ARv, c
to the Editor:

I am writing to express my concern about the recent events at the church. As a member of the congregation, I have noticed a decline in the number of people attending services. I believe that this is due to the lack of a unified message and the occasional negative statements made by some members. I would like to see a more positive approach towards welcoming newcomers and promoting community involvement.

Sincerely,

Just to Show Them

Haven't you noticed how some people say things to show how clever they are? Well, I have a suggestion for them...

There were no signs on her door, but the sign on her heart was big enough for all to see. She always did what's right, no matter what it took. And now, she's gone.

We found her in the hospital, where she was recovering from surgery. The doctors told us she had been in a serious accident, but she was releasing a smile that said she was okay.

She was so strong, we all thought she would never give up. But now, we know she's not...

Just to Show Them

It was with great interest that I read the account of the recent meeting of the National Indian Association which was held last week in New York. The Indians have always been known for their hospitality, and this meeting was no exception. There were several important resolutions passed, one of which was the establishment of a fund for the support of Indian schools. This is a step in the right direction, for education is the key to the future of the Indian nation. I hope that the committee in charge of this fund will be successful in their efforts.

Another hobby is one of the many interests that it is rather difficult to abandon. It is the collecting of antique china. The collector's passion for this field is such that he is always on the lookout for new acquisitions. I recently visited a dealer who had a fine collection of 18th century English china, and I feel certain that I shall add some pieces to my own collection.

Bermuda Calling

By Geraldine Sullivan Finley

A post mortem of some events that have taken place in Bermuda during the holidays began with the mystery play, "The Hamilton Hotel," built on Bermuda's famous Hamilton Harbour. Over 25 years ago, in this very same hotel, there was a murder, and several government officials, including the meteorological station, were involved.

Many of the guests were found dead in their rooms, and several others were found重伤. The hotel's owner, Mr. Hamilton, was of the opinion that the case had been solved, but there were several suspects, including the hotel's staff, and several government officials.

As the play progressed, the audience was kept on the edge of their seats, wondering who would be the next victim. The solution was finally revealed, and the audience was left in awe of the playwright's talent.

Financial Help
To Small Business

Edward J. Stewart, Regional Director of the Small Business Administration for the States of Vermont, New Hampshire, Maine and New Brunswick, today announced a new program designed to make term loans to small firms, tailored to the needs of small shops, small farms, and small wholesale and service trade.

Loans can be made to small firms under this new program, as part of the Limited Loan Participation Plan, up to a limit of $13,900 in Government funds plus a share from the borrower's bank.

The new program has been tested by the Small Business Administration on a trial basis in New York City since July 6, 1955. It is designed to provide term loans to small firms—such as retail stores, repair shops, restaurants, dry cleaning establishments, and many other similar enterprises.

Interest on these loans has been set at not more than 6 per cent, with the requirement that the borrower's bank charge at least 25 per cent of each.

Mr. Stewart explained that loans approved under the Limited Loan Participation Plan will be approved locally, and will have to be sent to Washington for approval. These loans will be financed by the surety, for longer periods to very small firms which need additional funds for expansion, modernization, starting new features, acquiring parking facilities, adding a second location, providing additional inventories, and other purposes.

Under the new Limited Loan Participation Plan, loans can be made to these small establishments, provided that they have a good enough past earnings record to show that the loan can be repaid, Mr. Stewart said.

These loans may run as long as 5 years, a maximum selected by the Small Business Administration because a surer of the credit needs of small firms showed that credit from 1 to 5 years is the most flexible, and that would meet most of their requirements.

Financial assistance may be required in all cases, Mr. Stewart said, but the plan is designed to handle the details of appraising the borrower's business security for the loan.

The plan may be considered, including mortgages on real or personal property, assignment of accounts receivable and merchandise, or the receipt of collateral on loans, pledges, and corporate guarantees.

Mr. Stewart said that the new Limited Loan Participation Plan should meet the needs of the small businesses.

Two friendly hounds made the Bostom Trotters and the Boston Trotter Trotters announce a contest tonight, Saturday, January 7, in the opening game of the Boston Park De-

What's Their Key

These two, now entering their third season, have been summarized together pretty well during pre-season drills and in head-to-head action this year.

Both, Ray Morse star Charles Bentick, have major combinations available for any trotting combination. But the two bands are so close in talent and the chances of winning are so close.

Joe Fox-

Vesuvius, the older of the two, has been running pretty well during pre-season drills, and the odds are that he will have the advantage of a good pace on his side of the track. The two bands are so close in talent and the chances of winning are so close.

The race, of course, will be a contest between the two trotters and the two bands.
