Ruby Hurley Urges, 'Register To Vote'

More than 500 people were present at People's Baptist Church last Sunday afternoon, to hear a brilliant address by Mrs Ruby Hurley of Atlanta, Southern Regional director of the NAACP, who lambasted Negro Bostonians for their complacent smoothness. She depicted the fact that evidently the militant tradition of the abolitionists of the pre-Civil War era and of the late William Monroe Trotter had "taken a holiday," as was evidenced by the hundreds of Negroes who are not registered to vote in the September primaries.

Relating the hazards to life and limb which Southern Negroes face in trying to vote Mrs. Hurley called to attention the murder of Rev. George Lee in Mississippi and the present terrorism against Negro citizens in Dawson, Georgia. She was readily ap- palled when she declared that she found it difficult to understand how President Eisenhower could promptly and Marquess to protect American citizens and property in Lebanon while nine children were now without any such protection in trying to at- tend an unenrolled high school in Little Rock, Arkansas.

The comedy leader who won no stranger to Boston, since she visited the city during her term of office as national NAACP youth director and as a delegate to the stormy 1950 national convention, was accompanied by her secretary Barbara Hawkins of Atlanta.

A parade preceded the meeting.

FATHER OF FOUR

DROWNED AT PICNIC

Services were held Wednesday, July 23 for Edward Hardy, 30, of 14 Lilworth St., Boston, who was drowned while swimming Saturday at Whalom Park, near Leominster. Rev. James O. Hol- loway, pastor of Western Avenue Baptist Church, Cambridge, officiated at Chaminel Funeral Chapel. Interment was in the Veteran's section of Mt. Hope Cemetery, Forest Hills.

Mr. Hardy, who was a veteran of World War II and the Korean conflict, was an employee of the Container Corporation of America, and met his death while on the company's picnic with his wife, Laurine, and four children. It is rumored that he was seated with a cramp.

Camp stages its annual exhibition day program, John A. Shelburne, the camp director, states that a full program will be presented starting at one thirty in the after.

UNDEMICING THE SUPREME COURT
Every day state republican must oppose the fact that four of our Commonwealth's Republican Congressmen voted for the bill which the House of Representatives passed on July 17 to prevent the Supreme Court from nullifying certain state laws favor of Federal laws in the same field. They were minority leader Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of North Attleboro and Congressmen Nicholson and Wiggingworth, who formed a coalition with the most reactionary Southern Democrats to secure passage of the bill. To their credit two Republicans, Reps. Laurence Curtis and John W. Clark, both of Lynn, voted against the measure (Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers was not present when the roll call was taken). Headed by Majority leader John W. McCormack; all the Democrats; Congressmen Boland, Donahue, Lane, McDonal, O'Neill and Philbin voted against the Dixicrat inspired bill.

Aimed ostensibly at subversion and sedition cases, the anti Supreme Court bill; which is now before the Senate, has another target -- the historic decision outlawing public school segregation. Although some political observers contend that the future of the bill is doubtful, the approach taken by its enablers to try to get Bay State citizens will write as late as August 3, 1958. John Kennedy, (Democrat) and Leverett Saltonstall (Republican) urged them to vote against the Senate version of the bill passed by the House. Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, has correctly stated that enactment of this bill to limit the jurisdiction of the U. S. Supreme Court would "sell 17 million Negro citizens down the river in states which continue to flout Federal authority."

THE FACTS

By Columbus Trenton
Recognizing that a free trade union movement is indispensable to the growth and strength of the African and Asian countries which have obtained or are struggling to achieve self-government, the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions, International Solidarity Fund and Executive Council, meeting in Brussels, Belgium, will finance an African Labor College at Kamala, Uganda, British East Africa.

The college will train trade union organizers and officers to serve national centers and unions according to their needs.

It will train trade union teachers, thus enabling them to develop rank and file training programs in particular areas or in all the industries in cooperation with the international trade union movement.

The ICFTU already has the African Labor College in Calcutta.

When Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York held a reception last week in his home, the Gracie Mansion, notables from the world of sports, industry, and the arts attended, including the Wimbledon tennis champ, the top five football players, the best league baseball player, and other stars. The event was held last summer by Governor Dewey, who had a real team of baseball players on hand.

In its July 20 edited edition the Rockefeller y Harriman, the Spanish language daily, El Diario, of New York, hailed the candidacy of the "young and dynamic" member of the House of Representatives from Georgia for the Republican nomination for Governor of Georgia. The paper, however, criticizes the "electoral struggle between him and the incumbent Governor Lister Hill.

Many of our Bay State Fellows were of course in Washington, D.C. to attend the Convention, and it was an important day for them. Among them was Sen. Kennedy. Kennedy correctly points out: "Until comparatively recently, the fishing industry was a major stabilizing one in the economy. Today 1,500,000 people are still directly dependent upon it. The gross annual sales are one billion one hundred million dollars."

Rep. Leo Sorrels of Ward Democrat announces that he will not seek reelection in the coming elections, but will devote his full time to his law practice. He is completing three terms, and has been chairman of the committee on crime.

It is generally conceded that Rep. Sontag's decision should help the candidacy of Alfred L. Jordan for the Democratic nomination. The New Hampshire Senator, however, the pentagonal danger of "name-voicing" (peculiar to the Bay State), because a candidate bearing the same patronymic as the retiring incumbent has thrown his hat into the ring.

Why Willie Pep continued his double victory run towards featherweight crown by ad-ministering another buster to another hopeful young fighter last Thursday, as the former champion pounded out a unanimous ten round verdict over Bobby Bell of Youngstown, Ohio, in Sam Silverman's first outdoor show of the season at Norwood Arena.

Teaches Lessons.

Pep demonstrated for his propul for the second time of both fighters' career the countless attacks that are in the books. In the first lesson, eight years ago, Pep showered Bell with left hooks and jabs, just enough to prove himself master. Thursday it was a repeat. Only this time Willie blasted home very frequently with his right hand that lands and uppercuts. He did not knock Bobby down, but he scor ed his points often and well.

A victory for Farmos could again as a favorite to gain national recognition in a short time. Bearing a small but impressive record, Farmos is capable of delivering a knockout punch with either hand. Unlike most big fighters, he is one of the few quick, shifty scrappers left in these parts.

Ryan had a knockout line and enjoyed top billing in the horizon world for more than a year before a brief return to the ring. Coming back, he is regarded as still dangerous to any foe, good or bad. He currently ranks No. 2 among the nation's lightweights. Both Jack Brown of Boston and after Harry Allison of N. England midweight title in 10 rounds on the same card. This bout may be a shoo in the early rounds, because both lads are noted slow starters, but the action is destined to roll with a wide-open down through the finishing rounds if it lasts that long.

Venezuela's New Architecture

Art and architecture form a striking combination at University City in Caracas, Venezuela. This photograph is featured in a special exhibition of Venezuelan architecture sponsored by the Venezuelan Society of Architects and the Creole Petroleum Corporation, a United States firm, in the largest oil producer in Venezuela. The sculpture is by Henri Laurens and the mural by Fernand Leger. The exhibition is now touring major universities and museums in the United States.

MAN OF VISION

The 175th anniversary of the birth of Simon Bolivar will be celebrated July 24th. The Venezuelan leader, who freed and united the American countries, also unified the Spanish-speaking world. Bolivar was born in Caracas, Venezuela, in 1783. He established the first constitutional governments in Latin America and was the first to set forth ideas for Pan-American cooperation and solidarity.

In the Congress of Panama in 1826.

Although the Treaty of Confederation signed at the Congress did not endure, Bolivar's ideal of individual security for the American republic, through the fair practice of international justice, has taken concrete form in the Organization of American States.

In recognition of this great man the United States Post Office is issuing two stamps in denominations of 4 cents and 8 cents as part of the "Champions of Liberty" series. The same day a commemorative service was held at the Simon Bolivar statue in Central Park in New York City. In Colombia, Bolivia, Peru and Panama — countries which he liberated — Bolivar's birthday will be marked with special events.
