Boston Mayor At Suffolk; Asks Student Help And Understanding

By PAUL SANCHEZ

The plan I am tonight proposing involves three major elements which carry the equal weight of both the City and the University in reaching the most significant goal of improving conditions in this area. Mayor White, acting through the Executive Director of the Neighborhood Program, has the responsibility for the execution of the plan, and will be working directly with the University to see that it is carried out.

First, the Mayor announced the plan to his advisors that he was proposing a new program to improve conditions in the neighborhood. The plan involves three major elements: the formation of a Community Service Program, the building of a new housing project, and the implementation of a comprehensive housing program.

The Community Service Program will involve the formation of a Neighborhood Service Council, which will be responsible for the coordination of the various activities of the program. The Council will be composed of representatives from the University, the City, and the community at large.

The new housing project will be located on the site of the former Mayfair playground, and will be designed to provide decent and affordable housing for the residents of the neighborhood.

The comprehensive housing program will involve the development of a new housing strategy for the neighborhood, which will involve the acquisition and rehabilitation of existing properties, as well as the construction of new housing units.

Mayor White emphasized the importance of the new program, and said that the City and the University must work together to see that it is successful.

The Mayor also announced that the City would be providing $300,000 in funds to support the program, and that the University would be contributing $150,000.

In conclusion, Mayor White said that the new program is a significant step forward in improving the quality of life in the neighborhood, and that the City and the University must work together to see that it is successful.
Editorial...

Several people have told me that this would be the last official letter published in the Journal. As a result, I believe it is appropriate that I reflect upon this experience and the changes in the journalism profession that have occurred during my tenure as editor.

I am not alone in this reflection. Many others...

TECHNICAL INTERVIEWS

The last words of Mr. Martin Luther King

"If I was standing at the beginning of time with the power of taking a lift of general and panoramic view of the whole of human history up to now and the Almighty said to me, 'Martin Luther King, at what point would you like to live?'

"I know that this is an unusual request to make to the Almighty, and I know that this is an unusual event to happen, but I know that I am happy to live in this century.

"That's a strange statement because the world is all messed up, the nation is sick, terrible to the last generation all around - that's a strange statement.

"Well, I don't know what will happen now. We've got some difficult days ahead, but it doesn't matter with me now. Because I've been to the mountain.

"I just want to ask God's will.
"And He's allowed me to go to the mountain,

"I'm happy tonight.
"I'm not worried about anything.

"You have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord."

Assistant Director
Of Admissions Appointed

Edward J. Lord, director of admissions at Suffolk University, has announced the appointment of Carl J. Langston, assistant director of admissions at Suffolk University. Judge John A. Forrest, president of Suffolk, announced the appointment.

A graduate of Suffolk's law school, Mr. Langston joined the university in 1961 as a member of the admissions staff.

Beginning in September, he will be responsible for the administration of the university's admissions program. In the future, he hopes to improve the quality of the university's admission standards.

The appointment is part of an overall educational plan, according to the university's president. It is expected that admissions standards will be increased as a result of the appointment.

If you think staying in school is tough, listen to someone who quit.

"I started out just cutting classes. And at first it was a lot of fun. There's only one trouble. The jobs that kids who quit school can get only pay about $50 or $60 a week. With no chance of promotion. But just imagine you were a boss. Who would you promote? Drop-outs? Or people with education? So I pulled myself together, went back to class full time. And finished school. I can't say I had a ball. But a couple of hard years in school are a lot better than a long hard life without it."

Vladimir Moncada
Based on an interview taped April 8, 1967

To get a good job, you need a good education. So if you're in school, stay there. If you're quit, find out how to get more training.
DEAN'S LIST

Outside S.U.
By Dick Jones

Ahern's Day this June 10th will culminate another active year for radicals. To name only a few who have appeared here in the past, there is a further list from the Janus Prince, Cos. 1961. For all the repressed, interested student groups, Dacty, teen art exhibits, and student films and musical productions all contribute to a lively extra-curricular experience.

Note: It's our last!

Mark D. Conner (CLYH) has been awarded the coveted University of Maryland Undergraduate Award for 1961. Mr. Conner has been chosen as the outstanding student of the year in the biological sciences. Mark D. Conner has been a member of the Biology Department and has been active in the Student Union and in the Biological Society.
