Christian Science Services

How freedom from disease and discord can be established will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lese-Sermon entitled "Reality." Selections to be read will be "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (14:21-33): "The Scripture declareth, 'The Lord He is Good (3:12), there is none beside Him, for great is His name. He is near that the words thereof may be verified, and far off that they may be known.'"

Mark's description of how Christ Jesus established harmony in the experience of the man "dick of the palsy" (5:25-31) will be among those read from the King James Version of the Bible. The Golden Text is from Psalms (131:2) "The works of the Lord are just, sought out of all the that have pleasure therein."

NOTED SCHOLAR IS LEUKEMIA VICTIM

ATLANTA--Funeral services were held Tuesday, March 13 for Dr. William M. Boyd, chairman of the department of political science at Atlanta University. Dr. Boyd died Saturday, March 10, at a private hospital from leukemia. He was 53.

A native of Monticello, New York, Dr. Boyd was graduated from Yale College in 1927 and received the master of arts degree in philosophy from the University of Michigan in 1930 and 1934, respectively. In 1924 he was Roswell scholar and in 1943, under a Carnegie Corporation grant, studied social and economic conditions in Europe, France, Holland, Denmark, Sweden, and Poland.

Before coming to Atlanta University in 1948, Dr. Boyd served as dean of the social science department and professor of political science at Fort Valley State College. He served as president of the Association of Social Science Teachers of Georgia. Mr. Boyd's service extended far beyond the limits of the academic world. From 1946 to 1955 he was president of the Georgia NAACP, and, when he was forced to resign because of illness, the organization made him chairman of its executive committee.

For five years a data analyst for Radio Station WERD, he lectured throughout the country, is 1949 as visiting lecturer in International Relations at Barnard College, New York, under the sponsorship of the American Friends Service Committee.

Fort of Army

It was a warm spring day, and the sun shone brightly. Kitty and her friends, the children of the nearby army base, decided to have a picnic in the park.

"Let's go, Kitty!" exclaimed the children, gathering around her.

"Sure, let's go!" replied Kitty, her face lit up with excitement.

They walked to the park entrance, which was adorned with colorful balloons and flags. The children sang songs as they walked, their voices echoing through the trees.

"This is going to be the best picnic ever!" said Kitty, looking at her friends.

"I can't wait to see what food we'll have!" added one of the children.

They reached the park and spread out their blankets, the grass soft and green under their feet. Kitty's mother had packed a delicious picnic lunch for them.

"I brought my favorite sandwich!" said Kitty, showing off her sandwich filled with ham and cheese.

"That sounds delicious!" exclaimed one of the children.

They all took a bite of their sandwiches and laughed at the delicious taste.

"This is the best day ever!" said Kitty, her eyes shining with joy.

They spent the day playing games, reading books, and having fun in the sun. It was a perfect day for a picnic, and Kitty and her friends enjoyed every minute of it.

Fort of Colors

It was a warm spring day, a bright sun was shining, and the sky was blue. The colors of the American flag were visible in the form of a large banner that had been set up on the lawn of the storied Fort of Colors. The fort was open for visitors, and the colors of the flag were suspended from a flagpole in the center of the lawn. The fort was a historical site, and it was a popular destination for tourists and locals alike. The fort was surrounded by a moat, and it was a impressive sight to see. The colors of the flag were vibrant and they stood out against the blue sky.

Bermuda Calling

By George Sullens Zeller

Looking from the shore, the colors of the Bermuda flag are a beautiful sight. The flag is a tricolor, with blue, white, and red stripes. In the center, there is a yellow diamond with a red cross in it. The flag is a symbol of the island's rich history and culture. The colors of the flag are also a reminder of the island's connection to the British Empire.

The Facts... by Michael Allen

The Republican Party will make the most concerted drive in the history of the party to prevent the City of Boston from being a Democratic city. At the present time, two precincts, including Ward 9 and 17, are in danger of being captured by the Democrats. In these two precincts, there are two local elections that are crucial to the outcome of the race.
THE FACTS...

BY MICHAEL ALLEN

The Republican Party will make the most concerted drive in the history of the state against Governor John F. Kennedy. During the past two weeks, a scurry of activity in Washington to mount a strong Committee on Campaign has been going on in earnest.

An attempt is being made to conjure up a potential candidacy, one who will be able to stand up to Jack Kennedy, a man who cannot be denied in public life.

The main issue is the fact that the present administration in Washington is not strong enough to handle the present international situation.

Last week, Governor Kennedy appeared before the Republican National Convention, a group of Republican leaders are now in Washington to look into the feasibility of Mr. Kennedy's candidacy and to advise with the major candidates. Mr. Kennedy is said to have a strong chance of being their choice.

Encourage Our Children

During the long, dark watches of winter, when the children are restless and the adults are listless, we encourage our children to read. We encourage them to read the stories of the old men who tell us of their lives and their families. We encourage them to read the books of the great men of the past.

Our libraries are full of such books, and children are encouraged to read them.

Reps. Curtis Says

I attended last week a broadcast by Rep. Curtis of Ohio. He talked about the state of the nation and the need for a strong defense. He was very critical of the previous administration and their handling of the economy. He also discussed the importance of international cooperation and the need for a strong United States military.

B. U. Prayer Service

Wednesday, March 21, Boston University observed a "Day of Prayer and Protect" in honor of the victims of the Montgomery, Ala., and their courageous ally, the city's buses.

A quiet service of prayer and meditation held from 4 to 4:30 p.m. in the University's Daniel I. Marsh Chapel was sponsored and led by students from the Boston University School of Theology student council (Mount Vernon Student Association).

The purpose of the hour of prayer was "to provide space for the deep concern felt by members of the Boston University Community over the evil of racial prejudice and discrimination, and the tension which this evil has caused in our country. It is particularly in response to the national movement of sympathy arising out of the spontaneous demonstration of non-violent social protest in Montgomery, Ala.

In this manner we are joining with millions of other sympathizers throughout the nation.

The offering from the service will be donated to the Montgomery Improvement Association, the group headed by local ministers of Montgomery, Ala., under the leadership of Rev. Martin Luther King and organized to raise funds to provide legal aid and economic assistance to those who are in need during the boycott.

The opening meditation on the order-service stated "God-fearing peoples can not remain silent or unmoved while they observe their fellow human beings unjustly afflicted and oppressed. For this reason we have come to this sanctuary to lament the fact that our beloved country has not yet rid itself of racial social injustices to express our pitiement for our shortcomings, and to attest our commitment to the method of truth-versus non violence as a means of effecting real and lasting brotherhood."
