Players Present 'Bury the Dead'

By Edward Marks

The fall musical production at Suffolk Institute is "Bury the Dead," a show with music by George White. The cast is composed of students and faculty. The story is about a man who is discovered to be dead and is buried in the ground. The show is directed by Dr. William C. Smith, who is also the director of the Suffolk Institute Players. The show opens on October 27 and runs through October 29. The performance is at 8 p.m. each night. The audience is expected to be large, and the students are looking forward to the show.

To state Board

By William H. Hunter

The Suffolk Board of Trustees met last week to discuss the state of the college. The board was pleased with the progress made in the past year, and they are looking forward to the future. The board discussed the need for more faculty and staff, and they agreed to increase the budget for next year. The board also discussed the need for a new library, and they agreed to start a fund-raising campaign to raise the money.

Students Attend Model Assembly At Washington

By John Smith

The Suffolk Institute Model Assembly was held in Washington last week. The assembly was attended by students from Suffolk and other colleges. The assembly was a great success, and the students were able to learn a lot about the workings of government. The assembly was held in the U.S. Capitol, and the students were able to meet with their representatives and senators. The assembly was a great experience for the students, and they are looking forward to the next one.

Student's Book To Be Published

By Emily Brown

The Suffolk Institute Student's Book is being published next month. The book is a collection of essays written by the students. The book is being published by the Suffolk Institute Press. The essays are about a variety of topics, including politics, history, and culture. The book is expected to be a great success, and the students are looking forward to seeing it in print.

Suffolk Joins Two Education Councils

By Robert Johnson

Suffolk Institute has joined two education councils. The councils are the Council on Higher Education and the Council on Accreditation. The councils are made up of representatives from other colleges and universities. The councils will meet regularly to discuss issues of concern to the colleges. Suffolk Institute is looking forward to being a part of the councils and to working with other colleges.

NATO

By Joan J. E. Emery

In the days long ago when World War II, Europe and the United States were at war, there was a need to establish the balance of power which had been destroyed in World War II. The North Atlantic Treaty Order (NATO) was created to meet this need. The organization was designed to provide a framework for the cooperation of the nations of Europe and North America to ensure peace.

The organization was founded on April 4, 1949, by the United States, the United Kingdom, France, Belgium, Netherlands, Norway, Denmark, and Italy. Today, NATO has grown to include 30 member countries.

The purpose of NATO is to promote peace and security in the region through collective defense, cooperation, and economic development. NATO member countries work together to address security challenges, including terrorism, proliferation of weapons of mass dermination, and cyber threats.

NATO is headquartered in Brut-ten, Belgium, and is led by a Secretary General, who is appointed by the member states. The current Secretary General is Dr. Harald Sil den, who took office in August 2019.

NATO has a standing military force, known as the NATO Rapid Response Force, which can be deployed to respond to a variety of securitiy threats.

The Suffolk University Rams, ranked second in the nation with a record of 25-1, defeated the Merrimack College Warriors, ranked third in the nation with a record of 23-3, by a score of 101-86 in a thrilling game at the Suffolk University Field House. The Rams, led by the dynamic play of their star player, Jack Johnson, were well on their way to winning the game as early as the first quarter. The Warriors, however, fought back in the second half, narrowing the gap to within 10 points at one point. But the Rams, with a strong performance by their bench players, pulled away in the final minutes to secure the victory. The game was attended by a record-breaking crowd of 10,000 spectators, who watched in awe as the Rams dominated the game from start to finish.
