BankAmerica CEO Rosenberg Commencement Speaker

BankAmerica Corp. Board Chairman Richard M. Rosenberg, who received a journalism degree from Suffolk University in 1952, will be the commencement speaker at the May 26 exercises of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and School of Management at 2:30 p.m. at the Hynes Veterans Memorial Convention Center.

Earlier in the day (10:30 a.m.) at the same auditorium, Judge Jim R. Carrigan of the U.S. District Court in the District of Colorado, will address graduates of the Law School. Carrigan is the former chairman of the board of trustees of the National Institute for Trial Advocacy.

Carrigan will receive an honorary doctor of laws degree as will U.S. Attorney Wayne A. Budd, Judge Frank Caprio of Rhode Island Municipal Court, a 1965 graduate of Suffolk Law School, and John J. Curtin, president of the American Bar Association.

At the CLAS/SOM exercises, Rosenberg will receive an honorary doctor of commercial science degree. Other honorary degree recipients will be Vice President/Treasurer Francis X. Flannery, the Rev. William C. Francis of St. Paul’s Church, Dorchester, who has worked extensively on behalf of the Pine Street Inn and Rosie’s Place, Anna Faith Jones, president of the Boston Foundation, and Patrick J. Purcell, president and publisher of the Boston Herald.

Class marshals for the exercises will be Theodore R. Alevisos, JD ’66, for the Law School and Robert J. Kane, BA ’66, for the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and the School of Management.

President David J. Sargent will confer degrees upon 494 graduates at the afternoon exercises. In the morning Sargent will award juris doctor degrees to 478 graduates.

For Richard Rosenberg, who became chairman and chief executive officer of BankAmerica in May of 1990, it will be a return home to the school he attended as a young man from Fall River. He was graduated from Durfee High School and during his four years at Suffolk was editor-in-chief of the Suffolk yearbook, The Beacon, and an editor of the Suffolk Journal, the student newspaper.

Suffolk U. Building Wins Contractors Award

Suffolk University’s new four-story Ridgeway Building on Cambridge Street has been cited by the Associated General Contractors of Massachusetts in its Build Massachusetts Awards Program.

The University, the contractor Walsh Brothers, Inc. of Cambridge, and Beacon Hill architect James McNeely received plaques for performance and cost in the construction of the building, which opened earlier this year.

Some 300 contractors, owners and architects attended the program which judged 28 projects on honor, merit of performance with the judging based on exceptional ratings in the areas of time, cost and quality.

The Associated General Contractors of Massachusetts, initiated its awards program in 1981 to recognize excellence in public and commercial construction in the state.

The building architect James McNeely designed the building to resemble the 19th century brick commercial structure on the site at 146 Cambridge Street.

The awards were presented at the AGC’s biennial awards ceremony at the Vista International Hotel in Waltham. Suffolk Vice President/Treasurer Francis X. Flannery accepted the award for the University.

V.P./Treasurer Francis X. Flannery receives building award.
Suffolk U. Honors Students in Gulf and Parents

The University paid tribute to its students serving as reservists in the Persian Gulf and to their parents at a reception at the University March 6.

President David J. Sargent presented Paul Revere Cups to the parents, noting, “We are delighted to welcome you to the University knowing the apprehension you have endured and the joy you now share with the ending of the Persian Gulf Conflict.”

The University is offering half scholarships to nine of its students who served in the Persian Gulf. At the reception, held in the President’s Conference Room at the school’s administrative offices at One Beacon Street, parents were videotaped to offer their words and wishes to their offspring abroad. In his remarks, President Sargent said the University “looked forward to welcoming back the Suffolk students whose lives have been so greatly disrupted by their service to their country.”

The Suffolk students who served in the Persian Gulf were Daniel J. Duchini of Pembroke, a junior majoring in political science; Thomas F. Kelly of Braintree, a sophomore biology major; Dennis P. Mawn of Norwood, a freshman in liberal arts; Matthew H. Malone of Newton, a sophomore history major; Michael J. Pavone of Marshfield, a sophomore majoring in sociology; John F. Maceira of Waltham, a junior majoring in sociology, all members of the U.S. Marine Corps; Christopher A. Brown of Weymouth, a second-year law student; William J. Willis of Brockton, a junior majoring in accounting; and Susan J. Lynch of South Weymouth, a senior majoring in sociology, who is a secretary in the Law School, all members of the U.S. Army.

Suffolk University was deeply saddened by the Feb. 20 death of veteran law professor Charles B. Garabedian, one of the Law School’s most popular faculty members, who taught at the school for some 47 years. Prof. Garabedian died at Winchester Hospital after suffering a stroke earlier.

A jaunty, energetic man, Garabedian had played tennis up to a week before he was stricken. He taught courses in damages, judicial proof and Mass. Practice and headed up the outside clinical program.

A large contingent of faculty, headed by President David Sargent and Dean Paul R. Sugarman turned out for the services at Holy Trinity Armenian Church in Cambridge with classes canceled the morning of Garabedian’s funeral.

Hession Chairs SOM Dean Search Committee

Jeanne M. Hession, vice chair of the Board of Trustees, is chairing the Search Committee for the successor to Dean Richard L. McDowell of the School of Management, who has accepted the deanship of Chapman College, Orange, Calif.

Pres. David J. Sargent, in announcing the search process, invites members of the University community to submit nominations for the position. They should be addressed to Jeanne Hession, chair, Search Committee, Human Resources, Suffolk University or to James Stockwell, Heidrick and Struggles, One Post Office Square, Suite S-3570, Boston, MA 02109-0199.

Stockwell, a partner and director of the executive search firm of Heidrick and Struggles, will support the committee’s work along with an advisory committee made up of alumni, students, administration and advisory councils.

“Presently, these groups are meeting to define hiring criteria and to identify candidates,” Sargent reported. “Mr. Stockwell has met with a representative group of faculty and staff on campus to help in developing a profile of the school and of the attributes of a new dean.”

Sargent said the Suffolk community should feel free to contact Stockwell with helpful information.

McDowell has served as SOM dean for the past 17 years and will assume his new position on July 1.
First Black Graduate Tribute

Suffolk unveiled a portrait painting of its first black graduate, Thomas Vreeland Jones, at a recent ceremony held in the School’s Pallot Library. The painting was done by Jones’ daughter, noted artist Lois Mailou Jones, shown above with Sharon Artis, assistant to the president, and Paul R. Sugarman, dean of the Law School.

A native of Paterson, New Jersey, Thomas Vreeland Jones spent most of his early years in that community, marrying the former Caroline Dorinda Adams, a classmate from his school years. They later moved to Cambridge.

Jones was building superintendent of the Second Society of Universalists Building on School Street in downtown Boston which was later sold to the Five Cents Savings Bank. It was during his years as manager of the building that he attended Suffolk evenings, receiving a bachelor of laws on May 26, 1915. He died in 1934.

Intercultural Group Cites Prof. Dushku

Government Prof. Judith A. Dushku is the 1990-91 winner of the Intercultural Affairs Committee Faculty Award.

Dushku received the award at the second annual awards program held at One Beacon St., on April 19.

Dushku, a member of the CLAS faculty for more than 20 years, served as Suffolk’s first international student advisor, has led student delegations to Nicaragua and the Soviet Union and will lead other groups to Hungary and Czechoslovakia this month. She has taught and lectured in numerous courses on international relations and Third World issues.

Also honored were student Rachelle M. Tayag, ’92, a native of the Phillipines who has served as president of the Suffolk chapter of SOAR, and Robert V. Ward Jr., a professor at New England Law School and Suffolk Law School alumnus, who is a member of Milton’s Fair Housing Committee and chair of the Massachusetts Victim and Assistance Board.

Building Wins Award

Based in San Francisco, Rosenberg holds an MBA and a doctor of jurisprudence from San Francisco’s Golden Gate University. Before joining Bank of America in 1987, he served as president and chief operating officer of Seattle First National Bank and Seafirst Corporation. He also was vice chairman and director of Wells Fargo Bank during a 22-year association with that bank. He is a retired commander in the U.S. Naval Reserve.

Another Suffolk University success story, Seagram’s International top executive Edward F. McDonnell, a 1959 graduate of the School of Management, will speak at the special hooning ceremony for MBA/MPA graduates prior to the afternoon commencement exercises.

The honorary degree for Vice President/Treasurer Frank Flannery recognizes a 27-year career of dedicated service to the institution. Following a stint with Ernst & Whitney accounting firm, Flannery joined Suffolk in 1964 as assistant treasurer, later becoming vice president and treasurer and a member of the Board of Trustees, where he sits on the finance, investment, audit, salary and building committees.

Commencement Speaker

BankAmerica’s Rosenberg

(continues from pg. 1)

that was demolished when Cambridge Street was widened in 1926 dividing what is now known at the North Slope of Beacon Hill from the old West End. Suffolk purchased the building, a one-story structure used as a Stop & Shop, in 1965 but it took some 22 years of litigation, negotiations and compromise between the University and the Beacon Hill Civic Association to enable the school to exceed the zoning code and build on the property.

The building, erected at a cost of $10 million, houses a subterranean gymnasium, a bookstore, physical fitness rooms, student service offices, the Communication & Journalism Department and classrooms.
Newsmakers

MICHAEL RUSTAD, Law School - He will chair a panel discussion on “Myths Versus Realities Concerning Punitive Damages: The Impact on the New European Legal Landscape” at a joint meeting of the Law and Society Association and Research Committee on Sociology of Law at the University of Amsterdam in the Netherlands June 29. Joining him on the panel will be Law Prof. Thomas Lambert Jr. who will discuss “Recent Developments in the Anglo American Law of Products Liability: Lessons for the European Economic Community.”

STEVEN SPITZER of Sociology. He’ll be presenting papers at the same meetings of the Law and Society in Amsterdam. He will also present a paper at a workshop at the Ornate Center for the Study of Sociology in Spain in July.

CHARLES ROUNDS, Law School - His article on “Social Investing, Interest on Lawyers Trusts Accounts and the Law of Trusts” discussing the political use of charitable and client funds carried in the Connecticut Probate Law Journal. It was cited in a syndicated column by the Boston Herald’s Warren T. Brookes.

KATHY MAIO of the Sawyer Library. She has had her second collection of film essays and reviews Popcorn and Sexual Politics published in April by the Crossing Press with a reading to celebrate publications at New Words Bookstore in Cambridge May 2.

MARIA MILIORA of Chemistry. The paper she presented during a Suffolk faculty seminar series, “The Psychogenesis of Racism,” has been accepted for presentation at the Society for Advancement of Self Psychology in New York City in the fall.

RONALD SUNDBERG, SOM - Associate Dean Sundberg is chairing the publications committee of the Association for Continuing Higher Education. The committee serves as editorial board and reviewer of manuscripts for The Journal of Continuing Higher Education.

JOHN BERG, Government - He was a participant in a round table discussion on experiential education at the American Political Science Association meeting held at SUNY in Fredonia, New York. He discusses minority students and internships.

MORRIS McINNES of Accounting. He has co-authored with Columbia University Prof. Ram Raakrishnan an article, “A Decision Theory Model of Motivation and Its Usefulness in the Diagnosis of Management Control Systems.” It was published in the publication, Accounting, Organizations and Society and assessed the applications of motivation theory to management control.

GEORGE COMEAU, Media Services. Recently elected chairman of the Town of Canton’s Planning Board, Comeau is serving a five-year term on the board and also was recently re-appointed by the town’s selectmen to serve as historical commissioner.

SAROH SAHWNEY, Economics. She recently chaired a session on Foreign Labor Movements at the Economics Association convention in Pittsburg and one on Industrial and Trade Policies. She is present working on a research paper, “Cost Price Margins and Concentration Ratio in Manufacturing Industries.”

DON LEVITAN, Public Management. The American Society for Public Administration recently conferred upon him a 25-year membership pin lauding his dedication and involvement the years.

WENDY SANFORD, Campus Ministry. She was keynote speaker at the Daughters and Mothers Colloquium presented by the Wellesley College Center for Research on Women last month. She spoke on “Surviving the Distortions: A Daughter/Mother Relationship and the Disease of Alcohol.”

GAIL COFFLER, English. She chaired one of the Melville sessions in the Sea Literature Division at the national meeting of the American Culture Association in San Antonio, Tex. in March. She also presented a paper “Hellenism and Hebraism in Billy Budd, Sailor.”

STEVE FERREY, Law School. He’s been appointed to the board of directors of the Santa Fe Institute, and his article, “The Preemption of Power: Shaping American Technology” will be published in the next edition of the University of Virginia Environmental Law Review.

(Cont. on pg. 6)
Bin locations for PAPER are:
- Archer - 3rd & 6th
- Donahue - basement, 1st, 4th & 6th
- Fenton - 1st, 2nd, 4th & 6th
- Ridgeway - upper mezzanine
- Sawyer - 1st, 2nd, 5th thru the 9th & 12th

The One Beacon St., location is recycling paper through R.M. Bradley, building managers.

The Recycling Committee, established through the SGA, asks each office to collect recyclable paper in an empty box and when full put in the closest bin.

Faculty and staffers are asked to recycle everything except the following paper products: Adhesive stickers or labels; Carbon paper; Kraft envelopes and folders, magazines and catalogs, newspapers, paper plates, cups, food wrappers and containers; paper towels, and tissues, plastic or styrofoam, telephone books, Vellum sheet protectors, and windowed envelopes.

TIAA TRANSFER OPTION
The Teachers Insurance Annuity Association (TIAA) has joined the College Retirement Equity Fund (CREF) in offering a transferability option. The option, available through a new transfer payout annuity, (TPA), allows participants to move funds to CREF or to Fidelity Investments or to UNUM.

All accumulation transfers from TIAA are made in annual disbursements of substantially equal payments over a 10-year period. Minimum transfer is $10,000 or your entire accumulation if less than $10,000. Once the TPA contract is issued, it cannot be revoked nor can the amount involved be changed. Participants may enter into several TPA agreements or re-direct future disbursements to a different account (including back into the TIAA account) if desired. CREF already permits transfers to TIAA or other University plans without restriction of the 10-year schedule. To arrange such a transfer of funds or obtain more information, call TIAA-CREF at 1-800-842-2733.

A Reminder on Dependent Health Insurance
Human Resources reminds employees that if they have a child graduating from the University this spring, that offspring may not be eligible to continue on your group insurance plan. Dan McDonald points out that children over 18 who are no longer full-time students are ineligible for family health insurance.

Maximum age of eligibility for a dependent on family coverage is up to the 25th birthday. The child may continue health insurance through Suffolk's group plans but on an individual basis through a process called COBRA and pays monthly to the University the total cost of the coverage plus an administrative fee.

It's expensive coverage with monthly rates ranging from $145 to $325.

Incidentally, dental insurance goes to only age 19 regardless of student status. Call Lisa Vigliotta in Human Resources at Ext. 8415 if you have questions.

ANNUAL S.U. OUTING
SET FOR JUNE 23
Suffolk's annual outing for faculty and staff will be held on Sunday, June 23 from 1 to 5 p.m. at the U-Mass Boston Harbor Campus adjacent to the Clark Athletic Center.

There will be hamburgers and hotdogs and fixings along with beverages and potato chips with a cost of $1 per person and $3 per family.

This is a fun time, offering a rare get together for the community off campus. There will be plenty of activities for kids including the popular tug-o-war and a softball game, volley ball games and water balloon toss for adults.

To sign up contact George Comeau of University Media Services on Sawyer 9th floor or Dan McDonald in Human Resources at One Beacon St. If you'd like to help out that day, call either George or Dan.
WELLNESS COMMITTEE VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

The Office of Health Services is seeking volunteers to help rejuvenate the Wellness Committee, adding students as well as staff.

"In an effort to provide the University community with health education in the face of broad budget cuts we’d like to sponsor health promotion activities during the year regarding contemporary issues such as AIDS, smoking cessation, drug and alcohol awareness and nutrition," explained Karen Maney, director of health services.

Maney would like the committee to meet once a month to swap ideas and plan events and would like student and staff input.

If you’re interested in joining the committee, contact Health Services at 573-8260. Maney would like to have a meeting before summer so as to have a functioning group by September.

S.U. WILL RETAIN OWN POLICE FORCE

The University has decided against retaining an outside security force and will stay with its present in-house police staff.

Following a meeting of the University’s Administrative Council and discussion on the proposed change to outside security, President Sargent issued the following statement to the community: “The University’s Administrative Council met today and discussed various proposals relative to the University’s police services. After a review of all the circumstances, we are in agreement that the best way to provide the utmost security for students, faculty and staff is to continue with our own police department. We will continue to work to maintain a safe environment for all members of the University community.”

The University is scheduled to resume contract negotiations with the police union in July.

Martin Donahue to Retire After 35 Years Service

Long-time School of Management professor Martin W. Donahue is retiring at the conclusion of the 1990-91 academic year.

Donahue has been teaching for 35 years at Suffolk as a professor of management and business law. A native of Chelsea and an Army veteran of World War II, Donahue received three degrees from Suffolk, a B.S. in Business Administration, a master of arts in education and a juris doctor degree earned during his teaching career at the University. He also holds an M.B.A. from Boston College.

A frequent publisher, he authored an article, "The History of Administrative Law in Massachusetts (1629-1932)," which carried in the Journal of Legal History at Kings College in London. Other articles include his "History and Application of Chapter 11" for the North Atlantic Regional Business Law Review and those on management and operation of small businesses.

For more than two decades he was a member of the College Curriculum Committee and formerly chaired the Graduate Curriculum Committee and the Scholarship Committee. He also was a member of the Promotion, Tenure and Review Committee. He was made a full professor in 1970. Next to Prof. Ben Diamond, the veteran Donahue is the senior member of the SOM faculty. Diamond started teaching in 1955.

Donahue and his wife, the former Katherine Hogarty, have lived in Wakefield for the past 42 years.

Newsmakers (cont. from pg. 4)

BETTE MANDL, English. Her article “Disturbing Women: Wendy Kesselman’s My Sister in this House” was published in the book Modern American Drama: The Female Canon edited by June Schlueter (Farleigh Dickenson Press).

CELESTE KOSTOPULOS-COOPERMAN, Humanities and Modern Languages. Her paper, “Voices of the Poet and the Storyteller, the Art of Violetta Parra” was presented at the Northeast Modern Language Association’s regional conference in Hartford, April 6.

KRISANNE BURSIK, Psychology. Two of her papers have been published: “Adaptation to Divorce and Ego Development in Adult Women,” carried in the February issue of the Journal of Personality and Social Psychology and “Correlates of Women’s Adjustment During the Separation and Divorce Process” ran in the February issue of the Journal of Divorce and Remarriage.

LAURA PETERSON, Law School. A member of the executive committee of the American Bar Association Citizen Education Committee, she is project coordinator of the law-related Education for Immigrants Project. As such, she had prepared, with the assistance of Law School research aid Leslie M. Leslie, a detailed proposal and outline for an ABA booklet, and an extensive bibliography of immigration materials.

FRED MARCHANT of Humanities. He won first place prize in the 1991 Worcester County Poetry Association annual poetry contest. It was just a year ago that the Catholic Press Association awarded Marchant’s poem, “Mayan Figures in Stone” a first place prize in poetry published in Catholic journals and periodicals.
Potpourri

by Lou Connelly

Capping off her receipt of the faculty award by the Intercultural Affairs Committee, Government's Judy Dushku announced to the large gathering in the One Beacon Street Conference Room that she will wed the Sawyer Library's Jim Coleman. The date has been set. It will be Sept. 21 at the Brookline home of Judy's brother-in-law, Edward N. Gadsby. Judy and Jim began dating three years ago in this real Suffolk romance. It will be the second marriage for both. Each has four children and Coleman has three grandchildren. Dushku, the former Judy Rasmussen, has been a member of Suffolk's faculty for 24 years. Coleman joined Suffolk in 1971... Congratulations and a SUN beam on both of you...

Baseball Coach Joe Walsh and wife, Sandra, welcomed their third daughter, Catherine Ann, on April 12. She weighed in at eight pounds, eight ounces...

Suffolk Law Review Editor-in-Chief Gerry McDonough reports with justifiable delight that the Suffolk review was cited in the text of U.S. Supreme Court Justice Harry Blackmun's majority opinion in its Johnson's Control decision. The note, "Maternal Tort Liability for Prenatal Injuries," was authored by 1989 graduate Deborah M. Santello. Some research by McDonough showed it was the fifth time the Court has cited the Suffolk Law Review...

Seventy-four pints of blood were collected in the annual spring blood drive, according to Marjorie Hewitt of Student Activities, who thanks all who donated and gives a special salute to Alpha Phi Omega, Phi Sigma Sigma, the Student Bar Association, Tau Kappa Epsilon and the Political Science Association...

Marjorie reminds us that Recognition Night is set for May 17 at the New England Aquarium. That's the Evening Division Student Association's big event, which recognizes part-time and evening students for scholarship merit and extra-curricular performance... Tickets are $10 per person...

That star-studded media discussion on coverage of the war in the Persian Gulf held in the C. Walsh Theatre Feb. 20 was carried on C-Span program a few times the following weekend and brought some flattering accolades to the school and panel, which was headed by Hodding Carter, Congressman Nick Mavrroules and columnist and TV panelist Jack Germond...

Lt. John Pagliarullo of our campus police completed his second marathon on Patriot's Day in 4 hours and 21 minutes, a little slower than his 4:17 record in 1987. "I was running for awhile with old John Kelly and the rain started bothering me at the 18 mile mark," noted Pag...

Add the name of Education/Human Services Joe McCarthy to the 1990-91 edition of Who's Who in America, which in the last SUN we noted contained the names of President Sargent, Dean Mike Ronayne, and emeriti professors Ed Hartmann and Art West...

Marge Kelleher of Institutional Advancement reports that the Gillette Charitable and Educational Foundation has approved a grant of $30,000 toward the Ridgeway student center...

Marie Tangney of the Law School's Moot Court has been re-elected president of the Massachusetts Paralegal Association and appointed chair of the first State-wide Legislative Committee for Paralegals in Massachusetts...

Alison Hazen, Dean Ronayne and Debate Coach Sarah Carroll

Rising star in Suffolk debate circles is sophomore Alison Hazen of Billerica, who won the top novice speaker in the nation award at the Novice National Cross Examination Debate Association's tournament in Baltimore last month. She has a 3.93 academic average...

And a departing star is the hockey team's Brian Horan of Somerville, who walked off with a ton of individual wards this season in leading the Rams hockey team to a 22-5 record and the the finals of the ECAC Division North Tournament. To cap off his spectacular career at Suffolk, Horan was invited to try out for the U.S. Olympic Team...

Jim and Judy

Retirement hasn't slowed down Biology's Art West. In a whole new venture, Art has two Subway Sandwich Shop franchises, one in Farmington, Me. and a soon to open shop in Skowhegan. He has 14 people working for him and wife, Linda...

SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY

(cont. on next pg.)
Bob Johnson of English, who has had a number of his poems published in recent magazines, has read his poetry of late at Boston's First Night, the Boston Center for Adult Education, and the Arlington Arts Center...

The 1990-91 Annual Fund phonathon wound up its record-breaking year with a total of $319,403 donated by some 6728 pledgers...

A well-deserved tribute: SOM's Beta Gamma Sigma selecting trustee Tom McDermott as the 1991 Beta Gamma Sigma honoree, noting his service as chair of the Board of Trustee's SOM committee, his efforts for the successful accreditation and as a business leader. McDermott is managing partner in Ernst & Young...

Suffolk was well represented at the Association of American Colleges and American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business conference on the international aspects of U.S. higher education, which entailed business and liberal arts cooperation. The S.U. team was made up of Associate Dean Ron Sundberg, Margaret C. Weitz from Humanities and Nizamettin Aydin, associate professor of international business...

Weitz edited Celebrated Human Rights, papers from the Bicentennial Symposium on Human Rights which was published by CLAS following the international symposium at the C. Walsh Theatre and Boston City Hall... An essay by Law Prof. Valerie Epps examines 18th century instigators of human rights...

Two job fairs coordinated by Career Services and Coop. Ed. attracted over 50 employers and 400 students recently. "Despite tough economic times," emphasizes Paul Tanklefsky...

Attention runners: The 8th annual Manufacturers Hanover Corporate Challenge 3.5 mile road race will be run July 11 at 7 p.m. at Boston Common. If you're interested in this fun run, contact Andrea Jones in the Dean of Students Office at Ext. 8239. And, yes, Dan McDonald, I would agree "fun run" is an oxymoron, particularly if you're my age...

The May offering at the C. Walsh Theatre will be Skin/Flesh. Boston's own Paula Josa-Jones collaborates with internationally known experimental composer, Pauline Oliveros in the production. For ticket information call (508)371-0636...

Kudos are in order for a couple of Law School moot court teams. For the third time in five years, Suffolk won the Northeast regional championship of the National Student Trial Advocacy Competition. The team of Doug Antoon and Andrew Peter Leary coached by Law Prof. Tim Wilton then finished second in the nationals to U. Florida Law School...

And a team coached by Prof. Mike Rustad featuring Steve Dick and Freya Shoffner finished second overall and won best respondent brief in National Products Liability Competition in Cincinnati...

Education's Joe McCarthy had his paper, "Teaching Leadership: Graduate Students and Freshmen Learn from Ancient Leaders" read at the administrative leadership conference at Pace University in April...

And let's hear it for the Business Office's Ron Occeus who raised $238 for the fight against cancer Jailing conducted by R.M. Bradley at 1 Beacon St. Ron was "arrested" and raised the bail in phone calls to Suffolk colleagues...

Easily the hit of the evening at the farewell tribute to Dean Dick McDowell of SOM was Mike Arthur of Management, who combined a proper dose of wit and warmth. Arthur's stint at the dais was so effective, it prompted veteran Emcee Ben Diamond to quip, "I can't stand guys funnier than I am..." See you at the Henley Regatta...