If Bishop Charles M. "Sweet Daddy" Grace had $90,000 on his person when he died in Los Angeles Jan. 12, made the "hit", and clean get-away?

This week reports filtered out that the cult leader had his bag amount while he lounged, but where it disappeared to nobody seems to know.

However, investigating the reports is Attorney Roy F. Exner of Boston, special administrator of the Grace estate which is estimated at $25,000,000.

In addition to this complication many others have popped up since the colorful Sweet Daddy succumbed. They include:

1) The possibility of an international battle over inheritance taxes and (2) the claim of a wife who said she never divorced.

In regard to this inheritance battle, Tax Commissioner Robert T. Capobianco, satisfied that Grace's legal residence was New Bedford, said he was prepared to become involved in litigation if some other state filed claims to collect such a tax. The Bishop was known to reside in Washington, California, and North Carolina as well as New Bedford.

Although the evangelist claimed in his will that he was son married, Mrs. Jean Grace of New Bedford says they were married in 1910 and never divorced. Taxattorney Grace apparently believed he had obtained a divorce, but there is no legal evidence of such action.

$10,000 belonging to the Bishop is New Bedford banks. He added that property in New Bedford is assessed at $7,000 and he plans to go to New York to check on other holdings.

He said it may be necessary to visit all 35 of the Bishop's churches to untangle the financial problems of the estate.

Militant Leadership Triumphs

Leadership in any field of endeavor consists of "pointing the way" by perseverance and determination. Rev. Jack Johnson is a shining example. The militant Congregationalist in Martha's Vineyard is also a leader of the Lung Clearing Association. He is not only a leader, but also a leader in the fight against tuberculosis.
Choral Science Services

Universal brotherhood will be a theme dealt with at Christian Science Services this Sunday. "A Brother's Awakening to a Higher Plane of Brotherly Love," by James Stimson entitled "Spirit." The account of Peter's meeting with the centurion called Cornelius will be read, including the events that led to Cornelius' change of heart, and his special message, and said. Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons: But in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him." (Acts 10:34-35)

A correlative citation from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, states in part: "God gives the lesser idea of Himself for a link in the greater, and in turn, the higher always protects the lesser. The rich in spirit help the poor in one grand brotherhood, all having the same Principle, or Father; and blessed is the man that meth his brother's need and supplieth him, seeking his own in another's good." 5:18-19.

"hello, mummy"

"Those two words, 'hello, Mummy,' from my four-year-old, nearly made me cry," says one of our customers.

"He had gone to spend the weekend at his grandmother's home in upstate New York. On Sunday morning my little voice says, 'Hello, Mummy.' I nearly wept I missed him so. You see it was the first time ever over the telephone. He just wanted to say hello," but I'll always remember the sound of his voice. Whenever your telephone rings, it could be someone with vital news to tell — or a call like Robby's, so personal and tender that it will live in your heart forever.

So many times, in so many ways... A family's best friend is the phone.

Rep. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., Massachusetts Congressman who served as Speaker of the House and majority leader of the Republican Party, recently said, "There is not a single government agency which could not be improved, whether in the military, which could not be staffed by more efficient personnel. The key to the success of any public service is the efficiency of the personnel who will do the work."

On the Scene

By Vin Hayden

The Mass Jazz Society may not learn to know it but through one of its members, Oliver Johnson of Collinwood, it scored another hit in its effort to promote the music of jazz in the first appearance as a feature on the subject. Mr. Johnson recently played the trumpet of the Northgate Jazz Workshop in October last week. He has played for thinking teenagers and young adults, and as a workaholic and the direction of group workers Jeffrey Underwood and Mrs. Leonard, to give talks.

During the interesting discussion session, Mr. Johnson talked about the present role of jazz in movies and television.

Andy and the eye sisters, one of the finest jazz groups in the country, are performing their first appearance in the city, some time in the evening of the trip.

Establishing themselves in front of thousands of Bostonians on a European trip, they have been marvelously exciting with their renditions of "The Watchdog," "Pearl Bailey" flavored "Can I Get to the Hoppy," "Beatiful Girl," and "Evelyn..."

sources state that Daddy Grace has secured the House of Prayer's funds for go-go girls and garnered a tidy interest on current accounts, too. Obviously, this is how much assistance he gave to the young girls who are the future of the country. The ultimate power of the Boston. Tea-partying or cocktail sipping? Not too long ago, the American Negro erasitization was bent on "slamming the door" to Africanders. Now, we see the political progress from the American Negro who has not yet faced the challenges of the world. Halls, Teaswater and Sidney Pooter have stirred up support in New York for a series of important pictures. In one picture, Pooter will portray the American Negro in the story of "The Bluebird." Hall's Jack continues to receive unknown support in Harlem.

"The Rambler"

The most electric news of the week is that Reverend Ian MacLaid has told the European settlers in Kenya that he will not allow his church to be used for any purpose which Oliver Lyttleton, Alan Lennox-Boyd, and Sir Erskine's disclaimer to continue to hold his place. In fact, when the historian published the journal they had found that it was Lennox-Boyd who refused to be an African delegate from Kenya which was a fact which the two others, Tom Moyda and other African leaders claimed has or gained or will gain. What is important to remember in this instance is that trying to persuade an African to support the policies of good human relations.

Localy the Greater Boston area was saddened and other cities, which grieved President Power last Monday. The Boston area's community's leaders will unite and meet the challenge of our country's financial and political services. We have to stop the records and the money will be one of the main problems of the year. Coincidentally, an African bank official removed the bank's irreparable records from the kitchen office, as well as a substantial amount of cash. Had they then and for the Internal Revenue is breathing down the necks of the late Daddy Grace's interests. Our laws last week, and they told us what the Internal Revenue department has said.
