Ghana's Nkrumah Hails 'Friend Nasser'

By Samuel P. Perry, Jr. During the course of an hour Ottawa, Canada — (Special to the Chronicle) — interview with the press Dr. Nkrumah called Lt. Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt his "personal friend" to a joint session of the Canadian Commons Dr. Nkrumah was accompanied by Kojo Botia, Minister of External Affairs and Collective Industry and Commerce and Kod leadership we free and independent. Baako, Minister of Information

How. Edward O. Gourdin of Quincy, center, takes the oath of office last Tuesday as a Superior Court judge of the Commonwealth, being sworn in by Governor Foster Furcolo before an overflow audience in the Senate Chambers at the State House. Special guest at the ceremony was Thurgood Marshall of New York, right, chief counsel of the NAACP.

Ruby Hurley Urges, 'Register To Vote'

More than 500 persons were present at Peoples Bapt. Church last Sunday afternoon, to hear a brilliant address by Mrs. Ruby Hurley of Atlanta, Southern Regional director of the NAACP, who lambasted Negro Bostonians for their complacent smugness. She deplored the fact that evidently the militant tradition of the abolitionists of the pre-Civil War era and of the late William Monroe Trotter had "taken a holiday," as was evidenced by the hundreds of Negroes who are not registered to vote in the September primaries.

Relating the hazards to life and limb which Southern Negroes face in trying to vote Mrs. Hurley called to attention the murder of Rev. George Lee in Mississippi and the present terrorism against Negro citizens in Dawson, Georgia. She was roundly applauded when she declared that she found it difficult to understand how President Eisenhower could promptly send Marines to protect American citizens and property in Lebanon while nine children were now without any such protection in trying to attend an unsegregated high school in Little Rock, Arkansas.

The comely leader who was no stranger to Boston, since she visited the city during her term of office as national NAACP youth director and as a delegate to the stormy 1956 national convention, was accompanied by her secretary Barbara Hawkins of Atlanta.

A parade preceded the meeting.

FATHER OF FOUR DROWNED AT PICNIC

Services were held Wednesday, July 23 for Edward Hardy, 36, of 7 Dillworth St., Boston, who was drowned while swimming Saturday at Whalom Park, near Leominster. Rev. James O. Holway, pastor of Western Avenue Baptist Church, Cambridge, officiated at Chelmsford Funeral Chapel. Interment was in the Veterans section of Mt. Hope Cemetery, Forest Hills.

Mr. Hardy was a veteran of World War II and the Korean conflict, was an employee of the Container Corporation of America, and met his death while on the company's picnic with his wife, Laurie, and four children. It is surmised that he was seized with a cramp.

Camp stages its annual exhibition day program. John A. Sheburn, the camp director, states that a full program will be presented, starting at one thirty in the afternoon.

UNIVERSITY NIGHT AT EBENEZER BAPTIST

Sunday evening, July 27 at 7:30 in Ebenezer Baptist Church, Dr. William Bevensell, pastor, the annual University Night Musical Concert and Reception will be given in honor of visiting summer school teachers and students attending the various universities and colleges of Greater Boston. William Andrew Rhodes, who originated the plan some years ago is chairman of the programme.

GARVEY DAY PLANNED FOR NEXT FRIDAY

New York — The Marcus Garvey Day Committee, in cooperation with the United African Nationalist Movement, will sponsor its annual Garvey Day celebration, Friday, August 1, at West 125th St. and Seventh Avenue.

The meeting will be held outdoors, because Mr. Garvey came from the streets of Harlem and his greatest support came from those who listened to his appeal from the steps of the building, according to James R. Lawson, president of the African Nationalist Movement.

VISITOR — Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana

ent African states may not only safeguard our hard won independence, but also use all the means available to us to emancipate those of our brothers who are still under colonial rule."

Dr. Nkrumah told his attentive listeners that the independent African states were endeavoring to establish among themselves a fundamental unity on domestic and foreign policy and were determined to work together in the economic and cultural fields with the objective of raising the standard of living of their people and playing a leading role in international affairs.

and Broadcasting. Subsequent to private talks with Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker, the Ghanaian leader laid the cornerstone of the W. Clifford Clarke Memorial Center on Riverside Drive, and was guest of honor at a dinner given by Mr. Diefenbaker at the Ottawa Country Club.

Later in the week the dynamic African leader flew to Washington where he was greeted by President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon. He also had a secret session with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles prior to the latter's departure for London.

MEDFORD EVENTS

By Patricia Sayles

Rev. Phillips brought the message to the congregation Sunday. His subject was: "Holding Between Two Opinions." Flowers were given by Mrs. Roger Lightfoot in memory of her aunt and uncle Mary and Lee Chappell. Mr. Chappell was one of the first deacons of the church.

The passing of Rev. Richard Green, 96 Jerome St., is regretted by everyone. May God rest his soul and comfort his wife and family.

Everett, Mass.

Rev. H. Benton Harris, minister at Cottage St.

Among those who attended the evening services with Rev. Benton Harris at Pleasant Hill Baptist Church Sunday night, when he was guest speaker, were Miss Elaine Love, nurse at the McLean Hospital and house guest of Rev. and Mrs. Harris; Melvin Langston, Jayne Taylor, Mrs. Florence Morgan, Mrs. Clara Howard, who was soloist on the occasion; Walter Paris, Shirley Williams, Lattie Clark, Jr., Tony Irving and Mr. and Mrs. J. Williams. Following the preaching a social hour was enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Taylor of Winter St., and family are vacationing in the State of North Carolina. Ned Coleman has returned from a visit accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Mary Spears, where they have spent some time in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Ethel Edward Herberts of 85 Elmwood St. Somerville, along with Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Brothers of Cambridge, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fletcher of Cambridge, will visit the home of Mrs. Margaret Pleasant, age 91, and the oldest living resident of Weymouth, Nova Scotia, for three weeks, leaving on Friday.

Rev. Harris will be teacher of the Life of Christ and camp counselor for two weeks beginning Sunday, July 27 until August 10, at the Royal Ambassador Boys Camp, Ocean Park, N. J.

This is Rev. Harris' 13th season as counselor and also one year he was instructor in the School of Methods at Ocean Park.

Rev. Harris visited Mrs. Aries Ward of national reputation on "This is Your Life," age 96, at Worcester, who has been ill for several weeks.

Rev. Harris and Rev. Custis of the New Era Theological School of Philadelphia attended the Boston Evening Ministers' Conference at the Mt. Calvary Baptist Church Monday night.

The church is grateful to Mr. Conrad Shapron for substituting this summer as organist.

Mrs. Dorothy Patrick and Mrs. Minnie Miller left on Saturday on the first lap of their California journey.

Glad to see Mrs. Mervie West off the sick list and enjoying the summer weather again.

Saturday, July 19, many Medfordites enjoyed themselves picnicking at Salem Willows.

The Benjamin Coleman family are vacationing at Oak Bluffs. Mrs. Barbara Dugger Anderson and four sons from San Diego came East to visit her mother and relatives.

Mrs. Alice Colson will visit her daughter, Deborah and family in Virginia.

Mrs. Kountze is conducting ceramic summer classes at her home, 115 Jerome St., for children between the ages of 8 and 14 on Saturdays from 1 to 3 p.m. Recently Patricia Sayles, Irwin Barnett, Harold Gibson and Cary Price were baptized and they will receive the right hand of fellowship on Communion Sunday. The officers of the church are setting an example for these young people by attending regularly, and the Pastor hopes that all members will follow their example and help the young people on the right path.

PEP BEATS BELL; FARMOS IN TITLE BOUT AT NORWOOD

Wily Willie Pep continued his trailblazing route back towards featherweight crown by administering another knockout to another hopeful young fighter last Thursday, as the former champion pounded out a unanimous ten round verdict over Bobby Bell of Youngstown, Ohio, in Sam Silverman's first outdoor show of the season at Norwood Arena.

Teaches Lesson

Pep demonstrated for his pupil for the second time of both fighters' careers the countless attacks that are in the books. In the first lesson, eight years ago, Pep showered Bell with left hooks and jabs, just enough to prove himself master. Thursday it was a repeat. Only this time Wee Willie blasted home very frequently with his right hand-leads and uppercuts. He did not knock Bobby down, but he scored his points often and well.

Sights Pro Crown

Former amateur light heavy-champion Cardell Farnos, who has been quietly etching his name in the ranks of comers, goes after a plum next Monday, July 28, is the second Callahan A. C. outdoor show when he clashed with Billy Ryan of Lowell for the vacant New England lightweight crown.

A victory for Farnos could port him as a favorite to gain national recognition in a short time. Bearing a small but impressive record, Farnos is capable of delivering a knockout punch with either hand. Unlike most big fighters, he is one of the few quick, shifty scrappers left in these parts.

Ryan had a knockout line and enjoyed top billing in the boxing world for more than a year before a brief retirement. Eager for a comeback, he is regarded as still dangerous to any foe, good or bad. He currently ranks 9th among the nation's lightweights.

Sgt. Jackson Brown chased after Harry Allison's N. England middleweight title in 10 rounds on the same card. This bout may lag in the early rounds, because both lads are noted slow starters, but the action is destined to roll with throttles wide open down through the finishing rounds—it is that long.

The Week in Pictures by Photo Service

Venezuela's New Architecture

Art and architecture form a striking combination at University City in Caracas, Venezuela. This photograph is featured in a special exhibition of Venezuelan architecture sponsored by the Venezuelan Society of Architects and the Creole Petroleum Corporation. Creole, a United States firm, is the largest oil producer in Venezuela. The sculpture is by Henri Laurens and the mural by Fernand Leger. The exhibition is now touring major universities and museums in the United States.

MAN OF VISION

The 175th anniversary of the birthday of Simon Bolivar will be celebrated July 26th. The Great Liberator, who freed six Latin American countries from Spanish rule was born in Caracas, Venezuela, in 1783. He established the first constitutional governments in Latin America and was the first to set forth ideas for Pan-American cooperation and solidarity, in calling the Congress of Panama in 1826.

Although the Treaty of Confederation signed at the Congress did not endure, Bolivar's ideal of individual security for the American republics, through the fair practice of international justice, has taken concrete form in the Organization of American States.

In recognition of this great man the United States Post Office is issuing two stamps in denominations of 4 cents and 8 cents as part of its "Champions of Liberty" series. The same day a commemorative ceremony will be held at the Simon Bolivar statue in Central Park in New York City. In Colombia, Bolivia, Peru and Panama — countries which he liberated — Bolivar's birthday will be marked with special events. In his native Venezuela and in Ecuador it is a national holiday.

An educational service, Creole Petroleum Corporation, a United States company and Venezuela's largest oil producer, has published a full-color "Historical Map of the Life of Simon Bolivar." The map was prepared in cooperation with the Bolivarian Society of the United States, Inc. It is obtainable free of charge from Creole Petroleum Corporation, Dept. R-9, 1230 Avenue of the Americas, New York 20, N. Y.
