Supreme Court Postpones Decision

Washington—In its extraordinary session Thursday afternoon, after hearing oral arguments by counsel on both sides, the U. S. Supreme Court postponed action in the Little Rock school case for two weeks, until Thursday, September 11.

The nine justices requested further briefs and arguments from Miss J. Lee Rankin, U. S. Solicitor General, who presents the Administration's point of view as amicus curiae (friend of the court); Thurgood Marshall, NAACP general counsel; and Richard C. Butler, attorney for the Little Rock School Board. Senator J. William Fulbright, (Arkansas Democrat), former Rhodes scholar at Oxford University, England, asked the court to accept an amicus curiae brief from him in support of delaying integration in Little Rock.

The fundamental issue before the Supreme Court is whether it should vacate a stay granted by the Court of Appeals for the 8th circuit which suspended its own decision reversing the order of District Judge Harry J. Lemley postponing the Little Rock integration for two and a half years.

Taylor is also president of the United Democratic League, stated that many volunteers are needed to insure and assure the re-election of Rep. Pope—whom he hailed as one of the greatest legislators that Ward 9 has sent to the General Court of Massachusetts.

Citizens who wish to aid in the re-election of Rep. Pope may do so by writing Representative Pope of Mr. Taylor, or by calling G-0177-9288.

Edward L. Cooper, executive secretary of the Boston branch NAACP, dispatched one thousand signatures last Wednesday on a petition to Governor James E. Folsom of Alabama urging the Governor to void the sentence of the execution of James Wilson, who had been sentenced or be executed for stealing $1.05.

The petition declared: "To kill a man for robbing another of $1.05 may be in accordance with the letter of the law, but surely no with its spirit in the 25th century."

Negro and white Bostonians of all races, creeds, color, national origins, political affiliations, and occupations enthusiastically subscribed their names to the petition.

From New York last Monday Capt. Hugh N. Mulzac, first Negro to command an American merchant vessel, who has for more than fifty years fought discrimination against Negro seamen and for civil rights throughout the country, wired Gov. Folsom urging commutation of the 35 year old handyman's sentence to be electrocuted Saturday September 5. Capt. Mulzac's telegram described the death sentence as brutal and barbaric.

Gov. Folsom told the press on Thursday that he had no power to commute the sentence, which has literally shocked the world, as the Boston Herald editorial of August 28 pointed out.

Christian Science Services

The practical importance of the healing works of Christ Jesus — mankind today will be brought out at Christian Science Services Sunday.

Scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christ Jesus" will include the account in John (8:1-7) of Jesus' healing of the blind man.

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, will be read selection: "Christianity as Jesus taught it was not a creed, nor a system of ceremonies, special gift from a ritualistic Jehovah, but it was the demonstration of divine Love casting out error and healing the sick, not merely in the name of Christ, or Truth, but in demonstration of Truth, as must be the case in the cycles of divine light" (113:26).

The Golden Text is from John

(12:46): "I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me should not abide in darkness."

Atlanta—More important than the training of scientists and scientific discoveries is the decision as to what is done with scientific knowledge, in the opinion of Dr. S. H. Christensen, professor of physics at Clark College. Distinguishing between science, which is basic research, and technology the application of science, Dr. Christensen recently told the Atlanta University Summer School that with decisions as to the application of science being made often by politicians and military men, the United States needs good citizens to keep it straight.

1,000 AFRICANS RIOT FOR INDEPENDENCE IN AFRICA

Dakar, French West Africa—A riot here last Sunday by some 1,000 Africans crying "We Want Independence" was halted by police with tear gas.

Simultaneously French Premier Charles De Gaulle was departing from Paris for a speaking tour of French West Africa, French Equatorial Africa, and Madagascar in support of the new French constitution.

Under the terms of the newly proposed constitution Africans in the French "Black Africa" would have a federation with France and certain autonomy in local matters. Foreign policy, defense, and fiscal control would be handled from Paris.

However, progressive African leaders have been bluntly told that they must accept "federation" or be cut off from France completely without any financial assistance. In short, French African colonies would be immediately deprived of markets for their exports, inasmuch as the bulk of the produce from them goes to France.

Even though some African leaders have been promised on federation, their followers have forced them to tell French political leaders that they must have some determination and eventual self-determination and eventual independence.

GRANA PACING FOOD SHORTAGE

United Nations, N. Y.—International assistance through the UN children's Fund (UNICEF) has been offered the Ghana Government for the alleviation of the acute food shortage in the northern section of the West African country.

The Nkrumah Government has appointed a food commissioner to deal with the problem. Experts of certain crops have stopped so not to accentuate the shortage.

Some food speculators have endeavored to raise food and to operate a black market.

NAACP YOUTH COUNCIL DOWNS LUNCHEON DISCRIMINATION

Wichita, Kans., Aug. 21—As the result of a two-day "sit-down" campaign, conducted by the NAACP youth council here, Negro citizens are being served at lunchroom counters of a local drugstore chain throughout Wichita. Refused service, the young people occupied all of the seats in one of the stores from noon until closing time, 10 p. m., on two different occasions.

Following the second "sit-down" the company's vice president met with Chester Lewis, president of the Wichita NAACP branch, and agreed to abolish all discriminatory practices immediately.

NATIONAL ROUNDUP

Atlanta—Man has a greater potential for good than for evil, but when conditions are not normal, the potential is distorted and the energy which directed man to good now directs him to evil, Dr. Frank Cunningham recently told the Atlanta University Summer School.

Speaking on "The Nature of Man" in relation to the general theme, "Mankind in the Space Age," the head of the Morris Brown College department of religion and philosophy noted the external conditions which cause man to tend toward evil.

WHAT IS SPEED?

When Pontius Pilate, the Roman procurator of Judea, who washed his hands of the slaying of Our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, asked "What is Truth?" he did not wait for an answer as Sir Francis Bacon reminded us, in his famous essay on Truth. That seems to be the way with most administrators, whether in ancient Rome before our era or in high places in Washington at the present moment. They always pose questions for which they do not conjecture answers when society is shaken to its foundations by deep-going changes. What is Speed? That is our immediate, contemporary question, so far as the compliance with the historic May 17, 1954 decision of the U. S. Supreme Court outlawing public school segregation is concerned.

President Eisenhower spoke last Wednesday through Attorney General William P. Rogers in flat contradiction to his own reported belief that integration ought to be slowed up in Little Rock, Arkansas, at least. Mr. Rogers declared: "There is no state, granting the will which can not maintain law and order and at the same time permit a final decree of a court to be carried out." The Supreme Court had decreed that integration must proceed "with all deliberate speed." Implied in that decree is the fact that, at the very minimum, law enforcement officials like Governors of the various states must not place impediments in the path of obedience to law by all citizens. No person has the right to pick and choose for himself or herself those laws with which to comply or to violate with impunity. Anarchy would be the end-result of any system of government which allowed this blatant discrimination by its citizens, and indeed the penalty of disobedience is rightly arrest, trial and imprisonment if the violator is guilty. That is fundamental, and that is why Governor Orval Eugene Faubus and his kind have no valid argument to support their contentions among civilized people.

U. Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the NAACP, voiced the indignation of most of us when he learned President Eisenhower's apparent consent for slow progress toward school integration until "reason and sense and education and a lot of other developments" had increased in the nation. Mr. Wilkins cited the fact that only 770 out of 3,000 school districts in the South had been desegregated so far, with seven states not having made "a single move" toward integration. He declared: "If the President believes that 700 districts in four and a half years are too much speed, then we certainly do not understand the word speed."

As this issue went to press, the legal definition of speed was calculated to emerge from the extraordinary session of the U. S. Supreme Court on Thursday to determine the tempo of desegregation in the now notorious Central High School in Little Rock, Arkansas. The definition is more than an exercise in semantics. For the whole world, shocked at the impending speedy execution of a Negro for having stolen $1.95 is bound to look askance at our country's claim to moral leadership of the Free World. Other nations of all races and colors will wonder how punishment can be meted out swiftly and surely to a poor, perhaps demented Negro criminal while the educational advancement implicit in desegregation, which would manifestly diminish juvenile delinquency, on any showing is hindered and sabotaged to a snail's pace.

To paraphrase a German cartoonist's text: "When the cause is that of the South, behold the motor car; when the cause is that of the Negro, behold the creeping snail!"

Reanty Hints

By NINA TEMPLE
BEAUTY LOSERS

Beautiful women who prize their looks above every other possession do not realize the hazards of night-long sleep. When they retire early or late, something is happening to their skin of beauty. It is either growing more or less, being intensified or diminished. To be certain that your beauty does not skip away during the hours when you are off-guard, try this:

Cleanse the skin - Massage with a good skin food, using an upward, rotary movement. Tie it up with a chin-strap or soft stocking and finally, but on your eyes, do not expression by thinking of that happened to you in the morning or last year. Then hold to this secret talisman while you sleep and dream through the night until dawn.

India has 41 embassies, seven High Commissions, eleven legations, 26 consulates and vice consulates and sixteen Commissions, special missions and agencies, making up a total of 161 foreign missions.

ADVICE TO THE WISE

from the American National Red Cross

IF YOUR BOAT CAPSIZES OR SWAMPS

DO

Right at all overboard, swim back to the boat as soon as you can. If you have a motor attached, most boats will support occupants.

DON'T

Swim away from the boat under any circumstances. The swimmer might be danger of the boat going down. Many boats are lost by people trying to swim to shore.

THE FACTS

By Columbus Tremont

There will be no lamentations among the vast majority of mankind, the black, brown, and yellow people, at the decrease of the Prime Minister of the Union of South Africa Johannes Verwoerd, the Boer barbarian. Good riddance to bad rubbish! Louis Armstrong used to wait a little more years ago: "I'll be glad when you're dead; you rascal, you." That is a fitting epitaph, in the present tense, for the soundest reason made his last home government the most barbarous on earth.

Roland Hayes of Brookline, world-famous tenor, has Miss Gloria Kent of Hampton Falls, N. H., beautiful socialite, as his pupil. She is the debutante who led the coddling at he ball in honor of French and American debutantes in the Palace of Versailles, France. Her escort was in French aristocrat, Viscount Harry Tascher de la Pagerie.

In his "Washington Commentary" in the August 21 issue of the Manchester Guardian Weekly, a London English, Max Freidman pays warm tribute to the Harvard junior Senator: "If Senator Johnson has emerged with fresh laurels, Senator Jack Kennedy has increased his national respect by his courage on many sensitive issues and his ability to speak with commanding intelligence on problems which have often been darkened by timorous prejudices. For an avowed Presidential candidate, he is certainly relaxed and very much the master of his soul. He knows with almost painful lucidity all the hazards and hurdles which still lie before him. But on the credit side is the unquestioned fact that the country will have the personal covering in coming months of desegregation which belong to this admirable young man."

Any way you slice it the closing of the Armour plant, 775 Columbia St., Roxbury, today, Saturday, August 30, will add more to the unemployment problem of Negro workers to the unemployment of Edward W. McAuley, of North End's district manager of meat products, his said but some of the 150 employees will be transferred to the Chamberlain and Co. plant, 301 Southampton St., an Armour Division. Others will be discharged.

Some of us who heard him when he spoke at Radcliffe College three years ago will remember that Mr. McNamara, member for Nairobi in the Kenya Legislative Council, Kenya, East Africa, among other Nehru or Nkrumah in the making. He is correctly described by a British journalist as "a persuasive person to meet," since "he makes up his mind decisively and sticks to it." He is a tall, fat, he likes pretty women, fast cars, and smart clothes. Trained at Ruskin College, Oxford, he is cosmopolitan in outlook although nationalist in political principles, thus "many of his closest friends are Europeans." He is bound to make, because "his followers are efficiently, if ruthlessly, organized." A young man of destiny.

Joseph J. Mulhern, Jr., candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the 10th District, is conducting a campaign which "neutralizes the positive and eliminates the negative" and so he does not throw mud at his rivals. On the contrary, he concedes their good points, as he did during his August 20 broadcast over Station WNAV-TV. He states: "I don't think there is any difference of opinion among the candidates in this contest regarding this question (civil rights)." I feel sure that the candidates are pledged to equal opportunity and justice for all Americans, regardless of race, religion, or color. I have fought in our courts and elsewhere to uphold these principles. I will continue to fight for them while in public life or as a private citizen.

A candidacy in which every champion of civil rights ought to take a special interest is that of Joseph G. Dever of Cambridge Mass. The Democratic nomination for Register of Deeds for South Middlesex County. Mr. Dever, former administrative assistant to Bishop Bernard J. Sheil, auxiliary bishop of the Chicago Archdiocese. He is a 1942 graduate of Boston College, and is the author of the forthcoming novel, Three Priests, published by Doubleday.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

By Gerald J. Murphy, District Manager 90 Warren St., Roxbury
Please send your question to the Editor of this paper.

Q. I have been earning $1500 per year, working in a private home. I am 68 years old. How much Social Security will I get if I retire now? — G. B. Roxbury, Mass.

A. Based on the information you furnish, you would get about $63.50 per month. It appears that you might have lost money by not filing a claim once. A beneficiary who earns more than $1200 but not more than $2083 in a year will lose one month's benefit for each unit of $30 in excess of $1200. Thus, even if you continue working and earn $1500 this year, you can collect Social Security for eight months, providing you file a claim. Contact your local Social Security office at 90 Warren Street at once.

Q. I understand that veterans get credit for $260 per month for their active service. I am sure this has not been done for me. How do I go about getting this credit? — L. G. Dorchester, Mass.

A. No action is to be taken until a claim is filed on the basis of your active service. At the time of filing a claim your Discharge Certificate would serve as a basis for allowing the military credits. See Journal of Social Security, January 4, 1957, notice Military Service as active Social Security.

TOGETHER

By Lawrence James

Stand together, beloved black man,
In the liberty that hath made you free
Be not again entangled, in bondage.

He that troubles your serenity,
Justice to him shall come.
Let us in prayerly silence beg
That the effluence of the Cross shall ease.

You are called to liberty and unity;
Caused not by greedy gain,
But so to love one another
And joyfully to share your strength.
Fight not one with one another;
Lie not to your brother.

Walk together, beloved black men,
Until you ascend freedom's ladder.

Foreign yells upon your necks
Will be no more;
With-lashed, blacks bruised, bended.

Alas! you've earned your liberty,
Walk together beloved black men,
Walking the land of the free!

Cricket News

By Granville Callender

Last week end, Melbourne C.C. entertained the strong Empire C. C. of New York followed by 2 games of cricket at the Franklin Field oval. A large number of cricket enthusiasts were on hand to witness one of the most exciting games played here in a long time.

The visitors went to the wickets first and appeared incompetent to cope with the trundling of Melbourne's batters until Valentine and Larrier got settled. The pair made a variety of shots and scored when occasion occurred. J. Hinds proved to be a good batsman although he did not make top score. The visitors plied over 133 runs with Larrier 50, Valentine 44 and Hinds 14.

Bowling analysis showed Hudson capturing 4 wickets and Favre 2 for 16. Melbourne C. C. at Wicket After luncheon Melbourne went to bat with McCollin and Hudson as partners to break down the bowling of the Empire C. C. This they did in fine form with Hudson scoring 21, Favre 9 and McCollin 54 not out. Final score 98 for 8. The game was drawn.

Sunday afternoon Melbourne went to bat first and after losing an early wicket, Davis and Hudson settled down and mutilated the bowling of the Empire C.C. to a degree in cricket language "unrecognized." Davis a recent beneficiary together with Hudson played a magnificent game, demonstrating hooks, drives, cuts, and glides to the delight of the cricket fans. Davis scored 26. McCollin joined Hudson who created more misery for the visitors just like the day before. It was indeed field day for McCollin and Hudson.

K. Hamilton, secretary of the Melbourne C. C. he too had his day by driving the ball far over the boundary flag, also Wilmoth who got a big hit.

Acting skipper Plumme declared at 149 for 7. McCollin 70 not out, Hudson 47, and Davis 26. Draw Game Retired.

After lunch the visitors went to bat and when time was called they had scored 42 runs without the loss of a wicket. Draw game. Primrose C. C. of New York vs Windsor C. C. on Labor Day at Franklin Field Oval.

Windsor C. C. will clash in a three day game at Franklin Field with Primrose C. C. of New York. Capt. Salesman, Wallford, Evans and Co., will present a formidable eleven for each game with the hard hitting Primrose C. C. of New York.

Pep Likely Favorite To Win Massey Bout

Former champion Willie Pep, who is setting a whirlwind pace toward breaking an all-time victory slate, may enter his non-title bout with Hogan "Kid Bassey" next month as a strong favorite according to speculators. Pep meets Bassey in a ten-round Saturday night, Sept. 20 at Boston Garden.

Strengthening his case as favorite was his easy win over San Francisco's Manny Baptiste last Tuesday night in North Adams. The victory, Pep's 34th in his last 35 starts, brought the 36 year old scrapper's win record to 219, just three shy of the all-time mark established by Freddie Miller.

Pep, whose last loss was at the hands of Tommy Tibbs, and then the verdict did not meet the approval of many of the veteran followers, has been looking every bit the role of a champion during his whirlwind campaigns in and around Boston lately. Bassey stands out as a most worthy featherweight champion with solid punching and clever boxing as assets. But experts figure he'll receive plenty of trouble from the former champion Japanese.

Arriving in Boston last night, Bassey begins his training under George Page at the Colonial Country Club in Lynnfield. Pep has been working out at his camp in Middletown, Ct., under the supervision of Will Gere.

High Jump Record

On tour with a team of U.S., A. A. U. and Armed Forces track stars, rangy Johnny Thomas, who dominated the high school high jump event at Rindge Tech last season, shattered the Japanese mark in a dual meet at Tokyo last week.

Holder of the State and New England records as well as the 1958 national intercollegiate crown, Thomas leaped 6 feet, 8 inches in the U.S. Japan clash. His achievement erased the old mark of 6 feet, 7 3/8 inches, set by Tetsuo Akima in 1940.
