Desegregated Churches

Walter L. Nathan of Groveland, chairman of the Social Action Committee of the Congregational Conference, in his report denied that "the Sunday morning church service is the most segregated institution in America," as charged in a recent magazine article.

He said that "in our Congregational churches in Massachusetts, we were very pleased to discover that Negroes or Orientals were in attendance in more than one-half of the churches covered and that nine of our traditionally white churches had a substantial number of Negroes in their membership and attendance.

Charity Ball Is Huge Success

By Harriette Hawkins

Friday, May 28, the main ball room of the Sheraton Plaza Hotel, Copley Sq., was the scene of the first charity ball presented by the New England Association of Bowling Leagues. Recipient of this year's proceeds was the NAACP, and the grant was given in commemoration of the Supreme Court's decision on integration in the public schools.

Awards in the form of plaques were presented to Miss Bea Wiggin and Mrs. Stacia Czernicki, each having been women's singles champion in the Heart campaign in 1952 and 1958 respectively.

Keynote Joseph Cavina, 37, champion, and Henry "Lou" Avila, 38, winner, also gained prizes.

In basketball it was Bob Courcy and Bill Russell, Walter Brown, manager of Boston Celtics and Bruins, received for the latter two in their absence. Because of a heavy schedule, Jackie Robinson could not be present, and so Mrs. Melinae Cass of the NAACP received on his behalf.

The ladies' gowns were breathtaking. There were lace, net, taffeta and silks. Beautiful strapless gowns with bouffant skirts, sheath type and even some chemise styles which were elegant. It was like being in a gorgeous floor garden, watching the lovely colors blend as the ladies and their perfectly groomed and popular Court Basie and his escort danced to the music orchestra.

It was so unfortunate, however, that a few persons had to be refused admittance because of improper attire. The association assures them that it was as embarrassing to them to have to do it, but feels that between radio broadcasts and newspaper advertisements and articles, the people should have known.

Award Winners

Among 17 student members of Sat-Club Creations, award winning teenage Junior Achievement company sponsored by Eastern Gas and Fuel Associates were Selven A. Brown of 90 Hammond St., Roxbury, English High School senior; Michael I. Holmes of 206 Huntington ave., Boston, Boston Latin School junior; and Patricia E. Paris of 17 Hammond St., Roxbury, Girls' High School senior.

By Mark C. Grimes

In an unprecedented attempt to prevent disaster, a meeting was held May 19 at the Robert Gould Shaw House, Roxbury, with the principals involved being representatives from clubs in Roxbury, from the police, juvenile authorities, and social workers.

In this day when the hue and cry concerning the younger generation has been anything but complimentary, this marks a step toward recognizing the fact that individuals are capable of meeting together orderly and ironing out their difficulties intelligently.

As a result of this meeting a possible gang war was nipped in the bud and the door was opened for further meetings, understanding among the teen-age groups and the authorities, and the way paved for social workers to plan and direct these groups into more useful activities.

At the meeting with the Youth groups were: Officer Range, Juvenile Officer at Station 16, John Shelburne, boys worker at Shaw House; Walter Byars, assistant boys' worker; and Jack Russell of the Roxbury YMCA. The meeting was conducted by the teenagers in a manner that would put to shame adult group meetings under far less pressure. Grievances were aired, conclusions drawn, agreements and arrangements for further meetings made. Fifteen minutes after adjournment, no one was on the streets, and no outbreaks occurred during the evening that could in any way be traced to this gathering.

Urged to Run For State Office

Attorney Herbert E. Tucker, Jr., president of the Boston Branch NAACP and president of the Roxbury Community Council, on query by this newspaper, has confirmed the rumor that friends have been urging him to announce his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for state representative from Ward 12, where he has resided for many years.

TWA Hires First Negro Stewardess

By Samuel F. Perry, Jr.

New York — After a year of prodding by both the National Urban League and the State Commission Against Discrimination (SCAD), the Trans World Airlines, Inc. (TWA) became the first international airline this week to hire a Negro stewardess, Lamey Miss Margaret Grant, 21, of the University of California here. She is a psychology major.

TWA has been very much in the news for the past year after Miss Dorothy Franklin, a local librarian, filed a formal complaint with SCAD alleging that she was not hired by the airline because of her color and race. At the time a non-thinking TWA official told SCAD that Miss Franklin had not been hired because of her "unattractive" appearance. SCAD investigators indicated that they emphatically disagreed with TWA's version of "attractiveness." TWA investigators recommended the filing of a "just cause" complaint by Miss Franklin against TWA.

Urban League Took First Step

The first step in the drive for airlines to hire Negro stewardesses was undertaken by the National Urban League at a conference with officials of all major and secondary airlines. At the conference all the lines promised to upgrade qualified Negro into supervisory positions and to hire Negro stewardesses whenever qualified Negro girls became available.

When the airlines hesitated jointly and separately to undertake the hiring of Negro girls as stewardesses, Lesters Granger again focused public attention on the issue.

The State Commission Against Discrimination (SCAD) as stipulated by the State Law Against Discrimination, would step into the picture only after Miss Franklin was found to have "just cause" in filing a complaint alleging discrimination.

It was only after SCAD Commissioner Edward Conway practically threatened a public hearing last February that TWA officially agreed to hire a Negro girl within ninety days.

HOMAGE TO JACK MINOR

His colleagues in the ministry deserve commendation for the testimonial which they propose to tender Rev. Manasseh Jacob Minor, pastor of Metropolitan Baptist Church, Roxbury, next Monday evening. "Jack" Minor has labored longer in the vineyard of religious and community welfare than his youthful appearance would indicate. Close to Roxbury District Court, as all the judges can testify, he has snatched many a juvenile brand from the fiery furnace and set it aglow in an adult life of useful and creditable service. He has given his time without stint to various and sundry civic efforts, having served for many years as an officer of the Boston Branch NAACP. He was perhaps the first Negro clergyman to be elected moderator of the Boston West (Baptist) Association, and he held the office with consummate skill and tact.

We wish Rev. Minor Godspeed in his retirement, and hope that the entire Greater Boston community will delight to honor one of its most devoted citizens.

GREELEY FOR PRESIDENT OF UNITARIANS

The intervention of outsiders, however well intentioned, in the internal affairs of any group is often resented, and we do not intend to offend the sensibilities of the delegates attending the May meetings of the American Unitarian Association who are charged with the duty of selecting a successor to the late Rev. Dr. Frederick May Eliot as president. So enthusiastic is our pleasure in learning of the candidacy of Rev. Dr. Dana McLean Greeley, pastor of Arlington St. Church, that we must risk giving offense in expressing our hope that he will be elected. Held in universal esteem throughout New England, Dr. Greeley evokes admiration, respect, and confidence from those outside the communion of his faith. Not only local patriotism is the generator of Boston's best wishes for Dr. Greeley's rise to national office, because he has been president of the Unitarian Service Committee, Inc., and will most likely be elected to the board of overseers of Harvard University, his Alma Mater, next month. Negro Bostonians have a special, almost vested, interest in his career, for he has served them for many years as a member of the board of directors of the Boston Urban League and has appeared on the rostrum of the Robert Shaw House.

Notable for his leadership in safeguarding civil liberties and civil rights Dr. Greeley has set an example of courageous fidelity to the loftiest ideals of truly democratic Americanism, which has tolerance as one of its most important components. The whole nation would profit from exposure to his spiritual guidance.

Commencements

Charlotte, N. C. — Commencement exercises at Johnson C. Smith University have been scheduled to begin May 31, and close on June 2, when over one hundred candidates for graduation will receive degrees.

Dr. Herman L. Turner, pastor at Covenant Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., Atlanta, Ga., will deliver the commencement address at 11 o'clock, Monday, June 2. The baccalaureate service will be held at 4 o'clock, Sunday, June 1, with Dr. Arthur R. McKay, president of McCormick Theological Seminary, Chicago, delivering the sermon.

Greensboro, N. C. — A prominent educator and government official of the new nation of Ghana, West Africa, who played an important role in the transfer of power from Great Britain to the independence of his country, will deliver the final address at A&T College.

Daniel A. Chapman, now ambassador from Ghana to the United States, is scheduled to speak at the 90th annual commencement exercises at the college. The program, an outdoor affair, will be held on the outdoor quadrangle, beginning at 4 p. m., on Monday, June 2.

Hawkins, Texas — Jarvis Combs, May 23, at 5 p. m., is Atty. Theodore Berry, senior member of the firm of Berry, McLean, White and Posey, Cincinnati, Ohio. Eight years' service on the Cincinnati City Council provided some unique experiences for Mr. Berry. Among them are Vice Mayor of Cincinnati, chairman of the city's all important Finance committee, chairman of the city capital improvements committee under which a $5 million dollar improvement program received voter approval in 1956, and chairman of the Special Housing and Urban Renewal Committee which has launched a long range program of slum clearance, neighborhood rehabilitation, residential and industrial development.

WINS FELLOWSHIP

BALTIMORE — Benjamin A. Quarles, professor and head of the dept. of history and political science at Morgan State College, has been awarded a Guglielmo Award Fellowship for research next year.

Dr. Quarles will study the role of the Negro in the American Revolutionary War as his project. He is a son of a prominent slave owner (one of his brothers is Attorney Henry E. Quarles, a former assistant corporation counsel) is a graduate of Harvard University, Raleigh, N. C., and holds the A.M. degree and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Wisconsin. He served as dean of instruction at Dillard University, New Orleans, from 1947 until he joined the Morgan faculty in 1952.

THE FACTS

By Columbus Tremont

To hear the average argument on the Avenue (Blue Hill, Columbus or Humboldt) is to become painfully aware of how far some of us have to go before they are really prepared for integration. Most of us cloud mouthed, dispirited talk mostly about what they know least. They never attend lectures from which they might learn something, like those at Community Church or Ford Hall Forum, for instance, and they nevertheless knob for channel 2 on TV or listen to the quiz programs. Many of us ought to have heard Robert St. John, the famed correspondent, describe the Union of South Africa as a "land of fear" — a vast lunatic asylum in which the inmates are afflicted with a fear of each other, of the future, of the truth." He means the advocates and supporters of Apartheid, of course, not the oppressed majority of the Bantu people, the Indians, or the Cape Coloured.

Anybody disposed to bury his head in the sand like a stupid ostrich in the Sahara or Kalahari will be jolted into reality by the fact that the Boston and Maine Railroad, which employs many of us, last Monday decreed a layoff of 1000 workers, some in maintenance, where most of our folks are. An economy measure eliminated a hundred commuter trains and closed 45 stations. Suburbanites will have to stand often of most of their journey and sometimes arrive late for work, but they are foolish if we worry about them, because most of us cannot even buy homes in the suburbs when we have the money.

Congregationalists in the Bay State can trace their origins back anchor in Plymouth Harbor, got to 1620 when the Pilgrims sank their first footing on Plymouth Rock, which tourists from all parts of the country and world now come to see, and established their first church at the Pilgrims Fort Meeting-House, now being rebuilt at a cost of $25,000.

History is philosophy teaching by example. Today's Congregationalists are meeting today's challenges. Delegates from 595 churches took a strong stand on race relations at their 159th annual three-day conference, which pointed out: "We are convinced that patterns of residential segregation based on race constitute a major barrier to integrated churches and communities in the state." They called upon membership for adequate housing and community facilities "available to all persons without regard to race, and to refrain from lending their resources or participating in schemes that perpetuate segregation."

The Pilgrims' housing problem was basic how to build log-cabin shelters to protect them from the rigors of a new climate and to safeguard them against wild animals and hostile Indians. Ours is also basic, survival to enjoy good living with all the benefits of technological advancement which would have amazed Captain Myles Standish as well as Chief Massasoit.

The fight for the Democratic nomination for Congress from the 10th District is certain to be lively, now that City Councilor Edward F. McLaughlin, Jr., has announced his candidacy. He is a graduate of Boston Latin School, Dartmouth College, the Tufts School of Business Administration, and Harvard Law School. He is a practicing attorney. During World War II he served with John F. Kennedy in the famed Solomon Islands PT boat squadron.

Next Sunday, May 25, at the annual commencement of Andover-Newton Theological Seminary, Newton Center, one of the graduates will be an African who never saw a white man until he was ten years old. He is Ndabanzi Sithula from Southern Rhodesia. He ran away from home, as small boys have done elsewhere, and came under missionary influence. After attending missionary schools, he took a correspondence course with the College of London in England. Before conversion he had been treated by witch doctors. Now he will receive his bachelor's of Divinity degree and return to his homeland. He has a wife and four children in Africa.

New York—United States Steel Foundation, Inc., has announced grants of $2 million to 655 of nation's privately-supported liberal arts colleges, science and engineering institutes, public and private universities and medical schools, and to several educational associations and groups.

Rep. Curtis Says:

VITAL ISSUES — One of the vital issues before the Congress relates to labor legislation. It can best be judged in relation to its background. In bygone days labor law was unfavorable to labor. Strikes were often regarded as "conspiracies" and enjoined, the Norris-LaGuardia Act of 1932 went far to change this; and labor injunctions were largely outlawed.

The Wagner Act of 1935 went further in this direction. It established the right of employees to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing, and union membership increased during the following twenty years from something over 3 million to around 18 million.

Teh Wagner law was criticized as having gone too far in favor of labor, and the Taft-Hartley law was passed in 1947 in an alleged effort to redress the balance and give greater protection to the public and rank-and-file union members.

Although adversely criticized by the leaders of organized labor, the Taft-Hartley law has not been amended. Even those favorable to the law recognize that some amendments are desirable.

Recently, the revelations of the McClellan Committee have led to renewed interest in labor legislation. This was a special Senate Committee to investigate improper work for adequate housing and community facilities, chaired by Senators John L. McClellan of Arkansas, Senator John F. Kennedy is also a member of the committee. The committee is headed by F. Kennedy, is its chief counsel.

Beauty Hints

BY NINA TEMPLE
One Woman's Beauty Secret Tranquility

A certain woman-faced woman was asked the secret of her beauty. "If you want to stay as young as I am," she seemed never to be out of sorts, disturbed, or irritated. Her answer was unique. "I'll tell you," she said, "but you will be unlazy yourself if you want to stay the secret. It is simply this: Each night, with a bit of cold cream, massage the tip end of your spine for about three minutes. Afterwards, get up, and go to bed, and find yourself tranquilized and at ease, ready and fit for a long, peaceful night of rest. Thus my madonna-like face."

ROUND UP

Chicago — Ten per cent of the 280,000 Protestant churches in the U.S. are integrated, and leading churchmen are finding that the teaching of Christianity and peace is the best way to bring them together, according to an article in the May issue of Ebony magazine.

Ten years ago, says Ebony, the Sunday morning church service was considered "the most segregated hour in America." A survey of every major denomination and churches in 20 typical cities showed that this statement, still true in many areas, is losing its sting.

Nashville, Tenn. — Thirty-six college presidents were among the hundreds of persons who recently witnessed the inauguration of Dr. Stephen J. Wright as president of Fisk University.

The investment of the president by Dr. Phillip M. Widenhouse, rector of the University of the American Association and chairman of the Fisk board of trustees, was an impressive rite. It signalled the beginning of another era in the history of the institution, known liberal arts college, now almost 100 years old.

NATIONAL ROUNDUP

Greensboro, N. C.—The founding of the State of Israel, now celebrating its tenth anniversary, not only marked a turning point in the history of the Jewish people, but was also an event of great significance in the experience and life of the world at large, Shmuel Kahana told the Bennett College vespers audience Sunday.

Mr. Kahana, second secretary of the Embassy of Israel in Washington, recalled that the events of ten years ago marked the third time that the Jewish people had returned to their homeland: the first time, 3500 years ago when they were led by Moses and 1000 years later when exiles were permitted to return.

Hampton, Va. — Dr. Hugh M. Gloster, chairman of the Department of Language and Literature at Hampton Institute, has been selected for a "distinguished contribution award" given by the College Language Association at Texas Southern University, Houston, Texas, April 24-28.

Atlanta—Dr. Robert G. Armstrong, professor of anthropology at Atlanta University, has received a grant of 500 pounds (approximately $15000) from the government of the Northern Region of Nigeria to assist in the English-Idoma dictionary.

SIDE GLANCES

By Vin Haynes

This afternoon's State Meet at White Stadium should produce much of that sterling running caught during the indoor season and in the recent Reggies. More than 100 schools will be enter in today's meet making the competition keener.

Rindge Tech's Johnny Thomas should continue his domination in the high jump and we're apt to see a new record there. He'll probably also come up with a 1 post performance of his indoor dual win which included the hurdles.

English's relay team bears the most watching in foursome activity. Newpion and Rindge will be likely threats, too.

The Boston Selkirks baseball club's coming along in great style in the Park League twilight league. Johnny Purdy expects to have the best year in some time since their slump three seasons ago. Already they have posted two wins against four losses. They topped Wallbank 12-6.

Last weekend was award period for a pair of great basketball figures. B'Nai B'rith honored Celtics ace Bill Russell at its 6th annual dinner here in Boston, while New York City's Yeshiva University handed its 1958 Sportsman Award to ex All American Lee from Long Island University. After more than seven years with the Syracuse Nationals 5 ft. 7 1/2 inch forward Earl Lloyd was sold to the Detroit Pistons last week. The sale of Lloyd now lessens the Nats' veteran strength to eight players.

Raynham, Mass.—One of the largest entries in the history of the track has been entered in the Juvenile Stake event May 30 at Raynham Park, according to racing secretary Tom Benner, who booked the first point getting round for this week at Russ Murray's oval. With 32 entries for the $5,000 purse and the accompanying honors, Benner has scheduled the first round for Thursday and Friday. The second round will be staged on Monday and Tuesday, May 26 and 27 with eight highest point getters slated to compete in the finale on Memorial Day.

Reggie Track Record Broken

Ronnie Lawrence of Boston English and Lowell, Davidson of Latin established new marks in the Regimental track meet at White Stadium last week. The English Class A relay team, including Lawrence and three other individual victors, also cracked the standing record.

As Latin's Class B relay anchor, Davidson upset English's hope for a repeat clean sweep in the three class relays as the Blue and Blue accomplished a fortnight ago.

Lawrence turned in a sparkling Class A 440 yard run with Noel Hill of Tech registering second place in the 50 seconds effort. The English High star eclipsed his days performance as he joined other winners Bar Graham, Dermot Tiernan and anchor man Joe Goodwater in blanketing Tech and Trade relay teams with a new mark of 1:22. Baels Teammate Goodwater received a keen challenge from teammate Tom Parker in the 220 yard dash as he clinched the event in 22.2. John Kent of Tech and Bob Hector of Trade finished third and fourth.

Graham triumphed in the 100 yard dash in 10.2 seconds with teammates Bobby Coyne and Ted Turner in hot pursuit as well as Lanny Jackson of Memorial. In the 800 yard run Tiernan added another triumph for English.

Although appearing a bit weary Davidson lowered the Class B 440 yard record to 51.8 seconds far ahead of Henry Young of Tech. His long stride proved to be even more powerful in his brilliant anchor finish to beat English in the relay clash.

Lytle Victor Bobby Harrell of Trade and Billy Lytle of Tech reigned respectively in the A low and high hurdles with Bobby clipping his course in 21.6 seconds and Bill achieving his win in 15.7 seconds.

The Hullums, Leighton for Memorial and Johnny for Trade, took home respective triumphs in the 3 880 yard run and C 75 yard low hurdles. Leighton edged out Pete Long of Trade in 2:14 while Johnny outtraced threatening Randy Benn over the timbers to a 9.0, seconds finish.

Among other victors were Onslow Bacoet of Tech over mates Larry Johnson and Jimmy Settlers in C 440, George Brown of English in C 50 and Trade's Norm Brugo in C 220 yard dash.
