Yanceys Celebrate Golden Wedding

Mr. and Frederick H. Yancey of 41 Waverley Avenue, Everett, Massachusetts, celebrated the 50th wedding anniversary of the family in Sunday, October 25 at St. Bartholomew's Church, Cambridge.

During the struggle, additional police reserves were allegedly summoned, and Ellis was taken to the police station. Later, police officers were told, "short time after his arrival police decided did not look well." They summoned an ambulance. The doctor (Continued on page 6)

Soviet Union No Place For Idlers

"Everybody works in the Soviet Union. There is no so-called freedom to change jobs by whim. Parasites like those who stand on all sides here, would starve to death," Jim Hewlett, veterans Associated Negro Press correspondent, formerly in charge of the Montreal, Canada, beat, observed last week after returning from a four months unofficial visit to the "workers paradise," Mr. Hewlett, who is a Harvard College graduate now resident from the postal service, undertook his visit without benefit of any official or unofficial agency, and as an ardent anti-communist was immune to the blandishments of Russian propaganda agents. He spent time in Leningrad, Moscow, Stalingrad, and Kirov on, finding the ordinary Soviet citizen as free from virulent Anglo-American color prejudice as their Czarist ancestors had been during the days of Alexander I. Russian poet a decendant of whom, the Grand Duke Peter, was matrimony linked with the present British Royal House through the wife of the first Marquess of Milford Haven, Princess of Elizabeth II.

Mr. Hewlett, who has traveled widely in Eastern, Middle East, and North Africa, found the Soviet standard of living before his epic journey to the middle-aged and elderly perform fight tasks in hotel employment, while children do housework.

Perhaps Mr. Hewlett made the nearest and sharpest observa- tion of the attitude of Soviet youth toward education when he said, "Since everybody has to work, youth soon learns that the best jobs go to those who are best prepared by what passes for normal education in any human society and to university degrees of one sort or another. Nothing is wasted in the Soviet system of education, for all ages from the middle-aged and elderly perform fight tasks in hotel employment, while children do housework."

Edith Loflin, Miss Loflin was a former graduate of Newton High and once a member of the Jr. course at Myrtle Baptist.

Newton, Mass.

Sunday school was well attended at Myrtle Baptist Church despite the torrential rains. Supt. James Spikes gave a report on the Sunday school meeting in Chelms, Mass. He asked for donations of canned goods, etc., for Thanksgiving to be sent to the Bebech Home, Boston. Miss Dorothy Bishop's claim will be in charge of this project.

The community extends deepest sympathy to Mrs. M. O. Spikes, and sons in the death of Miss.

THE ESTABLISHMENT

Britain's "Angry Young Man" on the political front call what we term "the setup." That is to say the status quo, by another name, "the Establishment." Their designation is now part of the common Anglo-American language and heritage. We all know what it means: the people with a stake, a vested interest in keeping things as they are, in letting (as Sir Robert Walpole advised) "sleeping dogs lie," in not upsetting the apple-cart. Grim Death, however, is no respecter of mankind's wishes and often removes without notice those human props upon whom we have laxly come to rely, our leaders from whom we expect much in return for the little aid which we give them. Such a leader was Hon. Dr. Silas F. "Shag" Taylor, for four decades the foremost Negro Democrat in the Commonwealth, versatile, genial and astute. His lamentable passing by reason of an automobile accident has left a void in the vanguard of our political leadership which will not soon be filled. The Establishment among Negro Bostonians, for example, has been shaken to its foundations, with secondary leaders jockeying for position as avidly as such gentry always endeavor to succeed to the dominant role of a strong personality like "Shag".

Individualism is the bane of Bay State Negro politics, and so unless they are careful, some ambitious leaders will alienate the actions of the group and become the baubles in a political game of ring toss, where none previously existed or by widening gaps which the deft skill of "Shag" narrowed or closed. The fact is that the Democratic landslide imposed unusual duties upon Negro Democratic leadership. Our leaders in that party should know from their political experience that a minority electorate like ours is at a disadvantage whatever there is a grand sweep on any level, but above all because the weight of the white man is a gift of God, a natural advantage which cannot be faked, and was the basis of "Shag's" humanist, rian spirit. Either people come first or they don't, and we aspirants for the mantle of Democratic leadership in this Commonwealth must demonstrate the priority of our people in their thoughts by organizing immediately, house by house, block by block, precinct by precinct, ward by ward. Only in this way will the Negro move forward from "Shag's" example. Only in that way shall we enrich our heritage by increasing its bounty. That is how we shall consolidate the gains of the November 4 election while placed two Negro representatives at the same time from the same majority party in the state legislature.

Q. The firm I've been working for is moving so far out of this area that it will be impossible for me to follow it. In the event I fail to get another position, please tell me how to have my money back.

A. I am earning $175 per week, and my wife and I are both 65 years old. If I retire now, how much would we get?—M. W.

Rexbury, Mass.

A. The two of you would get $175 each for each month of service in January 1960, based on the information you gave. However, the monthly payment would be increased to $175.00 in January 1960, because of the tax increases to the Social Security Act.
