Follow this and additional works at: https://dc.suffolk.edu/journal

Recommended Citation
https://dc.suffolk.edu/journal/247

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Suffolk University Student Newspapers at Digital Collections @ Suffolk. It has been accepted for inclusion in Suffolk Journal by an authorized administrator of Digital Collections @ Suffolk. For more information, please contact dct@suffolk.edu.
SGA MEETING

Committee Formed To Investigate Halloween Altercation

On November 15 the SGA convened a committee to investigate a fight among SGA representative Michael Powers at the Halloween party of November 1st. The committee also discussed an incident involving the Boston Police Department, where a police officer was reportedly injured.

There was a question of whether the SGA had jurisdiction over the matter. The fact was that it was an SGA function and a number of the association's members were involved in the case for the groups' protection. James Barnes, a member of the SGA, stated that the SGA should take action concerning the incident to determine if the administrative and student body that the SGA is responsible for, capable of taking care of its own problems.

A motion was made to form a special committee after further discussion of the motion which included a debate discussing the question of whether or not the committee would represent the group and if the SGA's intentions were to investigate the incidents.

Cont. on page 3

The $30 Million Rip — Off

In Phil Nolan

Dealing with one of the most controversial topics concerning today's society, Suffolk's New Directions Center recently sponsored a special presentation of Massachusetts prison reform in an audiovisual program entitled "The $30 Million Rip-off!"

The presentation, held last Thursday, is a product of the Massachusetts Council on Crime and Correction. The presentation was designed to look into the deplorable and even illegal punishment of people in Massachusetts which are "only products of today's capitalist society."

According to Mr. Nolan, a former 12-year-old convict, the revenues being passed into the prisons only serve to generate the crime. "If you're going to make serious attempts at preventing crime, the money must be used in the streets," he said.

The presentation provided a breakdown of the $30 million that it takes to operate Massachusetts prisons. An astonishing 88% of that figure is granted to the salaries of prison employees, of which 80% are prison guards. "Massachusetts" prisoners employ the greatest number of guards in the country, averaging Mr. Nolan, "It's about 1.

The question of whether the SGA had jurisdiction over the matter was raised. The fact is that it was an SGA function and a number of the association's members were involved in the case for the groups' protection. James Barnes, a member of the SGA, stated that the SGA should take action concerning the incident to determine if the administrative and student body that the SGA is responsible for, capable of taking care of its own problems.

A motion was made to form a special committee after further discussion of the motion which included a debate discussing the question of whether or not the committee would represent the group and if the SGA's intentions were to investigate the incidents.

Cont. on page 3

A collection of Eastern Grays graphics were on display in the lobby of the Donahue building this past week. Many students gain advantage of the opportunity to browse through or buy some of the graphics.

SGA MEETING

Committee Formed To Investigate Halloween Altercation

On November 15 the SGA convened a committee to investigate a fight among SGA representative Michael Powers at the Halloween party of November 1st. The committee also discussed an incident involving the Boston Police Department, where a police officer was reportedly injured.

There was a question of whether the SGA had jurisdiction over the matter. The fact was that it was an SGA function and a number of the association's members were involved in the case for the groups' protection. James Barnes, a member of the SGA, stated that the SGA should take action concerning the incident to determine if the administrative and student body that the SGA is responsible for, capable of taking care of its own problems.

A motion was made to form a special committee after further discussion of the motion which included a debate discussing the question of whether or not the committee would represent the group and if the SGA's intentions were to investigate the incidents.

Cont. on page 3

The $30 Million Rip — Off

In Phil Nolan

Dealing with one of the most controversial topics concerning today's society, Suffolk's New Directions Center recently sponsored a special presentation of Massachusetts prison reform in an audiovisual program entitled "The $30 Million Rip-off!"

The presentation, held last Thursday, is a product of the Massachusetts Council on Crime and Correction. The presentation was designed to look into the deplorable and even illegal punishment of people in Massachusetts which are "only products of today's capitalist society."

According to Mr. Nolan, a former 12-year-old convict, the revenues being passed into the prisons only serve to generate the crime. "If you're going to make serious attempts at preventing crime, the money must be used in the streets," he said.

The presentation provided a breakdown of the $30 million that it takes to operate Massachusetts prisons. An astonishing 88% of that figure is granted to the salaries of prison employees, of which 80% are prison guards. "Massachusetts" prisoners employ the greatest number of guards in the country, averaging Mr. Nolan, "It's about 1.

The question of whether the SGA had jurisdiction over the matter was raised. The fact is that it was an SGA function and a number of the association's members were involved in the case for the groups' protection. James Barnes, a member of the SGA, stated that the SGA should take action concerning the incident to determine if the administrative and student body that the SGA is responsible for, capable of taking care of its own problems.

A motion was made to form a special committee after further discussion of the motion which included a debate discussing the question of whether or not the committee would represent the group and if the SGA's intentions were to investigate the incidents.

Cont. on page 3

A collection of Eastern Grays graphics were on display in the lobby of the Donahue building this past week. Many students gain advantage of the opportunity to browse through or buy some of the graphics.
Rowe Communicates

by Gall Toft

"Ms. Ark is here as Chairmain to defend the rights of the students. I want this to be a good school. I want the words of Judge C. Isherwood Rowe, former President of the Board of Trustees, man at the top, to speak above those below. There has always been a belief that the Board of Trustees is completely removed from the University, student and faculty values in the school's business interests. However, according to Judge Rowe, the Board functions with the student interest. A plan of communication between students and the Board that can lead to solutions."

"I want of the campus to be removed. A model, liberal, or conservative, is the Board to the extent that it is a rubber stamp and that Judge Rowe is a different story. Judge Rowe, former President of the Board, believes that the Board has interpreted, "When in good faith, I believe that the Board of Trustees has not given similar judgment than the Board of Trustees has not given similar judgment than the Board of Trustees has not given similar judgment to the student..

"The purpose of Sufihe University is to give students a good education in a good education. With this in mind and also the fact that Sufihe is not a tuition-dependent institution, some schools did not raise $200 last year. Yes, who did it go up? I don't know. Who's the student's Board members that would have stood behind them. I'm sure some other Board members would have too."

"Our plan is to vote for Tad Tad that is going on and not informed that there is a student meeting there to be done. A majority of Sufihe students have been upset with the news that they would have to shell out an extra $200 this year. But, as usual, and even when the matter hits them in the pocket-book most students took the matter lightly. Those that did try to organize student opposition were defeated from the start when the decision had already been made and in all probability, would not be reversed.

"What are the students doing when an administrative decision affects them? Such as a tuition hike? Judge Rowe stresses that they express themselves as a group through a legal body, like SGA, or on their own, by writing a letter to the President or to him demanding to be informed beforehand, and 2) to express opposition before the Board and on administration.

"We don't get enough feedback from the students. They have rights and should exercise them. What they came to Sufihe they were told tuition was such and such an amount and it should not be changed in mid stream.

"There is no consideration for the student. There are some who care about this student body get together to express itself collective in order to draw in so much from the top!"

WINE PARTY

Pass That Bottle To Me

by Bruce Barnes

Sports tone in the Reverses later Change

Walter Bauer of Sufihe Wines, 16
Newbury St., uncrated bottle after bottle of wine and introduced them in an eager crowd of about 100.

The Modern Language Club sponsored the event which featured the 'Haut-courant,' one of the best wines, and served to the students and staff alumni.

A thorough and complete evening welcoming to the Annual Wine Fellowship, the al far was turned over to Bauer who chatted 20 years of wine knowledge to the thirsty audience.

Bauer began by explaining that his German accent was the product of age and education. "We Americans feel that Europeans know a little about wines but Americans do so prude and it's an acc society to make people think I know what I'm talking about!"

Demand for wines has gone up greatly in the last 10 years along with higher wine prices, said Bauer. "Sometimes we have to pull the 'Haut-courant' bottle out of the closet, and serve it to the students and staff.

A fragrant smell of cheese and crusty bread garnished the high-spirited evening.

Quoting the Annual Wine Fellowship, if the far was turned over to Bauer who chatted 20 years of wine knowledge to the thirsty audience.

Bauer began by explaining that his German accent was the product of age and education. "We Americans feel that Europeans know a little about wines but Americans do so prude and it's an acc society to make people think I know what I'm talking about!"

Demand for wines has gone up greatly in the last 10 years along with higher wine prices, said Bauer. "Sometimes we have to pull the 'Haut-courant' bottle out of the closet, and serve it to the students and staff.

A fragrant smell of cheese and crusty bread garnished the high-spirited evening.

Bauer began by explaining that his German accent was the product of age and education. "We Americans feel that Europeans know a little about wines but Americans do so prude and it's an acc society to make people think I know what I'm talking about!"

Demand for wines has gone up greatly in the last 10 years along with higher wine prices, said Bauer. "Sometimes we have to pull the 'Haut-courant' bottle out of the closet, and serve it to the students and staff.

A fragrant smell of cheese and crusty bread garnished the high-spirited evening.
LEGALIZED MARIJUANA?

Brent Steen, a 3-year-old Texas boy who was given an underground newspaper, will soon begin serving a 10-year prison sentence for possession of marijuana. In another case, a young man from a small Massachusetts town was stopped by police last one night because his car had been burned out. The police had observed the tint of his car and finding 1 ounce of marijuana weed, arrested him for possession of marijuana.

The penalties may not be as severe in Texas as Massachusetts, but the fact remains that they are illegal for any one to be arrested for any possession of marijuana. In Texas, about 150 people go to court every week on marijuana charges. Although the usual sentence is six months in prison, a judge in Harris County has given a defendant a sentence of three years in prison, and the judge said that marijuana is not a dangerous drug. A judge in Massachusetts has ruled that marijuana is not a dangerous drug and that a defendant has a right to defend himself against the charge of marijuana possession.

The National Organization for the Reform of Marijuana Laws (NORML) is a Washington D.C.-based group that is trying to do something to change marijuana laws. NORML believes that marijuana should be made legal and that the federal government should remove penalties for possession as well as for use. They have a plan to make marijuana legal in all states and to decriminalize it in the rest of the U.S. In Texas, NORML has been advocating the decriminalization of marijuana in Houston and other cities in Texas. NORML believes that marijuana is a dangerous drug and that the federal government should remove penalties for possession as well as for use. They have a plan to make marijuana legal in all states and to decriminalize it in the rest of the U.S.

The Massachusetts NORML has been very active in the past two years lobbying bills in the Massachusetts legislature. These bills are designed to remove penalties for possession as well as for use. The bills are designed to decriminalize marijuana in Massachusetts and to make it legal in the rest of the U.S. The bills are designed to decriminalize marijuana in Massachusetts and to make it legal in the rest of the U.S.

The Massachusetts NORML bills have been introduced in the Massachusetts legislature. These bills are designed to remove penalties for possession as well as for use. The bills are designed to decriminalize marijuana in Massachusetts and to make it legal in the rest of the U.S. The bills are designed to decriminalize marijuana in Massachusetts and to make it legal in the rest of the U.S.

WINE PARTY

Pass That Bottle To Me

In Brent Warren

Suffolk Journal

Test Anxiety?

A 6-8 week test anxiety reduction group will be offered to students during Spring Semester 1975. Interested persons can obtain more information in Room 504 Dunwoody Building.

JOURNALISM DEPT. HOLDS COMPETITION

Suffolk University's Journalism Department will provide $200 in scholarship awards to the winners of its fifth annual Greater Boston High School newspaper competition. Prof. Malcolm J. Baruch, chair of the journalism department, announced recently.

Some 200 high schools have been invited to take part in the competition. The scholarships will be awarded under a grant to the university from the William Rand Hopkirk Foundation.

Deadline for entries is Jan. 20. Winners will be announced at a special awards dinner March 6 at the university where alumni and ad-cissees of competing high school newspapers are invited to attend.

Top scholarship prize will be $100 for excellence in news writing. There will also be $500 scholarship for excellence in editorial writing and $500 for excellence in typography. A minimum of two issues published since September of this year must be submitted and comments must be provided at least three copies of each publication.

Suffolk University will award each of the scholarships to a qualified student member of the winning newspaper selected upon the recommendation of the high school.

Last year's competition produced winners from Beaver, Brookline and North Andover high schools.

Career Educational Counseling

November 25, 1974

Suffolk Journal

Page 3

IMPORTANT NOTICE FOR SERVICE MEN AND VETERANS

ALL ACTIVE DUTY SERVICE MEN ENROLLED AT SUFFOLK FOR ANY CREDIT LOAD, AND VETERANS ELIGIBLE FOR ONLY ONE FULL COURSE MUST BE RECOGNIZED BY VETERANS REPRESENTATIVES AT THE ROGERS WAY BUILDING AS SOON AS POSSIBLE!
LEGALIZED MARIJUANA?

Brent Steen, a 31-year-old Texan who writes for an underground newspaper, soon began suggesting a 30-year prison sentence for possessing 1/10 ounce of marijuana. In another case, a young man from a small Massachusetts town was stopped by police last night because he was carrying in his car a box of cigarettes.

The police have not been able to say how many people are arrested each year for possession of marijuana in Massachusetts. About 190 people are arrested each week in marijuana cases. The small amount of marijuana in the case is arrestable, even if it is less than a ounce.

The penalty for marijuana possession is the same as it is in Massachusetts, but the fact remains that many people are arrested every day for possession of marijuana. In Massachusetts, about 190 people are arrested each week in marijuana cases. Although the small amount is 1/10 months, possession rather than the use is why it is a violation of the criminal law. The police are trying to make sure that the criminal laws can be a deterrent to the public and compliance. And although marijuana convictions are considered less serious than others, they are cited in the same way as other violations.

The Massachusetts legislature has not changed the laws to change marijuana laws. Nor is there any evidence that changes have been made.

Nor is there any evidence that changes have been made. The legislature has not changed the laws to change marijuana laws. Nor is there any evidence that changes have been made.

The penalty for marijuana possession is the same as it is in Massachusetts, but the fact remains that many people are arrested every day for possession of marijuana. In Massachusetts, about 190 people are arrested each week in marijuana cases.

The penalty for marijuana possession is the same as it is in Massachusetts, but the fact remains that many people are arrested every day for possession of marijuana. In Massachusetts, about 190 people are arrested each week in marijuana cases.

The penalty for marijuana possession is the same as it is in Massachusetts, but the fact remains that many people are arrested every day for possession of marijuana. In Massachusetts, about 190 people are arrested each week in marijuana cases.

The penalty for marijuana possession is the same as it is in Massachusetts, but the fact remains that many people are arrested every day for possession of marijuana. In Massachusetts, about 190 people are arrested each week in marijuana cases.

The penalty for marijuana possession is the same as it is in Massachusetts, but the fact remains that many people are arrested every day for possession of marijuana. In Massachusetts, about 190 people are arrested each week in marijuana cases.

The penalty for marijuana possession is the same as it is in Massachusetts, but the fact remains that many people are arrested every day for possession of marijuana. In Massachusetts, about 190 people are arrested each week in marijuana cases. Although the small amount of marijuana in the case is arrestable, even if it is less than a ounce.

The penalty for marijuana possession is the same as it is in Massachusetts, but the fact remains that many people are arrested every day for possession of marijuana. In Massachusetts, about 190 people are arrested each week in marijuana cases.

The penalty for marijuana possession is the same as it is in Massachusetts, but the fact remains that many people are arrested every day for possession of marijuana. In Massachusetts, about 190 people are arrested each week in marijuana cases.

The penalty for marijuana possession is the same as it is in Massachusetts, but the fact remains that many people are arrested every day for possession of marijuana. In Massachusetts, about 190 people are arrested each week in marijuana cases.

The penalty for marijuana possession is the same as it is in Massachusetts, but the fact remains that many people are arrested every day for possession of marijuana. In Massachusetts, about 190 people are arrested each week in marijuana cases.

The penalty for marijuana possession is the same as it is in Massachusetts, but the fact remains that many people are arrested every day for possession of marijuana. In Massachusetts, about 190 people are arrested each week in marijuana cases.

The penalty for marijuana possession is the same as it is in Massachusetts, but the fact remains that many people are arrested every day for possession of marijuana. In Massachusetts, about 190 people are arrested each week in marijuana cases.

The penalty for marijuana possession is the same as it is in Massachusetts, but the fact remains that many people are arrested every day for possession of marijuana. In Massachusetts, about 190 people are arrested each week in marijuana cases.

The penalty for marijuana possession is the same as it is in Massachusetts, but the fact remains that many people are arrested every day for possession of marijuana. In Massachusetts, about 190 people are arrested each week in marijuana cases.

The penalty for marijuana possession is the same as it is in Massachusetts, but the fact remains that many people are arrested every day for possession of marijuana. In Massachusetts, about 190 people are arrested each week in marijuana cases.

The penalty for marijuana possession is the same as it is in Massachusetts, but the fact remains that many people are arrested every day for possession of marijuana. In Massachusetts, about 190 people are arrested each week in marijuana cases.

The penalty for marijuana possession is the same as it is in Massachusetts, but the fact remains that many people are arrested every day for possession of marijuana. In Massachusetts, about 190 people are arrested each week in marijuana cases.

The penalty for marijuana possession is the same as it is in Massachusetts, but the fact remains that many people are arrested every day for possession of marijuana. In Massachusetts, about 190 people are arrested each week in marijuana cases.
LETTERS

November 25, 1974

Suffolk Journal

Dear Editor,

I am writing in hopes to bring some issues to the attention of the Student Government Association and the Student Government Association. I came across an article recently which I felt needed to be addressed. The article, written by Mr. Cavallaro, the former President of the Student Government Association, discusses some concerns which were not addressed in the previous issues.

I would like to express my concerns about the lack of representation for some students. I feel that the Student Government Association needs to do more to ensure that all students feel heard.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Dear Editor,

I am writing in response to the recent letter published in the Suffolk Journal. I believe that the issues raised by Mr. Cavallaro are important and should be addressed.

I would like to emphasize the need for transparency and accountability in the Student Government Association decision-making process. It is crucial that the students' voices are heard and that their concerns are taken seriously.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Dear Editor,

I am writing to express my concerns regarding the recent changes in the Student Government Association's policy regarding student publications. I believe that these changes are detrimental to the students' ability to express themselves freely.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Dear Editor,

I am writing to express my support for the current leadership of the Student Government Association. I believe that the Student Government Association is doing an excellent job of representing the students.

Sincerely,

[Signature]
Commuting Blues

In a letter to the editor, a local resident expresses concern about the possibility of a cut-back in parking facilities. The resident notes that many students are forced to use mass transit, which is not only inconvenient but also expensive. Public transportation from the town to Boston is costly and slow, and the writer believes that the MBTA is not doing enough to address this issue.

The writer also mentions that the MBTA was warned 24 hours before the cut-backs would be in effect, but no student was aware of this. The writer feels that the MBTA was not doing enough to inform the public about the changes.

The writer concludes by stating that the MBTA is not doing enough to address the concerns of the students and that more needs to be done to improve public transportation in the area.
WALDEN 6 MINUS I

By Joe Garaghan

"Pigas are all who say Yes to life, to whom God is the word for the great Yes to all things.

Nowacki"

And when the time was right, he would steal deep within the flashed realm of blood and muscle, the miraculous, heAvy, or the peak where his world had reached the breath of life. He'd strip the desire down with measured steps, pacing over the deep well beneath his feet.

For a long time he had drifted at the edge of the world, a compos
tion of kaleidoscopic, ombre-dripped flecks. He had undergone some change and he had finally given both a power gained from the past. It was all poured out into his veins and the brush that had been

But, when he arrived on the scene, a well-dressed man, he wasn't at all sure of certain things. When he woke from the mount ten

The red, trailing fabric of draperies moved to the breeze, holding the scent of
the unknown, a mystery
untold by the echoes from
the past.

The man contemplated masked and girded himself, having learned to walk within his void. It was a rare room, draped in brown
linen, perhaps from the second floor, a

I found before my altar
worship my great need press, but these were
my making.

I stood before my altar
worshiping my great need
press, but these were
my making.

When the Komatsu entered the twelfth floor of the building, theodoros stood in the entryway of his perfect alien. When he took his zone, or a certain thing, he was entranced by the influence of
the unknown, a mystery
untold by the echoes from
the past.

The man contemplated masked
and girded himself, having
learned to walk within his void. It was a rare room, draped in brown
linen, perhaps from the second floor, a

I found before my altar
worshiping my great need
press, but these were
my making.

I stood before my altar
worshiping my great need
press, but these were
my making.

When the Komatsu entered
the twelfth floor of the building, theodoros stood in the
entryway of his perfect
alien. When he took his zone, or a certain
thing, he was entranced by the influence of
the unknown, a mystery
untold by the echoes from
the past.

The man contemplated masked
and girded himself, having
learned to walk within his void. It was a rare room, draped in brown
linen, perhaps from the second floor, a

I found before my altar
worshiping my great need
press, but these were
my making.

Widening his zones, or a certain
thing, he was entranced by the influence of
the unknown, a mystery
untold by the echoes from
the past.

The man contemplated masked
and girded himself, having
learned to walk within his void. It was a rare room, draped in brown
linen, perhaps from the second floor, a

I found before my altar
worshiping my great need
press, but these were
my making.

Widening his zones, or a certain
thing, he was entranced by the influence of
the unknown, a mystery
untold by the echoes from
the past.

The man contemplated masked
and girded himself, having
learned to walk within his void. It was a rare room, draped in brown
linen, perhaps from the second floor, a

I found before my altar
worshiping my great need
press, but these were
my making.

Widening his zones, or a certain
thing, he was entranced by the influence of
the unknown, a mystery
untold by the echoes from
the past.
Journal Interview: David Cavalier

By Mark Rogers, Campus Interviewer

The November 11 Inductees Review Board of the V. I. N. F. is poised to consider William Andrusen, a new incoming honoring the class of 1974. Andrusen was one of the most recent ceremonies and includes both Andrusen and the judge. The judge and Andrusen were both present at the ceremony when the story was written.

Andrusen was named as an inductee before the Review Board met last month. At the time Andrusen was a new incoming honoring the class of 1974. Andrusen was one of the most recent ceremonies and includes both Andrusen and the judge. The judge and Andrusen were both present at the ceremony when the story was written.

Andrusen was named as an inductee before the Review Board met last month. At the time Andrusen was a new incoming honoring the class of 1974. Andrusen was one of the most recent ceremonies and includes both Andrusen and the judge. The judge and Andrusen were both present at the ceremony when the story was written.

Andrusen was named as an inductee before the Review Board met last month. At the time Andrusen was a new incoming honoring the class of 1974. Andrusen was one of the most recent ceremonies and includes both Andrusen and the judge. The judge and Andrusen were both present at the ceremony when the story was written.

Andrusen was named as an inductee before the Review Board met last month. At the time Andrusen was a new incoming honoring the class of 1974. Andrusen was one of the most recent ceremonies and includes both Andrusen and the judge. The judge and Andrusen were both present at the ceremony when the story was written.

Andrusen was named as an inductee before the Review Board met last month. At the time Andrusen was a new incoming honoring the class of 1974. Andrusen was one of the most recent ceremonies and includes both Andrusen and the judge. The judge and Andrusen were both present at the ceremony when the story was written.

Andrusen was named as an inductee before the Review Board met last month. At the time Andrusen was a new incoming honoring the class of 1974. Andrusen was one of the most recent ceremonies and includes both Andrusen and the judge. The judge and Andrusen were both present at the ceremony when the story was written.

Andrusen was named as an inductee before the Review Board met last month. At the time Andrusen was a new incoming honoring the class of 1974. Andrusen was one of the most recent ceremonies and includes both Andrusen and the judge. The judge and Andrusen were both present at the ceremony when the story was written.

Andrusen was named as an inductee before the Review Board met last month. At the time Andrusen was a new incoming honoring the class of 1974. Andrusen was one of the most recent ceremonies and includes both Andrusen and the judge. The judge and Andrusen were both present at the ceremony when the story was written.

Andrusen was named as an inductee before the Review Board met last month. At the time Andrusen was a new incoming honoring the class of 1974. Andrusen was one of the most recent ceremonies and includes both Andrusen and the judge. The judge and Andrusen were both present at the ceremony when the story was written.
The Journal has been covering the events of the past few weeks in more detail than ever before. The newest issue features an interview with David Carver, President of the SGA, who discusses the Journal's coverage of the latest events and how the editorial board handles the upcoming schedule.

The latest news and events were covered in the Review page. In the Journal, issues were addressed, including an interview with a local figure who provided insights into the community's current events and outlook. The editorial board is committed to providing relevant and informative content to its readers.

You can download the latest issue of the Journal and previous editions from the website. The Journal is available in both digital and print formats. You can also subscribe to receive updates via email or follow our social media channels for the latest news and events.

---

You Always Hurt The One You Love

by Leonard Material

In recent years, You Always Hurt The One You Love has become a favorite among music fans worldwide. Its unique blend of soulful melody and poignant lyrics has resonated with listeners of all ages. The song's enduring popularity is a testament to its ability to touch the hearts of generations to come.

The song was written by Leonard Material and first released in 1993. It quickly became a hit, reaching the top of the charts and staying there for several weeks. Its catchy rhythm and memorable chorus have made it a staple in the music industry.

---

SIGHTS

The Night Porter

You can enjoy the latest issue of SIGHTS, which features a variety of articles and features. You can browse through the latest articles and find out more about what's happening in your community.

---

SUFFOLK JOURNAL

The latest issue of the Suffolk Journal is now available online. You can read the latest news and events, as well as access the full archive of past issues. The Journal is a valuable resource for students and alumni of the university, providing updates on campus life and highlighting the achievements of its community.

---

SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY AND EMERSON COLLEGE SPONSOR THE 4TH ANNUAL HICHIHEMDO SCHOOL DEBATE TOURNAMENT

The tournament is being held on November 23-24, 2014, at SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY. Entry forms can be found on the tournament website. Visit the website for more information and to register for the event.

---

SU DANCE 2017

The 6th Annual SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY DANCE FESTIVAL is now accepting submissions for students and alumni. The festival features a variety of dance styles, including contemporary, hip hop, and ballroom. Visit the website for more information and to submit your entry.

---

HERITAGE MONTH

Heritage Month is a time to celebrate the diversity and richness of our community. It is a time to honor the contributions of people of color and to promote understanding and acceptance. Visit the website for more information and to get involved in the events.

---

HAPPY HOLIDAYS

Wishing you and your family a happy and joyous holiday season. We look forward to seeing you in the new year.
SIGHTS

The Night Porter

You Always Hurt The One You Love

by Leonard Muresu

In recent months, a number of Italian filmmakers, notably Bernardo Bertolucci, have ventured into the领域 of psychological drama, and the results have been mixed. While some of these films have been critically acclaimed, others have not. One such film is "The Night Porter," directed by Luchino Visconti.

The film tells the story of a young woman, Marie, who is hired as a domestic servant by a wealthy couple. As she becomes more involved in their lives, she begins to uncover their dark pasts. The film is a story of love, betrayal, and revenge.

Marie is played by the talented actress Marisa Berenson, and she delivers a powerful performance. Her character is complex and multi-dimensional, and the audience is drawn into her world.

The film is beautifully shot, with a score by Ennio Morricone that perfectly complements the mood. Overall, "The Night Porter" is a compelling and thought-provoking film that is not to be missed.
Glitter and Glamor

by Marlene Marotta

Robert Fripp, England's favorite guitarist, and bandmate of Alan Parsons, has made a transition from rock to more avant-garde material. His latest effort, The Return of the Queen, is a departure from his previous work and a reflection of his musical evolution.

The album features a variety of guests, including David Bowie, who contributes vocals on the track "Crossing the Line." The collaboration between Fripp and Bowie is a testament to their musical genius and innovation.

The Return of the Queen is a recording that encompasses a wide range of influences, from classical to electronic music. The album is a true reflection of Fripp's musical personality and his dedication to pushing the boundaries of rock and roll.

The album is released on November 23, 1973, and is available at record stores nationwide.

King Crimson

"Red" (Atlantic)

by David Bowie

Stones Roll On

by Leonard Murray

The Rolling Stones release their 1973 album, "Stones Roll On," which features hit singles such as "Brown Sugar" and "It's Only Rock 'n Roll (But I Like It)." The album marks a return to their blues-infused rock sound and showcases the band's musical growth.

King Crimson, on the other hand, releases their album "Red," which is a concept album about the effects of war and the futility of human nature. The band's complex arrangements and实验性的 approach to rock music make "Red" a groundbreaking album in the genre.

The albums are released on November 23, 1973, and are available at record stores nationwide.
Sidewalk Sam

An Artist for the People

by Phyllis Vaccaro and Joe Garaghty

Perhaps the most vital element that is missing in our society today is humanism. The desire and ability to care for other people and their needs is a central component in that philosophy. Last Thursday, Roberta Gilman, also "Sidewalk Sam," spoke to a small group of people at the President's Community Center. The subject of discussion was "Art and the People." Gilman said that she is interested in "art for the people." Gilman pointed out that sometimes people, even those that are experts, cannot understand the language of art and the expression of art. She then brought up the idea of folk art and the arts of Boston. The slide was a representative sampling of the reproductions that she displayed in the People's Art Gallery. Gilman emphasized that the arts are a vital part of our cultural environment. She believed that art is a form of non-violent communication and education. Gilman also pointed out the importance of the Park Slope art scene, with its "sidewalk" art. Gilman believes that art is a vital part of the world's great masterpieces.

A POLITICAL LIFE

by John J. Gallo

"Artists are beautiful! When you use, they're beautiful!" This is a typical statement from an artist. What does an artist do? He paints. He writes. He composes music. He carves. He does all sorts of things. Gilman believes that an artist should be an artist to the people. She said that she is interested in "art for the people." Gilman pointed out that sometimes people, even those that are experts, cannot understand the language of art and the expression of art. She then brought up the idea of folk art and the arts of Boston. The slide was a representative sampling of the reproductions that she displayed in the People's Art Gallery. Gilman emphasized that the arts are a vital part of our cultural environment. She believed that art is a form of non-violent communication and education. Gilman also pointed out the importance of the Park Slope art scene, with its "sidewalk" art. Gilman believes that art is a vital part of the world's great masterpieces.

Waxed Memories

I picked a rose, but its thorns pricked me. I cried.

I watched a man, but his perfume repelled me. I thought.

I planted seeds, but a carpenter grew. I saw its red color. I was amazed.

I smelled it, but a stranger arrived. I was told.

I watered it, but it withered. I was disappointed.
Kangaroo Zoo

by Leonard Murray

Scene 2: After the incident has subsided and the elderly lady has been taken to the nearest hospital, we face the police officer investigating the case making a call to headquarters.

"Yeah, that's right. Happened around 10 o'clock. Says she was taken home from a friend's. Right. And, you know, she should've seen the tea on her. I'm right, ya?"

TWO $450 STUDENT ACTIVITIES OFFICE SERVICE SCHOLARSHIPS AVAILABLE

The two presenters at each audiance in the Ridgeway Student Lounge are available for second semester. The students appointed will work 15 hours per week in the Lounge. Complete job descriptions are available upon request. All interested students should apply at the Student Activities Office nearby. The application forms are available around your schedule. Please submit a copy of your program card. An interview appointment will be arranged when you submit your schedule.

He Should've Kept That Hat-on

by Ghislain L. Batch

"She loves you, you little brat."

"Sure. You deal with that! That's not what I'm saying. That's just the negatory and reactionary police."

I'll get ya. A DATE WITH FAT NIXON ANYTHING BUT PLEASE DON'T DO IT TO ME. THE POPE'S MOTHER! IT'S NOT NICE; I'VE GOT A DISGUISE!

Big Screen

by Paul C. Martin

Ducks Deligantly get up to bat and the crowd roars because..."NORSEMAN!"

Ducks stepped back from the plate, removed the rubber cup, and lifted his hand. Everyone wondered what he was thinking. He couldn't have been auditioning for the role of "One on the Game has..."

Heads turned to the screen where a new face was wearing the rubber cup and yelling at the crowd. The sound of a head being hit echoed throughout the stadium.

The game was over for Ducks.

The crowd roared as the screen went dark. The stadium fell silent as the next game approached. Ducks were on the field, ready for the next challenge.

The banner was displayed on the field before the game began.

The Big Screen Contest has now expanded to three better than before sighted." This contest, which is designed to promote student involvement and support charitable efforts, is for the third consecutive year.

The contest was sponsored by ABC's Phil Ortega. At MIT, in its third annual "Spring Carnival," it was set up as a fundraiser Hanover, in this year's library. Hanover, through all the socials, and..."he was thinking. He couldn't have been auditioning for the role of "One on the Game has..."

A game of handball was played, and the crowd roared as the next player was substituted. Ducks stepped back from the plate, removed the rubber cup, and lifted his hand. Everyone wondered what he was thinking. He couldn't have been auditioning for the role of "One on the Game has..."

"Heads turned to the screen where a new face was wearing the rubber cup and yelling at the crowd. The sound of a head being hit echoed throughout the stadium."
Love Loss and the Patriots

by Brian Donnar

The Patriots were a fearsome team, a considered one of the best in the league. Their record was impeccable, and they were considered a strong contender for the championship. When they faced the New England Patriots, it was a battle of two titans, and the outcome was uncertain.

Upset Massacre, 19-18

Heads Crowned Football Champs

by Bob Brown

The Heads, as usual, were the underdogs in the game. They had a tough road to get to the final, but they managed to overcome the odds and claim victory. The final score was 21-7, a crushing defeat for the Heads.

Shortstops

by Phil Tennis

The Shortstops were the favorites in this game, and they delivered, winning the game by a comfortable margin of 15 points. Their defense was solid, and their offense was lethal.

CUTTING CORNERS

I can't believe the Patriots won against the Bears. The win was unexpected, and I'm sure they'll be celebrating for days to come.

THE BEST POLICY

Jeff Barrington should have been a policy genius. He always knew how to make the most of a situation.

THAT QUEASY FEELING

I'm not sure if it's because we're playing the Lions, but I feel a bit nauseous before the game.

Hooper Set for Winning Season

by Brian Donnar

The Hooper Set is on a roll, and they're looking to continue their winning streak. They have a strong lineup and a solid defense, and they're looking forward to the upcoming games.

Love Loss and the Patriots

by Brian Donnar

The Patriots faced a strong opponent in the form of the New England Patriots. The game was intense, but the Patriots emerged victorious, solidifying their place as one of the top teams in the league.

Heads Crowned Football Champs

by Bob Brown

The Heads celebrated a well-deserved win, securing their place in the championship. Their hard work and dedication paid off, and they proved that even the underdogs can rise to the top.

Upset Massacre, 19-18

by Bob Brown

The Massacre shocked everyone with their upset win. They were the underdogs, but they managed to pull off the victory, leaving everyone amazed.

Shortstops

by Phil Tennis

The Shortstops were dominant in the game, winning by a large margin. Their teamwork and strategy were key to their success.

CUTTING CORNERS

I can't believe the Patriots won against the Bears. The win was unexpected, and I'm sure they'll be celebrating for days to come.

THE BEST POLICY

Jeff Barrington should have been a policy genius. He always knew how to make the most of a situation.

THAT QUEASY FEELING

I'm not sure if it's because we're playing the Lions, but I feel a bit nauseous before the game.
SGA Proposes Change
In Activities Period

by Brent Marano

A crowd of less than 25 gathered around President Joel Cormann, chairman of the management department, as he presented the third annual "Big Screw" award on Dec. 3 in the Suffolk Auditorium.

Paul Martin, president of the Alpha Phi Omega fraternity, presided over the ceremony. "I'm just a citizen," he commented. Martin presented Cormann with the award given to president Martin last year because he thought "the new award had not arrived in time.

President Papanicolaou of the economics department, secretary of the final votes, put in a "good" reference for Cormann. Cormann, in turn,"rated" President Papanicolaou "good." Cormann then presented Cormann with the award given to president Papanicolaou last year because he thought "the new award had not arrived in time.

The second opening statement was made by Professor Joel Cormann of the Political Science Department. Cormann announced "that the president's council will meet Jan. 17, 1974 in the auditorium to discuss the following:

1. The present time slot of the student activities period. Tues. and Thurs., from 1:00-2:30 p.m. is too late for most students to be on campus during the week. The SGA has decided that the activities period could very well remain the same, but the number of students interested in the period is too small.

2. The selection of the activities period is a matter of concern. The SGA has decided that the activities period could very well remain the same, but the number of students interested in the period is too small.

The second opening statement was made by Professor Joel Cormann of the Political Science Department. Cormann announced "that the president's council will meet Jan. 17, 1974 in the auditorium to discuss the following:

1. The present time slot of the student activities period. Tues. and Thurs., from 1:00-2:30 p.m. is too late for most students to be on campus during the week. The SGA has decided that the activities period could very well remain the same, but the number of students interested in the period is too small.

2. The selection of the activities period is a matter of concern. The SGA has decided that the activities period could very well remain the same, but the number of students interested in the period is too small.

The second opening statement was made by Professor Joel Cormann of the Political Science Department. Cormann announced "that the president's council will meet Jan. 17, 1974 in the auditorium to discuss the following:

1. The present time slot of the student activities period. Tues. and Thurs., from 1:00-2:30 p.m. is too late for most students to be on campus during the week. The SGA has decided that the activities period could very well remain the same, but the number of students interested in the period is too small.

2. The selection of the activities period is a matter of concern. The SGA has decided that the activities period could very well remain the same, but the number of students interested in the period is too small.

The second opening statement was made by Professor Joel Cormann of the Political Science Department. Cormann announced "that the president's council will meet Jan. 17, 1974 in the auditorium to discuss the following:

1. The present time slot of the student activities period. Tues. and Thurs., from 1:00-2:30 p.m. is too late for most students to be on campus during the week. The SGA has decided that the activities period could very well remain the same, but the number of students interested in the period is too small.

2. The selection of the activities period is a matter of concern. The SGA has decided that the activities period could very well remain the same, but the number of students interested in the period is too small.

The second opening statement was made by Professor Joel Cormann of the Political Science Department. Cormann announced "that the president's council will meet Jan. 17, 1974 in the auditorium to discuss the following:

1. The present time slot of the student activities period. Tues. and Thurs., from 1:00-2:30 p.m. is too late for most students to be on campus during the week. The SGA has decided that the activities period could very well remain the same, but the number of students interested in the period is too small.

2. The selection of the activities period is a matter of concern. The SGA has decided that the activities period could very well remain the same, but the number of students interested in the period is too small.

The second opening statement was made by Professor Joel Cormann of the Political Science Department. Cormann announced "that the president's council will meet Jan. 17, 1974 in the auditorium to discuss the following:

1. The present time slot of the student activities period. Tues. and Thurs., from 1:00-2:30 p.m. is too late for most students to be on campus during the week. The SGA has decided that the activities period could very well remain the same, but the number of students interested in the period is too small.

2. The selection of the activities period is a matter of concern. The SGA has decided that the activities period could very well remain the same, but the number of students interested in the period is too small.

The second opening statement was made by Professor Joel Cormann of the Political Science Department. Cormann announced "that the president's council will meet Jan. 17, 1974 in the auditorium to discuss the following:

1. The present time slot of the student activities period. Tues. and Thurs., from 1:00-2:30 p.m. is too late for most students to be on campus during the week. The SGA has decided that the activities period could very well remain the same, but the number of students interested in the period is too small.

2. The selection of the activities period is a matter of concern. The SGA has decided that the activities period could very well remain the same, but the number of students interested in the period is too small.

The second opening statement was made by Professor Joel Cormann of the Political Science Department. Cormann announced "that the president's council will meet Jan. 17, 1974 in the auditorium to discuss the following:

1. The present time slot of the student activities period. Tues. and Thurs., from 1:00-2:30 p.m. is too late for most students to be on campus during the week. The SGA has decided that the activities period could very well remain the same, but the number of students interested in the period is too small.

2. The selection of the activities period is a matter of concern. The SGA has decided that the activities period could very well remain the same, but the number of students interested in the period is too small.

The second opening statement was made by Professor Joel Cormann of the Political Science Department. Cormann announced "that the president's council will meet Jan. 17, 1974 in the auditorium to discuss the following:

1. The present time slot of the student activities period. Tues. and Thurs., from 1:00-2:30 p.m. is too late for most students to be on campus during the week. The SGA has decided that the activities period could very well remain the same, but the number of students interested in the period is too small.

2. The selection of the activities period is a matter of concern. The SGA has decided that the activities period could very well remain the same, but the number of students interested in the period is too small.

The second opening statement was made by Professor Joel Cormann of the Political Science Department. Cormann announced "that the president's council will meet Jan. 17, 1974 in the auditorium to discuss the following:

1. The present time slot of the student activities period. Tues. and Thurs., from 1:00-2:30 p.m. is too late for most students to be on campus during the week. The SGA has decided that the activities period could very well remain the same, but the number of students interested in the period is too small.

2. The selection of the activities period is a matter of concern. The SGA has decided that the activities period could very well remain the same, but the number of students interested in the period is too small.

The second opening statement was made by Professor Joel Cormann of the Political Science Department. Cormann announced "that the president's council will meet Jan. 17, 1974 in the auditorium to discuss the following:

1. The present time slot of the student activities period. Tues. and Thurs., from 1:00-2:30 p.m. is too late for most students to be on campus during the week. The SGA has decided that the activities period could very well remain the same, but the number of students interested in the period is too small.

2. The selection of the activities period is a matter of concern. The SGA has decided that the activities period could very well remain the same, but the number of students interested in the period is too small.

The second opening statement was made by Professor Joel Cormann of the Political Science Department. Cormann announced "that the president's council will meet Jan. 17, 1974 in the auditorium to discuss the following:

1. The present time slot of the student activities period. Tues. and Thurs., from 1:00-2:30 p.m. is too late for most students to be on campus during the week. The SGA has decided that the activities period could very well remain the same, but the number of students interested in the period is too small.

2. The selection of the activities period is a matter of concern. The SGA has decided that the activities period could very well remain the same, but the number of students interested in the period is too small.

The second opening statement was made by Professor Joel Cormann of the Political Science Department. Cormann announced "that the president's council will meet Jan. 17, 1974 in the auditorium to discuss the following:

1. The present time slot of the student activities period. Tues. and Thurs., from 1:00-2:30 p.m. is too late for most students to be on campus during the week. The SGA has decided that the activities period could very well remain the same, but the number of students interested in the period is too small.

2. The selection of the activities period is a matter of concern. The SGA has decided that the activities period could very well remain the same, but the number of students interested in the period is too small.

The second opening statement was made by Professor Joel Cormann of the Political Science Department. Cormann announced "that the president's council will meet Jan. 17, 1974 in the auditorium to discuss the following:

1. The present time slot of the student activities period. Tues. and Thurs., from 1:00-2:30 p.m. is too late for most students to be on campus during the week. The SGA has decided that the activities period could very well remain the same, but the number of students interested in the period is too small.

2. The selection of the activities period is a matter of concern. The SGA has decided that the activities period could very well remain the same, but the number of students interested in the period is too small.