Negros In Sports

By Vic Haynes

Almost every track-minded citizen can recall Owens' prizewinning performances on August 1, 1936 in the Olympic Games at Berlin. Most vivid in their minds is Germany's Chancellor Adolf Hitler's snub to Owens and his teamate Cornelius Johnson because they were the first Negro winners to receive the pentathlon of honor. Hitler, advocate of the Aryan race as the superior, merely discounted greeting victorious athletes for the day when it came time to face Owens and Johnson despite their great achievements. The fabulous runner from Ohio had set two world marks in addition to winning a third event, while Johnson won the high jump.

But there was one day earlier in his career when Owens accomplished a great deal of doing to excel. On May 7th at Big Ten meet the Ohio State star decisively smashed the world's record and tied a sixth! More than twenty years have passed, and only a half decade ago did his record be dropped from the books as others inspired by him came along to break their. It is doubtless that there would be real soon who will match or surpass that achievement of Owens.

It Figures

Well, Tony DeMarco comes home every night as he does every night. This was one of the things where every night fans knew the result of the meeting between Jack and Gaspar Ortega long before the ball was held in the Boston Garden. The outcome was no surprise and no one was hurt. Just as one man makes two, that was the way the result of this fight figured.

A New “Outside” Winner

I cannot recall during this major campaign of DeMarco any fight that he has won outside of Boston. It has always been his misfortune to suffer defeats when meeting opponents outside the port of a Boston ring. However, he is the best home town fighter I have seen in Boston for a long time. He is a crowd pleasing fighter anywhere he fights, but he cannot seem to win a contest outside of Boston.

Need Eight Choice

I wish to our Supreme Maker that Boston promoters could present a fighter of their own choice when the fight outside of Boston as well as at home. They have been trying to accomplish this for years, but somehow cannot produce such a specimen. I have seen many Boston fighters who could bring home the bacon from outside as well as they could keep it at home but these hard fighters innocent boys were not the choice of Boston big shot managers and promoters.

Drawing Card Still

I am very much pleased that Tony won the fight not only because “it figured” but because Boston still has a card drawing card. This enables the promoters to continue promoting fights without going to the deep end of the pool. It gives the preliminary boys a chance to show themselves and get more experience. A good crowd turned out to see the big and the outcome — which everyone sensed from the beginning — keeps everybody happy.

Jack and Joe Changes

In conjunction with Negro History week it might be well to mention a few names who have created history in the game of boxing. Jack Johnson stands out as the most when oldtimers begin to recall the Negroes expansion in boxing. It was many years later when Joe Louis created the fighter in modern boxing and finally punched his way to the heavy weight crown of the world to become the second of his race to gain the coveted crown.

Gansa and Robinson

The achievement of those two has always stood out historical- ly as a milestone in the culture of their race. At the turn of the century it was Joe Gansa, the fabulous lightweight champion, who thrilled crowds with his supposedly impossible feats such as meeting opponents of varied weight and lining weight himself in order to keep busy with opponents. It was men like Johnson, Gansa and Louis who stimulated the flood of colored fighters that produced fighters to be long remem- bered like Sugar Ray Robinson.

School of Jazz

Set for Lenox

Jazz takes another giant step next summer when the School of Jazz at the Berkshire Music Barn in Lenox, Mass., opens for an intensive three week session under the tutelage of top ranking jazz musicians, it was announced recently by John Lewis, executive director of the school. Lewis is readily identified as musical director and pianist with the Modern Jazz Quartet.

Enrollment Limited

Enrollment in the new jazz development, stimulated by the success of residence study by the M.A.J. and other top musicians last summer, will be limited to forty students and twenty non- playing players. Musicians will be required to pass auditions or submit attested tapes or recordings for qualification for entrance.

In addition to the regular courses which will include ensemble and individual study, the students will be able to grasp a wider scope of jazz and folk music through demonstrations and lectures by personnel such as Duke Ellington, Lennie Tristano, Langston Hughes, Lennie Tristano, and Wilbur De Paris as well as others.

Open in August

The sessions will begin August 12th, the day following the departure of symphonic students from Tanglewood, home of the Boston Symphony summer festival and school. The Music Barn and Music Inn are developments of Phillip and Stephanie Barber who have been conducting concerts and round table discussions in jazz and folk music for the past seven years.

Sarah Vaughan, Eckstine In Top Birdland Billing

The biggest jazz package of the season comes into Symphony Hall tomorrow evening, February 17, for two appearances when the Birdland Stars of 1957 features some of the best in entertainment take the stand.

Singing choruses will be shared by Sarah Vaughan, Billy Eckstine, Jerry Southern and Big Joe Williams. Count Basie’s big band, Terry Gibbs and unit, Sarah’s trio of pianist Jimmy Jones, bassist Richie Davis and drummer Roy Haynes, tenorman Lester Young, trumpeter Chet Baker, and others.

The show will mark the first time in years that Miss Vaughan and Eckstine have appeared together since their work together in the early days of the present modern trend of jazz. It also marks reunion between Lester Young and Count Basie. It was the Free who pioneered a new style and sound in tenors while playing with Basie in the late thirties.

A woman should make a good printer — especially if she likes to make a good impression.

Travel Bureau
To Open April 15

If weather comes, can spring be far behind? The poet's question prompts a focus on travel, since the advent of spring each year means that those who take their vacations during that budding season will want to avoid the travel bureau like ALSTA, which will formally open its headquarters in the Hotel Bostonian, Boylston and Harvard ways, St. Back Bay, on April 15. Boston's newest travel agency, which exists to provide pleasant travel, with all the best accommodations at the point of destination, is headed by Joseph W. We wonder if the press misrepresented Elwood McKenney, Executive Secretary to the Governor's Council, who allegedly stated at the Mayor's Breakfast for Jackie Robinson, "The governor asked me to say that the day you beat the Boston Red Sox in the Hall of Fame will be a happy one. There are many Brooklyn Dodger rooters hereabouts because with you helping out, the Dodgers beat the Yankees once in a while, which the Red Sox never did."

How tremendously those present at the Breakfast, but the reporter from the nightly newspapers who wrote the story is noted for his accuracy and is one of the few who, we believe, certainly if true the statement of the reporter is absolutely false. Williams is a great baseball player, and both Jackie Robinson and Ted Williams will ultimately be in the Hall of Fame. Governor McKenney has reiterated that Ted Williams is still famous and a baseball hero. It would do well to remember the Governor's statement on February 1st. Perhaps in the future, Governor Purcell, would do better to prepare a statement to be read by their respective editors.

The annual Valentine dinner and show sponsored by the combined societies of St. Richard's Church will take place on February 12th at 8:00 p.m. The proceeds will go to the YMCA. There will be dancing from 5 p.m. to 1:30 p.m. and the show will begin at 8:00 p.m. The show will feature a variety of acts, including a dance troupe and a comedy act.

Tony DeMarco really won the hearts of the Valentine's Day crowd. We hope that this victory will be the beginning of a series of successful events for our community. The Governor's Council has declared that the event will be a stepping stone to the实现国家的繁荣和独立。

Women In Bowling

By Ruby Eld

On Saturday, January 26, at 6:00 o'clock the C.W.B.A. held a special meeting to discuss the question of women's bowling. Many members attended, and the meeting was well attended.

The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the question of women's bowling in more detail. The speakers were Mrs. Jane Brown, Mrs. Mary Jones, and Mrs. Elizabeth Smith. All three of them were strong supporters of women's bowling and believed that it was an important part of the game.

The meeting was well attended and many members expressed their support for women's bowling. They believed that it was an important part of the game and that women应该 be able to enjoy the same opportunities as men.

The meeting was adjourned at 8:00 p.m. and all members were invited to attend the next meeting on February 9th.

Newport Pastor To Resign April 30

NEWPORT, R. 1. - The Rev. M. Samuel Pinkston, pastor of Mt. Olive Baptist Church for four years, submitted his resignation last Sunday, to take effect April 30.

Mr. Pinkston announced at the close of the morning service that he had accepted the pastorate of Mt. Pisgah Baptist Temple in Asbury Park, N. J., a parish considerably larger than his present one. The minister at Mt. Pisgah has retired after 47 years there.

Succeeding the Rev. Theodore Peoples, Mr. Pinkston came to Mt. Olive on Feb. 1, 1959. He had formerly been pastor at the People's Baptist Church in Boston and at the Zion Memorial Baptist Church in Philadelphia.

Franklin president of the Newport Ministerial Assn., he has been active as chairman of the Newport Community Chest, the Newport County Council of Social Agencies and the Urban League of Rhode Island. He is a member of the Newport arm of the Navy League, the American Legion and the Kiwanis Club of Newport.
