B.A., Harvard Business School. Previously was special consultant to president of Council for Opportunity in Graduate Management Education.

REGGIO, DR. ROBERT B., American Council on Education Fellow in Academic Administration (one-year internship at the university). B.A. in biology, New York University, M.S. and Ph.D. in biology, St. John's University.

COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS AND SCIENCES

BURN, PETER R., assistant professor of biology. B.A. in biology from University of Pennsylvania, M.S. in biology from Northeastern University, and Ph.D. in zoology from University of New Hampshire. Most recently was director of research at Ecos in Concord. He was also a parasitologist at the Osborn Laboratories of Marine Sciences, New York Zoological Society.

Burn

CLENDENNING, PHILIP H., assistant professor of history. B.A., University of Toronto, M.A. and Ph.D. from Cambridge University Queen's College, Cambridge, England. He served as a Fellow in the Russian Research Center at Harvard.

GREELEY, BRIAN R., instructor, communications and speech. B.S. in communications and speech, Suffolk University, M.A. in business and organizational communications from Emerson College. Served as debate coach at Suffolk University from 1980-1982 and was an instructor of communications and speech at Middlesex Community College in Bedford for the 1981-82 academic year.

HUMPHREY, JAMES N., assistant professor of mathematics. B.A. and M.S. in physics from University of Wisconsin, Ph.D. in physics from University of Maryland. Previously was research physicist at Electronics Corporation of America in Cambridge.

PLOTKINS, MARILYN, assistant professor of communications and speech and director of Suffolk University Theatre. B.A. in drama, music, and English from University of Pittsburgh, M.A. in theatre education from Emerson College, and Ph.D. in theatre history and criticism from Tufts University. She has taught acting, voice and movement, and theatre production and performance at Tufts University, Boston College, Curry College, Emerson College and Boston

(Continued on Page Seven)

College as well as directing and choreographing many productions for area college and community theaters.

RHODES, SAMUEL B., assistant professor of biology. B.S. in zoology from University of Michigan, M.S. and Ph.D. in physiology from Michigan State University. Previously was assistant professor of biology at Franklin College, Franklin, Indiana.

RICHMAN, GERALD, assistant professor of English. B.A., University of Massachusetts (Amherst), B.A., Brasenose College, Oxford University, M.Phil. and Ph.D., Yale University. Most recently was assistant professor at Mankato State University.

TUERCK, DAVID G., associate professor and chairman of the economics department. A.B. in international affairs, M.A. in economic policy, The George Washington University, Ph.D. in economics from University of Virginia. Most recently was director in the economics studies group, Coopers & Lybrand, Washington, D.C.

Tuerck

HO VAN, TAN, assistant professor of mathematics. M.A. in mathematics and Ph.D. from Brandeis University. Previously was assistant professor of mathematics, University of Massachusetts at Boston and was a lecturer in mathematics at Suffolk University.

LAW

ALEXIS, GWENDOLYN, Y., assistant professor. J.D. from Harvard University. Previously was attorney in the corporate finance section of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. in New York City.

LINDSAY, CLYDE E., assistant professor. A.B. (cum laude), M.B.A., J.D. from Harvard University. Most recently was assistant professor of law at Salmon P. Chase College of Law, Northern Kentucky University.

SCHOOL OF MANAGEMENT

ALLEN, WILLIAM R., associate professor of management. B.S., U.S. Coast Guard Academy, M.B.A. and Ph.D., University of Florida. Most recently was associate professor of management at College of Business Administration, University of Rhode Island.

FORTESS, ERIC E., assistant professor of health administration. B.A., Antioch College, M.P.H. in health services administration and planning, University of Hawaii at Manoa, S.M. in health services administration and Sc.D., Harvard University, School of Public Health.

Fortess

MILLEN, ROGER, associate professor of management. B.S. and M.S. from University of Massachusetts at Amherst, and Ph.D. from Purdue University. Previously was associate professor of management science, College of Business Administration, Northeastern University.

PERLES, BENJAMIN M., visiting professor of management. B.S. from Northeastern University, and M.B.A. and Ph.D. from Boston University. He is former dean of the School of Business Administration at Long Island University and dean of faculty at West Virginia College of Graduate Studies.

Perles

#

DEANS' RECEPTION RESCHEDULED FOR SATURDAY, NOV. 20

The 1982 Deans' Reception, originally scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 18, has been postponed until Nov. 20 because of the Jewish holydays of Rosh Hashanah.

According to Dr. John C. Cavanagh, chairman of the University Social Committee, the reception will be held at the Great Hall in Quincy Marketplace starting at 5:30 p.m.

Cavanagh said the event was inadvertently scheduled a year ago not realizing that the date fell on the Jewish holyday. "When this was brought to my attention, it appeared highly desirable to reschedule the reception for a date more convenient to all of the Suffolk community," he said.

Cavanagh apologized for any inconveniences caused by the scheduling and rescheduling.

At the reception, President Perlman will present awards to a number of employees serving 10 or more years with the university.

#

A reminder from the Personnel Office that the Harvard Community Health Plan is opening two new health centers. One in Medford Square, just off Route 93, opened during the summer, and the other in Braintree, adjacent to Route 3 and the Braintree MBTA station, will open in October.

HCHP will conduct a special open enrollment through Oct. 15 for employees whether or not they currently take part in another plan. For additional information, contact Personnel, 7th floor, Sawyer Building, Ext. 415.

#

PARKING - Effective Sept. 1, student-staff discount parking rate at Charles River Plaza Garage on Cambridge Street was discontinued. There is, however, discount parking available at Charles River Park Garage on Lomasney Way (public parking section). The rate is $3.50 per day between 6 a.m. and 6 p.m. The garage is located under the tennis court bubbles on Lomasney Street, near North Station.

#

Robert West of Development has succeeded Pam Strombom of SOM as promotion sub-committee chairman for the S.U.-HEMI (Higher Education Management Institute). Strombom recently resigned her post as assistant dean in SOM for a position with Prime Computer.

The S.U.-HEMI task force has held a number of meetings during recent months and a needs assessment survey will be conducted in November.

Among the sessions was a successful program put on by Law Librarian Edward Bander for support staff of the Sawyer and Mugar libraries as well as members of the task force. The session was received enthusiastically by the participants.

Said Dean Joseph H. Strain, coordinator, "The group feels strongly about the need for middle and upper management participation in a training session on individual progress review so that our evaluation system can be made more effective in terms of both individual professional development and the achievement of institutional objectives."

#

Staff sports are catching on at Suffolk. During the summer a number of faculty, staff and administration took part in softball games against Babson College and Boston College and capped it off with an intrasquad game on the Charles. Maureen Dooley, budget analyst, heads up a recreation committee and urges faculty, staff or administration from SOM, CLAS or Law School to contact her if interested in an ice skating party or basketball game. Details will follow at a later date.

(Continued on Page Nine)

#

NEW MEMBERS OF SUPPORT STAFF - MARY BACIGALUPO of Winthrop, secretary, Financial Aid; MARY BARRY of Malden, secretary, President's Office; MARYANN BARTOLO of Charlestown, secretary, Journalism; LOLITA BISHOP and WANO CORREA, both of Boston, clerks, Mailroom; MARY ANN COUGEVAN of Windsor Locks, Conn., payroll assistant, Payroll; PATRICIA DELTORTO of Medford, secretary, President's Office; DAVID FINUCANE of Maynard, University Police; CATHLEEN FRACALOSI of Hyde Park, secretary, Faculty Resource Unit/SOM; LINDA GAVIN of Boston, secretary, Development; LYNNE GEISSLER of Medford, secretary, Physics and ROTC; CAROL GREEN of Brighton, secretary, Faculty Resource Unit/SOM; CYNTHIA HARVEY of Swampscott, executive secretary, President's Office; GREGORY HILL of Cambridge, library assistant, Sawyer Library; GRETCHEN HYND of Melrose, secretary, law faculty; JOAN KEATING of Cambridge, secretary, Humanities/Languages; BARBARA LISCHINSKY of Quincy, lab technician, Biology; AMY LONG of Squantum, secretary, Vice President/Treasurer; LESLIE MacCALOM of Watertown, library assistant, Sawyer Library; DEBORAH MACKENZIE of Woburn, secretary, CLAS/SOM Admissions; DANIEL McDONALD of Somerville, benefits assistant, Personnel; THOMAS McNAMARA of Quincy, University Police; LESLIE MULFORD of Boston, executive secretary, Vice President/Treasurer; EFFIE PAPPAS of Allston, secretary, Financial Aid; DEBRA POWERS of Quincy and ROSSLYN RIGGINS of Cambridge, secretaries, Faculty Resource Unit/SOM; MARY ANN SULLIVAN of North Weymouth, secretary, Dean's Office, CLAS; STEPHANIE TAORMINA of Gloucester, secretary, Dean's Office, SOM; DONNA TEAGUE of Beverly, and COLLEEN TOBIN of Woburn, secretaries, Development.

#

WHITE HOUSE FELLOWSHIPS AVAILABLE FOR 1983-84

Applications are now open for White House Fellowships designed to provide gifted and highly motivated Americans with firsthand experience in the process of governing the nation and a sense of personal involvement in the leadership of society.

Admiral James B. Stockdale, chairman of the President's Commission of White House Fellowships, made the announcement of the program, in its 18th year, and eligible for U.S. citizens during early and formative years of their careers.

Only a limited number are chosen each year. Diane T. Rudnick, assistant to President Perlman, urges any interested faculty from the CLAS or SOM or the Law School to contact her for additional information.

#

UNIVERSITY COUNSELING CENTER'S FALL SEMINAR SERIES

Wed. Sept. 29 - Clinical Assessment and Intervention - Dr. Joan MacVicar, staff psychologist, University Counseling Center.

Wed. Oct. 13 - Consultation Skills and Their Application - Dr. Paul Korn, staff psychologist, University Counseling Center.

Thu. Oct. 28 - Legal/Ethical Issues in Psychology - Attorney Stanley R. Berkowitz of Newton.

Wed. Nov. 10 - Crisis Intervention Skills: Application in a University Setting - Dr. Paul Korn

Wed. Dec. 8 - Development of Professional Standards: Training & Practice - Dr. Ken Garni, director, University Counseling Center.

The seminars will be held in the Goodrich Conference Room (Fenton 234) from 9-11 a.m.

#

Potpourri

There's nothing like a good defense and the Law School's JOSEPH CAULFIELD, director of the SULAB program in Charlestown, has proved that. Joe has just been tested and awarded his Nidan, second degree black belt in Aikido. (For the uninitiated, Aikido is a Japanese martial art resembling a circular jujutsu, requiring vigorous physical training and much mental conditioning.) Caulfield won his award at Hampshire College in Amherst where he climaxed his demonstration of varying techniques against all types of unarmed assault by defeating two sword-wielding opponents and defending against five attackers at once. . . . Congratulations to father of the bride, BERNARD MEYLER of SOM and to daughter Katherine, who recently became the wife of John J. Dugan of Milton. . . .

Caulfield

And best wishes to Development colleague FRANK WHITSON on his new post with Brakely, John Price Jones, Inc., a fundraising and management firm based in Stamford, Conn. . . . CAROL FINLAYSON, president of the Evening Division Students Association reminds us that the annual Oktoberfest will be held Oct. 8 from 7 to midnight in the main dining hall in the Sawyer Building. Feature will be a buffet of German food catered by Hofbrau and tickets go for $5 per person and beer and wine included. . . . Friends of the late chemistry Prof. JEHUDAH "JOE" LEFTIN will be pleased to learn that his daughter, Mrs. Simon Leviel of Israel and Mr. Leviel recently became parents of a son, their fourth child, the happy grandmother, Mrs. Mildren Leftin, informs us. . . . Law Prof. TOM McMAHON has been appointed chairman of the copyright committee of the Boston Patent Law Association. He's also been appointed commanding officer of N.S.S.O. Rota 101, a Naval Reserve Legal Unit in Quincy. Also in the Law

School, Prof. CHARLES B. GARABEDIAN's article, "Why a Trial Brief," has been published in the Mass. Bar Association's section on Civil Litigation as well as the Palm Beach County Bar Association in Florida. Law Prof. BERNARD KEENAN recently served as a member of the Mass. Bar Association's Task Force on Legal Education. The report was adopted by the association at its annual meeting. . . . The national chapter of the American Marketing Association conferred its Eastern Region honorable mention award for faculty adviser of the year on Marketing's JOE VACCARO. The award honors the adviser who has provided the most outstanding contribution to collegiate chapter guidance. . . . And DON LEVITAN of Public Management has been nominated for inclusion in the ninth edition of the world-wide publication Men of Achievement. . . . Levitan and department colleagues, FRAN BURKE, CHARLES DAVIS and MICHAEL LAVIN will be panelists at the American Society for Public Administration's conference in Buffalo Oct. 13-15. . . . DAVID PFEIFFER of Public Management has an article in an upcoming edition of the International Journal of Public Administration. It discusses the means by which competing interests in a rent control program were neutralized, producing an effective well-managed agency. He has completed a five-year stint on the Brookline Rental Control Board. Pfeiffer now lives in Newton.

Vaccaro

Keep your eyes open to the full-page State Street Bank ads appearing in such publications as Business Week and Time. You'll catch a familiar face doing some modeling with five other gentlemen - Humanities-Languages' ALBERTO MENDEZ. "Just a one shot thing," says Mendez, debunking any thoughts of a modeling career. . . . Personnel's JUDY MINARDI welcomed her second child on Sept. 11, this one a 7 lb. 6 ounce son, Michael Derrick. Judy and husband, Lee, already have a daughter, Margo. BOB WEST of Development has just received his M.B.A. under Suffolk's Saturday executive program. . . .

(Continued on Page Eleven)

CHUNG-SIK CHANG, assistant professor of finance, will take part in the M.I.T.'s Sloan School of Management workshop in accounting on Dec. 8, the final of a series of four monthly discussions. . . Athletic Director JIM NELSON is reminding tennis buffs that the Charles River Park Indoor Tennis Club will offer a 20 per cent discount on membership for a limited time. A schedule of club events and court fees is available at the Athletic Office, Ridgeway 3. And the Athletic Department is also offering aerobic dance classes beginning Sept. 28 at the USO Club, 3 Hancock St., (formerly the Matson Academy) from 1 to 2 p.m. The classes are free. . .

PAUL KORN of the Counseling Center took part in a week-long training program sponsored by the Gestalt Institute of Cleveland. KEN GARNI of the Counseling Center will serve as senior evaluator during a site visit to the Counseling Center at La Salle College in Philadelphia Oct. 14 and 15. He also was senior author for an article on accreditation of university counseling centers in the October issue of Personnel and Guidance Journal. Another member of the Counseling Center will undergo training for certification as a neurolinguistic programmer at the Mass. Institute of Neurolinguistic Programming. And the three new doctoral interns in the Counseling Center are SUSAN FAHLUN, BARBARA PRITCHARD NASH, and ALLAN WYATT. . . Retired History Prof. EDWARD G. HARTMANN reviewed E.P. Hutchinson's Legislative History of American Immigration Policy in the June issue of American Historical Review while Associate Prof. KENNETH GREENBERG reviewed Reginald Horsman's Race and Manifest Destiny: the Origins of American Racial Anglo-Saxonism in the September, 1982 issue of Reviews in American History. Greenberg also reviewed Janet Sharp Hermann's The Pursuit of a Dream in the July, 1982 issue of Agricultural History. . . ED BANDER, law librarian, issues a reminder that the "Workshop on Computers and the Law" will be held on Nov. 6 as part of the Center for Continuing Professional Development. "Enrollment is limited to 100 participants and while clearly intended for attorneys, people who are office managers, law librarians and paralegals may also find the program helpful," Bander notes. . . Prof. WARREN BRIGGS of Management organized and chaired a session for "Distributed Decision Support Systems at the Office Automation Forum" sponsored by the Computerworld and Infoworld publications. It attracted more than 300 people interested in application of micro-computers and telecommunications re office automation. . . GERALD PEARY of Journalism has been appointed a special film fellow by the Brooklyn College Department of Film, joining an illustrious group headed by actor Paul Newman and director Paul Mazursky. Peary will also curate several film scenes for Boston's Institute of Contemporary Art, including a November "Tribute to Norman Mailer, Filmmaker..."

Plaudits to HELEN TOBIN CLANCY of Watertown who has been awarded the National Business Education Award for outstanding achievement in business education at Suffolk University. She's presently teaching at Waltham High School, graduating from Suffolk last June. . . ANN HARGRAVES, assistant director of Career Planning and Placement, took part in a panel presentation on alumni programs at the Eastern College Personnel Officers conference in Waterville, Maine and CHARLES BOGNANNI, also of Career Planning, attended a cooperative education conference in Falmouth, entitled "Organizing and Managing the Cooperative Education Year" and served on a panel discussing student placement and information gathering materials. . . MARY CONNELLY, formerly the evening nurse at the University, has been named director of health services. The Health Office, located at Fenton 103-104 is open 9 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. and will have a physician, DR. BART GERSHBEIN, available at various intervals five days a week. A number of new health programs, including weight control and hypertension are now underway...

(Continued on Page Twelve)

Congratulations to old Suffolk friend, DON GRUNEWALD, now president of Mercy College, and his wife, Barbara, upon the arrival of a son, Donald Frees, on Sept. 20. . . Our condolences to Trustee DOROTHY ANTONELLI on the death of her father, noted Boston trial lawyer Dwight Allison, a 1922 Suffolk Law grad and recipient of an honorary degree from Suffolk in 1980. . . Veteran Suffolk maintenance worker TONY SHAW is home from the hospital after surgery and we're sure he'd appreciate a get well card. He'll be out awhile so cards could be sent to 5 West Bellflower St., Dorchester, Ma. 02125. . .

And, before closing, let's not forget History's JOHN CAVANAGH, chairman of the Social Committee, call to all that there will be a faculty-staff social on Oct. 20 from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. in Archer 110 (President's Conference Room) with the usual goodies and liquid refreshments. See you there!

#