Suffolk University Newsletter (SUN), vol. 05, no. 1, 1974

Suffolk University Office of Public Affairs

Follow this and additional works at: https://dc.suffolk.edu/sun

Recommended Citation

This Newsletter is brought to you for free and open access by the Suffolk University Publications at Digital Collections @ Suffolk. It has been accepted for inclusion in Suffolk University Newsletter (SUN) by an authorized administrator of Digital Collections @ Suffolk. For more information, please contact dct@suffolk.edu.
2500 PAY FINAL RESPECTS TO JUDGE FENTON

SUFFOLK TO HONOR CHAIRMAN'S MEMORY

A man of granitic, Pauline faith... he failed no man who needed him...

These words, part of a stirring eulogy from the Rev. Michael G. Pierce, S.J., were spoken of Judge John E. Fenton as more than 2500 mourners paid their final respects to the Suffolk University Board Chairman Aug. 17 at St. Mary's Church, Lawrence.

A large Suffolk delegation, headed by President Fulham and Vice President Flannery, was among the throng that attended the concelebrated Mass for the man who was associated with Suffolk University for more than 50 years.

Judge Fenton, president of Suffolk from Sept. 1965, to September, 1970, died Aug. 14 at Bon Secours Hospital, an institution he helped build. He was ill for seven weeks and died two weeks short of his 76th birthday.

During his final illness, the judge learned that the board of trustees had voted to name the $2.2 million renovated Derne Street Building, the John E. Fenton Building, for, as President Fulham noted, "the immeasurable contributions Judge Fenton made to the colleges, law school and its students."

And the Fenton memory will continue to be honored at Suffolk. New Tennis Coach Bob Stackelbeck said that the annual Suffolk Open Tennis Tournament this month will be named in Judge Fenton's memory. "He was Suffolk's Rock of Gibraltar and also a great sports enthusiast," Stackelbeck said in making the announcement. The tournament is open to all students and faculty.

Tributes to Judge Fenton were many. Cardinal Medeiros called him "a pillar of strength for me and the late Cardinal Cushing." Gov. Sargent said Fenton "put his genuine concern and care for people first in everything he did." President Fulham said his loss was "a tremendous one for all of us at Suffolk."

President Fulham said that fitting ceremonies will mark the dedication of the Fenton Building upon completion, expected in September, 1975. The president also announced that Lawrence Atty. Max Goldstein, a close friend of Judge Fenton, has established a law school scholarship in Fenton's memory to go to a worthy student from the Lawrence area.

(Continued on Page Two)
Ironically, on the very day Judge Fenton was buried, trustee George H. Spillane died. Spillane, 90, had been a Suffolk trustee since 1949 and was a retired John Hancock insurance executive. The deaths of Judge Fenton and Mr. Spillane create two vacancies on the 21-member board of trustees.

Judge Fenton, a 1920 graduate of Holy Cross and 1924 graduate of Suffolk Law School, had served as judge of the Massachusetts Land Court for 28 years before retiring and becoming president of Suffolk. He was twice board chairman, and during his term as president, Suffolk enjoyed its period of greatest growth, opening a new building, the Donahue, two new libraries were built, enrollment and number of faculty doubled and the curriculum upgraded.

Recipient of many awards and honors during his long career, Judge Fenton considered two Suffolk student awards among his most cherished tributes. The Student Bar Association presented him the Dean Frederick A. McDermott award in 1966 for devoted service to the law school and students while only last May, the undergraduate students honored Fenton as the outstanding administrator at their senior banquet.

He leaves his son, Judge John E. Fenton Jr. of the Massachusetts Land Court, a brother, the Very Rev. Francis P. Fenton, OSA, pastor of St. Rita's Parish, Chicago, who celebrated the funeral Mass, and a sister, Sr. Mary Eugenia of St. Mary's Parish, Rahway, N.J.

SUFFOLK ENROLLMENT REACHES ALL-TIME HIGH

Enrollment in the colleges and law school has climbed to an all-time high of 6272, Vice President-Treasurer Francis X. Flannery, announces.

Included in that total are 2022 law school students (920 day and 1102 evening), expected to be a slight dip from last year although registration figures in the law school are not final.

Final figures from the colleges, according to Tom Condon, director of administrative data processing, list a total of 4250 enrollees, up from 4047 in 1973. The biggest increase is in the evening division, up some 218 from a year ago. Evening Dean Joseph H. Strain said that the 2079 evening students enrolled mark the first time that the evening division has more enrolled students than the day colleges.

Day enrollment was set at 2047, only 21 less than a year ago. However, Mary A. Hefron, College Registrar, said that special students are now considered part-time or evening students, thus raising the evening figure significantly.

There were also more incoming freshmen (339 to 292 of a year ago) and more returning sophomores (331 to 307). The number of returning juniors and seniors was down.

Miss Hefron praised the performance of the Instructional Materials Center, headed by Mrs. Colleen Kazanowski, for the use of five television monitors that aided during the hectic registration period. The monitors carried course closings saving considerable time for students. WSUB staffers and students aided, using personal equipment and records for background music since radio equipment and TV monitors on order had not yet arrived.
DEANS MCDOWELL, ELIAS HEAD LIST OF NEW APPOINTMENTS

Dr. Richard L. McDowell has assumed the deanship of the College of Business Administration, and Prof. Clifford E. Elias is now associate dean of the Law School.

President Fulham announced the appointments early in the summer.

Dr. McDowell, who has headed Suffolk's Center for State Management, succeeded Robert C. Waehler, who has returned to teaching at the university. Elias assumed the post held by Judge John E. Fenton Jr., now an associate justice of the Massachusetts Land Court.

McDowell, 35, is a native of Battle Creek, Mich., received his bachelor of science degree and master of science degree from M.I.T. and his Ph.D. from Tufts University. Since coming to Suffolk, he has designed and implemented new graduate and undergraduate management programs and has organized nine public workshops for professional men and women.

He and his wife, the former Sally Bray, have three children, Katherine, James Scott, and Megan Sue. The McDowells make their home in Boston.

Dean Elias, 43, a native of Lawrence, has served on Suffolk Law School faculty since 1961. He specializes in criminal law and procedure. He is a graduate of Phillips Academy, Yale University and Boston University Law School. He was an intelligence officer with the U.S. Army during the Korean War. At Suffolk he has served on the Curriculum Committee, the Law School Development Committee, the Faculty Appointments Committee and the Joint Faculty Student Committee.

Elias lives in North Andover, where he is a special town counsel and assistant town moderator. He and his wife, the former M. Janet Keyes, have three daughters, Marsha, Paula, and Brenda.

Other full-time appointments to Suffolk's faculty:

LAW SCHOOL

John Stewart Geer, assistant professor of law. Holds an A.B. from Union College, J.D. from Boston University Law School, where he was graduated cum laude in 1970 and was a Law Review editor. Served with West German law firm of Bellen, Belli and Bailey and most recently, Boston firm of Snyder, Tepper and Berlin. Interests in criminal law and procedure, professional ethics, code courses and basic contract law.

G. Rosalyn Johnson, assistant professor of law. Undergraduate degree from Suffolk and J.D. from Suffolk Law, where she was Dean's List student, 11th in class of 153. Presently attorney for National Labor Relations Board. Interests in labor law, and family law.

(Continued on Page Four)
Bernard M. Ortwein II, assistant professor of law. Graduate of University of Richmond and Suffolk Law School cum laude (1972) and was editor-in-chief of Law Review. Later clerked for Supreme Judicial Court Justice Wilkins and received master of laws from Harvard. Had been serving as teaching fellow in Suffolk's Legal Practice Skills program.

Thomas J. O'Toole, visiting professor of law. Holds A.B., LL.B. and M.A. from Harvard University. Former dean and professor of law at Northeastern University Law School and now Hadley Professor of Law there. Was also a professor at Antioch School of Law, and professor and vice dean at Villanova Law School and professor at Georgetown University Law.

Thomas J. McMahon, associate professor of law. Received his A.B. from Holy Cross, magna cum laude and J.D. from Georgetown University Law Center in 1957, eighth in class of 95. Has served as trademark attorney with American Cyanamid Co., Stamford, Conn. and for Gulf Oil Corp. Has been executive officer of the Naval Reserve Law Co. and commander of Judge Advocate General Corps, U.S. Naval Reserve.

John R. Sherman, associate professor of law. B.S. from Georgetown University, law degree from Harvard, and master of laws from B.U. Law School. Served as general counsel for Boston Anti-Poverty Program and was a member of the Boston law firm of Mahoney, Atwood and Goldings, specializing in federal taxation, real estate and corporate law. Until present time, was assistant dean at Northeastern where he administered the cooperative legal education program.

Hugh M. Wade, assistant professor of law. Northwestern University and DePaul University College of Law in Chicago graduate. During law school he worked full time as housing management specialist for U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. Most recently, received LL.M. from Columbia Law School.

BUSINESS COLLEGE

Dr. Emma Auer, associate professor of marketing. She is a graduate of the University of Illinois where she received a B.S. and was awarded a master of science degree from Washington University in St. Louis, Mo. Ph.D. degree from the University of Illinois in 1968. She comes to Suffolk from Florida State University where she was associate professor. Dr. Auer's career includes service as promotion director for Harper's Bazaar, New York City and fashion director for Carson Pirie Scott & Co. in Chicago.

(Continued on Page Five)
John Berg, instructor in government, and economics. Holds a B.A. from University of Wisconsin (1964) where he was Phi Beta Kappa and an M.A. from Harvard where he is presently working for a Ph.D. in American Government. Previously taught at Harvard and Tufts.

Dennis M. Corrigan, instructor in journalism. Received his A.B. from Notre Dame in 1966 and M.S. from Illinois in 1970, currently working on Ph.D. in communications at University of Illinois.

Dr. Alan J. Kennedy, associate professor of communications and speech. Received his B.A. and M.A. from Wayne State University and his Ph.D. from the University of Michigan. Previously assistant professor of communication studies at Emerson College and lecturer at Suffolk.

Petros P. Papageorgiou, instructor of economics. Received a B.A. from Athens School of Economics and Business Sciences, M.A. from Northeastern University (1971) and is Ph.D. candidate in economics at Boston University. Previously taught at Panspoudastikon Institute in Athens.

Dr. Robert J. Topitzer, assistant professor of sociology. Holds a B.S. from Holy Cross (1960), M.A. from Northeastern University (1967), and Ph.D. from University of New Hampshire (1971). Most recently taught at Rutgers University.

Ms. Libby Zimmerman, instructor of sociology. Holds an A.B. from University of California at Berkeley in 1964, a M.S.W. from University of Michigan in 1970 and doctoral candidate at Brandeis. Has field experience in social services in Illinois, California, and Massachusetts.

Dr. Ann Boutelle, assistant professor of English. A graduate of St. Andrews University, she received an M.A. from New York University in 1968 and also her doctorate from N.Y.U. She was a graduate assistant at N.Y.U. and has been part-time lecturer at Suffolk.

Ms. Agnes S. Bain, lecturer in government. Holds a B.A. from McGill University. Taught at Boston University previously, has been part-time lecturer at Suffolk.

Dr. George S. Patterson, assistant professor of chemistry. Received his B.S. in chemistry from University of Illinois in 1969 and Ph.D. in inorganic chemistry from M.I.T. in 1974. Has been an NSF Fellow and worked as an assistant chemist for Eastman Kodak and American Oil Co.

Dr. Barbara A. Hansen, assistant professor of chemistry. Earned her B.A., M.S. and Ph.D. in biochemistry from University of Michigan. Held a teaching fellowship at University of Michigan during graduate study.

(Continued on Page Six)
Felice W. Dickstein, professor of English. Received B.S. from Brooklyn College, M.A. and Ph.D. from City University of New York. Previously taught at Suffolk part-time.

David L. Robbins, assistant professor of history. Received his A.B. from Colgate summa cum laude and was class valedictorian. Received master of arts and Ph.D. from Yale.

WOMEN'S COMMITTEE OUTLINES PLANS AND GOALS

The Committee on the Status of Women, formed by President Fulham last Spring, has completed its basic organizational phase following meetings through the summer.

Convenor Maria Bonaventura said that the committee has "determined the specific areas of concern with which it will deal, and the methodology it will use."

Four sub-committees have been formed: student, faculty and administration, clerical, and administrative practice. Each will perform a fact-finding function in its area of investigation.

"For example," Dr. Bonaventura explained, "The student committee is gathering information regarding admissions and financial aid criteria, placement and counseling, continuing education, curriculum and student services; the faculty and administration committee plans to develop a comprehensive picture of salaries, promotion and tenure by sex; the clerical group is analyzing the results of a questionnaire directed to clerical and secretarial staff; and the administrative practice committee is considering the feasibility of day care facilities for Suffolk personnel."

Dr. Bonaventura says the committee hopes to complete most of its fact-finding by the end of the Fall semester. Results and recommendations will be forwarded to President Fulham. The committee welcomes comments and suggestions and those wishing to address the committee should contact Dr. Bonaventura at Extension 348 or Mrs. Valerie Epps, co-convenor, at 372.

FLU SHOTS COMING UP: BEAT THE BUG

It might be a long cold winter with a lot of influenza in the air, so this is an early reminder that Suffolk's supply of flu vaccine has arrived and flu shots will be administered beginning the first or second week of October.

Nurse Mary Brady said that notices will be posted for the exact starting date for administering of vaccine. Shots are available to all students, faculty and staff at a minimal charge. They will be given evenings as well by Evening Nurse Pamela Hardy up to 9:30 p.m.
NEWS FROM THE FACULTY DEPARTMENTS

BIOLOGY - You may have read recently of an unusual marine disaster on the shores of Maine where some 120 white dolphins died when trapped in a small cove. The dateline was familiar - Denny's Bay at Edmunds, Me., - site of Suffolk's Cobscook Bay Laboratory. Suffolk played a part in the story when Lester Seeley, our caretaker, was one of those heading rescue operations. Seeley contacted Art West, one of the founding fathers of S.U.'s lab, who obtained clearance to work with the New England Aquarium for recovery by the Maine Commissioner of Marine Resources... The Cobscook Lab marks its first official anniversary next month... And on Oct. 11 Dr. West's class will trek to Cobscook Bay for field study. In addition, non-students who might like to spend that weekend at the Bay, should contact Dr. West for further information... Dr. Bea Snow, chairman of Biology, has thrown away her crutches following knee surgery... Ex-chairman Art West had another busy summer. It was the first summer in some 25 years that he didn't lecture at Suffolk. Instead, he spent three weeks in Media, Pa. working on a Temple University-sponsored program for elementary school science; prepared a huge NSF grant for elementary school science programs; attended the American Institute of Biological Science meeting in Tempe, Arizona and chaired the National Marine Education Conference panel on Government Programs at the University of Rhode Island...

EDUCATION - Dr. Joseph M. McCarthy has co-authored an article, "A Compensatory Educational Counseling Model for Low-Income Minority Students." It appeared in the April, 1974 issue of Mensa Research Journal. McCarthy, recently listed in the biographical annual, Leaders in Education, will also serve as nominee of the Public Management and Administration Program at S.U. as associate editor of the Occasional Papers Service of the Bureaucrat, Inc... Dr. Glen A. Lewandowski has been promoted to full professor of education. Lewandowski will be acting chairman of Education during Dr. Donald Unger's upcoming six-months sabbatical... Condolences to Prof. John Moran on the loss of his mother, Mrs. Nora Moran in July...

ENGLISH - One of the SUN's most faithful correspondents, Dr. Stan Vogel is enjoying a six months sabbatical. Acting chairman is Dr. Fred Wilkins, who memos us about the exhibit of costume designs from the Stratford Festival Theatre in Ontario. It will be on display in the glass cases outside Rooms 207 and 210 in the Donahue Building through October... Marilyn Jurich attended a unique conference on children's literature at Franconia College, New Hampshire. "One of its aims was to synchronize adult and children's performance and participation," she explained. "The events included an opera for children; a pilgrimage rendition of 'Alice in Wonderland' acted by adults for children; a poetry symposium which featured children writing and reading their own poetry; plus ballad singing, craft construction and exhibitions in an atmosphere that included the soaring sweep of the White Mountains..." Robert Johnson, campus rep, Fulbright awards for the Danforth Fellowships, reminds all that the deadline for submission of applications at Suffolk for Fulbright awards is Oct. 10. Danforth Fellowship applications should be submitted to him by Oct. 8...

MODERN LANGUAGES - The department welcomes back Dr. Catherine Pehrer, professor of romance languages, who has been on academic leave... Dr. Ilse Fang announces a timetable for German Films sponsored by the German Group in Room 27A on Thursdays from 12:15 to 1 p.m. The flicks: Sept. 19 - Hiking Through Germany; Sept. 25 - Everyday Life Germany; Oct. 17 - The Munich Oktoberfest and The Lech, and Alpine River; Oct. 24 - The Churches of Cologne and Dec. 7 - Festival of the Shepards...

(Continued on Page Eight)
INSTRUCTIONAL MATERIALS CENTER - Mrs. Colleen Kazanowski, director of the center, conducted a three-day media training center in August. On Aug. 26, the session was held for service scholarship students, who learned how to use the equipment and operate it for faculty.

The Aug. 27 and 28 sessions were general ones and attracted 30 persons from philosophy, history, English, education, law, business administration and journalism. During the presentations, Mrs. Kazanowski demonstrated with slides of television equipment, showing various television and videotape techniques, using live television and monitor. She used films to illustrate lighting and staging techniques.

The group also was able to do some creative work of its own. Those who completed the course took two exams, one written and one lab, a prerequisite for taking out equipment. Mrs. Kazanowski said that these students will be able to provide a video view for all faculty productions.

PHILOSOPHY - Dr. Philip D. Pearl has assumed the department chairmanship...

Dr. William S. Sahakian attended the convention of the American Philosophy Association in New Orleans where he was elevated to Fellow. He is the first Fellow from Suffolk in the association's history.

SEARCH COMMITTEE FORMED FOR NEW DEVELOPMENT, ALUMNI DIRECTORS

A trustees' search committee has been formed for the selection of a new university development director and two associate directors (one each for colleges and law school), President Fulham has announced.

Earlier in the summer, the trustees accepted the resignations of Alumni Secretary Dorothy McNamara and Development Director James Matthew. President Fulham, who is secretary to the search committee, urges proposed candidates to submit resumes to the committee and requests those who may know of suitable candidates to contact the committee. He said that serious consideration will be given to qualified Suffolk alumni who may be interested in the Alumni posts.

Members of the search committee are President Fulham, trustees Lawrence L. Cameron, chairman, Nelson G. Burke, Chief Justice Walter H. McLaughlin and Jeanne M. Hession.

Under the revised format, the new development director will oversee and direct alumni and fund-raising activities and each associate director will coordinate alumni affairs of colleges and law school. Fulham hopes that these posts will be filled sometime during the Fall.

In other Alumni matters, John D. McCarthy of Scituate (B.S. in B.A. '62 and M.B.A. '69) was elected president of the General Alumni Association at the annual meeting in June. McCarthy is an allocation officer for the newly created Federal Energy Administration in Boston. He and his wife, the former Marylou Maher of Dorchester, have three children.

Other officers elected to the 34-member association were Mary Ann Gilleece (J.D. '72), vice president, and Gilbert Wolpe (B.S. in B.A. '58), clerk.
The Aug. 14 passing of our chairman, Judge John E. Fenton, left a large void among the Suffolk family. President Fulham, who visited the judge often during his lingering illness, was one of the first to take note of this. "The place just doesn't seem the same," said the saddened president. "But I'm sure the memory of Judge Fenton and what he did for the school will help us make Suffolk an even better university," Fulham added. Judge Fenton's accomplishments and activities were many, but a lot of us will remember him simply as a good boss and good friend. Recalled Sociology Chairman Don Fiorillo at the wake in Lawrence, "I'll tell you the kind of guy he was. When I had my heart attack seven years ago, he was one of the first to come to the hospital in Worcester to visit me." Of the hundreds and hundreds who turned out for the Fenton services, many were Suffolk students, past and present. We have a feeling that might have pleased him most. The students, after all, were his first love...

Where has the summer gone? The good weather went too fast as did the Red Sox. But let's not moan, too much has happened. Student Activities Director Jim Peterson went off and got married to our transfer counselor, Ellen Burns, in a romance that had to be one of the best kept secrets of the year. And Jim didn't let a bout with mono slow him down. He was back for registration and had a new Student Log hot off the presses... And Peter Dragonas of Accounting showed us it's not hard to produce a son. The Dragonas' first offspring is Nicholas Peter Dragonas, born July 24... Then there's Carol Kaplan, also of Accounting. She and Larry Levine of Chelsea were married Aug. 18. Carol is leaving to be a seventh grade teacher in Holbrook... Not to forget Gloria Deren of Accounting, proud of her hubby, Donald, a June Law School grad, who has joined the law firm of Tierney, Tierney, St. Onge and Manoil here on the hill... Long-time Suffolk personnel were saddened to learn of the death of retired switchboard operator Kay Holland, who handled the Suffolk phones for more than 20 years... And condolences to Law Prof. John O'Brien on the death of his sister and to Roger Shawcross of Business on the death of his father... A change in command in the mailroom: Bill Hunter replaces departing Dan Fitzgerald... Just back from a wonderful trip to Germany and Bavarian Alps is Nurse Mary Brady... That Sunday Herald Advertiser spread on the rising crime rate included a photo and quotes from Gary Castanino, S.U.'s director of crime and urban studies... Sociology's Peter Conrad has received a NSF grant to aid in completion of his Ph.D. dissertation at B.U. entitled, "Factors in the Identification of Hyperactive Children: A Study in the Sociology of Deviance..."

Quietly building himself a large family is Jim Nelson, assistant basketball coach. Jim and wife, Joan welcomed a son, Christian, at Mt. Auburn Hospital Sept. 8. That makes two boys and two girls for the Nelsons... The Athletic Department, itself, has been increased by two. Charlie Law has added ex-Red Sox prospect Tom Walsh to his staff. Tom also coaches baseball. The department has its first woman staffer in Ann Guilbert, who will direct the women's athletic program. Ann comes to us from Long Island, N.Y. where she taught and coached track. She is a Northeastern U. graduate... Chris Perry moved from the Registrar's Office to the President's Office Sept. 23... A lot of new secretarial faces: Mary Fallon of Milton - Alumni; Roseanne Sheehan of West Roxbury - College Placement; Pamela Weeder of Revere - Modern Languages; Elizabeth Thompson of West Roxbury - History; Mary Martin of West Roxbury - Government and Economics; and Rosemary Mahoney of Somerville - Sociology. And Susan Jones of Boston, who previously served a stint in the Dean of the Colleges office, returns as Development secretary... Building services has added Charles Moody of Allston and Evening Security Harvey Cannon goes days...

(Continued on Page Ten)
Suffolk's expanded Speech Department has moved to Room 12, first floor at 56 Temple St. Other new tenants at 56 Temple are Government faculty Judy Dushku and John J. O'Callaghan now occupying third floor offices. In other moves, Education Prof. John Burton has an office on the first floor of the Archer Building while three new offices have been added to Suffolk's fifth floor quarters at Charles River Park. They will be used for the voluntary defenders program. Congratulations are in order for three Suffolk trustees. Lawrence L. Cameron, presently first assistant district attorney for Suffolk County, has been named presiding judge of South Boston District Court. George C. Seybolt has been appointed to the prestigious National Council on the Arts; and Jeanne M. Hession is a new vice president of the New England Region, National Association of Bank Women. Susan McCarthy, back from a vacation in California and Las Vegas, has transferred from Alumni to College Placement. Susan loved Vegas, her only regret was that she failed to get to see Elvis Presley... President Fulham is planning to re-convene staff and department heads for Round Hills II sometime in October. Site of the meeting has yet to be selected. It won't be at Round Hills because that attractive spot has been sold and is no longer available...

The 1974-75 Who's Who in America is off the presses and includes the following from Suffolk: President Fulham, Dean Emeritus Donald Goodrich, Dr. Edward G. Hartmann of History and Dr. William S. Sahakian of Philosophy... Eric Myrvangnes of Mathematics and Humanities will have his photos on display in two exhibitions this Fall: at the New England School of Photography, Kenmore Square from Sept. 24 to Oct. 18 and in November at Zone V Photographer's Workshop, Watertown... Dr. Leo Lieberman's booklet, "Careers for College Majors," continues to be a hit. More than 3600 copies have been distributed by S.U. to high school and college counselors, counseling psychologists and rehab counselors. About 1300 have been given to Suffolk transfer students... Roberta Barach of Natick, wife of Mal Barach, Journalism chairman, has been appointed a director of the Hudson Girls Club... President Fulham hosted a meeting of the Marine Fisheries Advisory Committee and Marine Fisheries Advisory Committee Subcommittee on the National Fisheries Plan at Suffolk on September 18. Representatives from Alaska, Oregon, South Carolina, Washington, D.C., Washington, Texas and Massachusetts attended... Dean Mike Ronayne, wife, Joanne and infant daughter Michelle are shelving intown living at Tremont on the Common for the suburb of Winchester, where they recently purchased a home... We knew Prof. Bob Waehler of Business was a top golfer (a 77 this summer) but how about Mrs. Waehler? She recently recorded a hole in one at Pine Meadows in Lexington... Debbie Lepore of the College Registrar's Office and bridegroom Ken Cavallaro of Revere, are honeymooning in Hawaii, San Francisco and Las Vegas following their Sept. 21 nuptials... Dr. Bob Webb of Psychology is recuperating from arm and leg fractures suffered in a fall from a ladder outside his home. He will miss the entire semester. We're sure he'd enjoy cards and they can be sent to his home, 255 Fruit Street, Mansfield, Ma. 02048... Finally, our sincerest best wishes in retirement to Miss Mary Muhilly, long-time secretary to the late Judge Fenton. She had been the judge's Girl Friday for some 30 years, the last 10 of which were spent at Suffolk... See you in October...