CONTROVERSY ERUPTS FROM SENIOR CLASS MEETING

Professor H. T. Smith of the Political Science department, at the conclusion of the meeting, said: "We have now reached the point where we must make a decision. We cannot continue to debate the issue any longer. It is time for action." Professor Smith's statement was met with disapproval by some members of the class, who argued that more discussion was necessary.

Mr. Foster, who had been a member of the S.G. for two years, spoke next. He stated that he had worked hard to improve the S.G. during his time in office. He also expressed his concern over the recent controversy and his desire to increase attendance and interest in the S.G.

The meeting was adjourned with no clear resolution reached. The issue will be taken up again at the next S.G. meeting.

Dr. Granger Appointed Dean of Business School

The appointment of Dr. Granger, a well-known educator and administrator, as Dean of Business Administration, was announced by President H. T. Smith. Dr. Granger, who has served as a professor at several universities, including Harvard and Yale, will bring a wealth of experience to the position.

Dr. Granger's first task will be to improve the business school's rankings. He plans to do this by implementing new curriculum and increasing the school's research opportunities.

Editorial

A problem that the student body of Suffern University is facing at the start of this year is that a new building has been erected. This building is the site of the new administration building. The student government has been working with the administration to provide the students with a new building. The administration has been working on this project for a year, and the students have been waiting for it. The building is located on the north side of campus. The building is a two-story building with a roof. The building is designed to be used as an administration building. The building will be used for administrative purposes, such as meetings and administration.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I would like to express my concern about the current state of student affairs in the school. The administration has not been providing adequate resources to the students. The students have been waiting for a new building for a year, and the administration has not provided any updates on the project. I believe that the administration should be providing regular updates on the project to the students.

Sincerely,

Dear Reader,

Bubble, bubble, toil and trouble, Fire burn and Cauldron bubble. Yes, the Intercollegiate Cauldron is boiling.

But not without your help. The Cauldron staff is looking for interested students with a sense of what's important and a flair for doing things.

The Cauldron would like to expand, but to do it we need people to report and photograph the important things going on at colleges and on the Boston scene. If you would like to be a staffer on Boston's newest newspaper, contact: THE COLLEGIATE CAULDRON c/o PROJECT 50 HUNTINGTON AVENUE YMCA.

BYLINE. Campus 1967

TO WHOM THE NIGHTMARE
By Donald J. Tate

In August 1967, the end of the television summer and the start of a new wave of protests, strikes, and the civil rights movement, campus life was different than it had been in previous years. As a student at the University of Buffalo, I remember the shift from a sense of order and calm to one of chaos.

The administration at the University of Buffalo took a hard-line approach to protests and demonstrations. They believed that the students were being influenced by outside pressures and that the university was being undermined by the activities of a small group of radical students.

In contrast, the students were trying to bring about change through non-violent means. They were protesting against the war in Vietnam, racism, and the treatment of women on campus. They believed that the university was controlled by a small group of administrators who were more concerned with maintaining the status quo than with the well-being of the students.

The tension between the administration and the students was palpable. There were frequent clashes and tension on campus.

Despite the administration's attempts to quell the protests, they continued and the situation escalated. The students felt that they were being denied the right to express their views and that their voices were being ignored.

In the end, the administration was forced to confront the reality of the situation. They acknowledged the students' concerns and began to make changes to address them. The university became a more inclusive and open place for all students.
Student Government Reports

Note that the first semester has ended, and the second semester will soon be upon us. It would be a valuable opportunity to re-examine some of the programs made in the Student Government and the student body as a whole. The world is changing, and we must be ever vigilant to find new solutions to old problems. The Student Government has a role to play in these matters, and it is important that we continue to explore new ideas and solutions.

Resolution Resulting from Controversial Senior Class Meeting

Resolution: Concerning the discussion engendered at a meeting of the Committee of the whole on February 3, 1987, of the Student Government of Indiana University, the theme problem encountered was a determination of unity that justified the complaint and has been the subject of a hearing. The purpose of this hearing was to examine the nature and implications of the petition and to determine what, if any, steps should be taken.

The resolution clearly states the need for unity in the student body and the importance of the student voice in the decision-making process. The resolution also acknowledges the student government's role in this matter and the necessity for transparency in the decision-making process.

Tuition Announcement

The Board of Trustees, at a meeting held on January 8, 1967, because of increased operating costs, has increased the present tuition rates for the 1967-1968 school year. Effective with the fall semester of 1967 the tuition rates will be as follows:

COLLEGE:
- Full time: $1000.00 per semester
- Part time: 25.00 per semester-hour

LAW SCHOOL:
- Day: $1500.00
- Part time: 24.25 per semester-hour

These new tuition rates increase the tuition for full-time students in both the College and Law School by 10.40 percent per year. For each Law School student by 10.40 percent per semester; and for each full-time student in the College by 6.50 percent per semester.

Medicine Technology Seminar Program

The Graduate Seminar Series in medicine has been increased for the fall semester of 1967. This increase in time and in content will provide students in biophysics, biochemistry, and medicine with a more substantial medical technology overview program as their respective backgrounds. The increased time and content will also provide a better background for the subsequent seminar series in the medical technology overview program of the Graduate School.

Qualification Exam

Applications for the Spring B.A. and M.A. April 18, 1967. Applications for the Qualification Exam must be available at the selective service system local boards throughout the country.

Eligible students who intend to take the test should apply to one of the nearest selective service local boards for application forms and for information of the test requirements. Practice questions and answers will be available to all students.

GRUMBLE NOOK

As a campus newspaper, we are committed to providing an honest and unbiased representation of the student experience. Our goal is to reflect the diverse perspectives and experiences of our student body. We strive to ensure that every voice is heard, and every story is told. Through our reporting, we hope to foster a sense of community and promote open dialogue on campus.

The Journal is dedicated to serving the needs of the student body and to upholding the highest standards of journalistic integrity. We believe in the power of the written word to inform, inspire, and empower. Thank you for reading, and we encourage you to engage with us and our content.

You can’t make a career out of the Peace Corps, but what a place to start

The Peace Corps can’t offer you a career, you serve with two years. But it is the place to start if you are interested in teaching, medicine, agriculture, or some other field where you can serve. The Peace Corps provides an opportunity to work with people from other cultures and to learn about different ways of life. It is a great place to start if you are interested in working in an international setting.

Portugal Welcomes You

In Portugal, you can’t miss the vibrant festival atmosphere, especially during the traditional Festa de São Pedro, where the streets come alive with music, dance, and colorful costumes. People gather to enjoy the lively atmosphere and experience the culture. There are also many opportunities to explore the beautiful hiking trails and the stunning natural scenery.
