THE BEST CHOICE

Whatever may be said even jestly by partisans in criticism of the Eisenhower Administration, the most extreme opponent will have to concede that the President has made unusually notable appointments on every level. He will be remembered in history for having appointed Earl Warren as Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court. Time, which... softens controversy, even when prompted by the zeal of Congressional leaders, will probably give their just due, now withheld, to the most controversial of President Eisenhower's able administrative assistants like Press Secretary James Hagerty and Secretary to the Cabinet Maxwell H. Rabb. However, no president has ever made an appointment which abviously was so undesirably the best choice as Mr. Eisenhower's selection of Dr. James Rhyne Killian, Jr., president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, for the position of Assistant to the President of the United States for science and technology.

The launching of the two earth satellites by the Soviet Union has projected the name of Dr. Killian into households where perhaps the best known personalities outside the immediate family circle are television and current sports champions. There must be no disposition in the public at large to think that the appointment made the man. Dr. Killian has headed the nation's greatest technological institute during the period that excessive damage was wrought to the very foundations of scientific inquiry and advancement by the pathological hysteria which claimed among its victims such scientists of world renown as Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer and Dr. Edward U. Condon, for instance. Dr. Killian did not capitate to the obscurantism which sought to expel Dr. Dirk Jan Struik, the mathematical physicist, an avowed Marxist, from the faculty because he was indicted on a charge which his prosecutors could not substantiate in court though the atmosphere was favorable for even frame-ups.

Still, Dr. Killian is a native of Virginia, he knows Negro traditions and potentials by close contact that vouchsafed to some other well meaning officials during his administration at M. I. T. the numbers of Negro students, laboratory technicians, clerk-typists, and other personnel have increased beyond the percentage which he inherited from Dr. Karl T. Compton, his predecessor in the presidency, whose hiring policy was based upon equal opportunities for qualified persons. It is a certainty, therefore, that Dr. W. Hamilton Killian will utilize the services of Negro scientists who may be working with low temperatures, for example, or some other specific of physics, chemistry, and astronomy required for our nation to overtake the magnificent achievements of the Russians.

We Wish Him Goodspeed.

POETRY NOOK

(For Gana)

When the dawn
Of independence breaks
Upon the golden shore,
Oh,
Up on a land
Wherein the bravest glow
Of liberty
Rises,
And the gloom of greed
And the clouds of strife

A land where:

The bitter sense of hate
Has long decayed.
For bitterness
Is a blight,
Terrible and sure,
And independence
That thrives
In musical language and dislike
In servitude.
In every land.
So come and abide,
Every day.
Sweet independence.
But break upon a land
In filial love:
Whoever
Forever doth
In sweet fraternity.

Tibbs in the Garden

Tom, you know, he and his manager, Charlie, would never have agreed to fight Harry Bell in Madison Square Garden, November 5th, in the semi-final to the Benny Goodman-Bandlee Dusty tour. Tibbs will get a purse of $175.00. After a week's training, Tibbs and Charley got a real break. Tod- dy, Breener, who runs the TV fight at St. Nick's, according to reports, needed an opponent in a hurry and so he had Tibs fight Frankle Impel. Tibbs pulled a big upset. That is one of the only ways that colored fighters get to be seen by learning how to fight first, and then getting in shape and staying in shape in order to pull the sets when the opportunities come.

One of the biggest surprises of the season is the DARTS. They were a time ago a neck and neck with the Sharp Shooters. But now they are apparently gone forever. They have met the vets and literally given them a "TP" SUCCESS!
