Dr. Zohn Elected Fourth Alumni Trustee

Dr. Harry Zohn of West Newton, professor of German and chairman of the School of Humanities Council at Brandeis University, has been elected an alumni representative on the Suffolk University Board of Trustees.

Chairman Vincent A. Fulmer, in announcing Zohn’s three-year term, said, “Professor Zohn’s election as trustee of Suffolk University brings a distinguished alumnus, educator and scholar in German literature to the governing body of the University.”

Zohn has already been honored for his contribution to the enrichment of education for undergraduate students at Brandeis, and at Suffolk University for his service as a member of the Trustees Visiting Committee for the Humanities in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and for his lectures and encouragement of language study here.”

Noting that Zohn was the first Suffolk University graduate to earn a Ph.D. degree, Fulmer said, “We salute his example of devotion to learning and his strong advocacy of the liberal arts education.”

Zohn was chairman of the department of Germanic and Slavic languages at Brandeis for 11 years. He is the author, editor or translator of some 25 books. He received an honorary doctor of letters degree from Suffolk University in 1976.

Zohn was elected to the board through an election conducted by the Alumni Office. He is one of three alumni who sit on the board for three year terms under this procedure. His election also brings to 16 the number of Suffolk alumni serving on the 21-member board of trustees.

Zohn is a native of Vienna, Austria, who emigrated to this country with his parents as a teenager during Nazi rule. The family settled in Boston and Zohn attended Suffolk University and attended evenings while working full-time at a Boston credit firm. He received a bachelor of arts degree with honors from Suffolk University in 1946, a master of arts degree from Suffolk University in 1949, and received a Ph.D. in Germanic languages and literatures from Harvard in 1949 and 1952 respectively.

Zohn has been a member of the Brandeis faculty for 27 years. An amateur musician, he plays the viola (self-taught) with the Brandeis Symphony and performed with the Boston Civic Symphony for 13 years.

He and his wife, the former Judith Polfinkle, have two children, Steven, 12 and Marjorie, 10.

Alumni Club Charters Approved

A charter for the formation of Out-of-State Alumni Clubs was ratified by the University Alumni Council during a meeting on January 11th. The formation has been anxiously awaited by a number of alumni groups who have been extremely active in their regions, and have requested the opportunity of being formally recognized as officially-sanctioned alumni clubs by the University Alumni Council.

It is anticipated that the college alumni of the Washington D.C. area will be the first group to seek and receive official recognition as a Suffolk University Alumni Club. This group under the leadership of Richard W. Novak, BSBA’58 and many other outstanding alumni have organized and hosted a number of successful functions and are hopeful that the establishment of a club will serve to heighten alumni interest within their area.

The formation of several additional alumni clubs is expected as a number of groups within the eastern states have been regularly holding Alumni events in their areas.

"The Smile Isle"

St. Maarten is known as just that, and what better way to begin the revitalized Suffolk University Alumni Travel Program than to spend eight glorious days and seven nights on this Caribbean island. Our trip offers you a unique chance to depart from Boston on Sunday, April 29 and return on Sunday, May 6. By now you should have received a color brochure outlining the trip.

Prior successful alumni trips have been run to such exotic places as Rio de Janeiro and Hong Kong. The most recent excursion was a special weekend excursion to Washington, D.C. This trip was planned in conjunction with the Supreme Court swearing in ceremony. Over 35 alumni and their families enjoyed this delightful trip to our Nation’s Capital.

Patrick H. Dwyer, BSBA’62, MAEd ’70 is chairman of the Travel Program and his able staff members are: Arthur C. Coffey, JD’49; Richard S. Dell’Aria, BS’71, JD’75; Arthur Murphy, JD’38 and Peter O’Neill, AB’73, MBA’75, EdM’78. Pat stated, “St. Maarten is the first of many future trips being planned by our committee. We look forward to seeing a good alumni response for this trip.”

The 37 square mile island is a blend of old and new. It has stretches of isolated beaches (36 miles of beach) to try your hand at Lady Luck? Go ahead, the Dutch/French island is known for its casinos.

The cost is a mere $299.95 which includes round-trip jet transportation, hotel accommodations at a first-class St. Tropez Beach Hotel, all transfers, baggage handling, cocktail party, taxes and tips, plus much more.

You could not fly round-trip to St. Maarten for the cost of this fantastic vacation. Time is running out. Please come and join your fellow alumni on this beautiful exotic island.

You really will enjoy yourself!

University to Prepare Historical Series

Resources for History Sought:
President Thomas A. Fulham has announced the formation of the Heritage Committee which has been given the responsibility of researching and preparing a history of the University. Several publications, based on the committee's findings, will be published between 1979 and 1981. This massive undertaking is targeted for completion in 1981 as part of the 75th anniversary celebration of the institution.

The work of this committee, according to Dr. David L. Robbins, Associate Professor of History and Chairman of the Steering Committee, will be two-fold. "The first thrust will be to record the history of the University from primary sources — an oral history from living members of the Suffolk community who have not put to paper their recollections and interpretations of events and trends in the history of the school. The second thrust will be to publish articles on various aspects of the institution drawing upon the oral history as well as available written materials. We expect an exciting series which will engender a sense of tradition, heritage and pride. The story is an exciting one which will be of interest to everyone with a connection to the University."

Dr. Robbins asks that anyone who is aware of resource persons for the oral history or is aware of archival materials contact the Alumni Activities Office or the history department.

Holiday Programs Christmas Shoppers' Service:
Here he (?) comes! Here comes Santa, yelling 35 children.

Well "he" was Mary Ciampa, a graduate student at Suffolk University and part-time employee of Burger King. It was Burger King who sent Ms. Ciampa to the University as a part of their contribution to the Second Annual Christmas Shoppers' Service on December 16. The children while their parents finished luncheon, the visit from Santa, the magic puppet show, and the donations of the downtown retailers all combined to make a fun-filled day for the children while their parents finished their last minute holiday errands.

The children were supervised by Suffolk University students and members of the Alumni Office until the cost of the Service was $1.00 for each child. What helped to defray expenses and significantly contributed to the success of the program were the number of items donated by various downtown retailers. The participating stores were:

- Burger King
- Filene's
- F. W. Woolworth's
- Jordan Marsh
- McDonald's
- Many thanks from the Alumni Office to everyone involved in making the Second Annual Christmas Shoppers' Service a unique and successful alumni program.

Nutcracker:

"I've seen the Nutcracker performed by three other ballet companies, including the Bolshoi Ballet. This one was the best!”, said one alumnus as he picked up his tickets to the Third Annual Suffolk University Night at the Nutcracker. The almost 300 alumni who also attended thoroughly agreed. Always a delightful way to usher in the holiday season, the Boston Ballet Company outdid itself this year. Replendent with new scenery, props and sets the stage glittered and ohs and ahhs rustled through the audience with each new scene. At the end of the performance an alumnus said, "I've come to the Nutcracker four of the last five years. This year was superb. Already I can't wait until next year — The Ballet Company is getting new costumes!"

Brownell to Head Dual Degree Fund Drive

John E. McDonald, General Chairman for the College Annual Fund and Ronald A. Wysocki, National Chairman for the Law Fund are pleased to announce the appointment of Attorney Thomas F. Brownell, BS'63, JD'66 as Dual Degree Chairman. Mr. Brownell's responsibility will be to organize and implement the fund drive for alumni who have an undergraduate and a law degree from the University. There are over 400 dual degree alumni who will be solicited via phonathons, mail and personal contact.

Mr. Brownell is a part-time instructor at Suffolk University, practices law in Quincy, and is a state representative from that city. "I am thrilled to do everything I can for our University. The great strides that the Annual Fund programs have been making indicates the strong alumni belief in Suffolk University. As dual degree alumni, we have two reasons for supporting our Alma Mater."

Little Breaks Scoring Mark

Only half of the schedule has been played, but Suffolk University's All America basketball candidate Donovan Little already has broken the school's scoring record and could become a 2000-point scorer before completing his college career.

Little eclipsed the record of Chris Tsiotos (1639) with two glittering performances in the recent Salem State Classic, which the host team won by defeating the Rams in the final, 85-71. Little's 32 points in an 82-71 victory over Eastern Connecticut and 33 points in the loss to Salem raised his career total to 1644 points.

With 11 games remaining on the schedule (as we went to press) and based on his current 25.3 point per game average, the multi-talented senior from Rochester stands a good chance of becoming Suffolk's first 2000-point man.

Little lived up to all his pre-tournament notices. In addition to his 35 points for the two games, the 6 foot 4 inch forward had 16 rebounds, 11 assists and six blocked shots.

On hand to see his record broken was Chris Tsiotos of Winthrop, who played with Little for two seasons. "If there was any guy I'd have liked to see break my record it was Donovan Little," Tsiotos smiled. "He's a super player, and I just hope he gets all the recognition he deserves."

Little has been listed in the top ten nationally in Division III scoring. He was selected E.C.A.C. player of the week the first week of the balloting and has been named to the All Star quintets.

The smooth cornerman has had undue pressure on him in all of Suffolk's games to date. A year ago he teamed with scoring machine Pat Ryan to give the Rams a potent offense. Ryan has completed his basketball for Suffolk and is playing in Sweden. So, Little is carrying the offense for a Suffolk team considered weaker than past Ram quintets.

The Rams were the pre-tourney favorite in the Salem tournament but were soundly outgunned in the second half of the championship game with Salem State as the Vikings Dave Knight poured in 27 points to capture the MVP award.

Little, high scorer for the tourney, was named to the All-Tournament team.

Suffolk had a 10-6 record at press time.

Campus Happenings

It was another busy Fall semester on campus with enrollment in the colleges climbing for the fourth straight year. Among new features was a Parents Day, sponsored by the Gold Key Society, for the parents of this year's freshman class held Sunday, Dec. 3. President Fulham and members of the administration welcomed the parents who also viewed a slide presentation of the campus area and enjoyed a luncheon in the school dining hall. Two regular campus activities were popular again. Hispanic Week, featuring Hispanic festivities and programs throughout the week were again capped off by the appearance of the increasingly entertaining Boston Flamenco Ballet. Prof. Alberto Mendez again coordinated the successful week. China Week, under the leadership of Dr. Ilse Fang of Languages, combined historical and folklore aspects and presented an exhibit of arts and crafts in the cafeteria. Also featured was a lecture by Harvard Professor John K. Fairbank, an authority on China.

Ralph Nader, the consumer rights advocate who was brought to speak to a Suffolk group several years ago, appeared on campus for the Student Bar Association on Nov. 15. This time, Nader was appearing on behalf of the Equal Justice Foundation and he filled the auditorium... Good causes turned on Suffolk students on a couple of occasions. Nine Suffolk undergrads took part in a bathtub race with other colleges to the Government Center, which netted $700 in pledges for cerebral palsy. Three Suffolk coeds turned in their pledge on the Channel 7 CB telethon where they were interviewed by former Red Sox player Rico Petrocelli. And for the third straight year, the pie-throwing contest went over with a smash with students collecting some $2000 for Globe Santa. And law school students raised some $1100 for Globe Santa as well... The Political Science Club has recognized Government Professor Emeritus Dion J. Archon for his long-time efforts as club adviser. The club named an annual award for Archon, and the first recipient was outgoing Gov. Michael Dukakis who addressed Suffolk students Nov. 28. Archon still lectures at the university part-time... The Journalism Department is sponsoring its 9th annual competition for high school newspapers with a dinner in March to announce the winners. The program has grown each year with a number of the high school editors eventually enrolling in Suffolk's journalism program.

First Woman Named to Appeals Court Is S.U. Alumna

The first woman named to the bench of the Massachusetts Appeals Court was Attorney Charlotte Perretta. A 1967 law school graduate, she chose to have the administration of oath ceremony at the Suffolk University Auditorium because of her devotion to her Alma Mater. Until Gov. Michael Dukakis appointed her to the bench, she had been associated with Atty. Ronald A. Wysocki of Peabody, JD'72, national chairman of the Suffolk University Annual Law Fund.

More than 400 friends and colleagues of Judge Perretta jammed the Auditorium on Thursday, December 21 for the ceremony. Gov. Dukakis administered the oath on the stage of the auditorium. Among those present were Perretta's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Armando Perretta of Elmwood, Conn. and her brother, James Perretta of Wethersfield, Conn. and Michael Perretta of Newington, Conn. Paying tribute to her during the ceremony were Gov. Dukakis, Dean David J. Sargent of the Law School, Chief Judge Allen M. Hale of the Appeals Court, Paul P. Perocchi, JD'75, Connecticut's attorney general, and Patricia McGovern of Lawrence, JD'66. Among the 400-plus guests were a virtual Who's Who of jurists, prosecutors, attorneys and legislators including Senate President William Bulger and Suffolk County District Attorney–Elect Newman Flanagan.

A reception followed in the University's main dining room.

Perretta was graduated from Mt. St. Joseph Academy in West Hartford, Connecticut and the College of St. Elizabeth, Convent Station, New Jersey.

Annual Law Dinner Draws 600 for Third Successive Year

For the third successive year the Law School Alumni Association, under the leadership of its current President, David J. Sallia, JD'52 and Dinner Chairman, Charles N. Collatos, JD'64, brought 600 alumni together at the Boston Park Plaza on December 4. This annual dinner, to which even non-alumni seek tickets, honors outstanding Suffolk University Law School alumni and provides an opportunity for alumni to reestablish contact with fellow classmates and peers in the legal profession. The dinner clearly demonstrates the spirit of camaraderie and pride that the alumni have for their Alma Mater.

Honored that evening as "Outstanding Alumni of Suffolk University Law School" were Dwight L. Allison, JD '39; Ronald A. Wysocki, JD'72; Doris R. Pote, JD'67; David J. Sargent, JD'54 and Ronald A. Wysocki, JD'72. Recognized for their professional excellence and contributions to the legal profession, the awardees each received a hand-lettered certificate. For the second consecutive year, the Honorable James J. Nixon, JD'55, did an excellent job in his role as Toastmaster.

Guest speaker for the evening was Boston Mayor, Kevin H. White. In a speech that was considerably altered from the version distributed earlier that day to the press, Mayor White focused on the significance of the case that grew out of his attempt to use tax funds to promote the classification amendment on the November ballot. He was critical of the state Supreme Judicial Court's decision which, in effect, "allowed private corporations to spend as much as they wanted on ballot issues while ruling that public corporations — the state and city — couldn't spend a cent." White further said he was trying to convey "the effect that lawyers have on the public sector," and said that "as the law changes, so does politics."

Another highlight of the evening was the music of alumnus Guy Principato, JD'41 and his orchestra.

National Chairman of the Annual Law Fund, Ronald Wysocki, JD'72, presents $75,597.00 to Dean David Sargent at the Annual Law Alumni Dinner.

Law Alumni Directory Distributed

The Law School Alumni Directory was mailed in December to all alumni who had placed orders for their copy. According to Joseph Kane, JD'70, chairman of the Directory Committee of the Law Alumni Board of Directors, "The response has been very good and alumni are finding the directory very useful."

Copies are still available from the Alumni Office for $5.00 per copy.

The Suffolk Journal is the official publication of the Suffolk University Library. The journal is on microfilm in the library, nearly the complete run from September 19, 1936. "We took the issues the library had collected and with some help from Dean of Students Bradley Sullivan and the University Archives, only a few issues are missing," says College Librarian Edmund Hamann.

Hamann says the idea of microfilming the back issues of the Journal had occurred to him a few years back. Last year’s Journal Editor Philip Santoro endorsed the idea and the Social Law Library agreed to microfilm three issues. "They haven’t sent us a bill yet, but the cost will be split between the Journal and the library," added Hamann.

What was on the minds of the students in 1936? According to volume one, issue one, Suffolk, not yet a university, was composed of four different universities. Suffolk Law School, one of the components, was celebrating its 50th anniversary.

A bit younger was the three-year-old College of Liberal Arts (CLA) and the brand new evening College of Journalism. A Journal article on the new College of Journalism said the attraction of the school was that all the classes were at night. That first issue ran nine pages.

The paper, which was monthly, had beneath its logo, a motto quoting Long-fellow: "The heights by great men reached and kept were not attained by sudden flight; but they, while their companions slept, were toiling away the night."

The most important thing that happened to the Suffolk group was the year that was the incorporation of the schools into a university. On April 26, 1937 the legislature approved the incorporation.

Hamann says the microfilm room of the college library is equipped with the most modern microfilm readers and printers. He says that in a few years, with the accumulated Journals, another roll will be added to the three rolls already labelled Suffolks Journal.

Post-Masters’ Degree in Education Offered

The Counselor Education faculty now offer a post-masters’ degree program leading to a Certificate of Advanced Graduate Study in Counseling (C.A.G.S.), announced Director of Counselor Education, Dr. Glen Eskedal.

The program is designed to meet the needs for advanced academic and field experiences of practitioners of counseling who currently work in clinics, agencies, schools or colleges. It provides thirty semester hours beyond the masters’ degree and is flexible enough for an individual student to become a specialist in a chosen direction (e.g., agency coordinator, pupil personnel director, supervisor of counseling, college student personnel director). The program may be completed on either a full-time or part-time basis.

For further information, contact the College Admissions Office, 56 Temple Street, Boston, MA 02114.

G.A.A. to Sponsor Event at Marketplace

Have you walked through the Faneuil Hall Marketplace area yet? Young and old alike delight in the multitude of specialty shops. There is everything from a vendor with things for left-handed people to one that sells nothing but heart-shaped objects or things with hearts printed on them.

Even more intriguing are the aromas that waft through the air from the dozens of different food stands and restaurants. No matter what your tastes may be, you will find what you want at the Marketplace.

The General Alumni Association is sponsoring a cocktail reception/dance sponsored by the General Alumni Association on Sunday, April 1 from 8:00-11:00 p.m. If you have not visited this area, you will have a delightful time. If the Marketplace is familiar to you, then you know already how much fun it will be.

Some alumni plan to come early, tour the Marketplace, have dinner and then join with their former classmates for dancing, cocktails and hors d’oeuvres.

Faneuil Hall Marketplace will be the site of a cocktail/reception dance sponsored by the General Alumni Association on Sunday, April 1.

Two Grants Awarded for a Lecture Series

The College of Business Administration was recently notified that it is the recipient of an award from the Shelby Cullom Davis Foundation. The $8,600 grant will be used to sponsor a lecture series designed to increase the business school’s utilization of the many corporate, executive, and government officials whose offices are located within immediate proximity of the campus.

This was followed by a three-year grant from the Gillette Company for a similar program. The lectures will cover topics concerning the business difficulties which arise from governmental policy.

The Foundation of which Shelby Cullom Davis, New York investment banker and former U.S. Ambassador to Switzerland, is Chairman has offered colleges and universities in America One Million dollars over a five-year period for positive proposals to foster improved cooperation and understanding among businessmen, educators and students. This year, four-year institutions from the New England and Western Association of Schools and Colleges were invited to submit proposals and a total of fourteen grants were awarded.

The proposals for these grants were prepared by Richard L. McDowell, Ph. D., Dean of the College of Business Administration, and Frank L. Whiston, Director of Development for the University.
