GREETINGS AND THANKS

TO our several local citizens whom we recognize as our true friends. It gives us pleasure at this time to wish you a most Happy and Prosperous New Year.

It also gives us pleasure to extend our greetings to such organizations as the Second Street Nursery School and its able staff who have been instrumental in placing their orders at our store since their opening. We consider it a great contribution since our continuance in business depends much on the orders we receive from throughout the year. Another institution which has grown and is steadily progressing is the Boston Urban League. For years this institution has striven to make our city more good-natured and to give it a better name.

We believe that our association of this kind is the most important to our community and that it

HAIL 1935!
ONCE again we stand on the threshold of a New Year. It is a year that we have been looking forward to with such hopes and anticipations for better times. The years of the last decade have left their bitterness behind, and we are glad to start afresh.

This year, the Christmas season appeared well for an especially happy one. In the past, the holiday has been marked by the usual round of parties and festivities. But this year, it was a great day for most of us. It is not the reason, rather, to be found within us, but the changed spirit which we have brought to this season. Someone has suggested that we are becoming less materialistic and that our spending habits have changed. This may be so, but we are also becoming more selective in our purchases, and the result is that our money is being spent on things that we really need and want. It is a worthwhile trend, and we hope it continues.

The New Year is a time for looking back and forward. It is a time to reflect on what we have accomplished, and what we hope to accomplish in the future. It is a time to make plans and set goals. It is a time for renewing old friendships and making new ones. It is a time for starting new ventures and achieving new successes. It is a time for enjoying the simple pleasures of life, and for spending time with those we love.

As we look ahead to the New Year, we can see many positive changes taking place. The economy is recovering, and people are becoming more optimistic. The world is becoming more connected, and there is a greater sense of cooperation and collaboration. The future looks bright, and we are excited to be a part of it.

As we celebrate the New Year, let us remember the lessons of the past year. Let us be grateful for what we have, and let us be determined to make the best of what we have. Let us be kind and compassionate, and let us be a force for good in the world. Let us be the change we wish to see in the world.

Let us celebrate the New Year with joy and enthusiasm, and let us be confident in the future. Let us be the change we wish to see in the world, and let us be a force for good in the world. Let us be the change we wish to see in the world, and let us be a force for good in the world.
