Recessional
Paul S. Grogan’s life’s work has been the betterment of communities. He is president and CEO of the Boston Foundation, one of the nation’s oldest and largest community foundations. Under Grogan’s leadership since 2001, the Foundation has become a highly influential civic convener on issues and challenges facing the City of Boston and the region. Grogan has launched high-impact initiatives in areas including education, youth violence prevention, community development, health care, and the arts.

Before joining the Boston Foundation, Grogan served as vice president for government, community, and public affairs at Harvard University and as a senior lecturer at the Harvard Business School. He spearheaded commitments to the community that included significant funding for affordable housing and the Harvard After-School Initiative. He also founded the “CEOs for Cities” civic innovation lab.

Earlier, as president and CEO of the nonprofit community development intermediary Local Initiatives Support Corporation, Grogan spearheaded a period of national policy successes, including the creation of the Low Income Housing Tax Credit, the establishment of the HOME program, the strengthening of the Community Reinvestment Act, and the creation of the New Markets Tax Credit.

Grogan’s passion for cities began with his service in the administrations of Boston Mayors Kevin H. White and Raymond L. Flynn. He headed Boston’s neighborhood revitalization efforts in the early 1980s, helping to pioneer a series of public/private ventures that included the Boston Housing Partnership and the Boston Compact, a partnership between the city’s corporate community and public school system.

Grogan is a founder and director of the Community Development Trust and a director of New Profit Inc. He is co-author, with Tony Proscio, of Comeback Cities, a book that has been called “arguably the most important and insightful book on the American city in a generation.”

Grogan holds a bachelor’s degree in American History from Williams College and a master’s degree in administration from the Harvard Graduate School of Education.

HISTORY OF SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY

From its earliest incarnation, Suffolk University has been a beacon of hope to people aspiring to better their lives through education.

Founder Gleason Archer had worked his way through college when a benefactor loaned him money to pursue the study of law. He asked only that Archer pass along the favor. In 1906 Archer began teaching law in the evenings in his home to those with limited time and financial resources. He believed that immigrants coming to America deserved educational opportunities that would lead to personal and professional growth.

The young law professor soon moved the school into his downtown Boston office, a location that made the school more convenient to students and, in time, opened doors to invaluable collaborations with government, business, and cultural institutions. After machinist and Suffolk student Roland E. Brown passed the bar in 1908, registration surged. Archer gave up his law practice to devote himself full time to the law school.

Suffolk Law School received its charter in 1914. Later, Archer founded what are now the College of Arts & Sciences and Sawyer Business School (in 1934 and 1937, respectively). The three academic units were incorporated as Suffolk University in 1937.

Building on the promise of its founding, Suffolk University continues to inspire and engage its diverse student body. Through carefully designed curricula, internships, mentoring, and networking, the University empowers students to meet their academic and professional goals.

The University now offers programs at the baccalaureate, master’s, and doctoral levels. Faculty members are just as devoted to teaching as they are to scholarly work. Suffolk’s classrooms, libraries, residence halls, and offices are housed in the heart of Boston, granting students superior access to career-making experiential learning opportunities and the best of city living. Historic Boston Common serves as the unofficial campus quad.

Suffolk students hail from across the nation and around the world. Thanks to the University’s campus in Madrid, Spain, and partnerships with global institutions, students enjoy a wide range of study abroad programs and international internships.

SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY MISSION

Suffolk University is a talent catalyst that recognizes and develops student potential. Leveraging our location in the heart of Boston, our faculty, staff, and alumni work together to provide a student-centered experience. This diverse community builds on its dedication and excellence in education and scholarship to empower graduates to be successful locally, regionally, and globally.
THE UNIVERSITY TODAY

When Suffolk University students step out of campus buildings they step into the heart of downtown Boston, with all of the energy, opportunity, and possibilities that the city offers. The urban campus is woven into the fabric of Boston, enabling programs and courses to offer an experiential approach to education. Suffolk students enjoy a wealth of opportunities close to campus, from career-defining internships in the region’s business, government, legal, medical, and nonprofit communities to insights from guest speakers who are experts in their fields. Upon graduation, Suffolk students are well prepared for success.

The University offers undergraduate degrees in more than 60 majors and offers more than 50 graduate programs, legal degrees, certificate programs, and continuing education opportunities. It provides a student-centered experience with small classes and an emphasis on strong connections among its students, faculty, and staff. Suffolk is committed throughout its curriculum to the integration of civic engagement, social responsibility, and service learning, all of which foster the development of a responsible global citizen.

Students at Suffolk’s downtown Boston campus make up a vibrant mosaic, hailing from countries around the world and giving the University one of the highest proportions of international students among U.S. institutions. That diversity of backgrounds and perspectives makes the Suffolk educational experience richer and deeper for each of its students. Moreover, the Suffolk curriculum emphasizes global perspectives; students at all three schools study abroad through global travel seminars, internships, faculty-led programs, and summer- or semester-long programs with partner institutions. Freshmen may begin their Suffolk journey by studying for a year or two at Suffolk’s Madrid campus.

When they graduate, Suffolk students join a proud alumni community—more than 80,000 members strong. These alumni span the globe and are innovators and leaders in their fields. They are deeply invested in the success of today’s graduates.

Suffolk University continues to shape lives and uphold Boston’s rich tradition of promoting knowledge and innovation as it places students on the pathway to professional and personal success.
ACADEMIC ATTIRE AND SYMBOLS

The academic attire worn during commencement originated in medieval universities. The long black gown was worn for warmth and to conceal food—and sometimes wine—to be consumed during lecture recesses. The hood, which is the most colorful raiment, was used as an alms sack or to protect the wearer’s wig from the elements.

The velvet trimming of the doctoral hood signifies the academic area of the degree, and the hood lining reflects the official color or colors of the college or university conferring the degree. Here are the colors you’ll see at today’s ceremony:

Drab Olive: Business Administration, Business Analytics, Accounting, Taxation, and Finance

Peacock Blue: Public Administration

Kelly Green: Healthcare Administration

Business students inducted into the Beta Gamma Sigma International Honor Society wear a royal blue satin honor stole outlined in gold with the Beta Gamma Sigma key logo. Public administration students inducted into the Pi Alpha Alpha National Honor Society for Public Affairs and Administration wear blue-and-gold cords.

The marshal leads the procession carrying a mace. The mace originally was a weapon, and its ceremonial descendant confers an air of authority on those leading formal pageants.

The Suffolk University seal features the University motto Honestas et Diligentia, or Honesty and Diligence, and the founding date, 1906. The image is composed of a standard and torch flanked by single stars, and Beacon Hill is pictured in the background.

A SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY ALMA MATER

Over the cobblestones of Boston,
And down the city’s lamp-lit streets,
Over the rivers, bays, and oceans,
We journeyed here, to learn and teach.
Gladly did we learn,
And gladly did we teach.
Guided by the beacon on our Hill,
And the Archer’s starry reach,
From every continent and every shore,
We journeyed here, to learn and teach.
Gladly did we learn,
And gladly did we teach.
In all the many ways we grew,
And amid the wonders we would see,
We were partners on a journey,
Whether the path was smooth or steep.
Gladly did we learn,
And gladly did we teach.
As the road unfolds before us,
And in the hopeful words we speak,
We honor and remember Suffolk
Where we all came to learn and teach.
Yes, gladly did we learn,
And gladly did we teach.
Gladly did we learn,
And gladly did we teach.
