HISTORY OF SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY

From its earliest incarnation, Suffolk University was seen as offering a beacon of hope to people aspiring to better their lives through education.

Founder Gleason Archer had worked his way through college when a benefactor loaned him money to pursue the study of law. He asked only that Archer pass along the favor. In 1906 Archer began teaching law evenings in his home, providing access to professional higher education for those with limited time and financial resources. He believed that the growing waves of immigrants coming to America deserved educational opportunity that would lead to personal and professional growth.

The young law professor soon moved the school into his downtown Boston office, a centralized location that made the school more convenient to students and, in time, opened doors to innumerable collaborations with government, business, and cultural entities.

After machinist and Suffolk student Roland E. Brown passed the bar in 1908, registration surged, so Archer gave up his law practice to devote himself full-time to the law school.

Suffolk Law School received its charter in 1914 and was the largest evening law school in the United States by 1930.

Later, Archer founded what are now the College of Arts & Sciences and the Sawyer Business School, and the three academic units were incorporated as Suffolk University in 1937.

Building on the promise of its founding, Suffolk University continues to inspire and engage its diverse student body. Through carefully designed curriculum, internships, mentoring and networking, the University creates opportunities that enable students to fulfill their aspirations.

The scope of academic offerings has broadened to include programs at the master and doctoral levels, and partnerships with institutions throughout the globe allow for a broad range of international study and internship opportunities.

SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY MISSION

Suffolk University is a talent catalyst that recognizes and develops student potential. Leveraging our location in the heart of Boston, our faculty, staff, and alumni work together to provide a student-centered experience. This diverse community builds on its dedication and excellence in education and scholarship to empower graduates to be successful locally, regionally, and globally.

THE LAW SCHOOL TODAY

The Law School's dual-division academic program integrates legal theory and practical skills to develop highly skilled, ethically sensitive, and service-oriented lawyers. The core curriculum provides students with a strong legal foundation, more than 180 upper-level elective courses, and excellent legal writing and clinical programs. Seven academic concentrations allow students to delve deeply into specialized areas. They may choose from business law and financial services, civil litigation, health and biomedical law, intellectual property, international law, labor and employment law, and legal technology and innovation. The Law School offers joint-degree programs that combine law with business, crime-and-justice studies, finance, international economics, or public administration. The Rappaport Center for Law and Public Service allows students to pursue public service and pro bono opportunities. Two LLM degree programs located in Boston and an LLM program in Taxation provide a post-law school experience for practicing lawyers. The Law School also offers an SJD program in Boston that is designed for law graduates seeking to pursue careers as teachers and scholars, providing them with the opportunity to conduct research and complete a scholarly dissertation.

While law faculty members are recognized nationally for their research and professional activities, they continue the strong Suffolk tradition of excellence in teaching and availability to students. The Law School is a rigorous academic community, yet one that is both supportive and empowering.

The Law School's downtown Boston home is Sargent Hall—designed to educate students for law practice in the 21st century. Sargent Hall reflects and reinforces a sense of community and shared mission among students, faculty, and administrators so that the educational experiences shared during law school will remain in our alumni's hearts and minds long after they have completed their studies.

The Law School's accomplished alumni—23,000 strong—may be found in every state and throughout the world. Alumni have achieved distinction in practice, government service, and business. They are exceedingly loyal to the Law School and are of tremendous assistance as mentors to and supporters of the students who follow in their footsteps.

Today, the Law School proudly introduces the Class of 2014, and we congratulate them on their significant accomplishments. We wish our graduates success and happiness as they join the ranks of Suffolk University Law School alumni.

LAW SCHOOL MISSION

Suffolk University Law School, located in Boston, is dedicated to welcoming students from all backgrounds and circumstances and educating them to become highly skilled and ethical lawyers who are well prepared to serve in their local communities, across the nation, and around the world. Because the lawyer's role has evolved and expanded since Suffolk's founding in 1906, the Law School seeks to develop in its students the skills necessary to serve the profession's changing needs in an increasingly diverse, global and technologically dependent society. As one of the nation's largest law schools, Suffolk meets that challenge by providing students with a core foundation in legal education, a breadth of courses and programs, and excellent training by a diverse and accessible faculty engaged in scholarship and service to their profession and communities. Suffolk's goal is to provide its students with access to an excellent legal education, inspire a commitment to justice, and provide its graduates the opportunity to achieve their career aspirations.

ACADEMIC ATTIRE AND SYMBOLS

The academic attire worn during commencement originated in medieval universities. The long black gown was worn for warmth and to conceal food—and sometimes wine—to be consumed during lecture recesses. The hood, which is the most colorful raiment, was used as an alms sack or to protect the wearer's wig from the elements.

The velvet trimming of the doctoral hood signifies the academic area of the degree, and the hood lining reflects the official color or colors of the college or university conferring the degree. The gown for the master of laws recipients is black faced with purple velvet trim with three bars of velvet across the sleeves. The hood trimming color purple indicates the juris doctor degree.

Colored cords are worn by our Law School graduates who have been awarded graduation honors. Gold cords signify summa cum laude honors; silver denotes magna cum laude honors; and bronze indicates cum laude honors.

The marshal leads the procession carrying a mace. The mace originally was a weapon, and its ceremonial descendant confers an air of authority on those leading formal pageants.

The Suffolk University seal features the University motto Honestas et Diligentia, or Honesty and Diligence, and the founding date, 1906. The image is composed of a standard and torch flanked by single stars, and Beacon Hill is pictured in the background.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER ABRAHAM H. FOXMAN

Abraham H. Foxman, national director of the Anti-Defamation League (ADL) since 1987, is a leader in the fight against anti-Semitism, bigotry, and discrimination. He consistently speaks out on major issues, including the rise of global anti-Semitism, the war on terrorism, church/state issues, religious intolerance, and issues relating to the Holocaust. Foxman regularly confers with elected officials and community leaders here and abroad to address problems of ethnic hatred, violence, and terrorism and to promote democracy. He has held consultations in Europe, Russia, Israel, Egypt, Saudi Arabia, Jordan, China, Japan, South Africa, and Argentina and with Palestinian leaders. Foxman, a Holocaust survivor, was a member of the President's United States Holocaust Memorial Council, appointed by Presidents Reagan, Bush, and Clinton. His publications include Viral Hate: Containing Its Spread on the Internet (co-author) and Jews & Money: The Story of a Stereotype. He holds a BA in political science from the City College of the City University of New York and a JD from New York University School of Law. He pursued graduate work at the Jewish Theological Seminary and at The New School for Social Research.

A SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY ALMA MATER

Over the cobblestones of Boston,
And down the city's lamp-lit streets,
Over the rivers, bays, and oceans,
We journeyed here, to learn and teach.

*Gladly did we learn,
And gladly did we teach.*

Guided by the beacon on our Hill,
And the Archer's starry reach,
From every continent and every shore,
We journeyed here, to learn and teach.

*Gladly did we learn,
And gladly did we teach.*

In all the many ways we grew,
And amid the wonders we would see,
We were partners on a journey,
Whether the path was smooth or steep.

*Gladly did we learn,
And gladly did we teach.*

As the road unfolds before us,
And in the hopeful words we speak,
We honor and remember Suffolk
Where we all came to learn and teach.

*Yes, gladly did we learn,
And gladly did we teach.*

*Gladly did we learn,
And gladly did we teach.*

c. Music by E. Aragón

c. Lyrics by F. Marchant and S. Rubin
