HISTORY OF SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY

“History has demonstrated that the great leaders of every age were, almost without exception, born in poverty, denied educational advantages in boyhood, and obliged to educate themselves at odd moments while doing a man’s work in the world. The same immutable principle is in operation today — the earnest souls who now toil in the evening schools to fit themselves for life will be found in the front ranks of our civilization of tomorrow.”

— Gleason L. Archer (1923)

SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY FOUNDED IN 1906

---

Suffolk University grew from humble beginnings in the Roxbury parlor of Gleason L. Archer, a young lawyer who had worked his way through high school and college. A chance meeting brought the young graduate together with a benefactor who loaned him money to pursue the study of law, asking only that Archer pass along the favor.

In 1906, Archer opened the Suffolk School of Law, a night school established to “serve ambitious young men who are obliged to work for a living while studying law.” He believed that the growing waves of immigrants who came to America’s shores should be given the same opportunities that had been the privilege of the wealthy few.

Archer soon moved the school into his downtown law offices, and in 1908 machinist and Archer student Roland E. Brown passed the bar. News of Brown’s achievement led to a boost in registration, so Archer gave up his law practice to devote himself full-time to the Suffolk School of Law. By 1930, Archer had built Suffolk into one of the largest law schools in the country.

The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences — later renamed the College of Arts and Sciences — was founded in 1934 in response to the recommended standard that law students possess a college degree, and because Archer wanted to create “a great evening university” that working people could afford.

Three years later, in 1937, the College of Business Administration, now the Sawyer Business School, was established. It offered the possibility of the extension of intellectual analysis into the field of business.

The three academic units were incorporated as Suffolk University in 1937, and, over the years, the University expanded from its night-school format to incorporate a range of full- and part-time programs.

THE UNIVERSITY TODAY

The Law School offers Juris Doctor and Master of Laws degrees. Its expansive curriculum combines a strong academic foundation with expertise in an array of specialty areas. Nationally known faculty and a range of practical experiences provide superior preparation for law practice in the 21st century.

The College of Arts and Sciences consists of 17 academic departments, including the New England School of Art and Design. The college offers more than 50 programs of specialized study, at the baccalaureate, master, and doctoral levels.

Suffolk University Sawyer Business School's undergraduate and graduate programs emphasize global business practice. Nine undergraduate majors are offered, and graduate programs lead to more than a dozen advanced degrees, including joint degree programs with the Law School. Suffolk Business School also offers an online MBA program.

Suffolk students today hail from across the nation and around the world. The onetime commuter school now has two residence halls, allowing resident students to fully realize the academic and cultural promise of their Beacon Hill surroundings. Suffolk's classrooms, libraries and offices are housed in 16 buildings in downtown Boston.

In 1995, the University's first international campus was opened in Madrid. A second international campus, in Dakar, Senegal, opened in 1999. Satellite campuses also have been established in Massachusetts in North Andover, West Barnstable, and Franklin.

ACADEMIC ATTIRE

The academic attire worn during the commencement exercises by the graduates, faculty members, deans, trustees, the president, and the other members of the academic procession, had its origin during the Middle Ages at the medieval universities. The long black gown, the basic garment of the academic attire, was worn for warmth and to conceal food and sometimes wine to be consumed during lecture recesses. The square cap, the shape of which resembles a book, a mason's mortarboard, or the quadrangle shape of the Oxford University campus, usually has a black tassel indicating a bachelor's or master's degree, or a gold tassel indicating a doctoral degree. The hood, which is the most colorful raiment, was used as a cowl, a cape, an alms sack or to protect the wearer's wig from the elements.

In modern times, the wearing of academic attire was codified by the American Council on Education. Contemporary guidelines specify that the standard color for caps and gowns is black, that the material be cotton poplin, that there be no trimming on the gowns worn by recipients of baccalaureate or master's degrees, that the doctoral gown may be faced with black velvet trim with three bars of black velvet across the sleeves, that the trimming of the doctoral hood be of velvet and signify the academic area of the degree, and that the hood lining reflect the official color or colors of the college or university conferring the degree. The hood trimming color white designates bachelor of arts; yellow: bachelor and master of science; magenta: bachelor of science in journalism; drab olive: bachelor and master of business administration; peacock blue: bachelor and master of public administration; blue: master of education and certificate of advanced graduate study in education; and purple: juris doctor (law) degree.

Within certain permissible limits, universities may vary the style and color of the caps and gowns worn by their graduates. These variations may be noticed in the academic procession.

Colored cords are worn by our Law School graduates and College of Arts and Sciences and Sawyer Business School undergraduates who have been awarded graduation honors. Gold cords signify summa cum laude honors, silver signifies magna cum laude honors and bronze indicates cum laude honors. The College of Arts and Sciences and the Sawyer Business School also recognize honor distinctions for transfer graduates – blue and gold cords for Highest Distinction, blue and silver cords for High Distinction, and blue and bronze for Distinction. Business students inducted into the Beta Gamma Sigma International Honor Society are wearing a royal blue satin honor stole outlined in gold with the Beta Gamma Sigma key logo.

Tickets and Invitations

Each graduating student will be allotted six guest tickets along with engraved invitations as mementos. Extra ticket(s) from the lottery/waitlist will be distributed at the time of the Commencement packet pick-up. Please understand that invitations are provided as commemorative items and CANNOT be used for entry. One ticket will be required of each guest for admission to the TD BankNorth Garden.

When and where should students arrive?

Please plan to be at the TD BankNorth Garden NO LATER THAN 8AM on SUNDAY, MAY 20.

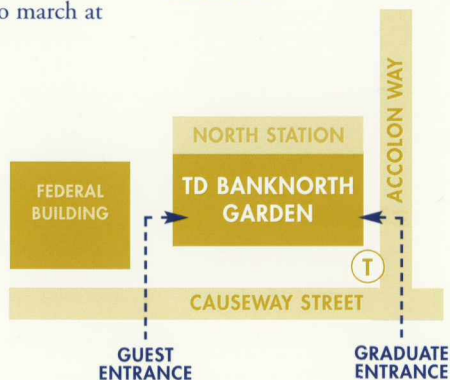

You will enter through the side at Accolon Way (see page diagram below), and ushers will direct you to the student robing area. In the student robing area, you will go directly to the registrar's table to receive your name card.

After receiving your name card, you will be directed to line up for the Commencement processional by school. Please stay in this area, as you will have to be robed and in line when we give the signal to march at approximately 9:25am.

When and where should guests arrive?

Upon passing through the entrance, guests will receive a Commencement program. In the lobby, there will be a Suffolk University information table for those who may have questions or need special accommodations.

GUESTS MAY NOT BRING LARGE BAGS, BACKPACKS, OR WRAPPED GIFTS. THESE ITEMS WILL NOT BE ALLOWED IN THE TD BANKNORTH GARDEN.

BEFORE COMMENCEMENT

Line-up

At the registrar's table, you will have been handed a 3 x 5 typed index card bearing your name and degree. This card is color-coded and numbered so that you will be in alphabetical/numerical order within your school group. Please line up in that sequence. Staff will be there to direct you. Do not make any changes or additions to the card. You must present it to the reader when you approach the stage to be recognized.

Lines will be formed with the candidates by school in the following order:

SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY LAW SCHOOL

DURING COMMENCEMENT

When your school is called

Each group will be introduced by the dean of the school (Deans Smith, Greenberg, and O'Neill for the Law School, College of Arts and Sciences, and the Sawyer Business School respectively). Under the direction of ushers, you will proceed to the stage two rows at a time.

Receiving your diploma

At the time your group is called, students will process in two lines to the front of the stage (one line will be at the stairs to the left of the stage and one line will be at the right—see diagram). You will march up the stairs and hand your card to the reader (R in diagram), who will announce your name.

A diploma will be handed to an associate dean (AD on the diagram) from your school who will hand it to you. Accept the diploma with your left hand and shake right hands with the associate dean. You will then walk across the stage, to the center where you will shake hands with the dean of your school (D in diagram). A picture will be taken at this time. After the handshake, you will turn and descend the stairs at the center of the stage and return to your seat.

After receiving your diploma

Return to your seat. Once each school has been given all degrees, the president will ask you to stand as a group to be recognized. You will then sit down as a group.

Recessional

The University marshal will raise the baton to signal the Recessional. The stage party and faculty will recess. The graduates will recess in two lines after the faculty. Go slowly and remain in line.

OTHER IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Receiving your official diploma

To facilitate an orderly process, during the formal Commencement exercises you will receive a scroll instead of your actual diploma. At the conclusion of the ceremonies, you will return to the robing area for receipt of your official diploma. (Only May 2007 graduates will receive their diplomas at the Commencement ceremony. All except Law graduates should contact the University registrar's office at 617.573.8430 with any questions. Law graduates should contact the Law School registrar at 617.573.8160.)

Photography during Commencement

Guests will be restricted from approaching the stage area to take pictures or to make congratulatory gestures. Security personnel will strictly enforce this restriction.

A professional photographer will take pictures as you receive your diploma. Information about purchasing these photos will be sent to your home.

Webcast

A live online Webcast of the Commencement ceremony will be available on and after May 20. Please visit www.suffolk.edu/commencement/webcast.
