SUFFOLK APPEARS ON NATION-WIDE T.V.
Compete Against Providence College

On Sunday October 16, Suffolks University appeared in competition with Providence College on the nationwide T.V. College Basketball program, "Hoops," on the ABC network. Providence, which has a better-than-average men's program, held a five-point lead, but by the second half Providence's team managed to take the lead and continued to a 29-27 win.

Suffolk was represented by a four-member team with one alternate. The team captain was Robert Pughe, who is a senior, and major in Psychology. He works as a pre-counselor at Suffolk and is a National Merit Scholarship recipient. He recently attended a college in California and is in his senior year. He is a recipient of the Boston Post Scholarship.

Providence College was represented by Young Captain, Dennis Whitenet, a sophomore in Psychology, and English major, Brian Ashbee, a junior in Psychology, who, among other things, is a member of the Psychology honor society.

The Providence team was nominated to the Closing of the First Round of the Tournament by the several colleges throughout the nation. They are looking forward to the next round of competition.

Lecture Series Formed

In an effort to enrich the faculty and enliven the student body, a lecture series has been formed by the English department. The first lecture in the series will be given by Dr. John D. Jones, of the SUNY Institute of Technology. His topic will be "The American Novel: A Neglected Legacy." The lecture will be held in the Campus Center ballroom at 8:00 p.m. on October 23.
Censorship

The following article is reprinted with permission of the North-Eastern Press.

The administration is an open enemy as far as censorship is concerned. The administration is in the business for the benefit of the students.

The problem of censorship is one of the most important questions on the agenda of the students. The university is faced with the challenge of balancing the right to free speech against the need to maintain a safe and respectful environment for all students.

The administration has recently taken a stance against student publication. The administration has issued a statement calling for the removal of certain articles from the student publication. The administration claims that the articles in question contain material that is deemed inappropriate.

The administration has been criticized for its action. Some students argue that the administration is infringing on their rights to free speech. They believe that the administration is using censorship as a tool to silence dissenting voices.

Others argue that the administration is acting within its rights. They believe that the administration is responsible for maintaining a safe and respectful environment for all students. They argue that the administration is justified in removing certain articles from the student publication.

The issue of censorship is complex and multifaceted. It involves balancing the right to free speech against the need to maintain a safe and respectful environment for all students. It is a challenge that the administration, the students, and the university as a whole must work together to address.
Grad Service
Offered

A new Placement service is being offered to alumni without cost by their Alma Mater. It is the comprehensive matching system called Graduate Placement Assistance - G.P.A.S. Graduates can make known their qualifications for employment in firms and agencies from coast to coast, or in designated regions of the United States with the filling out of one questionnaire. G.P.A.S. offers: Advantage to the graduate to list all information, location, salary desired, and guarantees that they will be contacted only by employers who meet their specifications. The service handles all types of disciplines including engineering, science, arts, business and finance. Eligibility: seeking a job in education, however, are not presently eligible.

Alumni, contemplating a change of employment should acquaint themselves with details of this opportunity. Graduate Placement Assistance forms are available on the Placement Bureau, Howard University.

OSMOSIS OF CMH A V

By HARVEY

A tricky disease, which may develop from a number of causes, is known as the song of the} transformed girl.

A study was undertaken to determine the effects of five-year-old girls on the physical and mental development of children. The study was conducted on a group of five-year-olds in a classroom setting. The children were divided into two groups: one group received regular education, while the other group received education that incorporated the use of a special musical instrument. The results showed that the children in the experimental group had better cognitive and social skills compared to those in the control group. The study suggested that incorporating music into the educational curriculum can have a positive impact on children's development.

You thought so to think, you thought so to imagine, but you didn't have to push buttons.
Mrs. Updike

There are two kinds of people — those people who went and know that college means to go to school. Then there are the other people who don’t.

Bob Shapiro

It was a bit too soon for the first half. P.D. won the last half. Unfortunately, the last half was over. Unfortunately.
TRIP TO THE PAST

Contents

1. Our Fraternity Calendar for November will prove to be very interesting. On Nov. 11, Alpha Pi Omega has been challenged by Delta Sigma Pi to a football game. We expect that this event will be as successful as last year's warm-up game. This year, however, the brothers of Delta Sigma Pi have set their sights higher, and have challenged the brothers of Alpha Pi Omega to a game on Nov. 2. We have hoped that the pledges are planning for this event and are hoping for a lot of fans. This year we are proud to announce the St. Andrew Distinguished Student of the Year award to the Regional Meeting in Philadelphia. We hope that this is an indication of the progress that our fraternity is making.

2. Tel-Star

By Ines Pattern

Tel-Star is a book entitled "The Beginning of the End," and it is the story of a young man named Jeffrey, who is a graduate student at a university. Jeffrey's life is changed when he meets a young woman named Mary. Mary is a professor at the university, and she helps Jeffrey understand his place in the world. The book is a heartwarming story of love and friendship, and it is a great read for anyone who enjoys a good romance novel.

3. Come to the U.N.

My wife, Cathleen, and I would like to invite you to a special event at the United Nations. This event will be held on the 21st of November, and it is a great opportunity to see the UN in action. We hope that you will be able to make it, and we look forward to seeing you there.

4. Additions to the College Library

This year, the college library has added several new books to its collection. We have added a number of books on history, science, and literature, and we are sure that you will find something that interests you. We hope that you will take advantage of this new collection and use it to further your education.

5. FRATERNITY ROW

The brothers of Delta Sigma Pi would like to extend a special invitation to all our members who have been accepted as pledges. On November 4th, the brothers will host a special event at the fraternity house. We hope that you will be able to join us and enjoy the festivities.

6. PAST EVENTS

In 1966, the fraternity held its first ever football game. The game was held on November 11th, and it was a great success. We hope that this event will be the start of many more successful games in the future.

7. Sub-Economics

Sub-Economics is a great new club that has been formed on campus. The club is open to all students, and it is a great opportunity to learn about economics in a fun and interactive way. We hope that you will be able to join us and learn something new.

8. JOURNAL

The journal is a great way to keep track of all the events that are happening on campus. We hope that you will take advantage of this resource and use it to stay informed about all the latest news.

9. TRIP TO THE PAST

The trip to the past is an annual event that is held on November 11th. The event is a great opportunity to learn about the history of our fraternity and to see how far we have come.

Three Films: Rare, Medium and Burnt

Three Films: Rare, Medium and Burnt

Michael Oarz puts on an in-depth performance in THE YEARBOOK as he portrays the role of a poor but honest student. Oarz's performance is a highlight of the film, capturing the essence of the character and the story. The film is a compelling look at the life of a student, and Oarz's performance adds depth and meaning to the narrative.

The story is set in the small town of Maplewood, where a group of students are preparing for their final exam. Oarz plays the role of Tom, a student who is struggling to keep up with the other students. Despite his difficulties, Oarz remains determined to succeed, and his performance is a testament to the power of determination.

The film is directed by John Smith, who has a reputation for creating thought-provoking and engaging stories. Smith's direction is masterful, and he manages to captivate the audience throughout the film.

Overall, THE YEARBOOK is a film that delivers on its promises and delivers a powerful message about the importance of hard work and determination. It is a must-watch for anyone who enjoys thought-provoking and engaging films.

The Endless Summer

The Endless Summer is a film that takes the audiences on a journey to the beautiful and serene landscapes of the United States. The film follows a group of surfers as they travel across the country, exploring new waves and new adventures.

The film is directed by a team of talented filmmakers who have a reputation for creating visually stunning and emotionally engaging films. Their direction is masterful, and they manage to capture the beauty and the energy of the surfers as they ride the waves.

Overall, The Endless Summer is a film that delivers on its promises and delivers a powerful message about the importance of following your dreams and exploring new horizons. It is a must-watch for anyone who enjoys inspiring and visually stunning films.

BEACON
KING ON THEATRE

Long before "Cabaret" went into rehearsal, rumors went out that it would be a success. On the evening of October 12th, the five-week audience at the Jirk on the Theatre went wild. The audience was completely captivated, confidently swirling the performance of a first-rate musical comedy. That is just what they are, with all the pace, vitality and brilliancy that only professional theatrical craftsmanship can provide.

Adapted by Joe Masters for Lyric Theatre Company's first season, "KING ON THEATRE" is the story of a sympathetic, generous, middle-aged father, George Smith, and his two daughters, Laura and Mabel. George Smith, a successful lawyer, is suddenly thrown into the whirlwind of a new life when his wife, Helene, is killed in a car accident. As the new family forms, they face the trials and tribulations of marriage, work, and life in general. The story is a hilarious and heartwarming tale of love and friendship.

Dark Side Story

By Peter De rift

At a recent evening, the student council meeting was held. The agenda for the evening was to discuss the various activities planned for the next few weeks. One of the main topics discussed was the possibility of adding a new activity to the schedule, a weekly movie night. The students were enthusiastic about the idea, and plans were made to start the new activity as soon as possible.
