Menino, Kraft To Receive Honorary Degrees; Cong. Hamilton, Snowe Speakers

Mayor Thomas M. Menino and New England Patriots owner Robert K. Kraft will be among the honorary degree recipients at Suffolk University's 1994 commencement to be held at the Wang Center Sunday, May 29.

Congressman Lee H. Hamilton (D) of Indiana, chairman of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, will address the Law School graduates at a 10 a.m. program. At the 2:30 p.m. exercises of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and School of Management, Congresswoman Olympia J. Snowe (R) of Maine will deliver the commencement address. She is now in her eighth term and when elected to Maine's second district at the age of 31 was the youngest woman Republican ever elected to the U.S. House.

Menino, elected mayor of Boston last November 2, will receive the honorary degree of doctor of laws at the Law School exercises. He formerly served as president of the Boston City Council.

Also receiving honorary doctor of laws degrees at the morning exercises will be Congressman Hamilton, Justice Shirley Schlanger Abrahamson of the Wisconsin Supreme Court, Atty. Richard K. Donahue, president of Nike, Inc. and U.S. Magistrate Judge Marianne B. Bowler, a 1976 graduate of Suffolk Law School.

Kraft, who acquired the Patriots football team in February, will receive an honorary doctor of commercial science degree at the afternoon exercises. Also receiving an honorary doctor of commercial science degree will be Peter S. Lynch, vice chairman of Fidelity Management and Research Co. Honorary doctor of (cont. on pg. 2)

Search Underway For New Law Dean

A nation-wide search is now underway for the appointment of a new dean of Suffolk Law School to succeed Paul R. Sugarman, who stepped down from the position in March after nearly five years service. He will return to the practice of law.

An 11-member committee, chaired by Trustee Jeanne M. Hession and made up of eight trustees and three members of the Law School faculty, has been formed to conduct the search to find a successor to Sugarman.

The committee has already held one meeting and is scheduled to meet again on May 16. As part of the search process, the school will advertise in local and national print media before interviewing candidates. It is expected that the new dean will be chosen before the start of the Fall semester.

Other members of the search group are Board Chairman James F. Linnehan, trustees Lawrence L. Cameron, Dorothy A. Caprera, Robert B. Crowe, Thomas M. Mawn Jr., Richard J. Leon, and Brian T. O'Neill, and from the Law faculty, Professors R. Lisle Baker, Gerard J. Clark and John R. Sherman.

Sugarman, one of this area's most distinguished lawyers, was appointed Law dean in December of 1989 following a national search over three months. A senior member of the Boston law firm of Sugarman & Sugarman, he had served as president of the Massachusetts Bar Association, and the Massachusetts Academy of Trial Lawyers and also chaired the Board of Bar Overseers in Massachusetts.

In announcing his decision to return to the law firm of Sugarman & Sugarman, the outgoing dean praised the school and (cont. on pg. 3)
Trustees Chase, McLaughlin, Former Pres. Perlman Pass Away

Three individuals who contributed significantly to Suffolk University’s history over the years passed away in recent weeks.

Chief Justice Walter H. McLaughlin, retired Massachusetts Superior Court jurist and life trustee of the University, and investment counselor John P. Chase, also a life trustee, died within a month of each other. Both were 87 years of age. McLaughlin died March 13, Chase on April 1.

Meanwhile, Daniel H. Perlman, who served as Suffolk’s seventh president from 1980 to 1989, died March 31 in St. Louis, Missouri where he was president of Webster University. Perlman, who endured a long battle with cancer, was 58.

Chief Justice McLaughlin, who returned to his family law practice after retiring from the bench in 1977, was a 1931 graduate of Suffolk Law School, held two honorary degrees from the school and was also the recipient of the Frederick A. McDermott Award named for the late Law School dean. He had served on the Superior Court bench for a decade and during his time as chief justice instituted a number of important judicial reforms. The Law School established the Walter H. McLaughlin Oral Advocacy Competition for students in his name.

Chase, a long-time generous benefactor to the school, was the senior trustee in service, serving on the board since 1965. He established a merit scholarship in his name for School of Management students and contributed to Suffolk for years. He was a civic and business leader and at one time was treasurer and director of the Robert B. Brigham Hospital.

A 1928 graduate of Harvard College magna cum laude, Chase captained the 1932 U.S. Olympic hockey team that won a silver medal at Lake Placid. In 1980, he and five remaining teammates were invited back to Lake Placid for the games in which the U.S. team won the Gold Medal.

Perlman came to Suffolk from Roosevelt University in Chicago, where he was a top administrator. In his nine years as chief executive, the University completed a successful $3.5 million capital campaign and opened the Frank Sawyer Building. The C. Walsh Theatre was renovated, and the Ballotti Learning Center was established. One of the highlights of his Suffolk career was his persistence and patience in ironing out an agreement with the Beacon Hill neighbors to erect the Ridgeway Building with the school’s first gymnasium. He also chaired the Boston Higher Education Partnership, a group of 22 independent and public colleges and universities formed to assist the Boston public schools.

SOM Prof And Exec MBA Students Visit Czech Republic For Classes

Suffolk University Assistant Prof. Robert DeFillippi and 32 of his Executive MBA students have completed a nine-day study of business practices in the Czech Republic as part of his International Business Seminar class.

The class attended lectures given by faculty from the Czech Management Center, an American-style MBA School, north of Prague. In addition, Prof. DeFillippi and the class met with Czech managers of privatized enterprises, Czech technology entrepreneurs and Czech partners of joint ventures.

“Each Executive MBA student prepared a business proposal for doing business in the Czech Republic as part of the seminar experience,” DeFillippi reported.

President David J. Sargent will confer 1122 degrees at the exercises. There will be 492 juris doctor candidates and 630 graduates from divisions of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and School of Management.

Suffolk Board Chairman James F. Linnehan will open the commencement and introduce President Sargent. The Law School exercises will mark the final commencement for Law School Dean Paul R. Sugarman, who is leaving his post to return to the practice of law.

Serving as marshals for the commencement will be 25th anniversary class members Peter L. Wechsler, J.D. ’69, partner in the Miami, Fla. law firm of Ruden & Barnett and Brian R. Gilmore, B.S.B.A./’69, M.P.A. ’76, senior vice president of public affairs for the Associated Industries of Massachusetts.
executive and trustee received his master's degree in 1964. He joined Suffolk as an assistant treasurer the following day. He succeeded the late John B. Hynes as treasurer in 1970 and in 1972 was appointed a vice president. He long has been credited as a key factor in Suffolk's fiscal soundness over the years and in 1991 was awarded an honorary doctor of commercial science degree.

Zohn, professor of German at Brandeis University, was graduated from Suffolk University in 1946 with a bachelor of arts degree. He was recognized for Outstanding Alumni Service having served as a trustee since 1983. Prior to that, he had served as an alumni trustee.

A native of Vienna, Austria, who emigrated to this country with his parents as a teenager during Nazi rule, Zohn attended Suffolk evenings while working days at a Boston credit firm. He later received a master of arts in education from Clark University and a master's and Ph.D. from Harvard. He has taught at Brandeis for 43 years.

Also honored at the reception were Dr. Albert F. Argenziano, B.A. '65, superintendent of schools in Somerville, recipient of the General Alumni Outstanding Achievement Award and Brian R. Gilmore, B.S.B.A. '69, and M.P.A. '76, senior vice president of public affairs for the Associated Industries of Massachusetts, the Outstanding MPA Award.

The presentations were made by Frank M. Falcetta, chair of the MBA/MPA Association Awards Committee, William M. Fonte, president of the General Alumni Association, and Anthony F. Farma, a member of the Board of Trustees.

Biology Dept. Names Seminar Series For Prof. Emeritus Art West

The Biology Department has named its successful Alumni Seminar Series for Prof. Emeritus Arthur J. West III, the long-time chairman and developer of the R.S. Friedman Field Station on Cobscook Bay in Maine.

The seminar series, co-sponsored with the Chi Kappa Chapter of the Beta Beta Beta Biological Honor Society and the Health Career Club, will feature Dr. West as the speaker in next year's first program. He will discuss diversity within the biology curriculum on Jan. 31.

This year's series brought back six alumni for lectures. They were Dr. Roland Vanaria, '70, of Harvard University School of Dentistry, Gail Sullivan Begley, '80, Cell and Molecular Biology Program, Boston University, James Begley, '80, now of the Mass. Department of Environmental Pollution and Control, Mary Susan Potts, '87, Biology Department, Northeastern University, Dante Santone, '88, of Santone Chiropractic, and Carl Merrill, '80, of Suffolk's Biology faculty.

"This year's series was very successful and we anticipate that the series will become a permanent feature of the department and invite all to attend all future seminars," said Merrill. "They are a fine tribute to Arthur West."

Art West, who retired in 1990 after 37 years on the Suffolk faculty, is now living in New Vineyard, Maine and owns two Subway shops in that state.

Search For New Dean

Sugarmann's own accomplishments during his deanship include: a new academic calendar, a formal system for student evaluations of faculty teaching, reorganization of the Advanced Legal Studies Department, a nationally acclaimed symposium on biomedical ethics, public policy and the law, reorganization of the LPS program and creation of an Office of Administration and Budget.

President Sargent hailed the contributions of Sugarman, whom he has known for some 30 years. "The entire Suffolk University community is appreciative of the contributions and commitment Paul Sugarman has made to Suffolk University Law School," Sargent observed. "As he leaves to return to the private practice of law, he takes with him the respect and best wishes of students, faculty, alumni and friends."

Sugarman's resignation becomes effective June 30.
Committee Reports

(The SUN, as a regular feature, now carries summaries of selected committee meetings on campus. Readers should contact Elliot Gabriel, Communications Committee chair as the contact person.)

CLAS Education Policy Committee - Ken Greenberg, chair.

Has been discussing the proposal to add a third activities period to the weekly calendar. Will be discussing the proposals for new minors: Studies in Religion and Black Studies. It will also discuss proposals for a Ph.D program in psychology and new political communications track for Master of Arts in Communications.

University Communications Committee - Elliot Gabriel, associate dean of students, chair.

President Sargent agreed with the following committee proposals presented to him at the last meeting: Installation of an electronic message system for the Sawyer Building; formation of a Crisis Communication Committee chaired by the Dean of Students; informal meeting with small groups of administrative staff during the 1994-95 academic year; Fall '94 distribution of a list of all University committees, including committee chairperson and area of concern.

The Committee will also be discussing effective ways to collect and disseminate information about the current teaching and research interests of faculty from all three schools and about assessment and evaluation instruments that have been used for accreditation purposes and creating an all-University computer bulletin board.

Residence Life Committee - Nancy Stoll, dean of students, chair.

This committee is working to develop residence life programming for students who will be living in Newbury College's residence halls during '94 and '95. It has begun a survey/database for assisting students in identifying other Suffolk students as potential roommates and will be discussing contents and conditions of Suffolk's residence life contract.

Saturday College Committee - Marguerite Dennis, Enrollment Management and Retention, chair.

Is preparing a proposal to offer a six-week, non-credit courses on Saturday to USIA sponsored women working in the Boston area.

AHANA Student Support Committee - Sharon Artis-Jackson, assistant to the president and director of multi-cultural affairs, chair.

It is conducting a survey of all AHANA students to determine need for new services and gather information to improve existing programs and services.

ADA Committee - Nancy Stoll, dean of students, chair.

Adaptive environments has been hired to begin the University's architectural access study for compliance with ADA regulations and ADA training for University employees.

Marketing Dept.
Hosted Advertising World Series

Suffolk University's Marketing Department and Marketing Club hosted the district College World Series of Advertising Competition held at the University on Saturday, April 30 from 8:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. in the Sawyer Building. The competition was sponsored by the American Advertising Federation.

The 1994 competition client was Eastman Kodak Company and the assignment was to develop a marketing and integrated communications plan for college students throughout the nation. The budget- $5 million.

Eight teams from District One competed at Suffolk with the winner scheduled to advance to the national finals in Houston, Texas. They were Suffolk, University of Maine, Bryant College, Salem State College, Emerson, Quinnipiac, University of Hartford and Worcester State.

Participating in the competition for Suffolk were five seniors, Anthony D'Amato, Deborah Grossi, Lori Millett, Paul O'Brien and Diana Trionfi.

Marketing Prof. Joseph Vaccaro, who is adviser to the Suffolk team said, "This competition provides undergraduate marketing/advertising students with a realistic problem that can be solved through team effort, knowledge and creativity. Some 150 colleges compete each year from 15 districts."
Speakers Bureau Draws Faculty Interest

Faculty interest continues to increase in the Enrollment Management Speakers Bureau. A March 29 roundtable attracted 19 faculty members (11 from SOM and 9 from CLAS) and many of the professors in attendance followed up with visits to high schools.

Topics discussed included the importance of the influence a teacher has on a student when deciding which college to attend or the major to choose, different styles and recognition of Suffolk University in the community.

Among those visiting schools was SOM Dean John F. Brennan, who visited St. Dominic Savio Preparatory school to discuss the importance of a business education with 45 high school students.

Joseph Ciccarello, a business teacher at Dom Savio reported that the students peppered Brennan with questions after his talk. Four of them have been accepted to Suffolk.

Grace Elson, director of the Speakers' Bureau, hailed the enthusiasm faculty have shown teaming up to visit schools, and with plans to bring students here. One prof. Paul McCormack who will visit Lynn English High School will be accompanied by his wife, a physicist.
Newsmakers

M. Colleen Jones, Management. She's just been elected to a two-year term as chair of the Teaching and Research Division of the National Association for Women in Education. NAWE is a 78-year old organization of some 2000 collegiate administrators and faculty dedicated to the advocacy of educational issues of women and girls. Jones also spoke at a business institute on women leadership held at Endicott College.

Stephen Hicks, Law Faculty - Prof. Hicks, on sabbatical this Spring, delivered a lecture and taught a seminar on phenomenology and legal theory at the University of Helsinki, Finland in April.

Celeste Kostopulos-Cooperman, Humanities and Modern Languages. She recently received the American Literary Translators' Award for best entry of a volume of contemporary poetry for Marjorie Agosin's Circles of Madness, White Pine Press, New York. She also took part in a panel discussion and presented a paper at the Latin American Studies Association International Congress in Atlanta, Ga.

Steve Patterson, Chemistry. Chemical Education Resources has published his general laboratory experiment, "Synthesizing and Analyzing a Coordination Compound of Nickel (II) Ion, Ammonia, and Chloride Ion." He joined with colleague Bill Good for a general lab experiment published by the same publication with the title "Studying the Effect of Buffering on the Resistance of a Solution to pH Change."

Edward Bubnys and Alexandros Prezas of Finance. They teamed up to present a paper at the 43rd annual meeting of the Midwest Finance Association in Chicago March 24-26. Their paper, "The Interaction Between Investment and Debt: A Multi-Firm Times Series Simultaneous Equations Test," was co-authored with Harold Tamule of Providence College.

Magid Mazen, Management. He will be making a presentation at the annual Quality Congress conference in Las Vegas in May. His presentation, "TQM: Lies and Videotapes" will cover successful and less fortunate applications of Total Quality management and organizational defensiveness in this country. Some 5000 participants from industry and academia will attend.

John Berg, Government. He has edited a special double issue of the Journal New Political Science. The theme of the issue is "What's Wrong with American Politics? and What to Do About It." It will be published in May.

Janet DaSilva of Law Financial Aid. She has been elected to the Executive Council of the Massachusetts Association of Financial Aid Administrators.

Nancy Croll, director of academic computing SOM. She was an organizer and co-chaired a conference on network management Feb. 25 at Bryant College. The conference was sponsored by the New England Computing Program, a consortium of more than 50 New England colleges and universities.

Clifford E. Elias, Law faculty. He is one of three Merrimack Valley residents to be honored by the Yankee Clipper Council of the Boy Scouts of America serving some 43 communities in Massachusetts and New Hampshire. He will receive the Lord Baden Powell Award for Distinguished Citizenship at a dinner May 26 at the Marriott in Andover. The veteran law professor has long been active in community service and previously earned the Lawrence Chamber of Commerce Good Citizenship Award.

Ken Garni, Counseling Center. He served as a panelist at the annual meeting of the American Counseling Association in Minneapolis April 25-27. He addressed the issue of providing counseling services when significant changes in mental health care and national health care benefits are occurring.

Alexandra Todd, Sociology. She presented a paper in Colorado Springs at the Society for the Interdisciplinary Study of Social Imagery. Her paper was entitled "The No Show!, Medical Fiction."

Sanjiv Jaggia, Economics. His paper was published in The Review of Quantitative Finance and Accounting in December and another one in the Journal of Econometrics in January.

Personnel

Eisenstat Succeeds Murphy as Associate Law Dean

Law Prof. Steve M. Eisenstat has been appointed associate dean of the Law School to succeed Russell G. Murphy, who is returning to the classroom after nearly four years as an associate dean.

Eisenstat, who was recently voted tenure, is a former deputy general counsel for the Massachusetts Department of Public Health and an assistant corporation counsel for the City of Boston. A graduate of State University of New York at Buffalo with a bachelor of arts and master of education, he received his juris doctor degree from Northeastern University in 1980.

Eisenstat was an instructor at Suffolk Law School in the early eighties and returned as an assistant professor in 1988.

Murphy, a former assistant dean at Boston College Law School, joined Suffolk's faculty in 1980. A Suffolk Law School graduate, who has been cited a number of times with outstanding faculty awards, he will return to teaching full-time, a decision he made last July to Dean Paul R. Sugarman.

"I never wanted to leave teaching full-time," he said, but he takes pride in some administrative accomplishments including the Law School's bioethics symposium, the revamping of the evaluations process and the broadening of electives.

(continues on pg. 8)
Potpourri
by Lou Connelly

Those catchy subway and news print ads illustrating the merits of Suffolk University have paid off in more ways than one for advertising agency Devine & Pearson. The agency won top honors in the Ninth Annual Admissions Advertising Awards Competition taking the first place gold award in the total advertising campaign category over some 1300 entries and picking up three additional gold awards for entries in radio advertising, outdoor transit advertising and magazine advertising. It also won a silver award for outdoor transit advertising. Said Dean of Enrollment Management and Retention Marguerite J. Dennis in hailing the honors, "Our advertising activity has led to heightened awareness for the University, resulting in an increase in enrollment for the past five years"... Look for Suffolk to organize a student chapter of SOAR (Society Organized Against Racism) on campus this Fall. Suffolk has planned a meeting for September with reps from Northeastern. The action follows the Spring conference at Connecticut College attended by the Counseling Center's Paul Korn and Jeannette Hixon of Student Activities and Rose Wright of the Ballotti Learning Center. Several students also attended. Korn is president of the New England chapter of SOAR... The new South Shore Charter School in Hull will have a Suffolk touch. Walter Johnson, chair of physics and engineering, and Elliot Gabriel, associate dean of students, have been named to its Board of Trustees... Nice to hear from retired Associate Law Librarian Pat Brown, who has just received her certification as a counselor in the SHINE Program (Serving Health Information Needs of Elders) for Massachusetts. She'll handle Winthrop with an office at the town's senior center. Pat's face, incidentally, now appears on a baseball card as a former player in the one-time women's baseball league...

Tempis Fugits Dept: Suffolk's Biology Department and the Museum of Science will be marking 10 years of sponsoring a marine science experience for youngsters 13-15 or seventh to ninth grade on the shores of Cobscook Bay the weeks of July 10-16 and July 17-23. Fee for members and children of Suffolk alums is $694 which includes all meals, course fees, instruction etc. Contact Bea Snow or Carl Merrill in Biology for additional details... Let's hear it for Assistance Business Manager Annette Gentile and hubby John Elliott. They welcomed a 6 pound 9 ounce son at Melrose-Wakefield Hospital April 9. He'll be John David Elliott Jr... Sympathies this month to Police Lt. John Pagliarulo on the loss of his father, Frank Pagliarulo, 67, after a four-month battle with cancer... We were deeply saddened to learn of the death of Kay Linnehan, wife of Board Chairman, Jim Linnehan. She succumbed April 24 after a short illness at the age of 67. The 21st Annual Alumni Evening at Pops will be held Wednesday, June 22 at 8 p.m. at Symphony Hall. Prices range from $40 to $50 and include a champagne reception. And the 10th annual Red Sox Night featuring the Sox vs. the Milwaukee Brewers will be held Friday, July 29. The $29 price tag includes grandstand ticket and buffet at the Diamond at Fenway... Mawdudur Rahman, who spearheaded a WBZ-TV and radio drive on campus to help California earthquake victims, received a nice thank you note from Lt. Col. Ralph E. Joyce from the Salvation Army acknowledging the efforts of supporters with $250 being raised... Michael J. Slinger, director of the Law Library, chaired the American Association of Law Schools new directors workshop at the annual meeting and moderated the speaking program on "How to Work with Your Staff."

The Board of Trustees, at its most recent meeting, voted tenure to Law School Profs Steve Eisenstat and Mike Rustad and to Laurie Pant, associate prof of accounting. Biology's Rebecca DiLiddo, an associate professor, was granted a one-year leave of absence effective July 1995. Receiving sabatticals were Law Prof. Lyle Baker, effective Spring, 1995 and SOM's Mike Arthur... Margaret Fitzgerald of Health Services addressed the graduating nursing class at Mass. General Hospital, speaking about the role of the nurse practitioner and health service director and student health issues and the types of medical problems encountered in college health centers. Margaret and husband Barry Fitzgerald, who teaches a paralegal course here and is a member of the General Alumni Association, are expecting their first child in September. Also anticipating are LisaMODECKER, secretary in athletics, and husband, Brian Glasscock, both law school grads... For the record: The Board of Directors of the MBA/MPA Alumni Association voted March 31 to change its name to the Graduate SOM Alumni Association to reflect more accurately all of the grad programs it serves... Doris Lewis of Chemistry spoke at the sixth annual Interchange in Technical Writing, co-sponsored by the Boston and Northern New England chapters of the Society for Technical Communications and Continuing Education at UMass/Lowell. She keynoted the Scientific and Medical Stem with the topic "Writing My First Book: The Illusion and the Reality."

George Comeau of Media Services has had a gratifying career in politics in the town of Canton. The 28-year old Comeau had served five years as a member of the town's Planning Board. Up for reelection a year ago, he won by two votes, but wait, his opponent filed for a recount and emerged the winner by three votes. George, who serves as chair of the Planning Board, was down, but 10 days later got a big lift when a vacancy occurred and the selectmen and planning board appointed Comeau to fill it. And to add plenty of frosting on the cake, in the April 5 vote George defeated opponent Todd Williamson by more than 900 votes. "Truly a landslide," exclaims Comeau. Comeau and Athletic Director Jim Nelson are prepping for the June 12 annual picnic. There will be a magician there for kids. Site yet to be named but will be announced. "We're hoping to get more faculty here this year," says Comeau. Back from a sabattical is Henry Mulcahy of Biology, who spent his leave as visiting associate professor of biological chemistry at Harvard Medical School and did laboratory research under the guidance of Dr. Charles C. Richardson... Congrats to Paul Fahey, administrative assistant to the dean of students, who was recently elected vice president of the MPA Association for the '94-95' academic year... And Lynn Fitzpatrick of Education and Human Resources is completing the requirements for her degree of B.S. in Political Science. This writer and her parents, Jack and Kathy Fitzpatrick, were friends as Suffolk students back in the fifties. The Fitzpatricks live in Camden, Maine... Dan Stefanescu of Math and Computer Science presented a paper at the International Conference of Compiler Construction in Edinburgh, Scotland... Morris McInnes and Gail Seregian of Accounting presented Karen Hagle to the membership of the Boston Chapter of the Financial Executives Institute as Suffolk's outstanding student of 1994 in finance and accounting. The talented senior has a 3.9 overall cumulative average and 4.0 in accounting... Mike Rustad of the Law faculty and colleague Thomas Koenig teamed up for two articles on punitive damages in The Recorder and the Legal Times...
Potpourri

The recent appearance of the WBZ David Brudnay Show on the stage of the C. Walsh Theatre attracted some of the top local media personalities for a discussion on media and communications. Among the participants were Channel 5's Natalie Jacobson, Channel 4's Jack Williams and Channel 7's R. D. Sahi. Also contributing were the Globe's Jack Thomas and Ed Harris of our Speech and Communications Department... Diane Spence, director of special gifts, recently visited with Capt. Eleanor L'Ecuyer. B.A. '44, J.D. '50 and D.J.S. '73, in Sun City Center, Fla. where L'Ecuyer lives following a distinguished career in the U.S. Coast Guard.

Capt. L'Ecuyer, recently retired as president of the Democratic Club of Florida, met another Suffolk alum at a meeting. Roseanne Douglas, B.S. '74 of Boca Raton, who is running for the U.S. Senate. Douglas invites any of her Suffolk friends visiting Florida in coming months to look her up and help the campaign... Suffolk alumni Young Richard Rosenberg, now the CEO of Bank America Corp. visited Norine Bacigalupo's journalism class during a tour of the Ridgeway Building with Dean Mike Ronayne April 7, the date he lectured at a Beacon Hill Institute luncheon. In his luncheon talk Rosenberg contrasted the days of today with the fifties when he was a Suffolk journalism student. "The standing joke was that banking was a 3-6-3 business," he noted. "You paid 3 percent on deposits, charged 6 percent on loans and were on the golf course by 3 in the afternoon."

Newsmakers

Charles Rounds, Law faculty. His book on Loring: Trustee's Handbook, is co-authored with Eric P. Hayes, vice president and senior trust counsel for the State Street Bank and Trust Co. This is the seventh edition and the last updating was in 1962. Rounds says this seventh edition was designed as "a ready reference, a gateway, as it were, to the treaties, restatements, law review articles, uniform statutes, and seminal cases" and aims to carry on the tradition of Augustus Peabody Loring, whose first edition appeared in 1898.

Personnel

Library Adds Staffers

The Suffolk Law Library has five new staffers.

Ellen Delaney, formerly at Harvard Law School Library, is a new reference librarian.

Other new faces; Chris Chiofolo, acquisitions assistant in Technical Services; Joseph M. McCarthy, Jr., evening/weekend reserve desk supervisor, Joel Garrity, reserved desk assistant, Carmen Mukendi, reserved desk assistant.

In other areas, Brenda Boyd of Cambridge is a secretary in the Law School Dean's Office and Michelle Dikmak of Randolph is now a clerical assistant in the Budget Office.

Staff Development Programs For May

There are still spaces available for the May program in staff development. Here are some to consider:

Dealing with Conflict - This program for support staff explores the basic "positions" we can choose in a conflict situation and demonstrates how the choices we make impact the outcome. With the present emphasis on customer service we are being called upon to interact with a broad spectrum of people with differing needs. Setting conflict is often critical in meeting customer demands. This session will be held May 18 from 1:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. in the CMD Conference Room, 25th Floor One Beacon St.

Computer Programs - There are some spaces available in the following computer programs (all are held in the MIS Training Facility, 25th Floor, One Beacon St.)

Advanced WordPerfect - May 10, 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. or May 12, 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Advanced Lotus/Quattro - May 11, 9:30-1:30 p.m.

Advanced Inform - May 19, 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Call Human Resources at 8415 for registration and information.

Pre-Retirement Planning Programs Set

If you're 50 or over and retirement doesn't seem all that far away, these programs might be for you.

Human Resources is sponsoring two pre-retirement programs this month. The first on Monday, May 23 will cover both the investment of retirement savings and the retirement income options. Presentations will be made by representatives from TIAA-CREF, Fidelity and UNUM. The second session on May 26 will feature Roger Peloquin of the Social Security Administration and Patricia Annino, Esq., who will discuss estate planning.

Both programs will begin with a buffet lunch at noon and conclude at 3 p.m. To make a reservation, call the Human Resources Office.