Truman Says Dixiecrats Can't Walk Out

SEN. JOHN F. KENNEDY (second right) chats with headtable guests who came from afar to greet him last Saturday evening at a testimonial dinner in Hotel Statler Hilton at which he was awarded a plaque by the Mass. Citizens Committee for Minorities Rights for his outstanding record as Congressman and Senator on behalf of civil rights legislation. Left the right: Senator Paul H. Douglas of Illinois, native of Salem; Bishop W. J. Walla, presiding bishop of the AME Zion Church; Senator Kennedy; and Hon. Hutan E. Jack, president of the borough of Manhattan, New York City. By Samuel P. Perry, Jr.
Former President Harry S. Truman sharply criticized President Eisenhower for what he called "Daylight saving time ends tonight, Saturday, October 25."

Truman "failed" to exercise the proper leadership at the proper time with respect to school integration in the South.

Speaking at the testimonial dinner given at the Sheraton-Plaza for Attorney General Edward J. McCormack, Jr., the fiery Mr. Truman scored at the possibility that Southern Democrats might blot the parity over civil rights.

"The South," he told his listeners, "isn't going to secede again. They've seceded in 1860 and 1948 and they lost both times. They won't take that chance again."

Mr. Truman indicated that it was "unfortunate" that in the last four years since the 1954 desegregation decision the U. S. Supreme Court that "proper leadership" had not been exerted.

"When the respected leaders of communities defy the law, the crackpots and extremists take heart. They come to believe that they, too, can break the law with impunity."

Ernest Headley writes:

From now until November 4, Election Day, across Massachusetts will be people who should go out and vote. Remember, along the line I hope this appeal will strike a responsive chord. No reason have ever been given why people should stay away from the polls.

Voting is not only a right and a privilege—it is also a responsibility.

If we are to have responsible government, then thousands of people must do their part to see that the right leaders are elected. I do not care for whom you vote — my main interest is that you get out and vote for the candidate of your choice on Tuesday, November 4.

Beauty Hints

BY NINA TEMPLE
THINK BEAUTY

Some years ago I saw a young, beautiful blind girl in her early teens seated outside of a large department store with pencils to sell. All day long she was engaged. A few years passed. I saw her again sitting in the same seat before the self-same door. Only she herself had changed. It was astounding to note the havoc the few years had brought. She had skipped middle age and maturity, and was now an old woman weathered and wrinkled, in short, withered.

What had been her thoughts in the interim? Imagine them. They had been of sufficiently blasting power to make of her an old woman without the intermediary stations. Beauty is encouraged to thrive and live under hopeful, bright and pleasantly eventful circumstances. Hereof of all thoughts that will encourage the prolonging and perfection of beauty's reign, she becomes a prey to despondency, gloom, and hopelessness. Listen: "Think beauty and you will nourish it."

SIGMA PRESENT ADOPTIONS SPEAKER

Speaking on the subject of 'Inter-adoption', Miss Letitia DiVirgilio supervisor of adoptions, Children's Service Association, on Sunday afternoon at the St. John's Episcopal Church, Tremont Street, Roxbury, urged the auxiliary of the Sigma Shadows to take an active part in the work of adoption of children from the Far East, especially Korea and Hong Kong.

Miss DiVirgilio described the difference between the adoption of the American child and the children who came from the Far East. She said that the entire problem was one of the aftermaths of World War II when many children were left without parents. Relating the disadvantages which the children of mixed races suffered, she told of the comparative comfort which they enjoyed when they were brought to the Western Hemisphere. She said that the modern conception of the adoption of children was clear and firm and it was essential that every child should have a home. Many of these children were now in institutions and it was amazing to see how these children adopted themselves when they were taken into congenial homes.

"Somewhere there is a mother and father for children of this type" she asserted. It was necessary, she continued, that those women with a maternal feeling should be of mature years, because invariably they had the time and were not burdened with the exigencies of modern life.

Finally, she told of the serious business of adoption agencies and described in detail how those who were minded to undertake humanitarian work of this kind should go about it.

The function concluded after some lively questions from members of the audience.

GREAT DAY IN THE MORNING

Some dates are memorable in the history of mankind. The Fourth of July, for example, commemorates the signing of the Declaration of Independence by the Founding Fathers. The birthday of George Washington is celebrated on the 22nd of February, and Christmas is December 25. Those are some of the dates which never vary. We cannot predict whether May 17 will be observed in the future, when segregation is only a memory, in perpetual observance of the U.S. Supreme Court's decision in 1954 outlawing public school segregation. Today (Saturday, October 25) is one of those days which will predictably be important in world history, for it will mark the commencement of the conclave of the Sacred College of Cardinals who will choose the successor to Pope Pius XII. If Ernesto Cardinal Ruffini or Gregory Peter XV Cardinal Agagianian, Patriarch of the Armenians, is selected, persons who think that an Italian or a foreign prince of the Church in the Curia is the inevitable choice will rejoice in the outcome of what must be only speculation at best. That there is such universal interest in the next occupant of the Papacy attests to the solidity of the Roman Catholic Church amid all the heavy assaults against it by Communism, Nationalism, Secularism and Materialism those foes to its very existence and spiritual mission.

In Boston's Negro community today will be historic on a smaller scale, for it will mark the first official visit by Hon. Sir Granville Herbert Adams, Prime Minister of the Federation of the West Indies, since he vacated the post of Premier of Barbados to devote his energies as a statesman to guiding the future of a whole British Commonwealth of Nations region along the path of self-government on the basis of democratic freedom. We greet Sir Granville with warm fraternal hopes for success, for we are mindful of the difficulties of a statesman in solving the problems of a new nation.

ARE THE YOUTH GOING TO MARCH?

The "Youth March for Integrated Schools" scheduled to take place today in the nation's capital evidently generated little enthusiasm among Boston's "best generation" to judge from the lack of response to the ranks of the school going youth. With the nation NAACP Youth Council virtually inactive, anyhow far from robust, though it was the germinal factor in stimulating interest, it seems that nonresidents attending the colleges and universities in the Greater Boston vicinity will be the chief delegates, along with superannuated "youths by courtesy" — persons of both sexes on the leeward side of thirty. The harried and harassed teenagers have simply not been reached, though a disciplined jaunt to Washington, under the voluntary discipline of supervision imposed by the urgency of a cause with which they are bound to be vitally concerned, would rescue scores from the despair and frustration confusing them.

Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., upon whom the nearly fatal attack was made, is probably still not physically strong enough to lead the Youth March, though God has spared him to continue in giving us the benefit of his sagacious leadership. However, his valiant helmet and Jackie Robinson will be the leaders. We hope that they will not judge Boston's poor showing in the line of march as typical of its entire citizenry's indifference or permanent, so far as the participation of its Negro residents goes, in militant social or political action for the freedom of full citizenship implicit in school integration.

D. C. BAR ASSN. FINALLY ADMITS NEGRO LAWYERS
Washington, D. C. (Special) The District of Columbia Bar Association has finally voted to admit Negro lawyers into its membership.

Specifically, the issue, decided by a vote of 583 to 224, was whether the Association by-laws would be amended by striking the word "white" from membership requirements.

The vote was 46 more than the necessary two-thirds majority.

The controversial issue was first raised in May 1956.
The Association's Committee on Civil Rights recommended a change in the by-laws in a report filed in May of this year.

At that time the Committee stated that the exclusion of qualified lawyers from membership on racial grounds impaired the organization's activities and led to its recommendations being totally disregarded.

"Furthermore," continued the committee's members, "the Association remains virtually the professional organization in the District of Columbia which still excludes professionally qualified persons solely because of their race."

THE FACTS

By Columbia Tremont

Endorsements flutter all over the lot during a campaign, and most of them are valuable to the candidates who get them. For example, Daniel J. Donovan, general vice president of the Atlantic Coast District of the International Longshoremen's Association, has called upon the union membership to support Senator John F. Kennedy for re-election November 4. In a letter to Senator Kennedy, Mr. Donovan stated that the union appreciated "the work you have done to insure better working conditions for us and to strengthen the maritime industry."

Undersecretary of State Christian A. Herter, Sr., former Bay State Governor, has informed the Citizens for Gibbons Committee that he gives full endorsement to Republican candidate Charles Gibbons in his race for Governor. Negro committee members include Mrs. Clarence R. Elam, Councillor Herbert L. Jackson of Malden, Rev. Dr. Richard M. Owens, and Gustave M. Solomon, of Cambridge.

Senator James W. Hennigan, Jr., of Jamaica Plain, has urged his constituents to support John J. Sallouhan, Jr., Democratic nominee for Congress in the Tenth District.

Congressman Richard B. Wiglesworth, of Milton, who has been endorsed by President Eisenhower as Ambassador to Moscow, has issued a statement urging the support and election of Christian A. Herter, Jr., as Attorney General.

At its political education meeting of Wednesday, October 8, the Mass. Federation of Labor endorsed Senator John F. Kennedy. Governor Foster Furcolo, and Lieutenant Governor Robert F. Murphy for re-election. Saturday, October 25, the organization will hold its ninth annual dinner and will present its Commemorative Memorial to Senator Kennedy.

W. Algeon Crawford, leader of the Democratic Labor Party in Barbados, British West Indies, and one of the pioneers in the struggle for self-government which eventuated in the Federation of the West Indies, is visiting the Hub. His visit coincides with that of Hon. Sir Granville Herbert Adams, C.M.G., Prime Minister of the Federation, for whom Mayor John B. Hynes is tendering a luncheon Saturday, October 25.

Postmaster General Arthur R. Sumnerfield was urged October 17 by Senator Theodore Francis Green (Rhode Island Democrat) to order an immediate investigation of the circulation of anti-Negro and anti-Jewish "hate sheet" in the Providence vicinity.

Saturday, November 1, at Freedom House, 14 Crawford St., Roxbury, there will be a housing conference sponsored by the New England Regional Conference NAACP, of which Mrs. Ruth M. Batson is president.

In a hard-hitting statement to the voters of Wards 4, 5, and 22, Rep. James C. Bayley, Republican candidate for State Senator, has termed attacks by his opponent as "unfair," especially the allegation that Mr. Bayley had "encouraged a 50 per cent increase in rents." Rep. Bayley stated: "My Bill No. 1678 would have limited severely any rate increase in the district. Failure of this Bill to pass has forced the door wide open for unlimited rent gouging which has already forced long-time residents of the district to move—including myself."

Rep. Bayley announced: "My opponent has agreed to debate all the vital issues of this campaign on Tuesday, October 28, at 5 p.m., at the University Club under the auspices of the non-partisan State Club, and, of course, we have agreed to underwrite all expenses."

Contending in the election against Rep. Bayley is the Democratic nominee, Rep. Richard R. Caples of Ward 21.

Political give the lead to each in his respective ward, with Ward 4 holding the decisive balance of power, particularly the Negro voters who are mainly Independents.

Harry Silva, president of the United Portuguese-American Association, Inc., is happy to announce that a reception for Senator John F. Kennedy will be held in St. Rose Hall, 17 Worcester St., Boston, Wednesday evening, Oct. 29.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. I was born in April, 1899, and have been working in Social Security since July, 1954. I want to give up my job, but not before I am fully insured under Social Security, because my husband has always worked in a federal job that is not covered. Am I insured now?—M. J. Roxbury, Mass.

Q. I am earning $54.00 per week. How much would I get if I retire now at age 69?—G. C. Roxbury.

A. Based on the information you furnish, your monthly payment would be $10.00. Your benefit would be increased about seven percent in January, 1959.

Ford Hall Forum

ROBERT FROST, poet laureate of New England, will revisit Boston's Ford Hall Forum, Sunday evening, October 26, for an intimate evening in which he will discuss and read his poems. The evening with Robert Frost, one of the Forum's most popular speakers, will open at 8:00 o'clock on Ford Hall.

Frost, a native New Englander who published his first work in England, has four times won the Pulitzer prize. The year was 1924 when he won the Academy of American gold medal for Distinguished Service. Although he has never completed a book of poems, he is a familiar figure on college campuses throughout the world lecturing on many faculties. Both Cambridge and Oxford Universities in England, as well as several American Colleges and universities, have awarded him honorary degrees.

Judge Reuben L. Lurie will preside at this meeting. Doors open at 7:45 p. m. and the public is cordially invited to attend.

On November 2, the Forum's 51st session will continue with a discussion by professor Oscar Handlin of Harvard University and journalist Gerald W. Johnson on the chances for the election of a Catholic president.

ANTI-NEGRO PAMPHLET DISTRIBUTED IN NEW YORK

Newburgh, N. Y. (Special) The Newburgh Board of Education agreed to ask the U. S. Department of Justice to take action against the distributors of an anti-Negro pamphlet.

One of the pamphlets was received by City Manager Albert J. Abrams urging the Council to go on record against the "incitations of the white race" and to oppose the NAACP.

The pamphlets were reportedly sent to the Citizens Council of Greenwood, Miss. and here a Phoenix, Ariz. postmark.

The Rambler

Well, here we go again . . . . . Indications are that the political campaigns of the two major parties have swung into the "rough politics" stage . . . . . The testimonial dinner given for Senator John F. Kennedy at the Statler-Hilton last week had a variegated list of guests. The various factions of the political alignments were represented and, in the words of an outside reporter, all were jockeying for a key position. All in all, it was an interesting affair. After the dinner, Howard Murphy of the Baltimore publishing family, managed to sneak in a chat with Attorney Matthew W. Bullock, former chairman of the State Parole Board.

In New York city the kid gloves have been taken off. Some observers feel that Congressman Powell should not have told the Baptist Ministers annual meeting in Harlem that Nelson A. Rockefeller was not a "friend of the Negro people" in view of substantial assistance in education which his family always came from Rockefeller family, the activity of his ancestors in the Underground Railroad in upstate New York, as well as the position of Winthrop Rockefeller with the Urban League. Winthrop came from Arkansas to lend more than moral support to his brother's campaign for Governor of New York.

In Rhode Island both gubernatorial candidates have pledged to fight against discrimination in pri-ivate housing . . . . . The Boston Tennis club affair at the Hotel Boston last Sunday was successful. Attorney John Murray was a competent master of ceremonies. The girls looked lovely and enjoyed good music provided by Paul Broadnax and his group . . . . . Metropolitan Associates will give an affair at the New Brunswick Hotel (formerly the Hotel Gardner) on October 31.

Governor Foster Parullo was present at a reception held in his honor at the Business and Professional Men's Club, Sunday, Oct. 26. Charles Gibbons, the Republican gubernatorial candidate, will worship at Peoples Baptist Church. He and his wife will greet church members in the vestibule of the church after the sermon by Rev. Richard M. Owens.

Sofia Green, a Nigerian graduate student at Boston University and representative of the African Morning Post, Accra, Ghana, was present at the Senator Kennedy testimonial dinner and managed to talk at length with U.S. Senator Paul H. Douglas of Illinois about African political developments . . . . . It is learned that African students from Kenya will shortly be coming in good numbers to study at local colleges and universities . . . . . Over 1,000 African women were arrested by South African police this week for daring to protest the law requiring women to carry identity cards.

Women In Bowling

By Harriette Harkins

There were some changes made last week as the C.W.B.U. met for the third week of bowling.

The hostess Orla took the lead again. Their match with the Arrows was the most exciting so far this season. Of course three weeks isn't very far into the season, but watching this game for thrills is something for the rest of the league to work on. The Arrows won the first point by a wide margin. Seventy-seven pins in arrears was enough to make a score men a little weak, but not the Orla. They picked up forty-seven pins in the second stanza, and the other girls in the third. After the "smoke" cleared away, the pinfall was tied. Since one of the Arrows left before the final check-up, two frames each will have to be rolled next week to determine the point. A loss by the Orla however would affect their standing in points.

The Flashes "blinded" the Wows to the tune of three points. Carrie Alleyne and Elsie Bushlan led the onslaught with the able assistance of Dottie Hawkins, Rita Mills and Babe Eaton.

The Pins maintained their second place spot by taking the Chips three to one.

The Metcons continue to bowl like champs. The Speedsters and Braves each took three points.

Grace Crudup of the Comets is one of the most improved bowlers in the league. There was a time when she couldn't get beyond the high seventies. She now is the tops on her team and is also bowling better than many who have been at the game much longer than she. Her score for last week was 91-92-113 for a 296.

The league is having a pep rally. Our own Bea Simkins was tendered a testimonial banquet by the Order of Eastern Star at the beautiful Sherry Biltmore, Sunday, October 19.

Flowing tributes were paid by Charles Gibbons, Republican candidate for Governor, Christian A. Herter Jr., and many others. She received many beautiful gifts. Judge Frankland W. C. Miles was the guest speaker. His tribute to Bea was eloquently beautiful. We are proud that she is one of us.

High Scores
Grace Crudup-123, Barbara Lostman, Myrtle Stickland-110, Elsie Bushlan 105, Marie Blvd., Corrie Alleyne, 107 Ann Ginn, Betty

Many of the brave women, charged with "obstruction in public" were carrying babies in their arms. Still the Verwoerd Administration boycotts the special political and fourth (Trusteeship) committee of the UN General Assembly while African problems in South Africa are discussed. Indications are that Dr. Verwoerd, who drafted most of the stringent laws against African movements is none too happy over the dropping of the "treason" charges against 31 African, Indian and European leaders of protest movements in the Union.

Quite a number of qualified out-of-towners have moved into Massachusetts and have taken good paying jobs while local young people have been going elsewhere. It is ironic . . . . . On November 6 the NAACP will conduct for young people a job guidance clinic at Freedom House. A local wall is in for a rude awakening. The other night when he called a Boston miss for a date, his other name was paying a "Café" visit and overheard the conversation . . . . . See you next week.

NATIONAL ROUNDUP

Atlanta—Dr. Rufus E. Clement, president of Atlanta University, has returned to the campus after a three months' absence during which he travelled in West Africa, North Africa as well as Europe, including Russia. Mr. Clement accompanied him on the tour.

The West and North African parts of the trip were concerned chiefly with educational matters. Dr. Clement consulted with the ministers of education in Liberia, Ghana, Nigeria, and Tunisia, and also renewed contacts with former Atlanta University graduates in those countries.

Ita Bena, Mississippi — The Mississippi Vocational College Delta Devils were idle this past week, but utilized the time sharpening their horns for the coming battle with the Paul Quinn Tigers in Magnolia Stadium, Ita Bena, on Saturday, October 25, at 6:00 p. m.

IN MEMORIAM

1951 OCTOBER, 1958
IN LOVING MEMORY OF MATILDA N. PORTUONDO

Oh, what would I give to clap your hand.

Your dear, kind face to see.

Your loving smile, your welcome voice,

That meant so much to me.

No one knows the silent heartache.

Only those who have lost can tell

Of grief that is borne in silence

For the one I loved so well.

My lips cannot tell how I miss her,

My heart cannot tell what to say,

G'd alone knows how I miss her.

In a home that is lonesome today.

ANTHONY R. PORTUONDO, Husband.
