Tea Are At Rock And Roll Show

By Elyzine Haynes

Did you get to the Rock and Roll show at Boston Garden on April 13? Well, it was the coolest and the most fun. There was only one great disappointment for quite a few people, and I was one of them, and that was the absence of Fats Domino. But the rest of the event made up for it and helped make the Best Show of Stars for 1957.

Chuck Berry walked a tall singing his hits "Maybelline" "Roll Over Beethoven" and "School Days". The Schoolboys and then Eddie Condon and the Ol' Masters, then each of their own follow by the Five Satins singing "Tell Me Baby" and "The Shirelles" and "Shame". It was really quite a show which thrilled all of the younger generation, the large group of adults who were all enjoying their like-mindedness.

Tibbs. Butler Vie For Lightweight Title Tuesday

Fresh from a recent successful appearance on the West Coast, Dolphin Butler, 22, will be returning to Boston to defend his new lightweight title on Tuesday, April 17, at Faneuil Hall. Another local favorite for the New England Lightweight championship is Mechanics Building.

The Big Reckoning

Butler has been on the rise and now has the chance to defend his new title. He has been the favorite of his fans and supporters and is confident in his chances.

Newport Roster Of Stars Growing

The impressive roster of jazz stars appearing at the Newport Jazz Festival in Newport, R.I., during the July 4th holiday is growing rapidly. Dizzy Gillespie and his band, Dave Brubeck, Artie Shaw, Bud Powell, and the Oscar Peterson Trio, Jo Jones, Turk Murphy, Gene Krupa, and Eckstine will join Louis Armstrong's All-Stars. Chris Brown and his band and Sarah Vaughan, whose first Newport appearance were announced a few days ago, will be on the schedule.

A host of international jazz performers will also be featured. Artists, such as Toshiro Akimoto (Japan), Rudi Buhmann, Matt Matthews (Scotland), and Bernard Peiffer (France), will add international color to the festival. Each of the seven concerts will be added in a single album.

All musical performances at the three-day fete will be recorded on Norman Gross' "Verve" label, to be issued as a three-volume set: "Newport Jazz Festival" package in September.

The Jewish Labor Committee, which represents 100 Jewish workers in the AFL-CIO, has authorized its Administrative Committee to forward a message to President Eisenhower calling upon the nation's chief executive to "give moral leadership" in combating "the growing threat of the hamper and destroy the operation of the National Labor Relations Act" to "support and practice integration."

The message read: "Within the past year we have the White Citizens' Councils but by the elected officials and legislators of a number of Southern states."

These attacks under the guise of legislative and administrative action are capable of striking fatal blow at some of our most cherished rights. The right of freedom of speech and assembly, the right to petition and the right to organize. These constitutions are basic to the structure of a democratic society. They cannot be abrogated without destroying the democratic society. Where states pass laws prohibiting the advocacy of integrating, they are violating the constitution and thereby defeating the freedom of speech.

"State passes laws preventing the NAACP from holding meetings, they are abridging the right of people peacefully to assemble."

"The Jewish Labor Committee pointed out that the Eisenhower message that every conceivable lawful maneuver was being utilized to promote the destruction of the NAACP which was precise for the Supreme Court decision on desegregation. The city in argument were the devices used by southern officials to secure the passage of the NAACP such as the impost of subterfuges, and the elaboration of legalities."

"The Jewish Labor Committee expressed concern not only for the NAACP but for all associations of individuals and groups concerned with preserving equality before the law and freedom of association.

"We are all threatened if we remain silent. Where the rights of all groups are assailed, the rights of all are assailed in toto, where freedom of association is denied, freedom of the individual is limited."

"The message quoted President Eisenhower's January 28 message to Congress in which he said that the NAACP had been "able to maintain the interest of the American people and in legislative efforts to compel the NAACP to make a public conference with some of the loyal groups to show how they had often prevented by similar legislation."

BAD BUSINESS
Dan came rushing in to get his suit case and to pick up Aunt Mary's package of money. "I must not miss that train home today," he said, just as Pup lifted a green hill with a big 50 on it, and dropped it gently into the flames. Shocked and with a look of horror, he yelled, "Stop! man, can you be crazy?" and reached out to stop him. "Stand back," Pup anarled, threateningly and gave him a shove so strong that it started the younger man. Then he coolly reached up and took an old hunting knife down, holding it in one hand as he reached for another 50 dollar bill." He is crazy," Dan began begging him to excuse him. "I remember now that Jane told me that he gets really off at certain times. Listen...

HAPPY EASTER!

After a week of much agony, sorrow, and travail, suffered by the children and the nation by our Lord’s sacrifice and praying for a mighty God, Easter, Savior, and Holy Ghost. Even those who no longer believe in the literal truth of the Gospels do not deny its symbolic truth, that man can triumph over even death and the Lord’s help.

Easter ought to be a day of spiritual examination by all who call themselves Christians, a day when they assess their lives to date in an endeavor to find out how far short they may have fallen from the Christian ideal, especially as enunciated in the Sermon on the Mount. The earth and the fullness thereof will never witness the realization of the Christian ideal of Love, Goodness, Justice, and Mercy, until and unless the self-examination of professing Christians makes each of them determine to attain the perfection of the Savior. For some of us, of course, this kind of self-examination is to be postponed as long as possible, because we are so absorbed in all the interests of this world. Between Word and Deed that we fear to subject our actions to rigorous scrutiny. We prefer to lurk behind the excuse that, however imperfect we may be, we are still superior to others... To our own observation, the world may be a trifle better than it was, by accounts, when we were born into it, but we shall not exert ourselves... We are seeking for our having been in it. On the contrary, we shall leave the task to various surrogates like clergymen and teachers, and enjoy the pleasures while we can without thought of the salvation of our souls.

Despite the joy of Easter, there is always somebody whose heart is heavy-laden through bereavement at this season or by the memory of loved ones no longer present at the festivities. Many try to take heart in our consolations. Let them be reminded of the wise truth uttered by the late Dean William Ralph Inge of St. Paul’s Cathedral, London, in his volume, Personal Religion and the, furthest and deepest of all consolations is the friendship of grief, more clearly than the hypocrite intercourse of friends, to the eternal world; it has proved stronger than death.

After all, God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son to it, and the world can become worthy of that gift only when Peace reigns supreme in the hearts of men, and Hunger, Misery, Pestilence, and Death are banished from it. That refers to the church, women, and children now living to greet Easter 1957.

Samuel P. Perry, Jr.

The Executive Board of the United Nations Children’s Fund (UNICEF) indicated that its recent report of the United States for the 1956-57 fiscal year shows an official report the extent of UN aid to the United States. The turnover aid includes child welfare and tuberculosis control, and nutrition programs in Barbados, Jamaica, St. Kitts, St. Lucia, St. Vincent, and Trinidad.

With respect to the anti- tuberculosis campaign in Barbados in 1956 some 10,000 cases were detected and 20,000 tests administered.

However, in the field of maternal and child health, it is noted by the UNICEF Executive Board the implementation of the United States tuberculosis control program has been reduced. The program, a reorganization of health services, has been developed and the reduction in the number of patients suffering from tuberculosis is almost entirely due to the improvement of living standards and the improvement of conditions in the home. The United States has contributed to the improvement of the health services and pending the arrival of the newly appointed director of medical services.

In this connection, all supplies for the public health laboratories have now arrived, and tap, World Health Organization supplies will be sent to the United States at the beginning of the fiscal year. Equipment for two districts, two rural health centers, two rural hospitals, health centers, the School of Public Health, and the branch laboratory in the Center for Medical Research, have been procured. The District Office is in full operation by mid-1957.

Notice is for the training program and all services are under review.

In Jamaica the nutrition program of UNICEF was begun in February, 1956. The camp is being served in schools at the mid-year. In this Department General “One or two children in each classroom mix with the milk (part of the milk is ready mixed, which you have an investment in the services, and what you receive from Social Security..."

Stevenson Bows To Sugar Hart

Roxbury's Wesley "Pineapple" Stevenson, who weighed in 181 pounds as "Sugar" Hart in television's "Buck Rogers," was defended by Maine's "Sugar" Hart in a New York's St. Nicholas Arena last week and surprised everyone of us with what he accomplished. The defending champ was knocked down by the defending champ...the Philadelphia poster was a seventh-round TKO victim.

Hart proceeded as if this was his golden chance to knock down the man he had him by the other Roxbury fighters, Willy Byars, a few weeks ago. Stevenson entered the ring in the first round and showed the other newcomer no mercy. He pulled out a few punches and dropped him at the close of the sixth stanza.

With the win, he bowed out, his head up, and fell for the count of nine mid-way through the seventh. Then Hart began battering for the kill when the referee wisely brought the fight to a halt.

Women In Bowling

by Baby Reid

In spite of the fact that many of the bowlers did not have the usual invited guests of the I. C. B. L. on hand this week, the bowlers seemed to have their hearts with their own league. This is only proven by the fact that the girls bowled in four more rounds than in one. The break for "Hay-Huntington" 35" allows before leaving the field. The word "tucker" for the banquet.

The girls got it again by taking three points from the league leading Arrows. It seems whenever the girls are in a lead position, they put their best bowling forward to chip as many points as possible. It is incidents such as this that keep the girls' league alive, as to which team will eventually come out on top.

The girls having taken four points from the Jets have once again turned the tables, as was stated above, the Arrows, since no points from the Jets have. They have moved down into second place.

The Pinagers and the Owls are standing on firm soil and into in the rear is the Rolling Stones. Each of these teams took four points this week. The result are tied for third-fourth place.

The Slaves and Speedsters are much in the same situation, although, as much as they each took 4 and 2 points, respectively, the fifth-sixth place. For a clearer picture of how bowling is going, take a look at the individual bowling scores.

Three girls bowled 306 and better as follows: Doris Roberts, Harriet Harker 35, 35, 115, 311; Faye & Betty Ford, 187; and Ruth Ford 106, 106, 106.

Other high scores were Joan Johnson, Babe Bates 110; Edna Peters, Leola Kennedy, 35; Ruth Reid, 187; Gertrude Hester 103; Julia Monroe, Dorothy Peters, Odessa Hinds 110; Beulah Hardy, Gerrell Bennett, Mary Wilford, Betty Lewis, Myrtle Strickland, Horace Washburne, 110.

Also Mary Nelson, 90; Pauline Mills, 90; Pearl Lipton 90; Ann Dimond, 90; Alice Mitchell, Norma Moore, 95.

HAPPY EASTER

Friends, permit me to stray from the customary service and wish you all a very Happy Easter. This is the time of Easter repre- senting the cruci- fication and resurrection of our Lord Jesus Christ who came down, laid the cross of his suffering and gave his life for us all. Jesus proved Himself truly God and the most needful practice among men and women.

Teaches Love

The most elementary and yet most important lesson in the teachings of our Lord is to love one another. And the love that is built on personal interest is not to be loved especially by our enemies, those very people that have been hard to humble or destroy us. Jesus gave the clearest picture of loving your enemies when he said on the cross: "Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do."

Love

During the crucifixion the first words of Jesus contained a prayer: "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do." His message was so that our civilization regarded as barbaric. He finally got on the cross and was crucified, as well as the then Jesus and crucified, as he went through it.
