

Suffolk University

Digital Collections @ Suffolk

Suffolk University Newsletter (SUN)

Suffolk University Publications

1974

Suffolk University Newsletter (SUN), vol. 04, no. 9, 1974

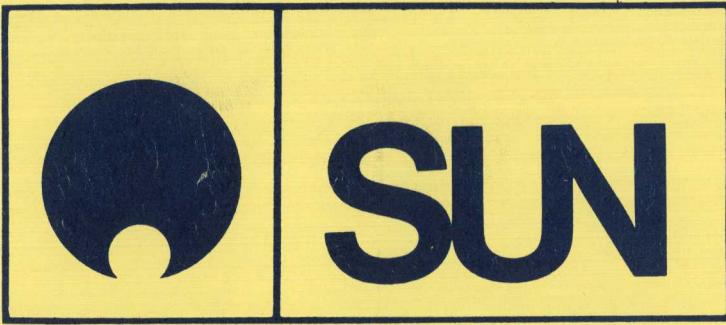

Suffolk University Office of Public Affairs

Follow this and additional works at: <https://dc.suffolk.edu/sun>

Recommended Citation

Suffolk University Office of Public Affairs, "Suffolk University Newsletter (SUN), vol. 04, no. 9, 1974" (1974). Suffolk University Newsletter (SUN). 273.
<https://dc.suffolk.edu/sun/273>

This Newsletter is brought to you for free and open access by the Suffolk University Publications at Digital Collections @ Suffolk. It has been accepted for inclusion in Suffolk University Newsletter (SUN) by an authorized administrator of Digital Collections @ Suffolk. For more information, please contact dct@suffolk.edu.

THE SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY NEWSLETTER

Published by Public Relations Office
Louis B. Connelly, Director

Vol. 4 Number 9

May, 1974

12 HONORARY DEGREES WILL BE AWARDED AT JUNE 9 COMMENCEMENT

GLOBE PUBLISHER TAYLOR, WASHINGTON ATTY. WILLIAMS SPEAKERS

Twelve honorary degrees will be awarded at Suffolk's first separate commencement exercises Sunday, June 9 at John B. Hynes Veterans' Auditorium.

Noted Washington lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, will speak at the law school exercises, which will be held at 10:30 a.m. He will be awarded the honorary degree of doctor of laws. Five other honorary degrees will be awarded at the law school exercises. Honorary doctor of law degrees will be conferred upon James D. Fellers, president-elect of the American Bar Association, Justice Benjamin Kaplan of the Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court, and Justice Joseph R. Weisberger of the Rhode Island Superior Court. Honorary degrees of doctor of juridical science will be awarded to Miss Jeanne M. Hession, attorney for Boston Safe Deposit and Trust Co., and Suffolk trustee, and Lawrence Attorney Max Goldstein.

William Davis Taylor, publisher and chairman of the board of the Boston Globe, will deliver the commencement address to graduates of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and College of Business Administration at 2:30 p.m. graduation. Taylor will also be awarded the honorary degree of doctor of journalism. Other honorary recipients will be Humberto Cardinal Medeiros, Archbishop of Boston, doctor of laws; Dr. Donald Grunewald, president of Mercy College, N.Y., doctor of letters; John S. Howe, president of the Provident Institution for Savings, doctor of commercial science; Dr. Rita Marie Kelley, clinical professor of Harvard Medical School and visiting physician at Mass. General Hospital, doctor of science; and Dr. Charles L. Schepens, president of the Retina Foundation, doctor of science.

Paul L. Doherty of Woburn, LL.B. '49, will be marshal for the law school exercises while Edward V. Coglianò of Canton, B.S.B.A., '48, will serve as college marshal. President Fulham will confer a total of approximately 1100 degrees at the two programs.

TREES GROW AT SUFFOLK - AND MAYBE A MALL, YET!

Visualize it! A tree-studded Temple Street, a carless, attractive area with maybe a fountain and shrubs, almost a mini-campus. It could happen in the future.

Under a proposal submitted to the office of Mayor Kevin White, Temple Street would be converted to a mall with all traffic banned save for emergency vehicles and delivery equipment. The plan was instituted by the Beacon Hill Civic Association and has the enthusiastic support of Suffolk.

President Fulham is hopeful that such an idea becomes a reality. "Residents on the street have already indicated their approval of such an idea," he said. "It certainly would be attractive."

Officials believe that the mall would not only add beauty to this part of Beacon Hill but would not disturb the traffic flow since Temple Street is not a vital connective to main streets and parallel roadways could handle the traffic. And it would eliminate the many parked cars, a constant hazard.

Suffolk has already taken steps to beautify the street. Two small trees were recently planted through the efforts of the university and the Student Political Science Association. President Fulham's interest in the plan was evinced by his appointment of Arthur Slotnick, president of the Political Science Association, as Suffolk's student coordinator for the mall proposal.

#

JOURNALISM WORKSHOP DEDICATED IN MEMORY OF HEARST

Suffolk's journalism workshop was dedicated Monday, May 6 in memory of publisher William Randolph Hearst.

On hand for the dedication of the newsroom was Harold G. Kern, publisher of the Boston Herald American and Sunday Advertiser, who addressed students and faculty at a brief reception. Kern, veteran executive in the Hearst chain, said that he has long had a personal fondness for the journalism schools of Suffolk and Boston University. Suffolk has been the recipient of some $50,000 in grants from the Hearst Foundation for the past 10 years.

The newsroom, located on the second floor of the Mount Vernon Street Building, is equipped with a United Press International wire machine and 35 typewriters. Department Chairman Malcolm J. Barach told the gathering that Suffolk's journalism department now has an enrollment of 187 majors.

President Fulham praised the contributions of the Hearst Foundation. Also present for the reception were Deans Ronayne, Waehler and Strain, members of the faculty, and students.

#

FIRST SUMMER SESSION OPENS MAY 29; LAW SCHOOL JUNE 3

The first six-week summer day session begins May 29 in the colleges, and to date some 341 students have registered for courses, according to Registrar Mary A. Hefron.

Miss Hefron termed the number "surprisingly large" in view of reports of trends suggesting a decline. "In my talks with other college registrars and watching trends, it appeared that students were not rushing their education any more, yet this figure to date is only about 50 behind last year's regular eight-week session," she related.

At deadline time for the SUN, a total of 697 had registered for summer study, including 356 students registered for the eight-week evening session.

Meanwhile, approximately 250 law students have registered for Suffolk's first 10-week summer law school program, 225 of them Suffolk Law School students. Miss Doris Pote, law school registrar, said this was a good representation particularly since the new format was approved only a short time ago.

The summer law program will run from June 3 to Aug. 8 and will enable students to accelerate their degree requirements in some instances by as much as half a semester. Seven faculty members will teach during the program. Later, it is hoped that lecturers from other law schools might be utilized.

#

STUDENT LEADERS SELECTED FOR '74 - 75; CAVALIER HEADS SGA

David Cavalier of Arlington, a junior in the college of liberal arts, has been elected president of the Student Government Association for the 1974-75 academic year, James O. Peterson, director of student activities, reports.

Cavalier was elected by class officers following the general student election. He succeeds Kenneth Larsen of Watertown.

Other executive officers elected were Helen Orcutt of Rowley, vice president, James Brown of Melrose, treasurer, and Richard Scenna of Revere, secretary.

Elected by their classes in the general election were: Class of 1975, President-Joseph Villante of Roslindale; Vice President-James Welch of Somerville; Representatives-Donald McGurk of Brighton, Helen Orcutt and David Cavalier. Class of 1976, President-Stephen O'Leary of North Reading; Vice President-James Torney of Braintree; Representatives-Richard Scenna, Chris Spinazzola of Revere and John Switlekowski of Dorchester. Class of 1977, President-Michael Powers of Charlestown; Vice President-James Brown; Representatives-Peter George of Wilmington, Brian Nee of Charlestown, and Joseph Shaw of Quincy.

#

* NEWS FROM THE FACULTY DEPARTMENTS *

EDUCATION - Four members of the department faculty have been selected to appear in the 1974-75 edition of Outstanding Educators of America, an awards program which annually honors distinguished educators for achievements and leadership in their field. Named were Dr. Glen A. Eskedal, Dr. Joseph M. McCarthy, Dr. Richard P. Santeusanio and Dr. R. Arthur Winters... Dr. Eskedal, by the way, represented the university at the annual meeting of the American Personnel and Guidance Association in New Orleans in April... Dr. Santeusanio was also in New Orleans for the meeting of the International Reading Association...

HISTORY - Dr. Edward G. Hartmann will return to his alma mater, Bucknell University, for its commencement program May 31-June 2. He will serve as companion of honor for his old history professor, Dr. J. Orin Oliphant, upon occasion of Dr. Oliphant's 80th birthday. Dr. Hartmann was Professor Oliphant's first student to later obtain his Ph.D. degree... Their colleagues tendered a pleasant farewell party to Professors Norman Floyd and Charles Farley in the President's Conference Room upon their retirement from Suffolk. The two had a combined total service of some 44 years at Suffolk...

JOURNALISM - Students in Dr. Richard Carlson's film history course were the guests of Boston's "Pocket Mime Theatre" during a special program honoring the master mime Marcel Marceau. Marceau did not perform for the group but an observant Carlson noted that "he (Marceau) left the room rather smartly, I thought..." Lori Clemons, a sophomore Journalism major, has been awarded a summer fellowship from Columbia University. Between classes, she works for WNAC-TV Channel 7's "Black News..." At the dedication of the journalism workshop, the student Journalism Society named Herald American Publisher Harold G. Kern its first honorary member...

ENGLISH - Dr. Stanley Vogel, department chairman, was honored by the History Department when he was inducted into Phi Alpha Theta, the national honorary history society... Mrs. Marilyn Jurich's class in Children's Literature produced a charming puppet show on Ecology for Elementary School Children. Several outsiders including two children participated...

BIOLOGY - Dr. James Fiore will teach marine biology in the New Hampshire College University Consortium and Suffolk University Marine Program July 21 - Aug. 31. The first four weeks will be conducted on the University of New Hampshire campus and the last two at S.U.'s Cobscook Bay Laboratory. This year's program will include the study of a tidal pond on Starboard Island, Maine for possible acquisition by the Nature Conservancy...

ATHLETICS - Tom Walsh's Rams baseball team finished fast, capturing their last four games to end up with a 6-10 record. Senior Mike Harrison led the team in batting with a .358 mark. Ken Anderson of Spencer has been elected captain of next year's team... Tom Ford's young tennis team finished 2-5. "We were competitive," assessed Ford. "We should improve and next year we have four players returning, Joe McLaughlin, Bob Stackelbeck, Jim Mottelli and John Callahan." The two victories came over Curry and Gordon...

- POTPOURRI -

It's a little jarring the way tempus keeps fugiting. As another semester comes to an end, the SUN marks three full years of publication. Seems like only yesterday we put that first edition to print, but it was May, 1971... His many friends at Suffolk welcome the news that Don Grunewald, president of Mercy College, will receive an honorary doctor of letters degree at our June 9 commencement... Another popular selection, alumnus and trustee Jeanne Hession, who will be awarded the honorary degree of doctor of juridical science... For its first dual commencement, the university came up with two timely speakers. Famed lawyer Edward Bennett Williams' name reportedly popped up in President Nixon's tapes while William Davis Taylor, publisher of the Boston Globe, just saw his paper garner another Pulitzer Prize, this one by editorial cartoonist Paul Szep, the Globe's third in recent years... Dick McDowell, director of the Center for State Management, reports that 130 men and women attended a conference on youth resources bureaus. S.U.'s center organized the conference with community groups in six Massachusetts cities. Speakers included Judge Franklin Flashner, chief justice of the Mass. District Courts, and Morton Kaplan, deputy commissioner of the Office of Youth Development for H.E.W... Suffolk's most famous jogger, Admissions Director Bill Coughlin, is improving with age. Coughlin cut 15 seconds off his previous year's time in the annual Hyde Park 5-mile road race May 5. His time was 35 minutes, 20 seconds... Wendy(Lindley) Lovegrove, former evening nurse, and husband, Robert, are the parents of a son, Christopher Robert (8 lbs. 10 oz.) born April 28 in Montreal, where the Lovegroves now make their home...

LAW PROFESSOR CHARLES GARABEDIAN was moderator of a panel discussion at the 10th Annual National Law Enforcement Seminar at Northeastern University which placed "Justice Under Scrutiny." Garabedian was also a headtable guest at a May 14 banquet honoring Northeastern President Asa Knowles and Frank Wills of Washington, D.C., security guard who discovered the Watergate break-in... Assistant Business Profs. Lee Sutherland and Joe Vaccaro were judges for "The Academic Division of the American Advertising Federation" for the New England region held at B.C. May 11... You learn something every day. Ray Ciccolo, president and owner of the Boston Lobsters, new pro tennis entry, is a 1959 Suffolk grad. Received a bachelor of science in business administration. Ciccolo is an owner of several Volvo dealerships in Greater Boston... Two new employees this month - Sherry Mack of Dorchester is a clerical assistant in the Law School Library while Miriam Judge of Boston joins the College Registrar's Office as a clerical aide... Judge John E. Fenton Jr. addressed the third annual graduating class from the S.U. - D.P.W. Right of Way Institute at the Summerside Lodge in Malden on May 21. Business College Dean Bob Waehler awarded 38 certificates in the continuing studies program, largest class yet. Also on hand were Judge Fenton Sr. and President Fulham... Judge Fenton Jr., by the way, will be sworn into the Mass. judiciary in a Merrimack College ceremony on May 28...

(Continued on Page Six)

-POTPOURRI (continued from page five)

Among our June graduates will be Angela Carcia, former Evening Division secretary. Angela will be awarded a bachelor of science degree and Mike Lombard of Accounting also gets his B.S.... The new silver Mustang belongs to Joan Monahan of the College Registrar's Office... Our sincerest best wishes to Miss Dorothy McNamara, Alumni secretary, and Mrs. Evelyn Reilly, presidential assistant, who have terminated service at Suffolk after many long years... Recognition Day drew one of its largest crowds in years on May 7 with the families of many recipients on hand for the presentations and reception afterwards. The exercises moved briskly and went off well... Dean Joe Strain of the Evening Division is enjoying a trip to Ireland... A reminder that the university cafeteria will close Friday (May 24) for the summer. It will reopen in September after Registration... Prof. John Mahoney, who's been ailing, was among the guests at the party for Dean Bob Waehler, stepping down as Business School dean, and we hope that John will be back with us soon... New SGA President Dave Cavalier will be among the caddies at the upcoming PGA tournament at Winged Food Country Club in Mamaroneck, N.Y... The new Evening Division Student Association will be represented by some faces familiar to the administration. Among those winning election to office were Mary Fraser (Dean of Students Office), Karen Grant (Public Relations), Nancy Bliss (Dean of Arts and Sciences Office), and Peter Dragonas (Accounting)...

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION is sponsoring A Night at the Boston Pops Friday, June 21 at 8:30 p.m. Tickets are $8 apiece. A reception at nearby Amalfi's Restaurant will follow the concert... And Law School Dean Dave Sargent will host a reception for law school alumni Saturday June 8 during the Mass. Bar Association's convention at Wentworth-by-the-Sea... One more function before we forget it, the newly formed South Shore Alumni Association of S.U. is holding a social at the Bryant Post, Quincy Saturday evening June 8... Two of our Athletic Department's coaches will be among the degree recipients June 9. Baseball Coach Tom Walsh will receive his B.S. degree while Tennis Mentor Tom Ford will be awarded his juris doctor degree... Vice President and Treasurer Frank Flannery has been elected to the executive committee of the Massachusetts Association of Non-Profit Schools and Colleges, and Frank's wife, Mrs. Mary Flannery, is serving on the Ladies Program Committee for the 1974 annual meeting of the National Association of College and University Business Officers, which will be held in Boston July 10-12... Bob Coughlin, formerly of Security, fresh with masters degree in hand has joined the Mass. Rehabilitation Commission as a rehab counselor... Our congratulations to new Suffolk Journal Editor Bob McKillop, new Beacon Editor Cathy Schoener, and WSUB-TV manager Tony Cunningham, all of whom were elected to their 1974-75 posts on Wednesday... This issue takes us up to time until September. Our thanks to all who contributed to the SUN and made suggestions. We hope your summer is a pleasant one and look forward to seeing you again in the Fall...